THE DIOCESE OF ALGOMA.

We republish the letter on this subject, as it was incomplete in yesterday's issue, and had a paragraph on another subject affixed to it:—

SIR,—In a late issue of your paper a letter appeared on this question, with a proposition to solve the problem which has recently agitated the Diocese of Toronto and the Provincial Church of Canada. From the tenor of that letter it is proposed to erect, or rather substitute, the Diocese of Otonabee. We would like to ask if the question of support has been duly considered, as well as the territory, population and influence of the proposed See. Has the writer "counted the cost"? A few words on this portion of the subject will throw light on the proposition.

The parishes in the proposed diocese as a rule have always met their obligations to the various diocesan funds when assessments have been made, the exceptions being the missionary stations and a few weaker congregations. The Episcopal Fund, raised fifteen years ago, met with the most decided success, and but few arrears remain from this section. The contributions to the Mission Fund have always ranged higher than any other part of the diocese, as the records will show, and when the Hon. S. H. Blake generously proposed to give $1,000 providing the whole diocese, then including Niagara was to raise $9,000, to permanently endow the Widows' and Orphans' Fund, Cobourg, Peterborough, and Lindsay almost stood alone in meeting the quota as assessed by the rural deans.

Reasoning therefore from the past little or no difficulty would be experienced in raising for a bishop's salary $2,000 to $2,500 a year, with or without a residence, for such a man as the letter of "Otonabee" contemplates. With regard to the mission field the Diocese of Toronto, as proposed, was to only have charge of the work in Simcoe county, Manitoulin, and the north shore. When the committee on dividing the diocese of Toronto last took action, it was objected that Niagara, as then proposed, would be "a parlour diocese," with no missionary work attached comparatively, while Toronto would have the whole burden. To obviate this the Muskoka and Parry Sound districts were added to the proposed Algoma, and the Provincial Synod added Wellington county to the Niagara district. The proposed new, or rather readjusted, diocese would have all the missions in N. Victoria and E. Peterborough Ridings, in Haliburton County, and the Parry Sound and Muskoka districts; and if, as we have shown, the past is any criterion for the future, the proposed diocese of Otonabee, would come up nobly to the work.

Thus every objection would be reasonably met on the score of financial ability, and the then compact diocese of Toronto, with its northern appendage, would be in a most favourable and promising condition, and so enable the metropolitan city, with its young and vigorous and active bishop, and its noble band of wealthy and benevolent churchmen, to enter upon a career of assured usefulness and success, and also save the Provincial Church from committing a second blunder in sending a bishop to Algoma, "to make bricks without straw."

Yours, etc.,

AMERICAN.

TWO CRACKSMEN.

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—Larry Murray and James Rice, two notorious cracksmen have been arrested. They confess to fifteen burglaries here. Goods worth $8,000 have been recovered.

CRUELTY TO A CONVICT.

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—Dr. Webber, Superintendant of the State Asylum for the insane, and A. Judd Northrup, U. S. Commissioner, pronounce David Halton, a convict in the Onondago penitentiary, as insane. He will be handed over to his friends. Halton was riddled with bullets by an officer for attempting to escape from a dungeon in which he was confined for a month. It appears that extreme cruelty was practised in his case.

"THE FISHERY CLAUSE."

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 7.—A Washington despatch to the Commercial says:—Representative Rice, of Massachusetts, has completed, and will submit to the Foreign Affairs Committee to-morrow, his report on the abrogation of the so-called "Fishery Clause" of the treaty of Washington. He confines himself exclusively to the question of the protection of American fisherman, who, he holds are now at the mercy of the British fishermen in Canadian waters. By the abrogation of this section of the treaty a duty of 25 per cent. would be imposed on the fish imported from Canada. Mr Rice makes another point, viz., that this would encourage Americans to follow the sea, and enable the Government, in case of war, to more easily supply its vessels with American sailors.

BLAINE'S CIRCULAR.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—The Herald's Washington special says that Springer will introduce a resolution asking the President to inform the House whether the circular note to the American republics is authentic, and if so wherein by the constitution or law he found himself empowered to issue such an invitation. The Republican Senators claim that Congress should have been consulted before the invitation for the conference had been sent. It is argued that if the President had cognisance of the circular note he would undoubtedly have mentioned it in his message.

RYAN AND SULLIVAN.

The Two Noted Bruisers Have a Set to Near New Orleans—Sullivan Victorious.

MISSISSIPPI CITY, Feb. 7.—Long before daylight the depot of the Mobile railway at New Orleans was thronged with eager excursionists, composed not only of sporting men but local and prominent citizens of the county, and also many citizens of New Orleans. Among the noted sports and characters well known in the Arena who arrived here to attend the battle, were Tom Kelly, ex-prize fighter, John McMahon, champion wrestler, Wm. L. Kennedy, ex-champion, Harry Slade, amateur boxer of England, Joe Goss, ex-champion, Billy Madden, Peter McCoy, Bob Farrell, Jimmie Gallagher, the well known sparrers, Jim and Mike Keenan, "Boston Johnny" Roche, Charlie Perkins, Wm. Bennett, Arthur Chambers, champion light weight, Eugene Beebee, Montgomery, Ala. and Fred Englehart. A large number of correspondents are representing prominent papers of the North and West. The crowds are assembling from every direction and pouring into the hotel grounds. The Sheriff has business in Billoxie and it is not thought that he will arrive till the fight is over.

Sullivan arrived on the ground at 10.30 o'clock and took a room opposite Ryan within a hundred feet of the ring.

The ropes and stakes arrived at 11 o'clock.

The ring was pitched in front of Barnes' hotel under a grove of live oaks. Two thousand people are waiting the settlement of the preliminaries. The trees are black with people. There are no indications that the authorities will interfere, and if they do there is little probability that they will be successful. The people here favour a fair and free fight. The ring was cleared at 11.50 when Pat Mealey offered to bet from one to five hundred that Ryan would knock down Sullivan first.

Sullivan cast his cap into the ring at 11.45, judge's time. There was great enthusiasm. One hundred to eighty was accepted on Sullivan. Sullivan is seconded by Billy Muldoon, Joe Goss and Arthur Chambers.

Ryan entered the ring at 11.57, amid enthusiasm and cheers. He was accompanied by Tom Kelly and Johnny Roach. Ryan won the choice of corners and took the southwest corner. Sullivan takes the opposite corner, with the sun in his face.

There has been a consultation over the referee for half an hour. The stake money was counted at 12.17. The choice of referee is about to be made. The Sullivan men want Jack Hardy, of Vicksburg and the Ryan men Alex. Brewster, of New Orleans. Both parties agreed on Jas. D. Howden, of New Orleans, who refused to be referee. Charles Bush has also refused. The dispute over the referee was settled by choosing Alex. Brewater of New Orleans, and Jack Hardy of Vicksburg, jointly. This is the third time in which two umpires have been chosen. The first knock down and first blood for Sullivan. In the forth round Sullivan was knocked down in Ryan's corner.

In the 5th round Sullivan threw Ryan, and after clinching Sullivan was thrown by Ryan. In the 6th round Ryan was fairly knocked down by Sullivan. In the 7th round, after some sharp fighting, both fell together. In the 8th round Ryan was knocked out of time by Sullivan. In the 9th round Ryan came up "groggy" and Sullivan at once forced him into his corner, delivering one heavy blow but Ryan recovered and drove Sullivan out and just beyond the middle of the ring, Sullivan got in a right hander under the left ear, and Ryan went down senseless. When time was called Ryan did not respond, and the fight was declared in favor of Sullivan, amid great cheering. Time of fight 26 mins. 30 sec.

OPENING OF A TRUE BLUE LODGE.—On Wednesday evening Feb. 1st a True Blue Lodge was started in the town of Lindsay, under very favourable circumstances, having a membership of thirty on the opening night and a good prospect of increasing their roll to fifty at their next meeting. At 8 p.m. sharp the brethren met at the Orange Hall and proceeded to the Midland Railway station, where they were to meet Bro. M. Jameson, D. D. G. M. of Peterborough, and others who were to perform the initiatory ceremonies. On the arrival of the train Bro. M. Jameson was escorted to the Orange Hall, where he proceeded at once with the opening of the new lodge. After the initiation of members the election of officers was the next order of business, which resulted as follows:—

Bros. J. A. Ingram	W. M.
" J. H. Milburn	D. M.
" E. Williamson	Treasurer
" J. Luky	Secretary
" H. J. Collins	Chaplain
" J. Rodgers	D. of C.
" G. H. Johnston	1st Com.
" W. Pollard	2nd Com.
" J. R. Bunting	3rd Com.
" N. Ingram	4th Com.
" F. Blyth	5th Com.

After the election of officers speeches were made by the brethren elected. The lodge then adjourned to the Bannan House where a sumptous repast in the shape of an oyster supper was served up in Bro. Bannan's best style. After the brethren had partaken of the good things and the tables were cleared, toast, song and sentiment were indulged in till a late hour. Speeches were made by Bros. Ingram, Johnston, Rodgers, Milburn, Bannan, Jameson and others, in which the new lodge was wished every success. Songs were sung by Bros. Pollard, Jameson, Williamson and Bannan, after which the meeting closed and the brethern seperated for their respective homes well pleased with the entertainment and applauding mine host Bannan for the capital treat which he provided for them. The new lodge will meet on the first and third Mondays of the month and brethren from other parts visiting Lindsay may rest assured that their stay in that town will not be regretted by them and that they will have no occasion to forget their Lindsay brethren.

PROPOSED CARWORKS.

We are glad to find that the Town Council has resolved to take the necessary step to enable the town to subscribe for $20,000 stock in the proposed carworks. They were almost unanimous in this, and we are convinced that they will have the support of the great majority of the ratepayers in their action in this respect. Indeed at the Council meeting the numerous spectators, chiefly freeholders, enthusiastically applauded the speeches in favour of their aiding this new industry. This demonstration, coupled with the enthusiastic assent of the recent public meeting, and the expressions of opinion that we have heard from many private individuals, is sufficient evidence that our townspeople are willing to take their share in promoting an undertaking from which they will derive so much benefit.

Our town, with all its natural advantages, cannot grow and prosper, unless we bestir ourselves to take advantage of them. What we need now is the establishment of factories, and none offer more favourable prospects than the manufacture of railway cars. In such an important railway centre as we have now become, there will be a sure demand of an extensive and constant nature, while much of the material is ready to our hands.

In a factory, such as is designed, a large number of men must necessarily be employed, and even those who do not benefit directly, must reap a great indirect advantage, which will accrue not only to our townspeople but to the whole surrounding neighbourhood.

We hope that every effort will be made to carry out this project to a successful completion, and that we will have no short-sighted opposition, or luke-warm approval, but unanimous, enthusiastic support of the undertaking.

PROVINCIAL PUBLIC WORKS.

We take the following extracts concerning local improvements from the report of the Commissioner of Public Works of the Province of Ontario for the year 1881:—

SCUGOG RIVER—DREDGING, ETC.

An appropriation of $5,000 was granted for service on this work last session. It consists in the excavation of a channel for steamboats, etc., from a point known as Stevens', on the Scugog River, across the drowned land to Drummond's Bay, the distance from water to water being 3,292 feet, or about 62-100 of a mile.

The work was advertised in April last, and the tender of Ancil Mills, being the lowest, was accepted. At his request, however the name of Alexander Ross was included in the contract, and the work was consequently carried on with Messrs. Mills and Ross as contractors.

The dredging was commenced on the 31st of of May on the Scugog River side, and proceeded with continuously until the 24th of August, when a cut 1,060 feet in length, with an average width of 63 feet and a depth of about six feet below the low water mark given, had been made. The dredge was then removed to Drummond's Bay and the work again proceeded with, until a cut 378 feet in length and a similar width and depth to the above had been made, when (owing to the appropriation being about all expended) the work was stopped on the 29th September for the present year. In addition to the above lengths the dredging was continued out about a distance of 40 feet into the Scugog River and about 60 feet into Drummond's Bay.

The remaining portion of the cut, 1,854 feet in length, yet remains to be dredged before the channel can be made use of, and it is therefore very desirable that provision should be made for this work in the estimates for the coming year.

When complete, this channel will considerably lessen the distance by water from Lindsay to Sturgeon Lake, and some of the worst bends, and consequently the most difficult parts of the river to navigate, will also be avoided.

OTONABEE RIVER WORKS.

The sum of $1,500 was appropriated last session for the purpose of making some extensive repairs to the dam on the Otonabee River at Young's Point.

This dam reserves the waters of Clear and Stoney Lakes, and is required in connection with the lock. It was built, I am informed, some 40 or 45 years ago by a local mill-owner, but has been repaired by this Department several times since the lock was built.

The dam is now, however, about worn out, and as the area of the above lakes is about 9,200 acres, it is very important that it should be replaced by a new structure at an early date, as were it to give way there is no telling, the amount of damage, and in all probability loss of life, which would follow.

Upon examination this year it was ascertained that, owing to the rough manner in which it had originally been constructed, it would be almost impossible to repair it so as to make it water-tight. It was therefore deemed advisable to make only such repairs as were really necessary for the time being, to ensure the safety of the works; and as the unexpended balance for maintenance was sufficient for this purpose, these repairs were made and the amount charged to the above-named appropriation.

The sum voted therefore remains intact for re-vote, along with an additional appropriation for the construction of a new dam.

GULL AND BURNT RIVER WORKS.

The constructions, improvements, and repairs which have been made out of this appropriation during the present year are as follows:—

Three piers have been constructed in Cameron Lake, at a radius of about 600 feet from the mouth of the Burnt River, for the purpose of rendering assistance to the lumbermen in the sorting of logs and timber. The piers are of the following dimensions, viz.:—One 20 feet square and 19 feet in height, and two 18 feet square and 14 feet in height. They are built of round timber to the water level, above which the timber is 12 x 12 in. square. The piers are compactly filled with stone and planked on the top, and each supplied with a capstan, so as to enable the lumbermen to draw their booms into any position required.

Prior to the construction of these piers serious delays and inconvenience was annually experienced in this locality, as the lumbermen were then unable to sort when the wind was blowing in certain directions. The difficulty has now, however, been overcome, and the sorting can be proceeded with at almost any time; consequently, the improvement is of vast importance to the interest it is intended to serve.

A glance pier has been constructed in the Crab River (Township Sherborne), a short distance below the dam. It is for the purpose of preventing the logs and timber from being injured by projecting points of rock, after passing through the slide. The pier is 90 feet in length, 10 feet in width, and 6 feet in height, built of round and flatted timber (principally hardwood) and is well rock-bolted and filled with stone.

The slide at Norland, on the Gull River, has been raised a height of two feet for a distance of 30 feet from the lower end, and a floating apron, covered with maple plank six inches in thickness and 30 feet in length, has been constructed and securely chained to the lower end of the slide.

The slide at Elliott's Falls, a short distance above Norland, has been supplied with four new stop-logs, and some other slight repairs made thereto.

The dam and slide at the outlet of Little Bob Lake, on Lot 13, in the 11th Concession of Lutterworth, has been entirely rebuilt. The new dam is 110 feet in length, 20 feet in width, and an average height of 11 feet. The slide is 107 feet in length and 6 feet in width. The material used in the construction of this work is pine and hemlock, principally the latter. It is a good substantial structure, and was badly required, as the old dam was in an unsafe condition; liable to wash out at any time and seriously injure the works below.

The Racketty Creek slide, which is situated a short distance below the Bob Lake dam, has been repaired, and sluices for the escape of flood-water have been constructed in the dams at the head of the slide.

A cribwork apron has been constructed at the foot of the slide at Workman's Mills, which are situated on the Gull River, in the Township of Minden. The apron is 47 feet in length and 25 feet in width; and the cribbing has a depth of about 10 feet, which is compactly filled with stone. Stringers 12x12 inches square were placed on the cribbing at about five feet apart from centres, and the whole covered with hardwood timber, 10 inches in thickness. The entire structure is strongly framed together, and securely pinned and rock-bolted. A quantity of rock was also blasted out of the river at the foot of the slide. A flume has been constructed on the south side of the slide, to convey the water from the mill into the river. This water formerly ran under the slide and was continually forcing the floor planking from its bed. The flume is 56 feet in length, and is 9 feet in width at the upper end, and 6 feet in width at the foot.

Grace Lake dam, in the township of Monmouth, has been supplied with a set of new stop-logs; and Otter Lake dam, in the same township, has been gravelled, so as to make it water-tight.

The dam and slide at the "High Falls," on the east branch of the Burnt River, has been rebuilt. The new dam is 129 feet in length, 12 feet in width, and about 6 feet in height. There are two openings in it, one for slide and the other for the escape of flood-water. The openings are 6 and 9 feet in width respectively. The slide and apron has a total length of 196 feet, and the entire structure is built with 12 x 12 inches square white pine timber. The falls which necessitate the construction of these works are about 31 feet in height, and are situated on Lot No. 6, in the 6th Concession of the Township of Monmouth.

Mud Lake dam, situated in the Township of Dysart, about two and one-half miles from the village of Haliburton, has been sheeted in front with plank and gravelled, to make it water-tight. The slide opening on the north side of the river has also been supplied with new stop-logs, windlasses and frames.

This dam reserves the waters of Mud and Drag Lakes, and as these lakes have a superficial area of about 2,100 acres, they are of considerable value as reservoirs. The present dam, I am given to understand, was built by the lumbermen about 18 years ago, but has been repaired several times by this department. It is now, however, leaking badly, and owing to the manner in which it was originally constructed, it is useless to try to keep it water-tight for any length of time. It is therefore very desirable that the present structure should be replaced by a new dam.

Eagle Lake dam, in the Township of Guilford has been supplied with a new stop-log platform and a windlass and frame, and Oblong Lake dam, in the Township of Harburn, with a stop-log post and three new stop-logs.

A quantity of stone and sunken slabs, which interfered with navigation, have been removed out of the river at Coboconk.

A re-vote of the appropriation for the construction of a dam at the outlet of Mountain Lake was taken last session.

The appropriation was granted on condition that all parties whose property was likely to be effected by enclosing or maintaining the said dam would first agree to waive and forego all claims for damages in respect thereof. This condition has not yet been complied with; consequently the work has not been carried out, and the appropriation therefore remains intact for re-vote again in 1882.

During the past year the utmost care has been exercised in the management of the reserve dams on the head waters of the Gull and Burnt rivers, but notwithstanding this fact, navigation has been seriously interfered with, owing to the insufficient depth of water in Balsam and Sturgeon Lakes. This is partly owing to the exceptionally dry season, but principally to the leaky condition of the outlet dam and works at Bobcaygeon, which are under charge of the Dominion Government.

This dam is leaking badly its entire length, which is close upon 900 feet, and, in addition, the canal above the lock is also leaking badly. When this leakage is taken into consideration, together with the fact that there are two 48 inch, one 56 inch, and three 66 inch water-wheels continually working at Mr. Mossom Boyd's saw-mill at Bobcaygeon, the scarcity of water is easily accounted for. And I might here state that in seasons like the past one it will be utterly impossible to manage the reserve dams in such a manner as to maintain a sufficient depth of water in these lakes for navigation purposes, until the outlet dam and works have been put into a proper state of repair.

There has also been a scarcity of water in Mud and Pigeon Lakes during the past season, chiefly owing to the leaky condition of the dam and works at Buckhorn. I am informed, however, that extensive repairs have recently been made, so that it is altogether likely that a similar inconvenience will not be experienced in this locality for some time to come.

MAINTENANCE OF LOCKS, DAMS AND SWING BRIDGES.

The following repairs and improvements have been made out of this appropriation during the present year:—

An apron has been constructed to the dam at Lindsay to replace the old one, which was completely worn out. It is 257 feet in length and 12 feet in width, and is constructed with 12 x 12 inch pine stringers, covered with 3-inch plank. Some gravelling was also done at the dam, and both it and the lock repaired where necessary.

The three swing bridges were slightly repaired, and painted to prevent the timbers from decaying.

At Young's Point the swing bridge was painted, and the masonry of the lock walls pointed with cement. The balance beams of the lower gates of the lock, and some of the valve-rods, were also repaired. The joints of the planking, on the upper side of the dam were covered with 2-inch plank, and some gravelling done to make it water-tight.

A quantity of loose rock and other material, which interfered with navigation, was also removed out of the canal above the lock.

At Rosedale, on the Balsam River, the swing bridge was slightly repaired and painted. No repairs were required at the lock.

The following are the Lockmaster's returns of the lockages made at the different locks during the present year:—

Balsam River Lock—257 steamboats, 121 scows, 50 rafts, 128,500 saw-logs, and 3,604 pieces of square timber.

Lindsay Lock—200 steamboats, 159 scows, 280 rafts and cribs of timber.

Young's Point Lock—364 steamboats, 158 scows, and 274 rafts.

Weather Notes.—New Year's morning at once ushered in a cold snap, being at sun rise, 4° below zero, which with only one exception was more than sustained till the morning of the 4th, when the thermometer ranged 16° below, but all other attempts at freezing were left in the shade on Tuesday morning, the 24th, when the mercury sunk to 33° below zero, a point seldom attained here. A very large number of frost bites was the result, from which a good many are still suffering. The highest point reached for January was on the morning of the 9th, namely, 40° above zero, the aggregate of the month being 17° above zero. Snow fell on 15 days to the depth of 14 inches, rain on four days to the depth of 4½ inches, making a total depth of water, by snow and rain, of 6½ inches. The people in this vicinity were more frightened than hurt by the fearful gale on Friday morning. Although fences, straw stacks and insecurely nailed boards were flying about, nothing serious occurred; only a few of the residents, as they thought, seeking more secure quarters in their neighbours' houses than their own.

N. H. DOWNS' Vegetable Balsamic ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis,

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation, when the cough is more observable, but rather dry; then becomes local fever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration.

CONSUMPTION

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are of so drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the cause, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

For the Review.

FOR MISSION WORKERS.

WRITTEN BY REQUEST FOR THE BAPTIST MISSION CIRCLE, IN PORT HOPE.

For the love of Christ constraineth us—2 Cor. v, 14.

Paul says that some would, even for a good man, dare to die,
And we know the page of history some instances supply
Of tried faithful ones resigning their lives to seal their love,
But God's own Son, the Eternal, from Glory's throne above
Came down, and lived, and suffered, and died, for those who were
His enemies, that they might His peace and kingdom share.
Deep grows our admiration for the Royal Prophet, when
For sake of him he lov'd best of all the sons of men
The princely gift was given, though Jonathan was gone
To cheer the life so desolate of his afflicted son,
Thus what friend for friend endureth is friendship's truest test,
And by the kindly favor is the grateful tie exprest,
And if for human kindness, man's best return be given,
What shall we render for the gift, unspeakable from Heaven.
Our hearts with indignation now, burn justly as we read
Of these ungrateful lepers, who, from foulsome sickness freed,
Came not, save one, o'erflowing with true gratitude to pay
To Christ their adoration, but we gladly turn away
From conduct vile, none baser to the soul-affecting scene
Of the loving penitent, who felt she had forgiven been.
See how the costly offering of thanks she freely pours
With tears, than words more eloquent, on them whom she adores,
And yet another, who gave all she had, and gained the meed
Of Him, who knoweth all, whose praise immortalized the deed.

Home to our hearts this question comes, have we done all we could
To magnify redeeming love, and prove our gratitude
For Him who loved us to the death, do we entirely live
To Jesus, and for him alone, and loving service give?
Constrained by influence sweet as that, when vernal sun and air
Impels the springtime buds to unfold their leaves and blossoms fair,
Thus cheerful, willing workers in their Master's blest employ.
Wait not for its reward, but now anticipate its joy,
And with the mind of Jesus, they with consecrated zeal
Will seek His kingdom to promote, and hearing the appeal
From lung'ring Christless souls to give to them the living bread,
As lovers of lost souls, they will most generously be led,
Not for the sake of giving, or that they may highest stand
Upon the contribution list, respond to the demand,
And not for mere formality, or popular so to do.
Talk of the woes of pagan lands, but from compassion true,
And that the dear Lord Jesus may fresh jewels thus obtain,
That where the Prince of darkness rules, the King of life may reign.

Dear sisters in this blessed work, would you an interest wake
In those about you, in the cause of missions, see you take Heed first to win them by your love in every place displayed,
For having gained their confidence, they'll render willing aid,
But not to one cause only will your efforts be confined,
But will a fellow-feeling have for all of humankind,
To sorrow with the sorrowing, and have a watchful care
To speak the kindly word, and aid with burdens hard to bear,
And kind companionship will lend to those who else alone
Would pass their earthly pilgrimage, all friendless and unknown.
What power for good your lives will thus exert, on those who see
You loving as the members of Christ's body ought to be,
For if your sympathies flow not from piety sincere,
Enthusiasm's glow will soon grow dim and disappear,
Though lowly found, than worldly rank, see that your higher prize,
True christian excellence, which will be honoured in the skies,
Though oftentimes you meet with much that may dishearten you,
Remember what discouragements our Saviour met with too,
Think what a glorious work is thine in helping to subdue
The world to Christ, fulfilling thus the covenant promise true,
That those who in the uttermost parts of the earth do dwell
Shall for inheritance be given to King Immanuel.

GUITEAU SENTENCED.

Judge Cox Refuses to Grant a New Trial—Execution to Take Place June 30.

WASHINTON, Feb. 4.—Guiteau to-day sat in the dock. Scoville stated that since the adjournment of the Court he had been informed by Curtis, who made an affidavit relative to the Critic matter, that there was not a bailiff in charge of the room at the time the paper was found. He had been substituted for a man named Shirer, who was in charge at the time, and who was withdrawn by the prosecution. "This man," said Scoville, "I am told, knows about the paper, and I can in ten minutes summon a party who will say that Shirer was heard to remark that if that matter of the Critic became known he (Shirer) would have to jump town."

Corkhill objected to the evident attempt to postpone the consideration of this motion. If every bit of hearsay gossip was to be dragged in there would never be any end to the question.

Scoville replied that he did not ask for a postponement. He simply desired to call the attention of the Court to the information he received as showing how important it was to investigate the matter with the closest scrutiny.

THE JUDGE'S DECISION.

Judge Cox then read the decision upon the motion, quoting from various authorities. He discussed the circumstances regarding the newspapers, and said as to the handwriting:—"Several circumstances make it improbable that at least two of the names upon the margin of the paper were written by the gentlemen themselves. If, as suggested, the paper was lying on the table in the bailiff's room, and the gentlemen of the jury in writing in albums first tried their pens upon the margin, it would amount to nothing in the face of the affidavits of every member of the jury that they did not see or read a paper at any time during the trial. No one could swear to the fact that the jurors did write upon the paper, while they all swear they did not, and there is no reason to doubt of their veracity. As far as the discovery of new evidence is concerned, the evidence to be introduced is as to the prisoner's manner and appearance prior to the assassination. If there had been no evidence introduced upon this subject there might be some force in the request, but a dozen or more witnesses have testified on the trial as to his manner and appearance, covering the period from March until the commission of the act. The evidence now sought to be introduced would be merely cumulative and would not affect the verdict. As to the expert witness, whose admissions after the trial are alleged to have been different from his evidence given upon the trial, Cox said an unsworn admission of this character could never be considered a ground for overturning a verdict that may have been obtained through the evidence of any witness who, from a corrupt motive, might seek to reverse the verdict." From all the papers presented, Cox summed up:—"I am unable to find any reason to grant the motion, which is, therefore, overruled."

Scoville—"I would like to note an exception to the rule of the Court."

Corkhill—"Your Honour, it now becomes my duty"—

Scoville—"One moment, please. I would like to file in due form the motion which I referred to yesterday."

Scoville then filed a motion in arrest of judgment.

THE TIME FOR EXCEPTIONS.

Prisoner—"I desire to ask your Honour in my own behalf if there is anything I need do before your Honour to preserve my rights in banc. I expect to have two or three of the best lawyers in America, but I want to know whether I must make any motion in order to preserve the record for them."

The Court—"Every right shall be preserved."

Prisoner—"How much time have I in which to present my exceptions?"

Scoville—"Keep quiet. We have not got to that yet."

Scoville then stated that he understood that under section 845 of the Revised Statutes he had until next term to file his bill of exceptions.

The Court—"No, not exactly that. There's no particular time fixed for preparing exceptions. The term will be kept open."

Scoville—"How long will I have?"

The Court—"The term will be kept open as long as you desire."

Prisoner—"I don't desire that any advantage shall be taken of me. I expect to have my lawyers procured in ten days, and they will come and take hold and pull me through in the Court in banc."

Scoville—"I have till the 1st of March to file a bill of exceptions."

The Court—"Yes."

Prisoner—"That's understood."

District Attorney—"Let it be understood then that the bill of exceptions shall be in by the 1st of March."

Scoville—"If I can do it in a week I will." (To prisoner)—"Keep quiet."

Prisoner (violently)—"I am going to talk. I am here and I don't propose to leave this matter to you. I have my opinion of you as a lawyer. You have been doing well, but your theory is wrong. Your theory is too small. You convicted me with your jackass theory and consummate nonsense. I don't propose to have your theory prevail." (To the bailiffs, who were endeavouring to suppress him) "I will not be still for you nor for anybody else."

Scoville—"I move to postpone the final execution of judgment in this case to a reasonable time beyond the next term."

Court—"Not exceeding thirty days after the end of the said term."

Prisoner—"Do I understand that it is necessary to pass sentence until the matter is passed upon the Court in banc?"

Court—"Yes; sentence is passed, but execution is deferred."

Prisoner—"Within what time will your Honour pass sentence?"

Scoville, angrily—"Keep quiet."

Prisoner, wildly—"You keep your mouth still. I am doing this matter myself; you convicted me by your wild theory and consummate assining character all through. If the case had been kept entirely from you I could have had two of the best lawyers in America, and there would have been no conviction. I had letters from them and could have had them last October. I care nothing about your intentions. I want brains and experience. Your intentions were good, but you are deficient in brains and theory. Let me alone and I will pull out of this. You got me into this trouble."

Cox informed Scoville of the rules of practice applicable to filing his exceptions.

Corkhill then said—"It is now my duty to ask for the sentence of the Court."

THE JUDGE AND THE CRIMINAL.

Judge Cox (to the prisoner)—"Stand up. Have you anything to say why sentence should not now be passed upon you now?"

Guiteau (still sitting)—"I ask your Honour to postpone the sentence as long as possible."

Cox—"Stand up. Have you anything to say why sentence should not now be pronounced upon you?"

The prisoner arose, pale, but with his lips compressed and a desperate determination stamped upon his features. In a low and deliberate tone he began, but soon his manner became wild and violent, and pounding upon the table, he delivered himself of the following harrangue:—"I am not guilty of the charge set forth in the indictment. It was God's act, not mine, and God will take care of it; and don't let the American people forget it. He will take care of it, and every officer of this Government, from the Executive down to that of Marshal, taking in every man on the jury and every member of this bench, will pay for it, and the American nation will roll in blood if my body goes into the ground and I am hanged. The Jews put the despised Galilean into his grave. For a time they triumphed, but at the destruction of Jerusalem, forty years afterwards, the Almighty got even with them. I am not afraid of death. Im here as God's man. Kill me to-morrow if you want to. I am God's man, and I have been from the start."

THE SENTENCE.

Judge Cox then proceeded to pass sentence. He said:—"You have been convicted of a crime so terrible in its circumstances and so far-reaching in its results that it has drawn upon it the horror of the whole world and the execration of your countrymen. The excitement produced by such an offence made it no easy task to secure for you a fair and impartial trial; but you have had the power of the United States Treasury and of the Government in your service to protect your person from violence and procure evidence from all parts of the country. You have had a fair and impartial jury as ever assembled in a court of justice. You have been defended by counsel with a zeal and devotion that merits encomium, and I certainly have done my best to secure a fair presentation of your defence. Notwithstanding all this you have been found guilty. It would have been a comfort to many people if the verdict of the jury had established that the act was that of an irresponsible man. It would have left the people the satisfying belief that the crime of political assassination was something entirely foreign to the institutions and civilization of our country. But the result denied them that comfort. The country will accept it as a fact that the crime can be committed, and the Court will have to deal with it with the highest penalty known to the Criminal Court, to serve as an example to others. Your career has been so extraordinary, people might well at times have doubted your sanity; but one cannot but believe that when the crime was committed you thoroughly understood the nature of the crime and its consequences."

Guiteau—"I was acting as God's man."

Cox (continuing)—"And that you had a moral sense conscious enough to recognize the moral iniquity of such an act."

Prisoner—"That's a matter of opinion."

Cox—"Your own testimony shows you recoiled with horror from the idea. You say you prayed against it. You say you thought it might be prevented. This shows your conscience warned you against it, but by the wretched sophistry of your own mind you worked yourself up against the protest of your own conscience. What motive could have induced you to this act must be a matter of conjecture. Probably men will think some fanaticism or morbid desire for self-exaltation was the real inspiration for the act. Your own testimony seems to controvert the theories of your counsel. They maintained, and thought, honestly I believe, you were driven against your will by an insane impulse to commit the act. But your testimony showed your deliberately misguided will was the sole impulse. This may seem insanity to some persons, but the law looks upon it as a fitful crime. You will have the opportunity of having any errors I may have committed during the course of the trial passed upon by the Court in banc; but meanwhile it is necessary for me to pronounce

THE SENTENCE OF THE LAW,

That you be taken hence to the common gaol of the District whence you came, and there be kept in confinement; and on Friday, the 30th day of June, 1882, you be taken to the place prepared for the execution within the walls of said gaol, and there, between the hours of 12 noon and 2 p.m., you be hanged by the neck until you are dead. And may the Lord have mercy on your soul."

RHEUMATISM.—This widespread affliction, and all kindred ailments are at once arrested by Herrick's Sugar-Coated Vegetable Pills, and through their continued use, finally eradicated out of the system. This fact is known all the world over. They contain no mineral substance of any kind.

TWO ORGANS.—Regulate first the stomach, second the liver; especially the first, so as to perform their functions perfectly and you will remove at least nineteen-twentieths of all the ills that mankind is heir to, in this or any other climate. Hop Bitters is the only thing that will give perfectly healthy natural action to these two organs.—Maine Farmer.

MR. SAMUEL MCCAW, the well-known conductor on the Whitby and Lindsay Railway, says Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters cured me of Dyspepsia. I always kept them in the house, and consider them invaluable as a family medicine. J. D. Tully, agent for Peterborough.

HOW TO CURE A COLD.—Upon the first feeling of chill or shivering remain indoors if possible, bathe the feet in tepid water, gradually increasing the heat as long as it can be comfortably borne, drink freely of warm ginger tea or sage tea, to induce perspiration, and take Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam according to directions on the bottle. Hagyard's Balsam cures coughs, asthma, and bronchitis.

HAD SUFFERED MANY PHYSICIANS and grew no better but rather worse. Mr. D. H. Howard, of Geneva, N. Y., after dismissing his physicians, tried nearly half a gross of the various blood and liver remedies advertised, no benefit; when one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters cured him of Paralysis and General Debility. At the advanced age of 60, he says he feels young again, and is overjoyed at his wonderful recovery.

NEVER GIVE UP.—If you are suffering with low and depressed spirits, loss of appetite, general debility, disordered blood, weak constitution, headache, or any other disease of a billious nature, by all means procure a bottle of Electric Bitters. You will be surprised to see the rapid improvement that will follow; you will be inspired with new life; strength and activity will return; pain and misery will cease, and henceforth you will rejoice in the praise of Electric Bitters. Sold at 50 cents a bottle, by Taylor & Macdonald.—5

IS IT A HUMBUG? Some people think all proprietary medicines humbugs. In this they must be mistaken. A cough medicine like N. H. Downs' Elixir that has stood the racket of 52 years must have some virtue, and must cure the diseases for which it is recommended, or people would not continue to buy and use it as they do. It seems to us that even if we knew nothing of its merits, the fact of its large and continually increasing sale justifies us in recommending Down's Elixir to all who may need a reliable cough medicine.

ZOPESA.

(FROM BRAZIL.)

The New Compound, its wonderful affinity to the Digestive Apparatus and the Liver, increasing the dissolving juices, relieving almost instantly the dreadful results of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, and the TORPID LIVER, makes Zopesa an every day necessity in every house.

It acts gently and speedily in Biliousness, Costiveness, Headache, Sick Headache, Distress after Eating, Wind on the Stomach, Heartburn, Pains in the Side and Back, Want of Appetite, Want of Energy, Low Spirits, Foul Stomach. It invigorates the Liver, carries off all surplus bile, regulates the Bowels, and gives tone to the whole system.

Cut this out and take it to your Druggist and get a 10 cent Sample, or a large bottle for 75 cents, and tell your neighbor about it.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Gents:—I have used your Spavin Cure on a bone spavin and am pleased to report that it has taken the enlargement completely off. It took only one bottle to perform the cure. I am confident that if it is properly used it will do all you claim for it.

Kendall's Spavin Cure

ON HUMAN FLESH.

Thousands of trials on Human Flesh has proved beyond a doubt that "Kendall's Spavin Cure" has sufficient strength to penetrate and virtue to cure the worst cases of rheumatism, corns bunyons, frostbites or any bruise, cut or lameness which are not affected in the least by ordinary liniments. It does not blister, but on the contrary, removes all soreness.

DUNHAM, P. Q., March 10th, 1879.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—About a year ago I fell in the road on to some ice and was badly hurt in the hip joint, which caused me much suffering. I tried various remedies, but none gave relief until I tried Kendall's Spavin Cure. I applied it full strength twice a day for two weeks during last October, and it effected a perfect cure. I have since then been well and free from lameness. It is very valuable for man as well as for beast.

Yours truly,

TOWN COUNCIL MEETING

THE CITY FATHERS ASSEMBLED IN COUNCIL DISCUSS THE CARWORKS QUESTION.

And Agree That it is Advisable to Take $20,000 Stock in the Company—They are Almost Unanimous—Some of the Talk.

A special meeting of the Town Council was held at the Chamber on Monday evening.

Present—His Worship Mayor Smith in the chair, and Councillors Cahill, Alford, McNaughton, Kelly, Paterson, Poussette, Wilson, Douglas, Rutherford, Menzies and Richardson.

On motion the reading of the minutes was dispensed with.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From E. Green regarding blinds.—Finance Committee.

From Jno. McMartin offering to supply softwood at $1.75 per cord.—Finance Committee.

From——asking the town to sign a petition asking for better fire protection for the outskirts of towns.—Received.

ACCOUNTS.

Jno. Hennessy $4 00
Western Assurance Company..... 5 00

The first was referred to the Finance Committee, and the other was ordered to be paid.

CARWORKS.

The MAYOR introduced the question of taking stock in the proposed carworks company, and read the motion passed at the public meeting.

Councillor PATERSON expressed a doubt as to whether the town had the right to take stock or not.

Councillor POUSSETTE said that in his opinion the town had a right to take the stock.

Councillor WILSON wanted to know if the town took stock, whether they had any right to get the money back

Councillor CAHILL thought that as the Government were anxious that the country should go ahead they would not oppose any legislation to allow the town to take the stock.

Councillor MENZIES wanted the matter left to the people before the Council took any action.

Councillor RICHARDSON was glad to see the large meeting on Monday. He had spoken to many of his constituents and found that they were all in favor of the project. He wanted to see manufactories established here, and if we did not do so other towns would.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON said that he was in favor of factories. A few years ago we had lumbering to fall back to but to-day we had only the farmers. A few evenings ago a large number of the heaviest ratepayers, seeing the notice in the REVIEW, appeared at the meeting, and not three of them were opposed to the resolutions passed there.

Councillor RUTHERFORD thought that the townspeople were taking the matter out of the hands of the Council, and he wanted to know what we sent a man, (Dr. Kincaid), to Toronto for. If we had to pay a deputation, as was proposed, to go to the Queen City, where we had a man paid to look after our business, it appeared rather curious to him. He thought that $20,000 was too much for the town to pay and opposed that sum.

Councillor MENZIES was not against the carworks, but wanted to know on what terms the money was to be granted.

Councillor DOUGLAS thought that Councillor Cahill was all right, but before voting any money he would like to know whether the town could do such a thing legally or not.

Councillor RICHARDSON said that number four ward was in favor of the project, and was willing to vote a bonus to it.

Councillor PATERSON was in favor of leaving the matter to the Finance Committee on the score of economy.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON thought that the three Councillors who opposed the scheme had very little to do. We all wanted foreigners to come here, and should be glad to have outsiders establish themselves in our rapidly rising town.

Councillor MENZIES wanted a binding resolution so that the "$2,000 job" would not be repeated.

Councillor POUSSETTE thought that Dr. Kincaid should represent the town at Toronto, and urge upon Mr. Mowat that he should have such legislation passed as would enable the ratepayers of the town to take stock in the proposed carworks company.

Councillor RUTHERFORD while in favor of the factory was opposed to taking $20,000 stock. He wanted more time to consider the matter.

Councillor CAHILL said that there had been a large and influential meeting of citizens on Friday night, and they unanimously agreed that it was advisable to take $20,000 stock, and as far as he was concerned he proposed to carry out the wishes of the people. Councillors Menzies and Rutherford, while they stated that they were in favor of the scheme, "dammed it with faint praise." If Peterborough dilly dallied over the matter, Belleville, Lindsay, or some other town would step in and cut us out. One of our leading citizens, Mr. Geo. A. Cox, a man that the town has just cause to be proud of, had taken $10,000 stock in the Company, and in his opinion that was a good test of the soundness of the project. As he had remarked before if Peterborough did not grasp the present opportunity other places would. He had spoken to many ratepayers and found that all favoured the proposed works. If a deputation was sent to Toronto, he did not think that any reflection would be cast on our member, but rather it would have a tendency to strengthen Dr. Kincaid's hands. When Mr. W. H. Scott represented us, deputations had been sent up and there was no talk about reflections. The expenses of sending two or three gentlemen to Toronto would not be very great, and if the town objected to paying $9 or $10, he, for one, would pay his share out of his own pocket.

Councillor RUTHERFORD again spoke against $20,000 as being too much, and favored $10,000.

Councillor PATERSON spoke in favor of taking stock, but he would oppose a bonus.

Councillor POUSSETTE was willing to vote $20,000 to the company, and as the promoters had plainly stated, unless that amount was voted the project would fall through. He was rather suprised to hear certian Councillors speak as they had done, as they were baulking the scheme by so doing. A very large meeting of the heaviest ratepayers had decided that it was advisable to take $20,000 stock and he proposed to carry out the wish of the taxpayers and would vote for taking that amount of stock.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON referred to the fact that we had great facilities for manufacturing here, and thought that we had the best town in Canada to-day. At Belleville he had been told that Mr. Cox was a credit to us, and some of the Aldermen wished that they could prevail on him to reside there, and when Mr. Cox took so much stock in the company he thought that the town should second his efforts by taking $20,000 worth, at least.

Councillor DOUGLAS thought that the present was the time to grant aid.

After some further talk it was moved by Councillor CAHILL seconded by Councillor DOUGLAS that the Mayor and J. R. Stratton be required to proceed to Toronto to urge on the Attorney General to pass such Legislation as may be necessary to enable the corporation to take stock in the proposed car works in place of granting a bonus to such works and that they require the aid of the members for this county to assist them.—Carried.

The yeas and nays were taken with the result that Councillors Rutherford and Menzies were the only ones opposed to the motion.

SIGNING CHEQUES.

Moved by Councillor KELLY seconded by Councillor ALFORD that Councillor Poussette be and is hereby authorized to sign all orders and cheques in the absence of the Mayor and that the corporation seal be attached thereto.—Carried.

The Council then adjourned.

A SOLEMN WARNING.

At St. Luke's Church, on Sunday morning last, reference was made by the Incumbent to the sad death of Mr. William Whitla, in most effecting terms. Many of the congregation were deeply touched by the circumstances, as related by the Pastor, and evinced their heartfelt sorrow in an unmistakeable way. The text was Eccles. xii., 7. At the conclusion of a thoughtful and solemn discourse, Mr. Bradshaw said:—

"It behoves us, my brethren, to take these solemn teachings to ourselves at all times, and perhaps especially now, when scarcely a week elapses that we do not hear of some sudden and unexpected death. Only this morning, about an hour before entering church, the news was brought me that one of our communicants had, after three short days' illness, with terrible suddenness and under most saddening circumstances, passed away to "where beyond these voices there is peace." On Christmas day he, together with his poor, broken-hearted wife, knelt at the altar yonder to partake of the sacred emblems of the Saviour's passion. Called upon to pass through waves of heavy sorrow, and to undergo more than ordinary affliction, in the sad deaths of their only surviving daughters, (who expired within twenty days of each other) Mr. and Mrs. Whitla felt, oh! how deeply! their need of Divine strength and spiritual aid to enable them to bear up under such weighty sorrow. And now that poor woman remains alone to stand up under a still more greivous trial, a heavier chastisement. For the partner of her joys and sorrows has been taken away, and the cry of her soul to-day, is like that of Cain, "My burden is greater than I can bear."

My brethren, let your hearts go out to this woman in deep sympathy and compassion; let your prayers ascend for her that God may console and comfort her in her grief, and pour upon her most richly of His Divine consolations. As you think of her to-day in her widowhood, deprived of her daughters and of her husband within such a brief space of time, I am sure you will be ready to tender to her, and to her stricken family, your sincere and heartfelt sympathy. May God, the Holy Ghost, teach them to rest on One who is mighty to save, and may He pour into their stricken souls that spiritual grace and holy resignation which alone can enable them to say "The Lord gave and the Lord hath taken away; blessed be the name of the Lord," to say, though with sobbing lips and a broken heart, "Thy will be done."

Now, my friends, I would ask you to take to yourselves individually, the stern lesson all this brings to us. Soon indeed shall "the dust return to earth as it was, and the spirit to God who gave it." But remember there is something behind death. "To die—to sleep"—were this all, we should, some of us, scarce shrink from it, amidst life's weariness, life's sorrows, life's toils. To pass away and be no more seen—this thought would scarcely terrify us. Our inward apprehensions, perhaps, might not be so strongly roused by that consideration, but behind the veil! Ah! behind the veil! Let us think, my brethren, that after death comes the judgment! And if we are not prepared for it, if in Christ we have not a Friend, a Saviour—then must we receive that awful sentence, "Depart from Me, ye cursed."

O God, teach us to be wise in time! Teach us to delay no longer about the work of our salvation! Let not the words rise again to our lips, "I pray thee have me excused." For if so, then there will be nothing left for God but to say at last to the great angel of justice: "Open the doors of darkness and of death, and excuse that man out of my presence, and let the feast of Heaven go on without him. Let the songs of triumph ring on throughout eternity without him, and let the eyes sparkle with holy joy, as he has the weeping and the wailing and the gnashing of teeth." "Boast not thyself of tomorrow, for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth. Prepare to meet thy God. The evening is approaching; the day is far spent; the night is at hand." Therefore I bid you "Seek the Lord while He may be found, call ye upon Him while He is near. Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the Lord, and He will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for He will abundantly pardon."

Green's Close Slat Window Shades.

As many of our readers have probably noticed, the new stores on George Street have handsome blinds. We are pleased to state that they were all manufactured by our townsman, Mr. E. Green, who, bound to keep up with the times, has secured the right to manufacture "the close slat window shades," a great improvement on the blinds formerly made by him. Among others we notice that Messrs. Munro and Alexander, Turnbull and Gray, and A. McNeil have ornamented their handsome plate glass fronts with beautiful and substantial shades, adjusted with care by the maker. When in position they are, without doubt, the most simple and easiest revolving blind in use, and we bespeak for Mr. Green, the patronage of those who want to supply themselves with shades. Mr. Green is well known to all our readers and the public can depend that he will carry out all his agreements fully. He is also agent for another window shade, which has been only introduced lately. A sample can be seen at Messrs. Turnbull and Gray's, George Street. House-keepers, merchants and hotel-keepers will do well to call at Mr. Green's residence on Water Street, opposite the market. As times are now good and money plentiful, under our excellent N.P. luxuries of this kind can be indulged in with advantage to the purchaser and the people generally.

Removed.

The undersigned in returning thanks to their numerous customers, beg leave to say that they have removed to the new store recently erected by Garvey and Dolan, opposite the market square. Where, with increased facilities and strict attention to the wants of their customers they hope to merit a continuation of their patronage. CARTON BROS.

The Poultry Association.

A very enthusiastic meeting of the Poultry Association was held on Monday night at the Council Chamber. The late show was a financial success and a handsome balance remains, after all liabilities have been discharged.

The Ontario and Quebec.

The Ontario and Quebec Railway surveyors have left the Croft House, having completed the location of the line through the town. Their headquarters are now at Cavanville.

Board of Education.

The first meeting of the Board of Education of 1882 takes place at the Collegiate Institute building this evening at 7.45 o'clock.

For Winnipeg.

Messrs. F. Winch, Alex. Elliott and R. B. McKee left for Winnipeg on Monday morning, just to take a look around and buy a lot or two.

Personal.

Captain Cottingham, of the Chicago and North-Western Railway is in town, as is also Captain Thurkell, one of the Government Land Guides in the North-west.

FROM L. J. Racine, Esq., of La Minerve, Montreal. "Having experienced the most gratifying results from the use of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, I am induced to express the great confidence which I have in its efficacy. For nine months I was most cruelly afflicted with a severe and obstinate cough, accompanied with acute pain in the side, which did not leave me, Summer or Winter. The symptoms increased alarmingly, and so reduced was I that I could walk but a few steps without resting to recover from the pain and fatigue which so slight an exertion occasioned. At this juncture I commenced taking the Balsam, from which I found immediate relief; and after having used four bottles I was completely restored to health. I have also used the Balsam in my family, and administered it to my children, with the happiest results. I am sure that such Canadians as use the Balsam can speak in its favour. It is a preparation which has only to be tried to be acknowledged as the remedy par excellence."

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

The Committee decided that the league should extend aid in money to such Southern states as "gave promise of redemption from Bourbonism." An interview of prominent members of the committee with the President on this subject it is said was satisfactory.

A CONSPIRACY.

DUBLIN, Feb. 8.—The conspiracy referred to recently extends to twenty-four counties, including three in Munster. It is a semi-Fenian and Ribbon association divided into county battalions, half-batalions, and district squads of twenty-five. Its head organizer is in Dublin. By this organization the Nationalists and Ribbon-men are, for the first time in the history of Irish conspiracies, working in unity. An oath binds the members to be faithful to the Irish Republic and obey their superior officers in everything without question. The object is to deter persons from paying rent, to administer "punishment" to those who disobey its orders promulgated by placards or otherwise, and also to enlist a large body of men, who will be drilled.

THE BRADLAUGH CASE.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—In the House of Commons Mr. Bradlaugh advanced to take the oath, Sir Stafford Northcote moved that he be not allowed to swear. Mr. Bradlaugh, speaking from the bar of the House, asked that he be allowed a hearing before the question is decided. He declared most solemnly that the Parliamentary oath would be binding upon his honour and his conscience. Mr. Gladstone maintained that the House could only see that the formalities of administering the oath were observed, and could not inquire into Mr. Bradlaugh's opinion. Sir William Harcourt moved the previous question. He advised the House, as Mr. Bradlaugh had been admitted to affirm, subject to the decision of a court of law, that he be now allowed to swear similarly. The proposition was received with ironical cheers. Sir Staffort Northcote's motion was adopted. After the vote had been taken the Speaker ordered Mr. Bradlaugh to withdraw. He at first refused, but withdrew upon a motion ordering him to do so, and which Mr. Gladstone said he would oppose, being agreed to.

A RUSSO-GERMAN BREEZE.

BERLIN, Feb. 7.—Gen. von Schweinitz, German ambassador at St. Petersburg, in obedience to Prince Bismarck's instructions, has asked M. von Giers, Secretary to the Foreign Office, for an explanation in regard to the recent speech of Gen. Skobeleff favouring a planslavist agitation in Bosina. M. von Giers replied that he knew nothing of the speech made by Gen. Skobeleff. Prince Bismarck then despatched a second telegram to Gen. von Schweinitz, who informed M. von Giers that he might have to announce to the Czar his recall if Russia appeared to support the agitation against Austria in the press, or even showed excessive toleration thereof. Gen. von Schweinitz was authorized to state that Germany regarded her interests as identical with those of Austria.

FROM THE NORTH.

PARIS, Feb. 7.—A letter from engineer Melville has just been received at Irkutsk, through Count Ahlefeldt Leuwigen, dated Jan. 13. It says that he is searching with three parties, the first headed by Ninderman and the Russian Lobokoff, the second by Bartlett and Sergeant Kolinkin, and the third by Melville and Groenbreck. The first party was to leave Yakutsk immediately, and all were to be in the wilderness by March 1. The Count volunteers his assistance, and is enthusiastic in the work.

THE IMPRISONED MEMBERS.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—The Speaker read a letter from Mr. Forster informing him of the arrest of certain Irish members of the House. Mr. Dwyer Gray (Home Ruler) moved that the letter be referred to a select committe. He contended that the Coercion Act had been violated. Mr. Gladstone opposed the motion, which was rejected by 114 to 145.

KHEDIVE AND NOTABLES.

CAIRO, Feb. 7.—The Khedive has approved of the organic laws. The Ministers have drawn up a declaration affirming that that the right to vote the budget has been delegated by the Khedive to the Notables by virtue of powers conferred on the Khedive by the Sultan, and that granting such rights is not contrary to international obligation.

CHURCH AND STATE.

BERLIN, Feb. 7.—In the Prussian Landtag to-day the Minister of Ecclesiastical Affairs, in introducing the Ecclesiastical bill, said the Government were anxious to heal the wound they had been forced to inflict, but could not forego any results they had gained. They deprecated anything in the form of a concordat, and and were confident that the Pope was sincerely desirous of peace.

P. O. APPOINTMENTS.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—The Tribune's Washington special says that friends state that the President is making more appointments than the public realize. He is appointing Post Masters for instance, at the rate of about thirty a day, and in most cases he is following the wishes of Senators or representatives.

GOTHAM'S GOSSIP.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Several members of the Legislature visited the Produce Exchange yesterday to confer with the members relating to the canal interests. Grant has been elected a trustee of the Madison Avenue Congregational Church. P. L. Freeman & Co., importers of woolens have assigned, giving $74,000 preferences. The passenger rates having been advanced by all the trunk lines yesterday, there was a marked falling off of business from the preceding few days.

FROM L. J. Racine, Esq., of La Minerve, Montreal. "Having experienced the most gratifying results from the use of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, I am induced to express the great confidence which I have in its efficacy. For nine months I was most cruelly afflicted with a severe and obstinate cough, accompanied with acute pain in the side, which did not leave me, Summer or Winter. The symptoms increased alarmingly, and so reduced was I that I could walk but a few steps without resting to recover from the pain and fatigue which so slight an exertion occasioned. At this juncture I commenced taking the Balsam, from which I found immediate relief; and after having used four bottles I was completely restored to health. I have also used the Balsam in my family, and administered it to my children, with the happiest results. I am sure that such Canadians as use the Balsam can speak in its favour. It is a preparation which has only to be tried to be acknowledged as the remedy par excellence."

RECENT ADVICES from the north-west territories state that in the southern part and along the slope of the Rocky Mountains where cattle ranches have been established the season has been most favourable. Beyond one heavy snow storm at the end of October which lasted only a few days, the cattle have had abundant pasturing and up to within a few weeks ago the weather had been remarkable fine. This is indeed encouraging to those who have invested their money in the stock raising industry, and will have a beneficial effect on the future openings of many capitalists, who were holding back awaiting the result of the experiment.

MR. GEO. JOHNSTON, who was appointed by the Department of Agriculture to investigate the alleged "exodus" from the Maritime Provinces, handed in his report to the Government yesterday.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1882.

PLATFORM BUILDING.

An Ex-Prime Minister on the N. P., the C. P. R., and the Coming Election.

On Saturday morning a Telegram reporter, who happens to have a vote in East York, meeting the Honourable Mr. Mackenzie on the street, spoke to him regarding his attitude as to the N.P., the grant of lands to the Pacific Syndicate and other matters. Opening the conversation the reporter said;

I am a voter in the constituency you propose to contest in the Dominion elections, Mr. Mackenzie, and wish you to clear up a few foggy matters which are puzzling me. So far as the National Policy is concerned I strongly support the present government. Just as strongly I oppose it on the grant of lands to the Pacific Railway Syndicate. If I vote for you at the next elections I staltify myself on the question of protection; if I vote for Mr. Boultbee I stultify on the question of the land grant. What am I to do, take to the woods? I want you to tell me exactly how you stand in regard to the N. P., so that I and many others situated like myself may know what to do and vote intelligently.

The honourable gentleman smiled as he said: So far as I am personally concerned, in the event of the party to which I belong being returned to power at the next election, I would instantly do away with the present tariff and return at once to the sound principles of political economy. But I recognize the fact that a government must move more cautiously. Capital has been attracted to Canada by the present tariff. Industries have sprung into existence which it would be impolitic to disarrange by a too sudden change in the country's fiscal policy.

Now Mr. Mackenzie I want to pin you down to an explicit statement on this subject. Am I to understand by your answer that you can believe a protective policy right in principal, though, perhaps anomalous in a few details, or am I to understand that you favour a strictly revenue tariff.

If returned to power I would instantly do away with the tax on coal, the tax on commodities of life, and by degrees do away with the other taxes imposed by the present government. Two sudden a change from a protective to a revenue tariff would be injurious, but it would not be injurious to bring it about gradually, and that I would do, and favour being done by others. While the manufacturers do much for the country, we must not forget the importers, who also do much.

But, surely the benefit done the country by importers is not to be compared with that done by manufacturers.

Perhaps not as much, but you must remember there are many manufacturers who are not benefitted by the N.P., but are on the contrary injured by it. Take agricultnral implement manufacturers for instance. Take the iron manufactures as another instance.

I do not agree with you regarding agricultural implement manufacturers. They purchase a patent right, and that is, and has been, a great protection to them, more than the present tariff ever was. In regard to iron, take East York for instance. Not many miles from Toronto the best iron in the world is to be found. The Nipissing railway could bring it to the mouth of the Don, and furnaces could be erected there, giving employment to hundreds.

It could never be done unless a tax of $5 per ton was imposed on raw iron. So far as the present tariff is concerned I think it would be advisable to do away with it and return to a revenue one, but as I said, any government must do so cautiously. As soon as the House closes I intend making a vigorous canvass in East York. I shall hold public meetings throughout the riding at which I shall explain my views regarding the N.P., and I do not think those in favour of protection need refuse me their votes on the ground that we do not altogether agree about it. I hope all situated like yourself will attend, and while agreeing on the land policy of the present government, we can, perhaps, manage to get along together on the question of the N.P.

The Ottawa Free Press says some weeks ago we took note of a project to start in Ottawa a manufactory for diary utensils. The promoter, Mr. W. H. Lynch, of Danville, is now in the city, and we are glad to learn that the prospects of the early establishment of the business is almost or quite assured. The leading men of the country have given it unqualified endorsation, and the view taken of it is that it is of first importance to the most important, i.e., agricultural, interests of the country. Fortunately there is, too, in the project what will interest our capitalists—a chance for a profitable and permanent investment. The prospects of the business, being a profitable one, are unusually good.

MESSRS. PETER R. LAMB & Co., of Toronto, have added a new and important branch to their already large establishment, i. e., the manufacturing of flint and emery paper. This firm is, we believe, the first in the Dominion to make such material. Considerable machinery has been put in and the services of experienced workmen from the United States secured. Some of our paper makers have already had large orders from the Messrs. Lamb for a specially made paper of a peculiarly strong and tough texture, and we learn that a very creditable quality of Crown Flint paper is being turned out, and the variety will doubtless be enlarged from time to time to suit the demands of Canadian trade.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

THE TRUSTEES FOR THE CURRENT YEAR MEET AND FULLY ORGANIZE.

The Cadet Corps to be Recusitated—Mr. James Stevenson re-Elected Chairman—The County Grant—Communications, Accounts and Other Routine Business.

The first regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education for 1882 was held at the Collegiate Institute on Tuesday evening.

Present Messrs. Stevenson, Stratton, McClelland, Weir, Rutherford, Robinson, Wrighton, Sproule, Best and Poussette.

Those present having taken the statatory declaration, the Secretary announced that they were entitled to take their seats.

ELECTION OF CHAIRMAN.

The Secretary took the chair and announced that the first business was the election of a chairman.

Moved by Mr. McCLELLAND seconded by Mr. RUTHERFORD that Mr. James Stevenson be elected chairman.—Carried unanimously.

Both the mover and seconder in speaking to the resolution referred in high terms to the zeal, integrity and fairness of the chairman while he has presided over them.

Mr. Stevenson on taking the post of honor thanked his colleagues for the honor. He would endeavour to carry out the rules of the Board and hoped that things would go on as harmoniously as in other years. He regretted that the attendance at our schools was not as well kept up as formerly, but he thought that very few left here to go to other schools. He referred to the visit of the deputation that waited on the County Council to endeavour to obtain a grant towards the support of our school, but as all had seen by the papers they were unsuccessful. The question of fees was one that had something to do with the diminished attendance, but if the county would afford no aid he saw no other way to save the people's money. He wanted to see the Institute kept up and thought it was the poor man's school, as it helped the poor man's son to rise to the top of the heap at a small cost to his parents. He would support the Institute but wanted to see the taxes kept down. He again returned thanks and resumed his seat.

THE STANDING COMMITTEES.

Moved by Mr. STRATTON seconded by Mr. WRIGHTON that Messrs. McClelland, Rutherford, Poussette, Stratton, Wrighton and the Chairman be a committee to strike the standing committees for the year.—Carried.

The committee then retired and in a short time brought in the following report which was read by Mr. Stratton:—

FINANCE.—Messrs. Poussette, Wrighton Denne, Sproule, and Burnham.

APPOINTMETS.—Messrs. Poussette, Rutherford, Wrighton, Stratton, McClelland, Robinson and Sproule.

PROPERTY.—Messrs. McClelland, Rebinson, Best, Sawers, Weir, Rutherford and Sproule.

LOCAL INSPECTOR.

Moved by Mr. POUSSETTE, seconded by Mr. RUTHERFORD,—That Mr. James Stratton be appointed Local Superintendent of the Public Schools, at a salary of $100.—Carried.

AN INQUIRY.

Mr. McCLELLAND asked if the arms of the cadet company had been returned?

The JANITOR replied that they were still in the armoury.

Mr. McCLELLAND then handed a copy of the DAILY EVENING REVIEW to the Secretary, with a request that a letter regarding the cadet corps be read.

The Secretary did so.

Mr. McCLELLAND objected to the clause stating that the Principal was averse to keeping up the company. That was not correct, as the Principal was only opposed to drilling during school hours. In the second place there are more large boys attending the school now than for years. He favoured the drill company but thought that the rifles should be returned.

The CHAIRMAN also bore out Mr. McClelland. If something was not done this evening regarding the arms he would ship them to Kingston.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From C. D. Macdonald, Town Clerk, stating that Messrs. A. P. Poussette and Robert Weir had been appointed members of the Board of Education, by the Town Council.—Received.

The SECRETARY stated that Messrs. G. B. Sproule, John McClelland, T. W. Robinson and H. Denne had been duly elected by the ratepayers as Public School Trustees.

From the Educational Department, regarding text books.—Received.

From the Educational Department, regarding the Meteorological grant.—Received.

From Mr. W. A. Morrow, Secretary-Treasurer of the Board, asking for an increase of salary.—Committee on Appointments.

From Mr. J. Braden, asking for a cupboard to hold school supplies in.—Property Committee to act.

From Mr. J. Braden, giving the list of supplies required during the year.—School Supervision Committee.

BAD PAPER.

The CHAIRMAN said that it was customary to procure tenders for the supplies.

Messrs. WRIGHTON and POUSSETTE complained about the quality of paper supplied.

Mr. BRADEN said that it was according to contract.

AN ADDITIONAL MEMBER.

Moved by Mr. STRATTON, seconded by Mr. McCLELLAND,—That the name of Mr. Sproule be added to the Committee on Appointments.—Carried.

THOSE ARMS.

The CHAIRMAN again brought up the arms matter.

Mr. McCLELLAND favoured sending them back.

Mr. POUSSETTE favoured physical education and thought the arms should be retained. He was opposed to drilling during school hours, and thought that the boys looked at the drilling as a recreation. He thought the young men would not drill with "little wooden guns." If the boys are drilled when young they will become volunteers in later days. He thought that the Board should encourage the company. If the company was formed now, the Government would at once send an instructor.

The INSPECTOR said that each member was to provide his own clothing, but many of them did not and the company fell through.

Mr. McCLELLAND said that it was not necessary to bring an instructor here.

Mr. RUTHERFORD thought that the arms should be retained and an instructor procured. He was in favor of referring the matter to a committee.

Mr. McCLELLAND said that the Company disbanded before the present Principal was appointed. As the Government had demanded the arms they should be written to on the subject.

Mr. POUSSETTE thought that Capt. Edwards' letter did not reflect on the Principal.

Moved by Mr. POUSSETTE, seconded by Mr. RUTHERFORD,—That it is desirable to reform the Cadet Company and that the matter be referred to the School Supervision Committee to take steps to that end.—Carried.

THE COUNTY GRANT.

Mr. POUSSETTE said that a deputation had waited on the County Council to obtain a grant towards our High School. He spoke rather warmly about about the meanness of certain members of that body, and advised retaliation by charging the county pupils high fees.

The CHAIRMAN said that many of the Councillors were favorable to the grant, but their constitutents were opposed to it. He was opposed to too high fees as we might cut our own throats. There are now about forty pupils from the county. Ashburnham had done nobly last year and would doubtless give us a grant this year also.

Mr. RUTHERFORD thought the matter would be re-considered at the June session and the grant made.

Mr. McCLELLAND thought the County Councillors wanted to shut out Norwood.

The meeting then adjourned.

Burdock Blood Bitters

FROM ALL OVER.

PROFESSOR MASSON says that in Edinburgh probably one soul in 2,000 knows that De Quincy lived there or is buried there, and that of the 100 who are acquainted with the fact 99 are indifferent to it.

THE financial returns of two Catholic church fairs lately held in Philadelphia, show that one realized $14,000, and the other over $10,000. The contests by votes proved most remunerative, the ballots to award a chalice producing the sum of $2.800.

DRUGGISTS throughout the country testify to the great merits of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. No medicine they sell acts so promptly in curing Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, &c. Have you tried it? J. D. Tully, agent for Peterboro'.

MR. ARTHUR, of Lisbon, Me., is probably the most extensive dealer in old-fashioned clocks in New England. Whenever he hears of an old clock he sets out for it, if it is fifty miles distant. He cleans and repairs them, and sells them at an advance.

THE Medical News says that if a first-class surgeon was called from New York to Washington in a case his fee would be from $800 to$1,000, and $300 per day while he staid there, and argues that the President's advisers should be paid on a larger scale.

"DON'T GIVE UP THE SHIP" were the memorable words of Commodore Perry. We repeat, "Don't Give up the Ship," poor, despairing involid, but try Burdock Blood Bitters. It cures others, why not you? It renovates, regulates and tones all the organs of secretion, and restores lost Vitality.

Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" is a most powerful restorative tonic, almost combining the most valuable nervine properties, especially adapted to the wants of debilitated ladies suffering from weak back, inward fever, congestion, inflammation, or ulceration, or from nervousness or neuralgic pains. By druggists.

GOOD musical entertainments are provided in Cleveland in a course of twelve concerts at ten cents each, or a dollar for the dozen. The best local talent is engaged, and singers are sometimes brought from a distance; but the other expenses are kept down as low as possible, and the philantrophic managers are able to make both ends meet.

RHEUMATISM.—This widespread affliction, and all kindred ailments are at once arrested by Herrick's Sugar-Coated Vegetable Pills, and through their continued use, finally eradicated out of the system. This fact is known all the world over. They contain no mineral substance of any kind.

THERE are only 113 works in the English language which the blind can read. Producing books in raised letters is very expensive, and of course the sales are small, so that their publication is a matter of charity. The Pekins Institute of Boston have almost raised a fund of $100,000, with which they will issue twelve books a year indefinitely.

THE Vokes family, whose style of mixed local and farcical entertainments gave rise to half a dozen imitative and successful companies in this country, are about to settle down in Boston in a theatre of their own. They mean to produce foreign comical pieces exclusively, and every holiday season will bring out a pantomine in the London style.

TWO ORGANS.—Regulate first the stomach, second the liver; especially the first, so as to perform their functions perfectly and you will remove at least nineteen-twentieths of all the ills that mankind is heir to, in this or any other climate. Hop Bitters is the only thing that will give perfectly healthy natural action to these two organs.—Maine Farmer.

HOW TO CURE A COLD.—Upon the first feeling of chill or shivering remain indoors if possible, bathe the feet in tepid water, gradually increasing the heat as long as it can be comfortably borne, drink freely of warm ginger tea or sage tea, to induce perspiration, and take Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam according to directions on the bottle. Hagyard's Balsam cures coughs, asthma, and bronchitis.

THE grave of Carlyle, in that small Scotch church-yard where the remains were laid at rest nearly a year ago, has since received but little attention. Except for two decaying wreaths lying upon it, it is said that one would not know that the spot was realy a grave. Some repairs have been made to the walls of the yard, howevef, and several pleasant walks have been laid out.

HAD SUFFERED MANY PHYSICIANS and grew no better but rather worse. Mr. D. H. Howard, of Geneva, N. Y., after dismissing his physicians, tried nearly half a gross of the various blood and liver remedies advertised, no benefit; when one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters cured him of Paralysis and General Debility. At the advanced age of 60, he says he feels young again, and is overjoyed at his wonderful recovery.

ONE of the hardest woods in existance is that of the desert ironwood tree which grows in the dry washes along the line of the Southern Pacific railroad. Its specific gravity is nearly the same as that of lignum vitæ, and it has a black heart so hard, when well seasoned, that it will turn the edge of an axe and can scarcly be cut by a well tempered saw. In burning it gives out an intense heat, and the charcoal made from it is hardly second to anthracite.

THE log of the ship Gladstone, recently arrived at Sydney, Australia, records that on her last voyage a seaman fell overboard, and went down into the deep green gulf without the faintest possible hope of coming on board again. As he rose after the first header, right alongside he be held an albatross, and around the albatross' neck he folded an arm, and with the other hand made a sure grip of the wicked hooked bill, and with much flapping and foundering he held on until the boat got down and lifted him in.

HIS HONOR THE MAYOR.—Chicago is, as she may well be, justly proud of her Mayor. She is proud for several reasons, and very good ones too, of the Hon. Carter H. Harrison. There are but few men in American politics to-day who can show as clear a record or as deserving and honorable a career as Mr. Harrison. Twice has Mr. Harrison been called upon to fill the office of Mayor of Chicago with the highest mayoralty vote ever given a Democrat in this great city, and twice has he filled that office with honor, winning the respect and esteem of her people regardless of party. Mr. Harrison is as yet in the prime of life—his physical qualities being fully equal to his mental capacities, and that is saying a great deal, the only medicine that gentleman ever used being the Great German Remedy, St. Jacobs Oil. Speaking of that famed panacea used by all the great men of the day, Mr. Harrison said:—"Rheumatism is about the only ailment that has ever given me any bother, and it is now gone where it will bother me no more. In the neighborhood where I live the people will have no other medicine for rheumatism or diseases of a similar nature than St. Jacobs Oil. When I first found myself suffering from the rheumatism my leading thought naturally was to call a physician, but my neighbors all advised me to try St. Jacobs Oil, the Great German Remedy. I took the advice of my friends, who were benefited by the use of St. Jacobs Oil. I procured some of it immediately, and,—well, the result was that I have been recommending it since I found it excellent for rheumatism. I have almost a bottleful of it now at home, and I am morally certain that I have no more rheumatism. The Oil has been used in my family and neighborhood with remarkable success, and I think St. Jacobs Oil is an excellent remedy." Such is the experience and such the opinion of His Honor, the Mayor.—Chicago Tribune.

ALL ABOUT A WOMAN.

Serious Shooting Affray at Detroit—A Quarrel Between Two Gamblers.

DETROIT, Feb. 6.—Yesterday afternoon Frank Wiethoff and two other sports, known as E. J. Flynn and Hamilton, hired a double rig and started for a drive on the Grosse Point roads with two soiled doves. About nine o'clock this afternoon they arrived at Weaver's hotel, and ordered supper, but while it was being prepared Wiethoff's companion had a quarrel about a girl, and Hamilton shot Flynn twice with a revolver, one bullet taking effect in the hip, and the other in the bowels. The shooting sobered the whole party up, and without waiting for supper they loaded Flynn into the carriage and brought him directly to St. Mary's hospital, where he is now being attended to. At last account it was thought he could not survive his wounds, in fact he is reported to have sent word to Hamilton this morning urging that worthy to fly, as he (Flynn) was fatally injured, and did not blame him for the shooting. Flynn is a professional gambler, and has, it is understood, been "running" a game here with Frank Wiethoff. He and Hamilton were both after the same girl, and had quarrelled before.

ANOTHER BLACK SHEPHERD.

Charges of Indecent Assault Laid Against a Minister—An Essex Sensation.

DETROIT, Feb. 6.—For some weeks past rumours have been in circulation in South Essex, Ont., to the effect that the Rev. W. H. Haynes, of the Colchester South B. M. E. Church, had recently tried to commit an indecent assault on one of the ladies of his congregation. It appears that on the 8th of December Haynes went to the house of John Crosby, and finding Mrs. Crosby alone, attempted the assault. Crosby, hearing his wife's screams, came to the rescue and kicked Haynes off the premises, and would have shot him had not Mrs. Crosby taken his revolver from him. Haynes then knelt down in front of the house and asked Crosby to forgive him, and say nothing about it, but Haynes could not keep quiet, and told several parties that Mrs. Crosby was to blame, so she laid an information before three justices, charging Haynes with attempted rape. The case came up on the 11th of January and in consequence of Mrs. Crosby not appearing against him, Haynes made an acknowledgment in his own handwriting of having made the assault. This not the only charge of the kind against Haynes, as a similar one is being investigated by the B. M. E. church at New Canaan. Haynes still exercises his ministerial functions.

NORWOOD.

ACCIDENT.—Mrs. Crowthers, wife Mr. J. Crowthers, of this village, had the misfortune, on Monday last, while going from the house to the shop, to slip and fall in such a manner as to break her left arm in two places. She is recovering rapidly.

ATTEMPT TO BLACKMAIL.—An attempt was made a few weeks ago to blackmail Mr. John Breckenridge, a Justice of the Peace, and a prominent resident of the Township of Asphodel. Mr. B., it appears, was returning home from Peterborough, via the Grand Junction, and observing a train lantern near where he was seated, took it up, and remarked that he would like to have one similar to it, asking a passenger sitting near him if he knew where he could purchase one. During the conversation that ensued, a brakeman named Bruce came in and accused Mr. B. of trying to steal the lantern, and said he would make him "jump" for it. Notwithstanding the assertions of Mr. B. and his fellow passengers, the brakeman continued to charge him with larceny, and offered to settle it there and then for a small consideration. Of course Mr. Breckenridge indignantly refused. Bruce, on reaching Belleville, thought he would try a little game of "bluff," and accordingly wrote the following letter to Mr. Breckenridge, which we give word for word—the spelling and punctuation are a little peculiar:—

BELVIVL Desember 26 1881.

To Mr. John Bruckenridge, West-Wood Ont.

If you dont Want your your name in the daley Papers a bout that lamp you tried to steal of my train Just Fureward 5.00 five dollars to my adres if not i will Expous you to the publick at large a nice thing for a Justis of the peac to dont forget or i Wont you left your self liebell to bee arrested i hav good proof so drop me a fue lines bee fore next thursday or you wil bee soreey.

Adress Bruce peterboro ont.

Had Mr. Breckenridge done that which in our opinion should have been done, he would have had the man promptly arrested at Hastings, but being of a generous disposition he allowed the sharper to go. A little attention to this matter by the railway officials would not be amiss.—Register.

FENELON FALLS.

A VALUABLE MOUTHFUL.—The Gazette says that last harvest time a hired man in the employ of Mr. John Kelly, of Verulam, lost a half sovereign that he had brought from the old country with him and kept with other coins in his pocket. A close search was made for it, and Mr. Kelly's children were interrogated, but to no purpose, and the owner of it never expected to see it again. But he was mistaken; for one day last week Mrs. Kelly killed a young rooster and found in its gizzard the missing gold piece. It was worn nearly smooth by the action of the gravel that the bird had swallowed to assist in grinding its food, but there is to doubt about its being the half sovereign, though probable somewhat depreciated in value. The supposition is that the coin slipped out of the owner's pocket while he was reclining on a bench outside the house, as he was in the habit of doing, and that the rooster snapped it up under the impression that it was good to eat.

QUICK WORK.—On Tuesday and Wednesday of last week Mr. Wm. Smith threshed ten bags of clover seed in a little less than nine hours for Mr. W. J. Smitheram, of Lot No. 23 in the 6th concession of Fenelon. There has been a good deal of talk talk lately over what has been done in the way of threshing in a certain locality in this township, but Mr. Smitheram is of the opinion that Mr. Smith's performance has not been beaten.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Sad Death.

Another old resident has passed away in the person of Mr. Wm. Whitla, who died at his residence in Otonabee on Saturday last. Mr. Whitla came to Canada from the county of Antrim, Ireland, with his father (Capt. Whitla) in 1830, being then 13 years of age. Capt. Whitla settled on the property in Ashburnham, known as Beaver Mead, and for many years that part of the river where the Locks now stand was known as "Whitla's rapids," and the the creek which empties into the river at that point is still known in the neighborhood as Whitla's creek. It will be remembered that Mr. Whitla lost his two surviving daughters after a brief illness late last year, and now he, himself has died, in the 65th year of his age, after only a few days' illness. He leaves behind him a widow and two sons who have the heartfelt sympathy of a large circle of friends in the heavy bereavements which have fallen upon them within the last few months.

A Well Earned Salary.

The Ottawa Citizen says in regard to the increase of salary of Mr. Romaine, who has charge of the stationery department in the House of Commons, the Free Press endeavours to make a point against the Government by stating that his predecessor's salary was $1,000, while Mr. Romaine's salary has been raised from $1,000 to $1,400. The fact is, Mr. Sloan received $1,200 during the last year's service, and Mr. Romaine was appointed at $1,000 with a prospect of an increase. Mr. Romaine is at present, and has been, doing the work that some three or four persons formerly did. When the item comes up when the estimates are under consideration, the increase will be successfully defended.

Frozen "Stiff."

The Norwood Register says that a man named William Gray, travelling for a pump manufacturer of Peterborough, says that while driving between Norwood and Marmora during the recent cold snap, the dog sitting on the seat beside him was frozen "stiff." How much truth there is in the above we cannot say, but the people of Marmora seem to consider it a hoax, as some of them on hearing the story went to the spot where Gray said he had left the dog, and failed to find any trace of him.

Personal.

Mr. "Alphabet" Williams, so called by the late Artemus Ward, the advance agent of Healey's Hibernian Ministrels, who will appear here on Monday evening next, called on us to-day. Mr. Williams is an old newspaper man, and also an old agent. He was here a number of years ago, ahead of Howarth's Hibernicon and Erin and the Brennans, and he also accompanied the first travelling show that visited Winnipeg.

Railway Time Table.

The following gives the time of arrival and departure of the Midland and Grand Junction trains at Peterborough station :—

MIDLAND RAILWAY TRAINS DEPART at 7 and 10.20 a.m., and 4.30 and 6.40 p.m.

ARRIVE at 8.35 and 11.50 a.m., and 6.15 and 9.55 p.m.

GRAND JUNCTION TRAINS DEPART at 7 a.m. and 3 p.m.

ARRIVE at 11 a.m. and 6.10 p.m.

Removed.

The undersigned in returning thanks to their numerous customers, beg leave to say that they have removed to the new store recently erected by Garvey and Dolan, opposite the market square. Where, with increased facilities and strict attention to the wants of their customers they hope to merit a continuation of their patronage. CARTON BROS.

The Big Boom.

The Winnipeg Sun of a recent date says that Mr. Geo. A. Cox, president of the Midland Railway, is investing large amouts in real estate through the agency of Mr. McDonnell.

Mr. Thomas Bradburn recently cleared $17,000 by the sale of some lots in Winnipeg.

Rather Cool.

If the person that entered the policemen's room at the Opera House on Tuesday night and carried away an umbrella belonging to one of the officers, does not return it, prehaps something may happen, not at all creditable to the cheeky sneak thief.

POLICE COURT.

BREACH OF THE CROOK'S ACT.

MONDAY, Feb. 8.—Thomas Byers of the township of Smith was charged by License Inspector Leary with disposing of intoxicating liquor without having the necessary license.

Mrs. BYERS appeared and stated that her husband was away from home and would not return for some time.

The case was accordingly enlarged.

A VAGRANT.

A man named Andrew Brady, hailing from Burleigh and suffering from an ulcerated leg, appeared before the magistrate and stated he had been sent from his residence here to get sent to gaol for a term.

He was committed for one month to see if any thing could be done for him.

Although only about forty years of age his hair is just as white as snow, caused, as he says, during the last two years, by fretting over his helpless condition.

Railway Notes.

A quantity of new rolling stock for the Midland Combination is being constructed at various car manufactories in Canada.

Mr. James Ross, consulting engineer of the Ontario and Quebec railway, returned yesterday from a week's tour over the line.

The annual meeting of the Ontario and Quebec railway was held on Tuesday afternoon at the head office of the Company, No. 18 King street West, Toronto. Mr. E. B. Osler, President, occupied the chair. It was reported that considerable progress had been made in the purchase of the right of way, and resolutions were passed authorizing the Directors to proceed with the construction of the road in such a way as would seem most advisable. The following gentlemen were elected Directors :—E. B. Osler, Hon. J. R. Thibaudeau, Duncan McIntyre, Geo. Stephen, Hon. Peter Mitchell, Adam Brown, H. S. Howland, Wm. Hendrie and A. B. Chaffee.

An action was instituted on Tuesday at Montreal by a stockholder against the Grand Trunk. The object is to have the rebate traffic agreements recently entered into with the Grand Junction Railway Company, and Toronto and Nipissing Railway Company in Ontario, and with the Chicago and Grand Trunk Railway Company, and the Michigan Air Line Railway Company, declared illegal and void as being ultra vires of the powers of the Grand Trunk Railway Company, as in effect guaranteeing the bond debt interest of those companies, which the Grand Trunk had no authority to do. Similar suits are said to have been instituted in Toronto, and injunctions are asked for to restrain the Grand Trunk from carrying out the agreements, or from applying any of their earnings under them, and from paying dividends on the several classes of its preference stocks until the rights and liabilities under the agreement are ascertained and determined.

Ourselves.

With pardonable bashfulness we never like to refer to the many compliments we receive on account of the REVIEW, but occasionally, as was the case at the Council meeting the other night, when the leading citizens refer to us so kindly, it is but fair that we should notice them. During the discussion on the car works question, a gentleman said that he had not heard of the public meeting, when one of the Councillors remarked that the notice appeared in the EVENING REVIEW. The gentleman referred to stated that he had not seen the paper, when the Councillor replied that he did not think there was any person in town so benighted that they did not read our neat and newsy sheet, and his sentiments were re-echoed by all present. Another Councillor remarked that Peterborough had the best newspapers published in the country, and referred to the DAILY EVENING REVIEW as being the newsiest and best conducted paper published outside of the larger cities. When such good authorities speak, there must be something in it.

New Barristers.

The following gentlemen among others were presented by Mr. James Maclennan, Q. C., to the members of the Queen's Bench Division at Toronto on Monday, and were sworn in as barristers :—E. T. English (honors and gold medal) ; Adam Johnstone (honors and silver medal) ; and D. J. Lynch, who stands third on the list, ranking only below the medalists, is a Peterborough boy, a former student in the office of Messrs. Scott & Edwards. We beg to congratulate him on his well merited success.

Esther Owen-Flint.

The grand literary recital at Bradburn's Hall on Tuesday evening, by Miss Esther Owen-Flint was but slimly attended, on account of the very unpropitious character of the weather. Those who were present were apparently well pleased and speak highly of the lady's attainments. She was assisted by the Peterborough orchestra, and Messrs. F. and J. Miller in cornet duets. If Miss Flint should ever return, she will doubtless have a large audience.

The Weather.

The weather probabilities for this district for the following 24 hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a.m., to-day, by the Great North-Western Telegraph Company, are as follows :—Lakes—Moderate to fresh winds, mostly from the west and south ; fair, continued mild weather.

The Cadets.

As will be seen by reference to our report of the Board of Education meeting, it was deemed advisable to again form the Cadet Company at the Institute. This is a wise move and one that is appreciated by the citizens and the pupils generally.

Home Again.

Mr. J. Beatty, Veterinary Surgeon, has returned to town after an illness of six weeks, and has resumed practice.

THE DAILY EVENING REVIEW is delivered to subscribers at ten cents a week.

TAVERN LICENSES.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR EDITOR,—As the time for the renewal of licenses is approaching, I thought it might not be out of place to say something on the subject of temperance with a view solely to the interest of our town, hoping that we may profit by the experience of this past year and try to amend the future. We all remember that sad affair that took place last year in the very heart of our town, that awful murder, and at the Court of Assize how strongly Judge Armour rightly condemned the practice of intoxicating drink, and I am candid in the opinion that there is nothing on this earth that brings more misery to the hearts of our people than the use of intoxicating liquors.

Therefore, in my opinion, this subject is a serious one, and I hope our Council will take this view and our people through the press will express themselves frankly on this subject with hopes that the smallest suggestion in the right direction may prove a benefit to mankind. I have nothing to say against those respectable dealers in intoxicating liquors, knowing that trade to be constitutional, and while we admit the liquor traffic to be constitutional let us try to improve.

I believe a most extremely high price for liquor would be a great benefit to all classes. I believe if liquor was twenty-five cents a glass there would be less of it used. For my part I would be willing to make it one dollar, and if our authorities can move in a way to protect humanity from that demon alcohol by high license or otherwise it would be one of the greatest blessings to mankind.

I am, yours &c.,
JOHN BELL.

Peterborough, 6th Feby., 1882.

CONSUMPTION in its early stages is readily cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," though, if the lungs are wasted on medicine will effect a cure. No known remedy possesses such soothing and healing influence over all scorfulous, tuberculous, and pulmonary affections as the "Discovery." John Willis, of Elyria, Ohio, writes : "The 'Golden Medical Discovery' does positively cure consumption, as, after trying every other medicine in vain, this succeeded." Mr. Z. T. Phelps, of Cuthbert, Ga., writes : "The Golden Medical Discovery' has cured my wife of bronchitis and incipient consumption." Sold by druggists.

This fact is noticeably so in our Ordered Clothing. More busy hours throughout this Department than ever before, Light ; Order, Good Stock, Prompt Service, and Comfort to Customers does it.

We purpose to make the Spring Business in Ordered Clothing one that will sweep the board. We have selected a range of SCOTCH TWEEDS, in particular, that will captivate all, and if the boys don't look nobby, it will not be our fault.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic ; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT

THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL'S SPEECH AT THE OPENING OF THE SESSION.

Some Very Important Bills to be Introduced—Manitoba and the North-West—Over Four Millions of a Surplus—President Garfield—Progress of the Pacific Railway—Civil Service Reform.

At three o'clock His Excellency the Governor-General drove from Rideau Hall to the Parliament Building. The vice-regal party consisted of His Excellency the Governor-General, Mr. and Lady Florence Balfour, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Stephenson, Lieut-Col. DeWinton, Col. Dyde, A.D.C. to the Queen, Col. Gzowski, A.D.C. to the Queen, Capt. the Hon. W. Bagot, Major Stewart, Col. Irvine and Capt. Cotton. They were accompanied from Rideau Hall to the parliament Building by an escort of men from the Princess Louise Dragoons. The customary salute was fired at Nepean Point by the Ottawa field battery. His Excellency was received at the Parliament Building by a guard of honor of 100 men from the Governor-General's Foot Guards, with Queen's colors and reed and bugle bands. The Senate Chamber was brilliantly lighted up, and filled as it was with richly dressed ladies presented a very handsome appearance. There was a tremendous crush in the grounds and in the various approaches to them, and it was only with the greatest difficulty that admittance could be gained. As early as two o'clock all the best seats were taken up, and those who came late were unable to get in at all. Shortly after 3 o'clock His Excellency arrived and proceeded to the Senate Chamber. The Commons having been summoned to the bar of the chamber, he then read the following speech from the Throne:

Honourable Gentlemen of the Senate:
Gentlemen of the House of Commons:

The hope I expressed at the close of the last session that on the reformation of Parliament we should be able to congratulate ourselves on a season of peace and prosperity, has been fully realized. Canada has been favoured with a year of great prosperity, her farmers have enjoyed a plentiful harvest and remunerative prices. Her manufacturing and other industries have been and continue to be prosperous under favourable auspices. Her trade and commerce have been steadily increasing, and peace and order prevail within her borders. For these various blessings we cannot be sufficiently thankful to the Giver of all good things.

The Chief Magistrate of the United States has been cut off by the hand of an assassin, and it is fitting that the sorrow of our people at a loss, which was not that of our friends and neighbors alone, should be here adverted to as another instance of the sympathy which unites in brotherhood the British Empire and the American Republic.

During the recess I had the pleasure of visiting the Province of Manitoba, and of travelling through the extensive prairies of the North-West, and from personal examination I can sincerely congratulate Canada on the possession of so magnificent and fertile a region, to be inhabited, I trust, in the course of years by millions of thriving and contented subjects of her Majesty. The immigrants have not confined themselves to Manitoba or its vicinity, but are scattered over the country westward to the base of the Rocky Mountains, and from the International boundary to the banks of the Northern Saskatchewan. It is therefore thought that the time has come for the division of the territories into four or more provincial districts with an appropriate nomenclature. This subject will be submitted for your consideration. During my journey I was met by numerous Indian tribes, all expressing confidence in the continuance of the traditional policy of kindness and justice, which has hitherto governed the relations between the Government and the aborigines. I have, however, to say that the necessity of supplementing the food supply of the Indians still exists, and is likely to continue for some years. Every exertion has been made to settle the Indian bands on reserves, and to induce them to betake themselves to the raising of cattle and cultivating the soil. These efforts have met with a fair measure of success but we can only expect by a long continuance of patient firmness to induce these children of the Prairie and the Forest to abandon their nomadic habits and become self-supporting, and ultimately add to the industrial wealth of the country.

The influx of a white population has greatly increased the danger of collision between the settlers and Redmen, and in my opinion renders an augmentation of the mounted police a matter of urgency. Your sanction to this increase will be sought.

The report of the Commission appointed to investigate the existing system of the civil service will be laid before you, and a measure on the subject submitted for your consideration.

The decennial census having been taken last year, the duty of reconsidering and readjusting the representation in the House of Commons is imposed upon you. A measure for the purpose will be laid before you.

Several other measures of importance will be submitted to you; among them will be Bills for the winding up of insolvent banks, insurance companies and trading corporations; for the consolidation and amendment of the laws respecting the Dominion lands; for the amendment of acts relating to the Supreme Court of Canada, and laws relating to the tenure of office of the judges of county courts, to fugitive offenders within the empire, and your attention will be called to the present anomalous position of the vice-admiralty jurisdiction.

The work of construction on that portion of the Canadian Pacific Railway between Prince Arthur's Landing and Winnipeg is being pushed to completion and it is confidently, expected that in July next railway communication will be established between these places. The section between Rat Portage and Winnipeg, one hundred and thirty-five miles in length, has been completed and transferred under the terms of the contract to the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. by whom it is now operated. Considerable progress has been made on the eastern section, commencing at Callander station, and the vigorous prosecution of the work on that portion of the line during the present year has been provided for in British Columbia. The work upon the section between Savoana's Ferry and Emory Bar is being carried on with every prospect of its completion within the time specified in the the contract, and the line from the later place to Port Moody which has been carefully located during the past season is now being placed under contract with a view to its completion at the same date as the section from Savoana's Ferry to Emory Bar. Upon the sections to be constructed by the railway company, the works are being energetically carried forward. During the past summer the road has been graded for the distance of two hundred and eighteen miles. Of this one hundred and sixty-one miles are completed and open for traffic. The company have in addition graded eighty-nine miles of branch lines.

I am pleased to be able to state that the traffic on the Intercolonial Railway has largely increased and that this line was during the last fiscal year, for the first time in its history, worked without expense to the country.

The works on the Welland canal were so far advanced that the waters of Lake Erie were introduced for its supply in June last, and in September the new portion of the canal between Allanburg and Port Dalhousie was opened for traffic.

You will be pleased to know that a line of steamers, which has been subsided by the authority of Parliament, are now plying between the Dominion and Brazil, with good hopes of eventual profitable trade.

The report of the Royal Commission, issued to inquire into the question of factory labour, and into the best means of promoting the comfort and well-being of the workingman and his family, without undue interference with the department of our manufacturing industries, will be laid before you, and I invite you to earnest consideration of this report.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons.

The accounts of the last year will be laid before you. It will be satisfactory to you to find that the expenditure has been less and the revenue considerably more than the estimates of last year, leaving a surplus of over four millions of dollars. A portion of this sum has been used in the reduction of the public debt, by the redemption of matured debentures bearing six per cent. interest, and the remainder applied to the payment for public works chargable to capital account. The necessity of issuing the debenture loan authorized by Parliament for these purposes, has, therefore, been obviated.

The estimates for the ensuing year will also be submitted, and will, I trust, be found to have been framed with due regard to the efficiency of the public service.

Honorable Gentlemen of the Senate:
Gentlemen of the House of Commons:

I now invite your earnest attention to the several subjects mentioned and to the general business which will come before you, with full confidence in your ability and patriotic desire to forward the best interests of the country.

CAPITAL ATTRACTED.

THE Belleville Ontario has the following editorial :—

"The Mail asserts that the people of Kingston owe no thanks to Mr. Gunn, their member at Ottawa, for the manufactures proposed to be established in that city. The fatuous organn of monopoly and disallowance insists that all credit must be given to the N. P., ignoring the fact that Mr. Gunn is the largest stockholder in the different schemes, and the chief promoter as well. Without liberal subscriptions or civic bonuses the N. P. would be powerless to originate and sustain any enterprise. And it was ever the same. Important manufacturing industries were established in this country before the N. P. was thought of. Kingston would have waited a long time for such establishments as are now promised had not such men as Alex. Gunn and others subscribed liberal sums to encourage the business. The N. P. has precious little to do with the matter."

Of course, according to our Reform friends, the N. P. has nothing to do with anything that is good. But what the anti-national journals fail to explain to the public whose ear they want to catch, is the greater prosperity of the country, an overflowing treasury, and the establishment and success of manufacturers under the present system. They attribute the good effects to the harvest, but there were better harvests during their reign of stagnation and deficits; to heavy lumber exports, but the exports of lumber were greater when they were managing our affairs; to enterprising capitalists like Mr. Gunn, but these capitalists were in existence when Mr. Mackenzie reigned. The difference is that Mr. Gunn, and men like him, did not venture to start new enterprises under a regime that favoured foreign rather than home manufacturers, but they are encouraged to do so under the present patriotic system. Capital was not then attracted to Canada, as Mr. Mackenzie owns it has been by the present tariff, and the industries, which he also admits have sprung into existence, could not then raise their heads.

It is useless for these theorists to maintain that the N. P. must have done harm, for all men in business know from their own experience that it has done good, and the whole community feels the benefit of the change. While this is the case it is in vain that the Opposition organs continue to harp upon this string. They must find some more attractive cry to bear them back to office.

DISHONEST OPPOSITION.

THE Examiner becomes excited over our exposure of a dishonest attack upon the N.P. by the Port Hope Guide, and comes to the rescue of the Reform anti-national policy, while being far from complimentary to its erring contemporary. It calls the Guide's story "a nice little novelette," and says :—"The dialogue is just a little pointless, and the story is old; but still the readers of the Daily Guide will, we have no doubt, make due allowance, and take the horse rug story at its proper value." If the Guide steals old stories and passes them off as local news, it only shows that it is dishonest in more ways than one. We believe, with the Examiner, that sensible readers of the Guide will take its fictions in this and other cases at their "proper value." But this trick is not peculiar to the Guide. The majority of the Reform journal (those are some honest exceptions) finding it impossible to attack the National Policy by fair means, are in the habit of inventing utterly foundationless stories of its bad effect, in the hope of misleading credulous readers, who may not take the trouble to ascertain the truth for themselves. The slightest investigation proves the untruth of these fictions, and when their roguery is thus exposed it will not do to claim that these "novelettes" are only bad jokes.

As to our contemporary's "conundrum" we may reply that no one can assume to "fix" the price of raw materials, but under the Mackenzie regime our farmers were getting less than they should have done for their long stapled wool, because our blankets, hosierings, &c., were manufactured out of the country; they are getting a higher price under the N.P. than they otherwise would, because we are largely manufacturing for ourselves, and thus the farmers have a larger home market to supply. They have also the factory operatives to feed.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

THERE has been little important business before the Legislative Assembly this week.

The principal subjects discussed were a return of unconstitutional Acts, conferring extended powers of jurisdiction on the County Courts, the confiscation of the Mercer estate, the working of the Liquor License Act, the conduct of County Judges, and the Rivers and Streams Bill.

There was a considerable debate on the latter subject, the leaders of the Opposition showing the injustice of the measure, and the propriety of its disallowance. The Bill, however, received its second reading.

On Wednesday Mr. Morris moved for copies of all correspondence on the Boundary award that had not not already been laid before the House. Mr. Mowat refused to bring down the recent despatch on the subject from the Dominion Government. Upon this there was some discussion, members of the Opposition pressing for the publication of this important document, which the Administration admitted they had already considered, but Mr. Mowat persisted in claiming four weeks to write a reply. Mr. Fraser asked that the motion should stand, and on Mr. Morris declining, he moved the adjournment of the debate. This was carried on the following division :—

YEAS.—Messrs. Appleby, Awrey, Badgerow, Ballantyne, Bishop, Bonfield, Broder, Cascaden, Chisholm, Cook, Crooks, Deroche, Ferris, Field, Fraser, Freeman, Gibson, (Hamilton), Gibson (Huron), Graham, Hagar, Harcourt, Hardy, Hay, Kincaid, Livingston, Lyon, McCraney, McKim, McLaughlin, McMahon, Mack, Mowat, Murrry, Nairn, Neelon, Pardee, Patterson, Peck, Robinson (Cardwell), Robinson (Kent), Ross, Sinclair, Snider, Striker, Waters, Watterworth, Wells, Widdifield, Wood, Young—49.

LAKEFIELD NEWS.

From our own Correspondent.

CONCERT.

Mr. A. J. Wright is endeavouring to raise funds for the purpose of purchasing a new bell for St. John's Church, Lakefield, and we understand with ever prospect of success. The object is a laudable one and should meet, as there is no doubt it will, with the hearty support of the people of Lakefield. Mr. Wright it appears believing the present a favourable opportunity, has with the assistance of his friends arranged a most attractive programme for a vocal and instrumental concert on Tuesday evening 14th Feb. in the P. C. A. Hall, Lakefield. Doors open at 7.30 and concert begins at 8 o'clock. We sincerely hope that his efforts will be successful, as we must confess that that the sound of the present bell is not musical to our fastidious ears, and a good one would be a credit to the village,

SECRETARY-TREASURER.

Mr. W. J. Wallace's letter in last week's REVIEW on the above subject is remarkable. It has the appearance of being both truthful and straightforward. It appears truthful because it is simple and straightforward and because it appears above his signature. Mr. W. sneers at my few followers, ah, there is the rub. They, the few followers, were too many at the school election on January last, hence Mr. W's vindictiveness in municipal matters. A serious charge that of having a few followers. Well no one, not even Mr. W's many friends, ever charged him with being a leader, but his friends have for years regetted that he was so easily led. Recently in school and municipal matters there has been no exception to the general rule. Mr. W has been only a tool used by designing men.

SURPRISE.

Mr. A. Fitzgerald of Smith near Lakefield, had a sawing machine cutting wood one day last week. When darkness closed the day's work there were about 40 drags or 10 cords of wood left to be cut to finish the job, to complete which all hands assembled next morning. It was found upon going out that there was no wood left to saw. It appears that the young men of the neighbourhood assembled at night and with cross saws and axes cut, split and piled the wood referred to, some of whom assembled the next morning to go to work without a smile on their faces.

DIVISION COURT.

As Mr. J. C. Sherin seems to have so much leisure that he can now devote considerable time to public matters, and being out of business also, your correspondent is of opinion that he might now devote a little of that spare time to making the Lakefield Division Court what it ought to be, equally available to all, irrespective of creed or political leanings.

YOUNG'S POINT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

SPLENDID DAY'S WORK.—Mr. Geo. Chalmer's portable steam engine at Sandy Point on Clear Lake, with the help of twelve men, sawed, split and had piled, forty-five and a half double cords of stove hardwood. Arthur Dugan, the ever obliging foreman, says he will even try and do better. He is to be seen daily on the hop. Since the extremely cold weather has set in he has thrown the felt hat to one side and is now wearing a fancy blue tucque with a tassel, and coat off, which denotes business. Mr. Chalmers is lucky in having such a good foreman.

THE LUMBER SHANTIES.—From the reports, all the lumbermen are getting on splendidly in the woods, a very great quantity of saw-logs, cedars and ties having been cut and drawn to the creeks and lakes, waiting for navigation to open. There will be a great number of drives pass through here next summer, and some very large ones. Without the lumbermen, in this part of the country business would suffer; their money circulates through so many channels that it does us all good before it finds its way back to the banks.

SNOW.—The fall of snow we had last Saturday cheers us all up. The extremely hard frosts we have had of late, after the heavy rains we had at the end of last month, made the roads pretty bare and sleighing was getting played out.

GRIST MILL.—Mr. McLean is doing a rushing business in the way of grists. When a miller gets a good name for making good flour and doing the square thing, the farmers far and near soon find it out, and that accounts for Mac. doing a big business.

HOTEL IMPROVEMENTS.—Mr. James E. Kearney of the Lakeview House, intends to have a large addition built to the front part of his present hotel 40x22, as he finds that he has not room enough when a rush comes. Go ahead, James, onward is your motto!

MRS. PARTINGTON SAYS, dont take any of the quack rostrums, as they are regimental to the human system; but put your trust in Hop Bitters, which will cure general dilapidation, costive habits and all comic diseases. They saved Isaac from a severe extract of tripod They are the ne plus unum of medicines.—Boston Globe.

NEVER GIVE UP.—If you are suffering with low and depressed spirits, loss of appetite, general debility, disordered blood, weak constitution, headache, or any other disease of a billious nature, by all means procure a bottle of Electric Bitters. N. H. DOWNS' Vegetable Balsamic ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis,

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation, when the cough is more observable, but rather dry; then becomes coalfever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complains, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration.

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are so drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the CAUSE, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

THE GIRL WITH THE CALICO DRESS.

A fig for your upper-ten girls.
With their velvets, and satins, and laces,
Their diamonds, and rubies, and pearls,
And their milliner figures and faces.
They may shine at a party or ball,
Emblazoned with half they possess;
But give me, in place of them all,
My girl with the calico dress.

She is as plump as a partridge, and fair
As the rose in its earliest bloom;
Her teeth will with ivory compare,
And her breath with the clover perfume;
Her step is as free and light
As the fawn's which the hunters hard press,
And her eye is as soft and as bright—
My girl with the calico dress.

She is cheerful warm-hearted and true,
And is kind to her father and mother;
She studies how much she can do
For her sweet little sister and brother.
If you want a companion for life,
To comfort, enliven and bless,
She is just the right sort of a wife—
The girl with the calico dress.

MADOC.

The North Hastings Review says that the Midland R. R. Co., have arranged with Mr. Wood for their supply of ties on the Madoc Branch. Mr. Wood is also buying for Messrs. Rathbun & Son, on the Moira river at and below Malone. We are informed he has a large quantity already secured. Taking the lumbering operations in all its varied branches in this section and vicinity, including logs by the Messrs. Gilmour & Co.; square timber by Messrs. Buck & Stewart, with the ties, posts and round timber by Mr. Wood, on the Moira, and Messrs. Thompson & Diamond on Black Creek, and Mr. Harrison on the Scootamatta, for Rathbun & Son, and the amount must be simply enormous. At the Madoc station alone there has been, we are informed, delivered by teams and railway, oats and peas, for supplies to these various lumbering establishments, not less than 60,000 bushels, to which must be added large supplies of pork and flour. We also learn that supplies are purchased at this point for some of the shanties belonging to H. R. Booth and Bronson & Weston, of Ottawa, Mr. Booth having purchased a large quanlity of oats and flour from Mr. A. F. Wood for the use of shanties where the logs will be drawn to the Madawaska and its branches for Ottawa. The amount of business done at the Madoc station by Mr. Blount for Gilmour & Co., and Mr. Dwyer for Rathbun & Son, must have been very large, and shows beyond a doubt the wisdom of railway connection in the lumbermen's interests alone. We are informed that the quantity of logs and ties that will be driven down the Moira this coming season will exceed anything in that line that has ever taken place on that river before.

Souris District.

Mr. W. H. Sowden, of Millbrook, Ontario, has settled five township completely, out of twelve the right to settle which he obtained from the Government. Three townships lie in the Souris Valley, range 20, 21 and 22, townships 6, 7 and 8, the river Souris running through their midst, and the richly wooded Pine Stone Creek bounding them on the West. The settlers are most of them wealthy Ontario farmers. The village has an hotel, three stores and blacksmith's shop. A mill, to build which 100,000 feet of lumber has already been shipped, is in course of erection, with all the newest improvements, and when completed will turn out 100 barrels a day. There is a post office and weekly mail, and surveys have been taken for a branch line of the C. P. R. from Brandon to this village, and thence sonthwest to the coal fields. A ferry crosses the Souris here, and in the summer the council intend to build a bridge. A school and churches are contemplated, and by the summer there will be everything in the way of stores, workshops, and public buildings necessary to an agricultural population. The settlers are all happy and contented. Two brick-making machines are on their way from Ontario, and the present log and frame houses will in a few months be supplanted by substantial brick residences. Having personal knowledge of the place; having known it from its first settlement, I am able to speak with authority concerning it. The soil is the best in the world, rich, rolling prairie; fish and game are abundant. The village will by next summer be the centre of a thickly populated country, and the stores will be quite equal to supply the inhabitants with all the necessaries of life. —Winnipeg Sun.

The Libelled Police Justice.

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 7.—The libel suit of Police Justice John Miner against the Post and Tribune Company was resumed in the superior Court yesterday. Mr. Cheever, who commenced his argument for the defence on Friday, spoke one hour, and was followed by Mr. Lathrop in an argument lasting an hour and a half. In closing for the plaintiff Mr. Atkinson spoke nearly two hours, closing at 3.30. Judge Chapman then charged the jury, who retired, and shortly after 7 p. m. returned, giving a verdict for the plaitiff for $250 and the costs. In an interview Justce Miner says:—"I am better satisfied with this verdict than I should be if it were larger. It is a case that should never have gone into Court, but they forced me to bring it. They said about me what was not true. I did not ask them to apologize, but merely to correct their mistake, and they refused to do it. That statement caused me to run for an office a second term that I did not want. The people vindicated me at the polls, and now that a jury has declared me blameless I am satisfied." The Post and Tribune will carry the case to the Supreme Court.

Mr. A. NATHANS, one of the managers of Coup's Show, has been prominently identified with the circus business for many years, and he has had control of many of the most celebrated circus companies in the United States. He is enthusiastic in his praise of the Oil, and thinks it is an excellent thing for circus organizations to take with them travelling.

FROM L. J. Racine, Esq., of La Minerve, Montreal: "Having experienced the most gratifying results from the use of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, I am induced to express the great confidence which I have in its efficacy. For nine months I was most cruelly afflicted with a severe and obstinate cough, accompanied with acute pain in the side, which did not leave me, Summer or Winter. The symptoms increased alarmingly, and so reduced was I that I could walk but a few steps without resting to recover from the pain and fatigue which so slight an exertion occasioned. At this juncture I commenced taking the Balsam, from which I found immediate relief; and after having used four bottles I was completely restored to health. I have also used the Balsam in my family, and administered it to my children, with the happiest results. I am sure that such Canadians as use the Balsam can speak in its favour. It is a preparation which has only to be tried to be acknowledged as the remedy par excellence."

CROWN JEWEL FLOUR!

This Flour is made of No. 1 Hard Wheat by the new process, combined with the best methods and machinery in operation in the best Hungarian Mills, and will produce from 30 to 40 pounds more Bread per Barrel than the best superior wheat flour. Therefore, the first cost though higher, is fully compensated in the increased yield of Bread as well as being a much larger percentage of gluten and less starch than ordinary wheat flour. To those who may not be familiar with the use of this kind of Flour, we suggest mixing it moderately soft, which will require considerably more water than is ordinarily used.

Knead thoroughly, and bake with a strong heat and in such a manner that bottom and top shall be equally well baked.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

A Compliment.

Regarding the recent curling match at Belleville, in which our men were victorious, the Brockville Recorder says:—We have, in conversation with several members of our local club of curlers, who have just returned from their contest with the Peterboro' Curling Club for the District medal, learnt that although our friends have suffered a defeat at the hands of their opponents, the outing has been to them the occasion of a very pleasant time indeed. The Peterborough Club is composed of very friendly gentlemen and keen curlers, and a defeat at their hands can never be termed as an ignominious one, and may happen to the best regulated clubs. Of course our friends have, without denying the severity of their defeat, many good and valid reasons for losing the game, viz.:—The bad condition of the rinks, want of concerted practice, &c. One feature of the occasion, however, our Brockville curlers are by no means desirous to forget, and will never forget—and that is the frank and kind hospitality extended to them by the gentlemen of the Belleville Curling Club, and they are glad to make public though the columns of the Recorder their high appreciation of the friendly attentions and hearty hospitality of which they have been the recipients, at the hands of the latter club. Such kindly courtesies softened altogether the keen sense of defeat, and the Brockville Club will look forward with pleasing anticipation to the time when they may have the opportunity to reciprocate the hospitable attentions manifested towards them by their friends of the Belleville Curling Club.

The Weather.

The weather during the last few days has been fine, unseasonable. The quantity of snow on the ground is very small, and in consequence the sleighing is very poor, preventing many people from coming to town. While the snow is scarce, ice, on the sidewalks especially, is plentiful and predestrians have to be very careful or they fall. In the centre of the town the walks are kept clear, but in the outskirts, the contrary is the case. Last night was remarkably fine and promenaders were plentiful. The weather probabilities for this district for the following 24 hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a.m., to-day, by the Great North-Western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes,—Light to moderatewinds, fair to cloudy weather, light snow in some localities to-night, westerly to northerly winds, and fair weather to-morrow.

Railway Notes.

The Globe says that on Wednesday morning a deputation composed of Mayor McArthur, of Bowmanville, and Dr. Bogle, Reeve, representing the Corporation; Messrs. John Wesley and George Piggott, of the Dominion Organ Company; and John Macdougall and John Lyle, produce merchants, all of Bowmanville; Mayor Rae, Dingle, Lark, John Steele, Cowan, and Jas. Smith, of Oshawa; James Rundell, Reeve, Vancamp, Deputy Reeve of the township of Darlington, and others representing Pickering, waited upon Mr. Osler, President of the Ontario and Quebec railway, at Toronto. They urged that the Company should endeavour to locate the line as near the front as possible, so as to touch the towns of Whitby, Oshawa and Bowmanville. Mayor McArthur, of Bowmanville, Mayor Rae, of Oshawa, and Mr. Cowan, of Oshawa, pointed out the importance of these points as business centres, and quoted statistics showing the volume of local freight and passenger traffic which the Grand Trunk obtained from their respective localities. They complained that the Grand Trunk did not provide cars in sufficient number to meet local requirements; and promised to give the Ontario and Quebec liberal bonuses, if the company would accede to their wishes, and touch either of the three points named, and all if possible. Mr. Osler, in reply, stated that the Company were now making another survey south of the one which had formerly been made, and it would be finished in about three weeks. At the expiration of that time he would be able to state whether or not the Company would accede to the wishes of the deputation. The deputation then withdrew.

The following gentlemen being a deputation from Lindsay to oppose the amalgamation of the Midland Railway system arrived in Toronto on Wednesday:—F. C. Taylor, Mayor, A. A. Melville, 1st Deputy Reeve; A. O'Leary 2nd do; Wm. McIntyre, A. Hudspeth, D. J. McDonald, John Dobson, W. L. Russell, W. Grace, and C. D. Barr. Mr. Russell stated that the deputation were here to oppose the Bill now before the Local House to amalgamate the Midland, Victoria, Port Perry and Whitby, Grand Junction, Toronto and Ottawa, and Toronto and Nipissing Railroads. Lindsay had given $250,000 in bonuses to these railways at different times, and he said the amalgamation would not benefit the town.

The annual meeting of the Victoria Railway Company was held on Wednesday at the offices of Messrs. Crooks, Kingsmill, and Cattanach, in Toronto. After the transaction of routine business the following officers were elected:—Messrs. John Proctor, C. J. Fitch, C. J. Campbell, Robert Jaffray, Alex. Cameron, Robert Elliott, Donald McInnes, Nicol Kingsmill and A. J. Cattanach. At a subsequent meeting of the board Mr. Proctor was elected president and Mr. Fitch vice-president.

Serious Accident

Mr. Thomas Coe, butcher, George street, met with a very serious accident, this morning, which will probably lay him up for some time. A horse attached to Mr. Wainwright's butcher cart got beyond control of the driver, on George street, near Antrim and ran straight down. At the corner of Edinburgh street, the cart collided with a lamp post and was converted into "kindling wood." The horse with the shafts attached, not at all stopped by the smash, proceeded on its way. Mr. Coe, who was near his place of business, attempted to stop the animal, but was knocked down and stunned. He was also cut about the head and face. We hope to see him all right again in a short time.

The Carnival Prizes.

As a contemporary has made a mistake in giving the list of prizes awarded by the judges at the recent carnival, we are requested by the management to state that the list published in the REVIEW is the correct one. Further, we may state that the names of the winners were written in a book by us at the request of the judges, and the book shows that our list is correct.

For Toronto.

The deputation appointed at the last meeting of the Town Council to proceed to Toronto, for the purpose of seeking legislation to enable the town to take $20,000 stock in the proposed carworks company, left for Toronto on Wednesday evening.

Disclaims.

It is said that Mr. Jeremiah McCarthy has disclaimed the office of Councillor for the township of Ennismore.

IS IT A HUMBUG? Some people think all proprietary medicines humbugs. In this they must be mistaken. A cough medicine like N. H. Downs' Elixir that has stood the racket of 52 years must have some virtue, and must cure the diseases for which it is recommended, or people would not continue to buy and use it as they do. It seems to us that even if we knew nothing of its merits, the fact of its large and continually increasing sale justifies us in recommending Down's Elixir to all who may need a reliable cough medicine.

MILLIONS GIVEN AWAY.—Millions of bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, and Colds, have been given away as trial bottles of the large size. This enormous outlay would be disastrous to the proprietors, were it not for the rare merits possessed by this wonderful medicine. Call at Taylor & Macdonald's Drug Store, and get a trial bottle, and try for yourself. It never fails to cure.—5

Wanton Work.

The other evening the new and handsome globe recently placed on the gas lamp on Weller street, near Mr. G. A. Cox's residence, was wantonly smashed and the burner broken off. There is not the slightest doubt that it was done intentionally. Such acts of vandalism are becoming too frequent and the quicker some of the guilty persons are brought to justice, the quicker such wanton work will be stopped.

Wool.

The Orillia Packet says:—Our woollen manufacturers inform us that a complete revolution has taken place in this commodity, and that the farmers will have to accommodate themselves to circumstances. To quote their own words, "coarse wool is played out, and become a drug in the market." Many persons, unobservant of the signs of the times, have got large stocks on hand, and find it impossible to dispose of them except at a serious and increasing loss. Even in this town there is a good deal purchased from the farmers which can only be sold at a sacrifice, and vows are registered that no more shall be bought. We enquired what use can now be made of Cotswold wool? and were informed that it was only fit for carpets and common stocking yarn, which purposes need but a limited supply. Down wool and Down crosses are required, and we strongly advise our agricultural readers to act accordingly, for the laws of supply and demand are imperative. There is considerable variety to select from, according to fancy and the state of the purse, but dark faces of some sort must be obtained and bred. Hampshire, Shropshire, Oxford and Sussex downs can easily be procured in the Province of Ontario, at rates more or less reasonable. We think, however, that in view of a certain and increasing demand for these sheep, the sooner a change is set about the smaller will be the necessary expense.

END SPLITTING OF LOGS AND PLANKS.—Log and plank split at the ends because the exposed surface dries faster than the inside. If muriatic acid be saturated with lime and applied to the ends like whitewash, the chloride of calcium formed attracts the moisture and prevents the splitting.

On Thirty Days' Trial.

We will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belts and other Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to young men and older persons who are afflicted with Nervous Debility, Lost Vitality, etc., guaranteeing speedy relief and complete restoration of vigor and manhood. Also for Rheumatism, neuralgia, Paralysis, Liver and Kidney difficulties, Ruptures, and many other diseases. Illustrated pamphlet sent free. Address Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich.

MR. SAMUEL MCCAW, the well-known conductor on the Whitby and Lindsay Railway, says Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters cured me of Dyspepsia. I always kept them in the house, and consider them invaluable as a family medicine. J. D. Tully, agent for Peterborough.

THE FIRST GUN!

No Season before this compares in Sales with the present one in any of our Departments.

This fact is noticeably so in our Ordered Clothing. More busy hours throughout this Department than ever before, Light; Order, Good Stock, Prompt Service, and Comfort to Customers does it.

We purpose to make the Spring Business in Ordered Clothing one that will sweep the board. We have selected a range of SCOTCH TWEEDS, in particular, that will captivate all, and if the boys don't look nobby, it will not be our fault.

To use an old expression, "You can't throw a stone into our Tweed Show Room without hitting a bargain."

We don't ask you to throw stones at us, but visit our establishment, and you will find that this illustration is no figure of speech, but a sober, serious fact.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

TORONTO

Special to the Review, Feb. 6.

JAMES MOON, a brakeman on the G. T. R., was charged with the theft of some carpet, portion being found on the floor of his own house, and part in the hands of a dealer, defence is that Moon was out on the road on the 31st, the date of the theft. The time keeper gave him a good character for honesty, but Detective Henry said that he had stolen turkeys from every farmer along the road from Sarnia to Toronto. When pressed for a reason why he did not before arrested Moon, the Detective said because prisoner had friends among the jury and justices of the peace along the road. The case was enlarged for further evidence of an alibi.

TONI ROSSI, Giolo Coneo, Donati Glioni, three men charged with stabbing Frank Rowe, were committed for trial. A liquor case against Rossi was dismissed. The Italian colony is in a ferment over this affair.

KILLY HARRIS, the old time light weight puglist, who won 25 out of 28 fights, fell down the steps of the Dominion Bank and had several ribs broken.

YOUNG FLORA, who made an unprovoked assault on a woman last night, was this morning fined $35 and costs, or 65 days in gaol for drunkenness and sent to gaol for two months, without the option of fine, for the assault.

BERNARD WALKER, who tended bar for Hanlan last year, was sent down for 30 days for stealing a revolver and scarf pin from Plaisted who is tending Hanlan's Island property.

FREE-SITES VS. STOCK.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—Would you be good enough to insert the following in your paper.

I see by yesterday's Daily Mail that the town of Stratford at the meeting held for the purpose of encouraging the establishment of manufactories in that town have adopted the same views I held, and expressed at the recent meeting regarding car-works here, viz. Free-sites and exemption from taxation for long periods. I am still satisfied this is the true principle for us to adopt here.

I am, yours &c.,
THOS. MENZIES.

Peterborough, 10th Feby., 1882.

The Weather.

The weather probabilities for this district for the following 24 hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a.m., to-day, by the Great North-Western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes—Fair weather. Westerly to northerly winds to-day, followed by easterly to southerly winds to-morrow. No decided change in temperature.

Personal.

Mr. A. Huffman, of the Dafoe House, Belleville, formerly of Peterborough, was here to-day. He is just as hearty and jolly as ever. He is doing the largest trade in Belleville, and secures all the first-class custom. He has already established his reputation as a caterer of the first water, which undoubtedly he is.

An Order Granted.

We find the following in the report of the proceedings in the Common Pleas Division, Hilary Term Sittings, before Chief Justice Wilson and Mr. Justice Osler:—

BLETCHER v. CLINTON.—Bethune, Q. C., moved for an order nisi to set aside verdict for plaintiff, and to enter a verdict for defendant. Granted,

TWO ORGANS.—Regulate first the stomach, second the liver; especially the first, so as to perform their functions perfectly and you will remove at least nineteen-twentieths of all the ills that mankind is heir to, in this or any other climate. Hop Bitters is the only thing that will give perfectly healthy natural action to these two organs.—Maine Farmer.

HOW TO CURE A COLD.—Upon the first feeling of chill or shivering remain indoors if possible, bathe the feet in tepid water, gradually increasing the heat as long as it can be comfortably borne, drink freely of warm ginger tea or sage tea, to induce perspiration, and take Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam according to directions on the bottle. Hagyard's Balsam cures coughs, asthma, and bronchitis.

MARYSVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 10.—The College here is attended by whites and blacks. A literary society, composed of white students, rejected the application of a negro for membership. The faculty threatened to abolish the society if the negro was not admitted. The society refused and the black members were expelled. The society then carried the furniture and library to other quarters, and the faculty cannot recover them. Fifty students who did not belong to the society have withdrawn from the school. This college, which is one of the oldest places of learning in the State, taught the anti-slavery doctrine previous to the war. The faculty has been looked upon by the community as being quite extreme upon the subject of race equality. Many believe that the trouble grew out of some sentiment expressed by Congressman Hank, who represents this district.

PORT HOPE.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—The Guide says that about half past three o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, a number of men were engaged at Ambrose's new brewery, Cavan street, in elevating barley. There were eighteen bags placed on the elevator platform, and it seems by what we can learn, that this was the first time it had been used with such a weight. While the men were thus engaged a young man named James Stevens, who was employed as teamster by Mr. Scott, brickmaker, and who had just come along with a load of bricks, was asked by his uncle, Mr. Roberts, one of the men employed at the work, to given a hand at the rope. He cheerfully complied, and when the elevator had got about half way to the top of the building the machinery gave way and the whole mass descended on young Stevens, killing him instantly. His neck was broken and skull fractured. It was deemed unnecessary to hold an inquest. Deceased was nearly twenty-one years of age, second son of Mr. Wm. Stevens, who has been in the employ of Mr. Ambrose for a long time.

What the Lady Asked the Burglar.

A certain well-known lady, living up on the avenue, recently found herself and family of little ones compelled to pass the night without the protection of a man in the house, her husband being in the North. Being a good shot, she was not alarmed, however, so put her revolver handy when she retired at night. About midnight she heard a noise as if some one was trying to get into the house. She went softly on to the gallery, revolver in hand, and sure enough, there was a man down at the window prying open the shutter with a long knife. After watching him for a moment, undecided what to do, knowing that if she choose she could kill him, she leaned over the railing and called out, "Shall I shoot you, sir?" The astounding question caused the man to quit work. He turned and looked at her, but made no pretence to run. She then fired at him, and he retreated to the fence, where he insolently regarded her in the moonlight. The brave little woman, not a wit discouraged, then determined to show that she could scare him if she pleased, so, taking good aim, she put a tiny bullet through the rim of his hat. In less time than can be told, the would-be burglar was over the fence and out of sight.—New Orleans Picayune.

Daily Evening Review

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 1882.

THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL'S SPEECH.

THE speech of the Governor-General at the opening of the Canadian Parliament, as telegraphed specially to us, must have been perused with great satisfaction by all our readers. It was an authoritative statement of the prosperity and progress of the Dominion, which laid plainly before us in one view, facts which were more or less thoroughly known and acknowledged. Peace and prosperity, a bountiful harvest, flourishing manufactures and other industries, increasing trade and commerce, an overflowing treasury, the rapid settlement of our great and fertile North-West territory, the well merited confidence and satisfaction of our Indian tribes, the rapid construction of our great transcontinental highway, the increased and profitable traffic on the Intercolonial railway, and the improvement of our magnificent inland waterway, all these details make up a picture which seems to have no shadows, and must bring feelings of pride and pleasure to all true Canadians.

Important legislation is foreshadowed. Of course, now the great work of confederation so ably and happily inaugurated, has been satisfactorily completed, the list of proposed measures is not so long as in the transition days, but they are of no slight importance, and are evidently designed to complete the edifice. The formation of provincial districts in the North-West, civil service reform, the readjustment of the representation in the House of Commons, and measures as to insolvent banks, the Dominion Lands, the Supreme Court, County Judges, fugitive offenders, and admiralty jurisdiction, is a legislative bill of fare that cannot be called meagre or unimportant, and that will call for the best consideration of our representatives.

But, perhaps, the most satisfactory clause of all is that addressed specially to the gentlemen of the House of Commons. It is most gratifying to learn that the expenditure has been less that was estimated while the revenue has been far greater, for this proves that due economy has been exercised, and that the country has prospered even beyond anticipation. The consequent surplus of four millions has enabled the burden of interest to be lessened, and the payment for public works without adding to our debt.

There is every reason also to expect a similar or even an increased revenue in the future, so that our finance minister will be enabled to remit taxation on articles of necessity which we cannot produce and therefore do not need protection, and to devote a large portion of the surplus to the construction of public works such as the Trent Valley navigation which will increase our rate of progress and consequently our revenue.

No country could well wish to have brighter prospects before it.

EXTENDING THE NORTHERN WATER-WAY.

The article which we publish beneath is taken from the Buffalo Express, and shows that the interest on the question of opening up navigation to the great North-west is not confined to us. This should be another incentive to us to push forward the construction of the Trent Valley Canal :—

"The facts and figures concerning the opening of navigation between Lake Superior and the Red River of the North have attracted much less attention at the east than their importance seems to warrant. New as the Red River wheat-growing section is, it already begins to feel the need of cheap routes of transportation. Its distance from the European markets is great, and it must have the cheapest form of transportaion or it cannot develop its enormous productive possibilities. With cheap transportation, the Red River Valley will in ten years —if not in five—be producing wheat by the hundreds of millions of bushels.

"The Red River of the North is the southern outlet of an extensive system of internal navigation, some 3,000 miles in length, including the Assiniboine and Sasketchewan Rivers, Lakes Winnipeg and Manitoba, etc. The value of this great water system is, however, limited and impaired by the lack of an outlet to the seaboard. By a short navigable channel, partly natural and partly artificial, the Red River at Crookston, Minn., can be connected with Lake Superior at Duluth. The northern water route would then extend from the mouth of the Hudson at New York to the head waters of the Saskatchewan, in the foot hills of the Rock Mountains, the most extensive system of inland navigation in the world. There are fully 100,000,000 acres of fertile wheat lands, now rapidly undergoing developement, which find their outlet by the Red River, and whose product would come to the lakes by the proposed new channel.

"Excessive cost is the only excuse that could fairly be pleaded by a commercial people for neglecting to open a channel for such a vast trade. That excuse is not available in this instance. Mr. Evershed, resident engineer of the Erie canal, gives, in his last annual report, the estimates on the subject. They show that a canal from Duluth to Crookston presents no engineering difficulties. It would be 383 miles long, would follow river channels for 346½ miles, and would require only 37 miles of independent canal. The total cost is put at $3,792,000, which would probably grow to $5,000,000 before the work was done.

"Judge Ives, of Crookston, Minn., writes to Mr. Alonzo Richmond, of this city : 'It is safe to assert that before the proposed water way could possibly be constructed and ready for use the products of this valley would be equal to its capacity.' The statistics of the growth of wheat production in Northern Minnesota and Dakota and Southern Manitoba for three years past seem to fully warrant the judge's prophecy. In the seven Red River counties of Minnesota the product was 1,935,305 bushels in 1879 and 5,074,956 bushels in 1881.

"Now with such need for the new canal links and such prospects of business before it, why don't somebody take hold and build it? Every year sees dozens of railroad projects launched which call for ten times the capital. The opportunities for legitimate profit, without perceptibly burdening commerce, are more than good. It is intended to make a canal eight feet deep and eighty two feet wide, which would pass boats with a capacity of 20,000 bushels of wheat. Such boats, with steam towage, could carry grain grain so economically that they might pay without feeling it the very small toll which would be required to keep up the canal and meet lawful interest on the cost of construction. * * Minnesota might well afford to build the canal, which will all be in her territory, for it would stimulate her growth as nothing else could. * * Private enterprise would be better, and, indeed—to come to the superlative at once—best. Every year's delay in beginning the work will cost the Red River wheat growers and the Buffalo and New York wheat handlers more than it would to build the canal."

LAKEFIELD NEWS.

From our own Correspondent.

THE OLD BRIDGE.

A large part of the old Lakefield bridge has been lately removed. The rottenness of the principal timbers was truly astonishing. Last summer the County Engineer, Mr. Belcher and his foreman examined this bridge thoroughly, and both gentlemen pronounced it rotten and unsafe for travel, but some pretended wiseacres disputed the correctness of their decision and maintained that the bridge was safe and sound, but now the correctness of the engineer's report has been put beyond dispute. Some parts of the main timbers on the south side of the bridge were so rotten that they could not be carried off the bridge. Lots of it was just shovelled into the river. One would require to see the timber to realize its rottenness to the full extent.

LAKEFIELD FERRY.

The ferry at the foot of Reid street, Lakefield, under the efficieat workmanship of Messrs. Bell and Gorden works like a charm. There has been an average of over 130 teams crossing and recrossing per day, besides several hundreds of foot passengers. The men employed are very obliging and seem to do all in their power to please and accommodate the public. Some youngsters undertook to play off, as the saying runs, last week, but Mr. Wynne, the foreman, promptly put a stop to it in time. These boys were bound to keep the men on the run by crossing and recrossing.

GOING TO MANITOBA.

A number of Lakefield men are intending, it appears, to make a visit to the far west in the coming spring, for the purpose of having a hand in the speculations now going on there. The "Go West" fever has reached Lakefield at last, and it is also on the increase and we would not bes urprised to see large numbers from Lakefield and vicinity leave for the west next summer.

INCIDENT.

On Wednesday last, the 8th inst., a respected citizen of Lakefield went on to the scow to cross the river, and was talking to the men working the scow about tightening the ropes, and just as the scow was going to touch the opposite side of the river he asked when they were going to start, not realizing that in the meantime the scow had been moving at all. The incident created a good deal of amusement at the expense of the villager.

SLEIGHING.

The recent fine weather has nearly destroyed the sleighing, poor as it was. The prospect of good sleighing during the remaining portion of the winter seems now to be exceedingly slim. The delivery of wood in Lakefield has been very light so far, of course, on account of there being little or no sleighing, and the prospect of a sufficent supply is at least doubtful.

REGISTRATION.

Those parties who have not registered births, deaths or marriages had better attend to it at once, as under the new law the assessor is bound to record every such event in the Assessment Roll, and the consequence will be that those who have neglected their duty will be fined when the roll or report is handed in.

Old Trees.

The ages attained by some of the coniferæ are scarcely less extraordinary than their colossal bulk. The greatest longevity assigned to any tree is perhaps credited to the celebrated taxonium of Chapultepec, in Mexico, 117 feet in circumference, which is thought by De Candolle to exceed in age the baobab of Senegal, inferred to be 5,150 years old. Goeppert states that Taxodium distichum has been ascertained by its annular rings to live 2,000 years. The mammoth tree has been estimated to live 4,000 years in California. De Candolle quotes a number of instances of longevity in the yew, and Endlicher considers one in Derbyshire to be 2,096 years old, and the one at Grasford, in North Wales, 1,400 years old. The pines, cypress, firs, larches, and cedars are credited with ages of 200, 300, and even 500. Picea 200 feet in height is mentioned by Goeppert, as ascertained by its annular rings, to be 460 years old, and a larix of 120 feet to be 576 years old. The Scotch pine (Pinus sylvestus) is said to require 200 years to mature its timber to perfection. In Veitch's Manual of the Coniferæ the ages of some of these are stated at considerably less. Other examples of longevity greater than 500 years are mentioned. These are Cedras deodara, 750 to 900 years; cedar of Lebanon, 600 to 800 years. It is important, however, to recognize the fact that rings of growth are not in all cases trustworthy guides, and the subject is still involved in some obscurity. The rings of growth in ecualyptus have been ascertained to be biennial. White cedar planted in England show symptoms of decay, as in Richmond Park, as if their full age in this climate at least were already reached.—Gardeners' Chronicle.

MRS. PARTINGTON SAYS, dont take any of the quack rostrums, as they are regimental to the human system; but put your trust in Hop Bitters, which will cure general dilapidation, costive habits and all comic diseases. They saved Isaac from a severe extract of tripod They are the ne plus ultra of medicines.—Boston Globe.

HAD SUFFERED MANY PHYSICIANS and grew no better but rather worse. Mr. D. H. Howard, of Geneva, N. Y., after dismissing his physicians, tried nearly half a gross of the various blood and liver remedies advertised, no benefit; when one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters cured him of Paralysis and General Debility. At the advanced age of 60, he says he feels young again, and is overjoyed at his wonderful recovery.

NEVER GIVE UP.—If you are suffering with low and depressed spirits, loss of appetite, general debility, disordered blood, weak constitution, headache, or any other disease of a billious nature, by all means procure a bottle of Electric Bitters. You will be surprised to see the rapid improvement that will follow; you will be inspired with new life; strength and activity will return; pain and misery will cease, and henceforth you will rejoice in the praise of Electric Bitters. Sold at 50 cents a bottle, by Taylor & Macdonald.—5

How an Artist Treated His Visitor.

To the Editor of the Salem (Mass.) Register:

I would have accepted your kind invitation to visit you in your new quarters with pleasure before this, had not my old enemy, Mr. Rheumatism, pounced on me so suddenly. He arrived last Friday, and, without stopping to send up his card, rushed in and grasped me by the hand with such a grip that in a few hours my hand and wrist were so badly swollen and painful that I felt as though one of Mr Hatch's coal teams had run over me. Mr. Rheumatism has been a constant visitor of mine for several years; always swells and puts on a great many airs and makes himself at home, devouring my substance and leaving me poor in flesh and pocket. Last winter he came and staid two months. I then made up my that the next time he came I would change his diet, as he has always gobbled down everything set before him. I was somewhat at a loss what to feed him with, but finally concluded to give him three square meals a day of St Jacobs Oil—morning, noon and night. This fare he is disgusted with, and is packing up his trunk and will leave by to-morrow or next day; says he cannot stop any longer as he has pressing business elsewhere. He is a treacherous fellow, and I have no doubt he intends visiting some of our Salem friends; if he does just give him the same fare that I did and he won't stop long. J. S. LEFAVOUR

The public meeting at Belleville on Monday night for the discussion of the Steel Association project was largely attended. Inquiries regarding the alleged evasions of the payment of American postage by American publishers who print their periodicals in Canada to secure the cheap Canadian postage rate to the United States show that the reports regarding the evasion are greatly exaggerated. The students of Rochester are evidently Philistines. They have no appreciation of that all-pervading and all-satisfying Sweetness and Light which is the true essence of modern æstheticism. They even fail to appreciate Mr. Oscar Wilde, and when that apostle of culture made his appearance on the lecture platform in their city on Tuesday night, they greeted him with simulated æsthetic groans and too, too unmistakeably natural groans and hisses. They even dressed a darkey in the sacred knee-breeches and low cut shirt, and marched him up and down the aisle during the lecture. It is ever thus. The True, the Beautiful and the Good are ever the subjects of ridicule by the unspiring and the unthinking vulgar.

From L. J. Racine, Esq., of La Minerve, Montreal. "Having experienced the most gratifying results from the use of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, I am induced to express the great confidence which I have in its efficacy. For nine months I was most cruelly afflicted with a severe and obstinate cough, accompanied with acute pain in the side, which did not leave me, Summer or Winter. The symptoms increased alarmingly; and so reduced was I that I could walk but a few steps without resting to recover from the pain and fatigue which so slight an exertion occasioned. At this juncture I commenced taking the Balsam, from which I found immediate relief; and after having used four bottles I was completely restored to health. I have also used the Balsam in my family, and administered it to my children, with the happiest results. I am sure that such Canadians as use the Balsam can speak in its favour. It is a preparation which has only to be tried to be acknowledged as the remedy par excellence."

A BRUTAL ASSAULT CASE.

A Rough Beats an Old Woman Unmercifully—A Fatal Result.

Guelph, Feb. 8.—About a month ago Thos. Kenny, a notorious vagabond lately out of penitentiary, where he had been serving a two years term for brutally assaulting his father, entered the house of an old woman named Mrs. Haugh and beat her most unmercifully without any provocation whatever. She was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, her injuries not being thought serious at the time. On Friday last, however, she became worse, and on the Magistrate and Chief of Police going to take her deposition it was found she was past all hope of being able to make it, and gradually sank until death relieved her of her sufferings. A post mortem and coroner's inquest is to be held, when fuller particulars will be made known. Kenny was arrested the day of the assault and is now in gaol.

AQUATICS.

Progress of Hanlan's Sculling Practice on the Thames—Boyd's New Boat.

London, Feb. 7.—Hanlan sculled ten miles to-day, despite the mist on the river. The Champion now weighs 158 pounds, and Boyd 166 pounds. The Northerner is doing well.

HANLAN IN PRACTICE.

Advices by mail from England, dated January 25th contain the following references to Hanlan's sculling practice on the Thames:—"By 10:15 yesterday morning Hanlan was in his sculling-boat bound for Tom Green's, in order to have a pull with Bugbear. As the champion reached Barnes Bridge all Tom's team were on the shore ready to launch, and very quickly Cobb was to be seen leading the way down stream. Hanlan following with Bugbear and Rolfe further astern, doubled scullers completeing the fleet All worked smartly on the ebb, but Hanlan gave up at Walden's as he there met Mr. Innes in a skiff. Cobb and Rolfe eased by Simmons', but Bugbear kept on into the Aqueduct. All disembarked at Putney. At four o'clock Cobb and Rolfe went up stream, Bugbear made for the Aqueduct, from whence he started at 33 to the minutes on a trial. He sculled away. Hanlan, who had been up stream, at once turned round on his road back and joined in with Bugbear, but retired off the Soap Works. Rix and Godwin sculled from Hammersmith in company. C. Gibson's business was Hammersmith and back twice. Largan pushed Smith along in the morning's row down from Hammersmith, their work after dinner being to the Soap Factory, Hanlan sculling with them. Dearman rowed up to Putney. After breakfast Bullman had one pull from Green's to Putney, and back to Barnes. Brightwell indulged in a good spin from the Bull's Head to Putney, and back, ahead of Bubear, Harry Kelly and Mr. W. C. Smith double-sculling alongside."

A MATCH WITH TRICKETT.

Negotiations are in progress with the object of arranging a match between Hanlan and Trickett, to take place on the Thames soon after the championship race on the Tyne on April 3. A gentleman in London is acting on behalf of Trickett.

BOYD'S NEW BOAT.

"It will be remembered," says the Newcastle-on-Tyne Chronicle, "that Mr. C. Halford, the well-known Oxford boat-builder, intimated through our columns some time ago that he would present Robert Watson Boyd, of Middlesborough, with a new skiff for his forthcoming championship match against Hanlan. The craft is almost completed, and her dimensions are:—Length, 30 ft. 3 in.; beam, 11

The Grandest of Stage Spectacles.

Let me tell you first of the "Thousand and One Nights" which Adolphe d'Ennery and Paul Ferrier have put on the stage for us. The theatre was closed thirty nights for full dress rehearsals; several times during the performance there are 400 persons on the stage; there are 2,800 costumes, thirty-one tableaux, and $100,000 has been spent on scenery and costumes. You may imagine something of the dazzling splendour of the fairy piece. Let me tell you the wonders of three tableaux. Two of them, Cleopatra's Court and the Infernal Hunt, are thought here to be the most brilliant tableaux ever put on the stage. One of these tableaux is laid in "the unfathomable caves of the ocean," where corals, seaweeds, madrepores, shrimps, fishes and lobsters, represented by young, pretty girls, in pretty dresses that never begin and are always ending, who dance, and dive, and float. So the eyes are fairly dazzled by the number of groups and the variety of costumes. Cleopatra enters on an immense houdah, borne by two magnificent elephants painted to look more splendid, and with magnificent gold bracelets on each leg. The houdah is as brilliant as satin, silks, velvets, cloth of gold, cloth of silver, tassels and fringes can make it. Cleopatra lies on a divan, surrounded by her slaves and by fifty fan-bearers; no two persons among the slaves and fan-bearers having the same costume, and each costume is as rich as possible. Cleopatra is welcomed by a brilliant ballet, and not one of the danseuses has the same costume. The Infernal Hunt brings on the stage a pack of 150 hounds, 12 whippers-in, 24 huntsmen, 10 members of the hunt, and 5 ladies; they hunt 60 tigers, that are immense Danish dogs covered with tigers' skin; these dogs are so mortified at being obliged to play this most ridiculous part, that they go about the theatre before and after the piece played with head hung down and tails between their legs. The scene is, however, exciting; horns blow, whips are cracked, dogs mouth it, and horses gallop at the swiftest pace.—New Orleans Picayune.

ZOPESA.

The New Compound, its wonderful affinity to the Digestive Apparatus and the Liver, increasing the dissolving juices, relieving almost instantly the dreadful results of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, and the TORPID LIVER, makes Zopesa an every day necessity in every house.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Midland Railway Extension.

The Globe of Thursday under the head of Ontario Legislature referring to some of the important matters likely to come before the present session of the Ontario Legislature, thus speaks of our rapidly rising road :—

The proposed Midland Railway extension from Toronto to Buffalo, by way of Hamilton, is urgently demanded for the accomodation of the rapidly increasing lumber and coal traffic, as well as for the development of local trade. Of late years a very large lumber business has been done over the Midland Railway, a large proportion of the supply from the Georgian Bay and Muskoka waters being shipped to Western Ontario and the United States by way of that line. Last season, owing to the pressure for cars and the difficulty of obtaining them from other roads, the Midland had to decline a considerable amount of business, being unable to extend traffic facilities to its customers. The largely augmented coal trade between the United States and Canada has lately shown an increasing tendency to the use of rail instead of water routes, thus avoiding the trouble and expense of transhipment at the American lake ports. The coal traffic centreing in Toronto now amounts to about 300,000 tons annually, and with the growth of the demand for coal in the cities and towns, as well as in connection with the railways, would be very largely increased, provided a direct communication with the eastern section of the Province were secured and return freights obtainable. By the proposed Midland extension this desirable object will be attained, and coal can be forwarded from Buffalo to Eastern Ontario over the Midland system of lines, the lumber of districts tapped by the line and its connections being shipped as return freight. The Midland system now includes 450 miles of completed road, which, when the links under construction are added, will be increased during the coming season to at least 500 miles. There is another important consideration in connection with the coal traffic. The locomotives of this line as well as those of other roads are rapidly being altered so as to burn coal, which will greatly increase the demand. The substitution of coal for wood will have the effect of putting an end to the antagonism between the interests of the railroads and the people with regard to the cordwood supply, and the railways will no longer be liable to the accusation of having an object in discouraging the traffic in cordwood. The local benefits of the contemplated extension in securing to the manufacturers of Hamilton, Dundas, and other places in that neighbourhood connection with Eastern Ontario, will also be considerable It is proposed that the portion of the road between Toronto and Hamilton shall run considerably closer to the towns and villages on the lake shore than the Great Western. As between the several schemes proposed covering the same ground, it is obvious that the project, in connection with an important system already in operation, is likely to be the most successful. In any case it might be well to strengthen such a scheme by the united action of the different promoters.

A Stolen Buffalo Robe.

Police matters have been so quiet of late in this vicinity that we had almost commenencing to think that the millennium was at hand, but as if to blast our hopes, a case has turned up, and that one of a somewhat unusual character. Many of our readers will perhaps remember that about a year ago, a young and rather good-looking man, giving his name as Andrew Daly, of Trenton, was committed for trial by the Police Magistrate on a charge of stealing from Mr. Alex. Scott, of the Township of Smith, four lambs. The facts of the theft were so barefaced that many people were inclined to doubt the prisoner's guilt, but such a chain of evidence was procured that when the case came before the County Judge, he pleaded guilty and was sentenced to one year in the Central Prison. He duly served his term, at least as far as we know, and nothing more was heard of him until Wednesday, last when a farmer named Crowley, residing, we think, in Otonabee, came to Chief Johnston and told him that two brothers named Daly had stolen a buffalo robe out of his sleigh, while it was standing in the shed at P. Brennan's hotel, Hastings. The Chief at once suspected the man Daly, who had been convicted here was one of the twain. and learning that they had passed through here on their way to Bobcaygeon, he gave Crowley instructions as to the course to pursue, and sent him to 'Caygeon. Upon arriving there Crowley procured the services of a constable, swore out a search warrant, searched the premises of the Dalys, found the missing robe, arrested the brothers, brought them before the authorities and had them committed for trial to Lindsay gaol. Although the men pass under the name of Daly, it is stated that that is only an alias. One of them is also said to have a wife at Bobcaygeon and another at Trenton or that neighborhood.

Railway Notes.

Many of the Midland coaches have been repainted and varnished, giving them new and handsome appearances. A large quantity of new rolling stock is being added.

Messrs. Cox and White are in Toronto on railway business.

The rooms in Mr. Cox's block are being handsomely fitted up as offices for the various Midland officials.

The deputation from the town of Lindsay and the county of Victoria waited upon the Government on Thursday evening with reference to the proposed amalgamation of the Midland system, but we have not heard with what success.

Mr. Chas. Blackwell, who has held the position of Chief Engineer of the Midland for some time, has resigned his place to accept another on one of the southern railways. Mr. Blackwell, although but a short time a resident of our town, has made many friends here, who will all regret his departure, but congratulate him on the largely increased salary that he is to receive in the "Sunny South." Mr. Thomas Hay is fulfilling the duties of the office at present.

New Towns.

There are some places which come into prominence and grow by force of circumstances. Many times their increase in importance is rapid, and they soon assume positions of importance. Again a place will have such natural advantages as to compel a town to start there and grow. It may have reverses, but it always overcomes them, and although it may be checked for a time. soon its increase will be more rapid than before. These apparent checks prove but tests, showing the permanency of the town. Such places do not need force of circumstances to push them to the front; they compel these accessories to success to come to them. If a railroad is being run through the vicinity it strikes this town, because it has to do so; a large local trade can only be secured by taking in the town, and thus it prospers, grows and thrives. These principles apply with great force to Crystal City, which has sprung into existence by virtue of position and true necessities of the country around it.

Bargains Can be Got.

We would beg to call the attention of our readers to the great dry goods sale of W. W. Johnston & Co., which will commence on Saturday. This is no ordinary clearing sale of old goods that have to be got rid of because cumbering the shelves, but the stock consists of new and fresh staple goods. As the firm are about to remove to more commodious premises, they prefer to sell off their present stock at a great reduction rather that to subject it to the unavoidable depreciation caused by removal. It is for th is reason only that such first class and well assorted goods can be obtained at the bargains, which may be secured by those who call upon W. W. Johnston & Co.

Fancy Posters.

Our enterprising citizen, Mr. LeBrun, as is well known believes in advertising, so as to let the public know what he has to sell and what bargains they can procure at his extensive establishment. His latest bit in this line is the new and handsomely designed clothing cut, executed in colors which now adorns the bill-boards and walls. It is attractive and at once takes the eye of the passer by, and he or she, as the case may be is bound to stop and read.

MILLIONS GIVEN AWAY.—Millions of bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, and Colds, have been given away as trial bottles of the large size. This enormous outlay would be disastrous to the proprietors, were it not for the rare merits possessed by this wonderful medicine. Call at Taylor & Macdonald's Drug Store, and get a trial bottle, and try for yourself. It never fails to cure.—5

"DON'T GIVE UP THE SHIP" were the memorable words of Commodore Perry. We repeat, "Don't Give up the Ship," poor, despairing involid, but try Burdock Blood Bitters. It cures others, why not you? It renovates, regulates and tones all the organs of secretion, and restores lost Vitality.

RHEUMATISM.—This widespread affliction, and all kindred ailments are at once arrested by Herrick's Sugar-Coated Vegetable Pills, and through their continued use, finally eradicated out of the system. This fact is known all the world over. They contain no mineral substance of any kind.

Blocking the Streets.

We are requested by several ladies to call the attention of the Police to the fact, that on Wednesdays and Saturdays, it is almost impossible for one of the weaker sex to pass some of the principal streets corners, for the reason that they are blocked up, by persons who stand there to transact business. As the by-law against this is very stringent in its provisions, the officers have only to summon two or three of worst offenders before the Police court, when the nuisance will be stopped for a time at least, and if repeated, the cure can also be repeated.

Ontario Legislature.

In the Ontario Legislature on Thursday Dr. Kincaid, M.P.P. gave notice of motion that he would move on Tuesday next for an Order of the House for a copy of the application of the Inspector of Registry Offices, in which is given a copy of a letter from the Honorable James Cockburn, Solicitor-General for Upper Canada, in which the promise given of travelling expenses in addition to the salary of $2,000 is confirmed. The Inspector of Registry Offices is the Hon. Sidney Smith.

The Grain Buyers.

Occasionally the grain buyers have some lively tilts on the market, and furnish much amusement, Already, this season, several charges of assault, in which they were prosecutors and defendants, have come before the Police magistrate, and another case of the same character is set down for trial on Monday. "Birds in their little nests agree etc."

On Thirty Days' Trial.

We will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belts and other Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to young men and older persons who are afflicted with Nervous Debility, Lost Vitality, etc., guaranteeing speedy relief and complete restoration of vigor and manhood, Also for Rheumatism, neuralgia, Paralysis. Liver and Kidney difficulties, Ruptures, and many other diseases. Illustrated pamphlet sent free. Address Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich.

MR. SAMUEL MCCAW, the well-known conductor on the Whitby and Lindsay Railway, says Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters cured me of Dyspepsia. I always kept them in the house, and consider them invaluable as a family medicine. J. D. Tully, agent for Peterborough.

THE FIRST GUN!

No Season before this compares in Sales with the present one in any of our Departments.

This fact is noticeably so in our Ordered Clothing. More busy hours throughout this Department than ever before, Light; Order, Good Stock, Prompt Service, and Comfort to Customers does it.

We purpose to make the Spring Business in Ordered Clothing one that will sweep the board. We have selected a range of SCOTCH TWEEDS, in particular, that will captivate all, and if the boys don't look nobby, it will not be our fault.

To use an old expression, "You can't throw a stone into our Tweed Show Room without hitting a bargain."

We don't ask you to throw stones at us, but visit our establishment, and you will find that this illustration is no figure of speech, but a sober, serious fact.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

Daily Evening Review

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1882.

AN EXTRAORDINARY POSITION.

If we are correctly informed, the position assumed by the representatives of the city of Belleville with regard to the railway legislation now before the Ontario Legislature is, according to our way of thinking, a most extraordinary one. It seems that while they have sent a deputation to Toronto to lobby against the amalgamation of the Grand Junction and Midland Railways, the same deputation had not a single word to say against a bill which came before the Railway Committee for the construction of a rival line, designed to take the iron ore trade away from their city and land it at Weller's Bay on Lake Ontario. Now it seems to us, that if we belonged to Belleville, we should pursue the very opposite policy to that which they are doing, for the simple reason that we should consider it our interest to promote the practical completion of the Grand Junction to the Georgian Bay and the securing of the grain and timber trade from that point, as the amalgamation undoubtedly will for their city, and oppose the construction of a road whose sole object is to transfer from their city the iron ore trade and its casual advantages. The Belleville people, however, seem to think differently, and we suppose we have no right to find fault. We should, however, like to have seen Belleville give a hearty support to the present amalgamation scheme, because we believe it would be the means of building up Belleville, and drawing a trade through Peterborough which, should their present course be successful, will no doubt find an outlet at Port Hope. Of course so far as the iron ore trade is concerned, it can make no difference to us whether it goes to Belleville or to Weller's Bay. Indeed the chances are that in the event of the Grand Junction not becoming a part of the Midland, the Midland will, in due time, be compelled to construct the missing link of the Toronto and Ottawa between Peterborough and Madoc, and thus give us more direct connection with the mining district than we would have by way of Stirling, and thereby increase our facilities for competing for the supply trade of that district.

LINDSAY RAMPANT.

LINDSAY having a member of the Mowat Government for its representative in the Ontario Legislature, has evidently come to the conclusion that it is in a position to prevent the amalgamation of the Whitby and Victoria railways with the Midland, unless Mr. Cox grants them such special favours as they choose to demand, as a quid pro quo for their valuable consent. We apprehend that the Hon. Mr. Wood knows too well what is in the interest of Lindsay, and especially of the county he represents to oppose a movement so clearly to their advantage as the proposed amalgamation, but should he be successful in keeping the roads named out of the amalgamation, we are pleased to be able to state that their success is likely to prove Peterboro's gain. Whatever may be the result of either Lindsay or Belleville opposition, it is obvious that the amalgamation so far as the Nipissing, Toronto and Ottawa, and Midland are concerned will be carried out. That once accomplished, these roads must complete their connections between Toronto and Ottawa by a shorter route than that by way of Lindsay and Woodville. Shut out from the use of the Whitby road between Seagrave and Lindsay, a glance at the map will suffice to show that the cheapest best and most direct connection can be made at Omemee with the main line of the Midland. The distance between Wick and Omemee is less than twenty miles, while the country through which it will pass is very favourable for railway construction. Of course if this should be the result of Lindsay's present course she will have nobody but herself to blame for being left off the main line between Toronto and Ottawa. Mr. Cox has already given instructions for an inspection of the route between Omemee and Wick, and a party will commence the work on Monday.

THE DAILY EVENING REVIEW is delivered to subscribers at ten cents a week.

FOR THE FAR WEST.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—It is stated that the Marquis of Huntly, against whom a warrant has been issued for obtaining money under false pretences, is preparing to leave Greece for a prolonged residence in the western part of the United States.

BERLIN PROGRESSIVE PRESS.

BERLIN, Feb. 10.—A sensation has been created in Berlin by the North German Gazette accusing the Progressist press of attempting to influence the judge in favour Prof. Mommsen, who is being prosecuted on the charge of libeling Prince Bismarck in a campaign speech. Prof. Mommsen denies that his observations were directed against Prince Bismarck personally.

JEWISH OUTRAGES.

LIVERPOOL, Feb. 10.—A Jewish refugee who arrived here from Kief says he recently saw a number of Jewish maidens stripped naked and dogged through the town. The police refused to interfere. A soldier from Nikolaief says his regiment was not allowed to suppress the roits against the Jews. Many women with infants appear to have suffered severely. The Jewish refugees believe the Czar is unaware of their sufferings, and is not responsible for the atrocities.

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—In the House of Commons to-night the debate was resumed on Mr. McCarthy's amendment to the address. Mr. Porter, Solicitor-General for Ireland, defended the sub-commissioners, who he said were upright men of all shades of politics. Mr. McCarthy read a despatch from Mr. Healy announcing his intention to return to England forthwith and answer Mr. Forster's misstatements. Mr. Forster said he was glad to hear it.

WORTHLESS BONDS.

ADRIAN, Mich., Feb. 10.—Last autumn the people of Adrian voted to issue bonds to the amount of $150,000 for the erection of water works. The Council have not yet taken action. Yesterday it was discovered that the bonds have been furtively issued and sold in New York to Post, Martin, & Co., who purchased them through D. A. Easton. The bonds were negotiated through the Union Trust Co. The bonds were purchased at 106, and had been sold to several parties at 109. They are spurious. Mayor Novin is missing, and a New York despatch states that Novin drew more than half of the proceeds of the sale of the bonds. Easton asserts that the agent sent by him to Adrian reported the bonds as duly authorized, and two judges here vouched for their legality. The judges say that they know nothing about the bonds. Post, Martin & Co. state that Novin and other officials told them that the bonds were all right.

A FOOLISH MAN.

Is the Cause of a Terrible Disaster at Madoc—Five People Burnt to Death.

MADOC, Feb. 10.—A most disastrous fire occured yesterday evening, near Pringle's mills, Huntingdon. The house of John Morland was burnt to the ground, and his wife, step-daughter and three children were burned to death. Two men, named Simeon Rambough and Minard Huff, who were stopping at the house, were so badly burned that they are not expected to recover. It would seem a large vessel of coal oil had just been brought home, and was leaking on the floor, when a man named Peter Van Allen, thinking to remove the oil from the floor, put a light to it, and in a few minutes the whole thing was in a blaze. Van Allen escaped unhurt.

Also for Rheumatism, neuralgia, Paralysis, Liver and Kidney difficulties, Ruptures, and many other diseases. Illustrated pamphlet sent free. Address Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich.

IS IT A HUMBUG? Some people think all proprietary medicines humbugs. In this they must be mistaken. A cough medicine like N. H. Downs' Elixir that has stood the racket of 52 years must have some virtue, and must cure the diseases for which it is recommended, or people would not continue to buy and use it as they do. It seems to us that even if we knew nothing of its merits, the fact of its large and continually increasing sale justifies us in recommending Down's Elixir to all who may need a reliable cough medicine.

Daily Evening Review

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1882.

Mr. MOWAT says that the lumbermen are all in favour of his Rivers and Streams Bill. But Mr. Mowat knows very well that no lumberman now-a-days feels disposed to question the correctness of anything the Ontario Government does, for the very good reason that if they do they will be made to pay for it; as is the case just now on the Gull river waters, where if you support Mowat & Co. your rivers and streams are made all right at the country's expense—if you don't, why you must make them right at your own expense.

WITH an eye to business Mr. Mowat has handed Mr. Wheeler, M.P., for North Ontario a cheque for $500 for distribution among the sufferers by the bush fires in Rama and Mara—two townships in the constituency which Mr. Wheeler represents in the Grit interest in the House of Commons. While, no doubt the people in question are worthy of this consideration at the hands of the Ontario Government, we must say that in our opinion the money should have been placed in the hands of some one whose distribution of it would not be so likely to be influenced by political considerations.

ANOTHER "NOVELETTE."

THE Examiner, in accordance with that unpatriotic policy which seems so dear to the average Reform journal, quotes with approval a letter by a Mr. Joseph C. Kidd, of Cooks. town, in which are a number of falsehoods injurious to this country and its industries. Among other absurdities he talks of having to pay Haggart Bros. $110 for a reaping machine that cost $90 before the N.P. tariff, and a seed drills that cost $85 before now costing $100.

Of course this is false on the face of it, but being determined to put this mistatement to a practical test, we called on Mr. Peter Hamilton, who is certainly not a prejudiced witness, and being an extensive manufacturer of agricultural implements, is undoubtedly a good authority on the subject. Mr. Hamilton scouted the idea of there being any truth in the statement, and in reply to an enquiry stated that so far from having raised the prices of his reapers and seed drills he had reduced them. Though he was paying higher wages to his workmen, and iron was dearer, in consequence of the increased price in Great Britain, he found a compensation in an extended business, improvements in manufacturing, prompter payments and fewer bad debts. It will thus be seen that our farmers are no sufferers, and that if Haggart Bros. are so extortionate (which we do not in the least believe) their customers can find a remedy by coming to Peterborough to make their purchases.

The Examiner may say that it did not invent this falsehood, but it would be far more befitting a Canadian journalist to make enquiries before circulating statements injurious to our country and its industries. This, however, would not suit the policy of the detractors, who would belittle the country and damage its enterprising manufactories without the least regard for the truth, if by so doing they can deal a blow at their political opponents. It is an ill bird that fouls its own nest.

WHO OWNS THE $56,000?

Some More Trouble over Lord Dunmore's Land Speculation.

QUEBEC, Feb. 9.—A large amount of interest has been manifested by a portion of the outside public in a recent land transaction between a lumbering firm in this city and an English colonization society. Mr. Charlebois, M.P., of this city, applied to Messrs. G. B. Hall & Co. some time ago for a tract of land belonging to them in the township of Dorset. The land in question, consisting of 56,000 acres, was purchased by Mr. Charlebois for the sum of $2 per acre. It was almost immediately resold to Lord Dunmore's English Colonization Company for $3 per acre. Shortly after concluding the purchase Mr. Charlebois asked the sellers if they would enable him to avoid a double transaction and two sets of deeds by inserting the name of the company instead of his own as the purchaser direct from them. He also mentioned that they were to pay for it the sum of $3 per acre. Messrs. G. B. Hall & Co. told Mr. Charlebois that they were perfectly willing to substitute the English Company for himself in the deed, but it must be at the price which they were themselves to receive for it. Who made the $56,000 is the question which now seems to agitate many minds. A representative of the Chronicle called yesterday upon Mr. James G. Ross, one of the local directors of the society, to enquire if he would give any details relative to the transaction or state from whom the company really bought the land. Mr. Ross stated that he would be glad to say all he knew were he not a director of the Company, under which circumstances it might be a breach of confidence for him to speak. The reporter intimated that it was currently reported that Mr. Ross had at one of the meetings of Directors stood up and refused to be a party to the purchase of land at $3 per acre which could be had at $2. Mr. Ross said it was impossible until he had seen the other Directors and ascertained what had passed at subsequent meetings while he was in New York for him to divulge what had occurred between them. It is understood, however, that all the deeds have been executed and a portion of the cash paid down, the whole matter will be reconsidered.

Fatal Accident.

MINDEN, Feb. 9.—A settler by the name of James Stevens, engaged in taking out logs in the township of Stanhope for S. E. Gould, met with an accident last week which ended fatal. A tree in falling struck another, which on coming down struck him on the head. His brother carried him home in an insensible condition, from which he never rallied. He died on Tuesday night.

IN BRITISH COLUMBIA.

THREE MURDERERS STRUNG UP BY A VIGILANCE COMMITTEE OF CITIZENS.

Five Hundred men Stop the Sheriff and Place the Law at Defiance—The Vigilants Summoned by Sounding the Fire Alarm.

From the British Columbia papers which came to hand on Thursday, it appears that on Jan. 17th, Geo. B. Reynold, head clerk for D. A. Jennings of the town of Seattle, British Coumbia, was waylaid and killed by two thieves.

The news spread as only such a terrible deed can be carried from one to another. The whole town was up in arms.

A VIGILANCE COMMITTEE

was formed at the engine house. The members were told off in pairs to patrol different parts of the city. They separated. At about 9 o'clock the men who were hanged for the crime were found by Messrs. Kellogg, Keenan, Reitz and Jones on Harrington & Smith's wharf, secreted in the bay. They were taken before Justice Coombs and committed to the county jail. Shortly after this the door of the room where they were kept in charge of the officers was broken open by the vigilance committee and the men demanded. The officers refused to deliver the prisoners up; but Sheriff Wyckoff and Chief of Police McGraw gave their words of honor that the prisoners should be in court in the morning at 9 o'clock. The shoes of the prisoners were then taken by the committee By 9 o'clock a.m., Wednesday an overwhelming chain of evidence had been collected against the prisoners.

At about 9.30 Justice Combs opened court in Yeslers' Hall. W. H. White and Judge Jacobs appeared for the territory.

It was a strangely quiet meeeting; the hall was crowded with men, their faces indicating that stern and swift justice should fall upon the men at the bar, should they be proved guilty.

The prisoners were brought into the hall at 10 o'clock. There being no counsel for the prisoners (James Sullivan and Howard) Mr. Holcolm was appointed to defend them.

Overwhelming evidence having been adduced against the prisoners, ofter a brief consultation with his clients, their attorney said that they would not offer testimony, and Judge Coombs said he would commit the prisoners for———. No further words were heard. A

WILD SHOUT AROSE.

The officers were seized and the prisoners grasped by as many resolute men as could get about them. Resistance was useless, five hundred men being banded together to see that the laws of justice be executed. They were hurried through the alley back of the pavilion to Occidental square, where heavy scantling had been placed between the forks of the trees near Mr. Yesler's sidewalk. One of them made some resistance in the alley, but in a twinkling he was thrown upon the ground and in another moment both men were underneath the bar, a rope already prepared was about the necks of each one, the other end thrown over the timber and in one minute from the time Judge Combs remanded the prisoners to the custody of the officers, they were suspended between heaven and earth.

THE WORK WAS QUICKLY DONE.

Neither man said a word—or if anything was spoken, it was drowned in the terrible roar of just indignation that carried them on. Judge Greene attempted to sever the rope that held one of the men with a knife. He was hustled about with much haste and rather roughly treated. When the men were raised to the timber over which the lines were passed, their heads came in violent contact with it. The smaller man, Howard, died at once, his neck being broken by the force of the blow. He threw up his hands and grasped the rope as he went up, but they at once fell loosely by his side. He gave after no indication of life. Sullivan undoubtdely was strangled to death. His feet twiched and were several times drawn up. Perhaps life in his case was not extinct until the elapse of twenty minutes.

After Howard and Sullivan had been told that they were to be hanged and that nothing could save them from the gallows; that even as the last testimony was being given the rope had been procured and the timber from which they would shortly swing had been put in its place, they admitted that they were the men who had murdered Geo. Reynolds last night.

MORE LYNCH LAW.

At about one o'clock the fire-bell gave three times three taps, calling the committee together again. The tapping of the bell carried to Benjamin Paine, the murderer of an inoffensive policeman, who was shot down by Paine some months ago, his doom. About 500 men went to the jail, tore down the tall fencing on the south side and gained admission to the yard. The bolt was chopped out of the door casing, and the first door to the jail swung open. The second one was harder to conquer, but it yielded to the repeated blows of the sledges. But one door yet remained, and it required hard labor to get it open. It was literally battered to atoms, and gave admission to the determined men without. "Where's Paine?" were the first words spoken. The prisoners, who were in the corridor, where Paine also was, pointed him out and he was seized. The committee brought him down to the square, where his eyes rested on the ghastly spectacle of two forms suspended from a scantling, with blackened faces and protruding tongues. He gave no sign of fear, except that his face was perfectly colorless. When the rope was about his neck and his hands tied, some one called out from the crowd of eight hundred or one thousand men standing about: "Did you fire the shot that killed Officer Sires?" He cried out, "You hang me and you hang an innocent man." If he said anything further it could not be heard, for several hundred voices raised a shout that drowned all else, and his body took its place between the murderers of Reynolds. His legs twitched and drew up and his shoulders heaved convulsively for some moments. He evidently strangled to death. Finally his limbs straightened out and the trio hung still and silent—gazed at and commented upon for about forty minutes, when they were cut down and thrown into an express waggon, which was hauled by men around to Schillestadt's undertaking establishment. We append hereto summoned by Acting Coroner Coombs. Its brevity and sentiment will commend itself to this community as being a most proper instrument. In each case the jury returned the following verdict:—

THE VERDICT OF THE JURY

We, the jury summoned in the above case, find that (here his name) came to his death by hanging, but from the evidence furnished we are unable to find by whose hands. We are satisfied that in his death substantial and speedy justice has been subserved. C. D. Emory, (foreman), O. Jacobs, L. Diller, W. H. Reeves, J. C. Floyd, H. A. Atkins.

Thus we come to the close of one of the most eventful days ever transpiring in the history of Seattle.

The Seattle Post says:—Let it be known to all the world that this was the work of no mob. It was the result of the uprising of an outraged and long-suffering community of law-abiding citizens, who felt it their sacred duty to thus show to the world and all mankind that forbearance with murderers and thieves had ceased to be a virtue in this community, and that the lives and property of respectable citizens shall and will be protected, and that outrages and atrocities will hereafter be dealt with in a manner they deserve, without fear or favor.

While Sullivan and Howard were still twitching, Judge Greene ran up, and with his penknife attempted to let one down. The judge was taken away from there pretty lively. He offered no further opposition to the citizens in their work.—Toronto World.

IN a letter addressed to the Eastern Dairymen's Association, Mr. Bentley, Brazilian Consul, points ont that Brazil affords an excellent market for Canadian butter and cheese.

BY actual count seven hundred and thirty-two Torontonians, more or less, carefully and eagerly read the details of the Ryan-Sullivan prize-fight and then declared it utterly disgraceful for the papers to publish such degrading sensations.

DRUGGISTS throughout the country testify to the great merits of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. No medicine they sell acts so promptly in curing Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, &c. Have you tried it? J. D. Tully, agent for Peterboro'.

THE action of the Mayor of Halifax in reference to the breach of the quarantine regulations at that port by the captain of the Peruvian has been sustained by the authorities at Ottawa, and the fine of four hundred dollars will be inflicted.

FOR impaired digestion, and, in fact, for debility from any cause, I know of nothing equal to Fellows' Hypophosphites. Its direct effect in strengthening the nervous system renders it suitable for the majority of diseases. WM. S. HOWE, M. D., Pittsfield, Me.

Two little brothers broke through the ice on which they were skating in Cincinnati. While they were clinging desperately to the edge of the ice, and efforts were being made to reach them, the older one cried out: "Be sure and take Willie out first." But both Willie and his generous brother were drowned.

DON'T PAUSE TO CONSIDER, but when you find your hogs, sheep, poultry, horses, or cattle of any description, lean or suffering from the want of health, just mix their food with Harvell's Condition Powders, and settle the matter at once. These great specifics are sold everywhere.

VICTOR HUGO has contributed to the fund for the relief of the sufferers by the Vienna fire an autograph in the usual style, declaring the calamity "a catastrophe without human cause," and expressing a fervent hope that "from the frightful mystery may proceed the Amplification of Human Confraternity."

COUGHS, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Pains in the Throat and Chest, relieved and cured by the use of Dr. Carson's Cough Drops. The most reliable testimony has been received as to their efficiency. In bottles, 50 cents. J. D. Tully, agent for Peterborough.

PUBLIC baths, centrally located, and open during the whole year, are proposed for Toronto, but no definite action has yet been taken towards securing them. It is contended that they will be self-sustaining, and as confirmatory of the supposition, the fact is mentioned that eight New York baths admitted nearly 4,000,000 people in a single year.

A Panama missionary now in Detroit has been interviewed, and declared that the difficulties in the way of the completion of the De Lesseps canal have been greatly magnified. The climate is trying to northern people, but this may be largely overcome by the observance of proper dietic regulations. The residents have great faith in the enterprise.

THE Great Western are building two new parlor cars for the line between Hamilton and Toronto. It seems the Government seized the cars that were used on this line for the same reason that the Pullman cars of the Grand Trunk were taken. To avoid all trouble the Great Western sent the cars back to the United States, and are building handsome ones of their own.

ONCE rheumatism was the bane of a man's existence, until St. Jacobs Oil came to the rescue. If it is crowned in the opening years of its career, where will a decade place it? "Mr. Herman Johnston, of Great Bend, Kansas, is subject to frequent attacks of rheumatism. Mr. Johnson states that he can find no relief except from the liberal use of St. Jacobs Oil. He keeps it in his house all the time, and has discovered that it is useful for more complaints than rheumatism. He uses it on his feet and says it prevents them from scalding when plowing in the summer time. He also says it is just the best thing in the world for burns, sprains, cuts and bruises. As for his back, which was for a long time lame from rheumatism, why that is a thing of the past."

ON Thursday morning the sad information was passed around of the death of two of Kingston's oldest citizens, Mr. Routley and Mr. Tracey. Both were advanced in years. The feeling of depression was much intensified by the sudden death of ex-Mayor S. T. Drennan at 9 o'clock this morning. He died in his residence. He was a prominent Conservative, and president of the association. He was a leading manufacturer, and had at one time the big cabinet manufactory in the penitentiary. He was about 60 years of age.

You will be surprised to see the rapid improvement that will follow; you will be inspired with new life; strength and activity will return; pain and misery will cease, and henceforth you will rejoice in the praise of Electric Bitters. Sold at 50 cents a bottle, by Taylor & Macdonald.—5

From L. J. Racine, Esq., of La Minerve, Montreal. "Having experienced the most gratifying results from the use of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, I am induced to express the great confidence which I have in its efficacy. For nine months I was most cruelly afflicted with a severe and obstinate cough, accompanied with acute pain in the side, which did not leave me, Summer or Winter. The symptoms increased alarmingly, and so reduced was I that I could walk but a few steps without resting to recover from the pain and fatigue which so slight an exertion occasioned. At this juncture I commenced taking the Balsam, from which I found immediate relief; and after having used four bottles I was completely restored to health. I have also used the Balsam in my family, and administered it to my children, with the happiest results. I am sure that such Canadians as use the Balsam can speak in its favour. It is a preparation which has only to be tried to be acknowledged as the remedy par excellence."

ENNISMORE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

ACCIDENT.—On Monday last at the shanties near Kinmount, Richard Nurse of this township met with a severe accident, breaking his shoulder. He drove to Bobcaygeon, but failing to find a doctor proceeded home, arriving late on Tuesday night. He is now under the care of Dr. King, who set the bone and otherwise attended to the injuries, but no doubt it will be a considerable time before he can attend to work again.

LINDSAY.

SENSIBLE.—The Post says that Deputy-reeve Melville at the council meeting on Monday night urged that all wood should be measured on the market when brought in and marked so that the purchaser could see just what quantity was being paid for. Mr. Melville only anticipased the provisions of the town by-law, which provides for just such measuring as he wanted. But the trouble about the thing is that the by-law is not enforced. Some enquiry was made at the council, but it was not very clearly understood whose duty it was to enforce it. There is undoubtedly a great deal of wood sold in town for which more is paid than the quantity warrants. But every householder cannot be expected to go around with a two foot rule or a try-square and climb all over loads of wood sizing them. The question of enforcing the by-law seems to turn on who is to pay the fees for measuring: the man who sells the wood or the one who buys. The seller wants all he can get and the buyer believes he is paying a sight too much already at the price wood goes at now.

OBITUARY.—We record the death of Mrs. Hannah Daley, relict of the late Timothy Daley of Lindsay, who died early this week at the age of 79 years. Mrs. Daley was one of the first settlers of this part of the country, having came from the county of Cork, Ireland, in 1827 and settled in Lindsay in 1832. Elderly residents will remember her as Mrs. Twohey. After the death of her first husband she married some five years later Mr. Timothy Daly, whom she survived twelve years. The deceased lady was mother-in-law of Mr. Patrick Murphy, lot 5, 7th con. Ops.

THE "HUM."—Arrangements are already being entered into by Mr. Sylvester for the supply of stone, brick, etc., for the new workshops. This is a clear indication that the project is sound and will be pushed forward with promptitude. There will soon be so many teams gathered around the drill shed and crossings delivering materials that the railroad people will have to take a broom and sweep them off the track to let the train pass.

CRUEL.—A young lad named McGlyn committed a barbarous act for which he should receive a liberal application of rawhide. He was given a dog and took the animal home, calling it out to the woodshed where he cut its throat and ended up by skinning the poor beast before it was dead. This goes one peg further in atrocity than the pupils who roasted a cat alive at the school during the summer.

FIRE.—On Saturday morning a fire broke out in the roofing around the smoke-stack of Mowry's foundry caused by the heat of the smoke-stack. It had made but little progress before it was noticed, and those employed around the buildings speedily quenched it with pails of water. The fire alarm was sounded but the hose did not make their appearance as it was thought unnecessary to bring them out.

A LARGE EAGLE.—Mr. Sawyer shot a very large bald eagle in the township of Dysart last week which measured over seven feet across the wings from tip. It was purchased by Mr McKelvie who brought it to Mr. C. Foley, of this town to stuff. Mr. Foley has also in his charge a large golden eagle which was shot in the same township.

A GOOD LOAD.—Mr. S. Metherell of Little Britain, brought to town on Monday and left with Mr. James Keith a load of alisike clover and which netted him the handsome sum of $520. He had six acres and a half in seed which threshed out an average of seven bushels to the acre. The sample was pronounced by good judges to be the best seed ever brought to Lindsay.

PRAISEWORTHY.—On Saturday a subscription sheet was taken around the business part of the town by two employees of the Victoria railway, Mr. Burke and Mr. McIntyre, for the benefit of Mr. Robert Douglass, who had his leg broken by the recent accident, and which has since been amputated. Quite a large sum was subscribed.

COBOURG.

ACCIDENT TO A CHILD.—The World says that on Wednesday afternoon of this week, a little girl named Adelaide Loughi, 3 years old, a daughter of Mr. Loughi, of the G. T. R. Refreshment Rooms, met with an accident by which she sustained a fracture of the left arm. She was playing with her little brother, and while standing upon a chair was thrown to the floor, with the result stated. The fracture was reduced by Dr. Waters.

DIED FROM HIS INJURIES.—We regret to state that Mr. Charles Thurston, whose serious injury by the fall of a bucket in a well, we recorded a fortnight ago, died on Saturday morning of last week. For some time after being hurt it was hoped that he would recover, but his injuries proved of too severe a character, and he succumbed to them at the time stated. He was a quiet, industrious, and deserving man and was respected by all who knew him.

ZOPESA.

(FROM BRAZIL.)

The New Compound, its wonderful affinity to the Digestive Apparatus and the Liver, increasing the dissolving juices, relieving almost instantly the dreadful results of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, and the TORPID LIVER, makes Zopesa an every day necessity in every house.

It acts gently and speedily in Biliousness, Costiveness, Headache, Sick Headache, Distress after Eating, Wind on the Stomach, Heartburn, Pains in the Side and Back, Want of Appetite, Want of Energy, Low Spirits, Foul Stomach. It invigorates the Liver, carries off all surplus bile, regulates the Bowels, and gives tone to the whole system.

Cut this out and take it to your Druggist and get a 10 cent Sample, or a large bottle for 75 cents, and tell your neighbor about it.

A Grand Auction Sale

MANITOBA TOWN LOTS.

Charles Stapleton is instructed to Sell

On Friday Next, the 17th February

AT HIS AUCTION ROOMS, UNDER THE TOWN CLOCK, PETERBORO',

200 LOTS

IN

CRYSTAL CITY.

The mere announcement of lots for sale in this, the first important point settled in Southwestern Manitoba, will be sufficient to those acquainted with the country. First, also, in population, as well as in the fertility and natural advantages of its surroundings.

By Far the Largest Town in Rock Lake District!

Surveyed in 1880, it is no prospective town, but is a thriving place—a large business being done. Churches, Schools, Mills, Registry Office, Stores, and every essential to supplying the wants of a thickly populated section. The town site is the property of but one proprietor (Thos. Greenway, Esq., M. P. P.,) and his faith in the future of Crystal City is such that the proceeds of this, as well as of former sales, will be employed in fostering every legitimate industry and building up the town.

A REBATE OF FIFTY PER CENT.

Of purchase money to those who construct medium-priced brick or frame buildings within twelve months from sale. Within six months lots have advanced 200 per cent., and with early railway facilities this is but an intimation.

OVER 40 BUILDINGS NOW UNDER CONTRACT FOR EARLY SPRING COMPLETION!

As to the eligibility of investing, we refer intending purchasers to anyone acquainted with the Province, or to the shrewdness of speculators in Manitoba town property.

The mere fact that over 7,000 letters were posted at this office in one quarter will convey a partial idea of the volume of business done, as well as the population of the district.

No extended description of this point is required, for the merit of its natural advantages caused its survey. It has grown to its important position by its merits, and will be sold on the same.

Title Perfect. Terms Easy. Sale at 2 & 7.30 P.M.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Duties of Assessors.

The following summary of the provisions of the assessment law may be useful at the present time, both to the assessor and the assessed: The assessor shall after diligent enquiry set down in his roll.

1. The names and surnames in full, if the same can be ascertained, of all taxable property residents in the municipality.

2. And all non-resident owners who have given notice (in writing, setting forth his full name, place of residence and post office address, to the clerk of the municipality on or before the thirteenth day of January in each year, that he owns such land, describing it) and require their names to be enrolled on the roll.

3. When the land is owned or occupied by more persons than one, and all their names are given to the assessor, they shall be assessed therefor in the portions belonging to or occupied by each respectively.

4. Every farmer's son bona fide resident on the farm of his father or mother at the time of the making of the assessment roll, and who has not been temporarily absent more than four out of the preceeding twelve months, shall be entitled to be, and may be entered, rated and assessed on such roll, in respect of such farm, in manner following.

(a) If the father is living, and either the father or mother is owner of the farm, the son or sons may be entered, rated and assessed, etc.

(b) If the father is dead and the mother is the owner of the farm and a widow, the son or sons may be entered, etc.

5. All residents of the municipality, at the date of the election, who have continuously resided therein since the revision of the last revised assessment roll therefor and are in receipt of an income of not less than $400.

Public School Account Books.

The following circular has been issued to the school inspectors:—

EDUCATION DEPARTMENT,
TORONTO, January, 1882.

I am directed by the Honorable the Minister of Education to call your attention to the following provision of the School Act of 1880, 43 Victoria, Chapter 32:—"The trustees of every rural school section, and the public school board of every town, village or township, shall keep or cause to be kept books of accounts of all school moneys of their section, town, village or township (as the case may be), according to such form as may be prescribed by the Minister of Education." The account book authorized by the Minister is published by Messrs. W. Warwick & Son, Wellington St., Toronto. Twenty-five cents per copy.

Your obedient servant,
ALEX. MARLING,
Servant.

The Weather.

The weather is very changeable just at present and it is very difficult for any person except a prophet (?) to tell what is coming in a few hours. At present it is fine and warm, and the little snow that remains is now being rapidly diminished. Unless snow falls very soon, wheeled vehicles will be seen on the streets altogether; as it is now, they are rapidly taking the place of the sleighs and cutters. The weather probabilities for this district for the following 24 hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a.m., to-day, by the Great North-Western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes—increasing easterly to southerly winds, increasing cloudiness, rain to-morrow, milder weather.

Peterborough Abroad.

The Campbellford Herald under the heading "the greatest of the season" gives an account of a Presbyterian soiree in that villnge, on Thursday night, at which over 700 persons were present. The Herald says that the principal feature of the evening was the singing of Mrs. Fowler, and Mr. D. D. Galletly, of Peterborough.

Unsafe.

While putting in plate glass fronts at the "Golden Lion" on Thursday, the front wall nearly fell out. Large cedar props were at once procured, and the front "jacked" up. During the night the sidewalk was blockaded and a signal lamp placed in front of the building. It is expected that everything is all right now.

Skating Carnival.

There is to be a grand skating carnival at Port Hope next week. Prizes are to be given for costumes, etc. We see no reason why some Peterboronians should not go down and carry some of them away.

The Court House.

The contractor is making good progress in repairing the damage to the court house roof. The tinsmiths have commenced work and will soon finish up.

AGAIN VICTORIOUS.

Our Manipulators of the "Besoms and Stanes" Defeat the Lindsay Men.

On Friday evening two rinks representing the Lindsay Curling Club arrived in Peterborough, for the purpose of having a friendly game with our stone pushers and broom scrapers. The game which was very exciting was 25 "ends," and lasted for fully five hours. The ice was in good condition and throughout the game the best spirit prevailed. As will be seen by the annexed score our representatives were victorious, defeating their opponents by 17 shots. When it is considered that Lindsay possesses a club that ranks "away up," the victory is not to be sneezed at, as the Port Hope Guide would say. Again we congratulate our players and express the hope that victory may perch on their banners the whole season through. The following is the score:—

Railway Notes.

The Madoc Review says that the contractors of the Toronto and Ottawa railway are having considerable difficulty in getting a solid roadbed over Feeney's swamp a few miles from Madoc. A solid bottom could only be found after going down 57 feet, and this extends a distance of about 600 feet in length. We understand the intention is to "spile" it the whole depth.

A party of engineers has been formed to survey a line from Omemee to Wick. If this line is followed by the Midland consolidation, Lindsay will be left out in the cold. It would be the most direct route to Toronto from Peterborough. Mr. J. H. Bailey, Chief Engineer of the Toronto and Ottawa Railway, and Consulting Engineer of the Consolidated Midland, has charge of the survey and is here at present arranging details. He proposes to commence work at once.

All the Midland cars, of all kinds, are to be repainted a bright yellow color. Some have been finished and present a neat and tidy appearance. The work is being done at the Port Hope shops and affords work for a large number of painters. "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good."

We are authorized to announce by Mr. Geo. A. Cox, President of the Midland Railway, that the contract for the construction of the "missing Link" has been let to Mr. Beemer of Montreal.' That gentleman intends to commence work as soon as possible and is already making extensive preparations. He has two large steam shovels that are to be placed where the heaviest cuts are to be made, some few miles from town.

The consideration of the Midland, Grand Junction, Nipissing, Port Percy and Lindsay and Victoria Railway amalgamation scheme, will come before the Railway committee of the Local House on Tuesday.

Another Departure.

Mr. D. Tempest, who has been engaged for some time past in the head office of the M. R. R. here, leaves town this evening by the 6.40 train, for Winnipeg, where he has been appointed to a more lucrative position in the offices of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Mr. Tempest, during his short residence in Peterborough, has made numerous warm personal friends, and attached to himself the good wishes of all with whom he came in contact. On Friday evening prior to his departure a number of his friends assembled with him at Darcy's restaurant and partook of a farewell supper together. A very pleasant evening was spent, and the company broke up at an early hour, all uniting in wishing their guest a safe journey to and a successful career in the "Great Lone Land."

The Bowling Club.

The regular weekly match for the championship took place at the alleys on Friday night. The following are the principal scores that were made:—

H. LeBrun	259
J. Shevelin	226
W. Rudkins	203

Ahem?

Says the Lindsay Post:—

"The Peterborough Review refers with "pardonable bashfulness" to the many compliments it has and is receiving from the public. This should not be. Where a compliment is well deserved, as is the case with the Review, it should be taken without any manifestations of embarrassment."

How to do It.

In Cobourg the Police Magistrate imposes a fine of $20 and costs on each of the contestants in a street fight, and in consequence such affays are very rare. If the same amount was assessed on each of our bruisers, rows would be less frequent than they are. It might be worth trying.

Manitoba Investments.

The advertisement of the sale in this town on Friday Feb. 17th, of lots in Crystal City, in the Rock Lake District, Manitoba, is attracting much attention.

MR. SAMUEL MCCAW, the well-known conductor on the Whitby and Lindsay Railway, says Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters cured me of Dyspepsia. I always kept them in the house, and consider them invaluable as a family medicine. J. D. Tully, agent for Peterborough.

RHEUMATISM.—This widespread affliction, and all kindred ailments are at once arrested by Herrick's Sugar-Coated Vegetable Pills, and through their continued use, finally eradicated out of the system. This fact is known all the world over. They contain no mineral substance of any kind.

MILLIONS GIVEN AWAY.—Millions of bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, and Colds, have been given away as trial bottles of the large size. This enormous outlay would be disastrous to the proprietors, were it not for the rare merits possessed by this wonderful medicine. Call at Taylor & Macdonald's Drug Store, and get a trial bottle, and try for yourself. It never fails to cure.—5

The Car Works Question.

The deputation appointed by the Town Council to proceed to Toronto to request the Ontario Government to pass such legislation as would enable the town to take $20,000 stock in the proposed Carworks' Company, have returned home. They had an interview with Mr. Mowat and were cordially received. As the question was a new one, and one that he had never considered, he promised to consult with his Deputy and see what could be done to further the town's request. The deputation also saw the Deputy and fully explained the matter to him. The question will have the best consideration of the Government.

Removed.

The undersigned in returning thanks to their numerous customers, beg leave to say that they have removed to the new store recently erected by Garvey and Dolan, opposite the market square. Where, with increased facilities and strict attention to the wants of their customers they hope to merit a continuation of their patronage. CARTON BROS.

Tan Bark.

The Globe says Canadian capitalists should take immediate note of an enterprise just being introduced on the rivers of the Southern States—namely, the pressing of tan-bark for carriage by rail or export. The press is carried on a stern-wheel steamer which is to run on the Tennessee River as far up as Florence, Ala. She cost $50,000. The press, which is a 14 inch cylinder, is driven by the engines which drive the boat. A pressure of 1,500 tons is put on the bark in the cylinder. The bark is first ground on a machine located in the fore part of the vessel, and is then conveyed by a traveller to hoppers which feed the cylinders. Another traveller conveys the pressed cylinders of bark to the hold for shipment. The substance when pressed is as hard as rock, and needs no barrel, bale tie, or covering. On soaking in water it expands to its former size. In that section loose tan-bark is worth $10 to $15 a ton. The price in Europe is about $30 to $35 a ton.

STRIKING THE BULL'S EYE!

Experience tells that there is as much at all times and unusually more real cheapness in a fairly good article of any kind than in an inferior or poor thing, however little money it may cost.

Even more important is it to those who have a moderate sum to spend that they spend it wisely, and make the dollars do all the work they can.

A poor thing at a triffling cost, bought over and over, soon eats up twice the cost of a good one, which can yet be of moderate price with tenfold satisfaction in its use.

If you buy cotton, buy what is good of its kind and for the use needed. It is the cheapest. If you buy linen, buy that which is linen, even for common use. Common goods involve only greater wear.

If you want anything to wear, buy goods that are perfect of their kind.

Thin, sleazy, irregularly made goods don't wear well, starch don't add strength to any fabric.

If you buy wool goods, buy those you can depend on—the wool of the sheep, and not the wool of the mill that makes it of woollen rags.

Finally if you want to buy anything in the foregoing articles, you will find them—and of the right quality too, and right in price, at our new stores. A heavy stock of all lines in now, and new goods still coming in daily.

Remember the stores, 1 and 2, Cluxton's Block, corner of George and Hunter Streets.

CROWN JEWEL FLOUR!

This Flour is made of No. 1 Hard Wheat by the new process, combined with the best methods and machinery in operation in the best Hungarian Mills, and will produce from 30 to 40 pounds more Bread per Barrel than the best superior wheat flour. Therefore, the first cost though higher, is fully compensated in the increased yield of Bread as well as being a much better quality and more nutritious, having a much larger percentage of gluten and less starch than ordinary wheat flour. To those who may not be familiar with the use of this kind of Flour, we suggest mixing it moderately soft, which will require considerably more water than is ordinarily used.

Knead thoroughly, and bake with a strong heat and in such a manner that bottom and top shall be equally well baked.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

CANADIAN TELEGRAMS.

DUNNVILLE.

Special to the Review, Feby. 13.

ABOUT 3 O'CLOCK, this morning burglars forced open by some means, the front door of the post office and thence entered the rear office containing the safe, which was blown open and all the money it contained, about one hundred dollars taken. The shock of the explosion was heard by many persons, but nothing was khown of the burglary until moning. The clerk who slept up-stairs, was not awakened. The door of the safe was shattered and one of the front windows demolished, while the rear office was completely wrecked by the explosion. Several suspicious characters have been in town for some days, and they are suspected of the burglary, which is evidently the work of professionals.

TORONTO

Special to the Review, Feb. 13.

THE MANITOBA FEVER shows no signs of abating. Several thousands will leave here in the spring.

A GREAT MANY RAILWAY MEN are in town who are interested in the Midland amalgamation scheme, and the London and Port Burwell scheme which comes up on Tuesday.

Mr. HAWKE, news editor of the Globe, has resigned, it is rumored on a question of salary.

A SOMEWHAT SENSATIONAL SALARY is published about a girl who graduated from the Orphan's Home, being now heiress to wealthy relations in England. A lover, whom she discarded before the welcome news came, is alleged to be persecuting her now, and hints are made that the police court will see a new and revised edition of the village blacksmith.

THE FIRST COFFEE HOUSE will be opened on Thursday with a reception in the city hall, which will be attended by the local notabilities.

THE CHOIR of the West Presbyterian Church has been disbanded by the Session for fear of their demanding an organ. The choir of the Church of the Ascension have struck because of certain conditions attached to leader Bayley's resignation.

Oil on Fire.

BRANTFORD, Pa., Feb. 12.—A spark from a locomotive on the Buffalo, New York, and Philadelphia railway this evening set fire to little pools of oil in the low ground, near Olean, N. Y., where the united pipe lines have a number of tanks. A few moments after the pools of oil were set on fire the flames were communicated to three iron tanks containing 105,000 barrels of oil, which are now in flames. The pipe line men from all sections of the oil regions have been summoned by wire to the scene of the fire. Superintendents Snow and Medley, with a large force of men, left Bradford by a special fast train. They took picks, shovels, cannon, and a chemical fire extinguisher. Trenches and embankments will be formed to prevent the spread of the burning oil when an overflow occurs, which will be at 2 or 3a. m. Olean creek runs near the scene, and great fears are entertained that the oil will strike the surface of the stream, and destroy a number of railroad bridges and houses near the banks of the creek. The oil will be drawn off as rapidly as possible by perforating the tanks with cannon ball. The night is as bright as day for several miles about the tanks. What the result will be cannot now be conjectured.

HAD SUFFERED MANY PHYSICIANS and grew no better but rather worse. Mr. D. H. Howard, of Geneva, N. Y., after dismissing his physicians, tried nearly half a gross of the various blood and liver remedies advertised, no benefit; when one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters cured him of Paralysis and General Debility. At the advanced age of 60, he says he feels young again, and is overjoyed at his wonderful recovery.

HOW TO CURE A COLD.—Upon the first feeling of chill or shivering remain indoors if possible, bathe the feet in tepid water, gradually increasing the heat as long as it can be comfortably borne, drink freely of warm ginger tea or sage tea, to induce perspiration, and take Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam according to directions on the bottle. Hagyard's Balsam cures coughs, asthma, and bronchitis.

MRS. PARTINGTON SAYS, dont take any of the quack rostrums, as they are regimental to the human system; but put your trust in Hop Bitters, which will cure general dilapidation, costive habits and all comic diseases. They saved Isaac from a severe extract of tripod They are the ne plus unum of medicines.—Boston Globe.

MIDNIGHT TELEGRAMS

INSURRECTION IN ARABIA.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 11.—The news from Arabia is disquieting, and causes some anxiety to the Turkish Government. The insurrection there, which has for its motive the rehabilitation of Immanuel Islam as head of the Mohammedan people throughout Europe, Asia, and Africa is increasing. The movement has deep root in the religious feelings of the Mohammedans, and threatens to become the cause of serious trouble.

PRUSSIA AND VATICAN.

BERLIN, Feb. 11.—The first sitting of the committee to amend the Prussian ecclesiastical laws was held to-day. Herr von Goesler, Minister of Ecclesiastical Affairs, stated that Herr von Schloezar, now at Rome negotiating with the Vatican, has been furnished with extensive powers. The Government desires a revision of the May laws, but insists that the discretionary powers vested therein shall remain as the basis of legislation on the subject.

A NEEDED REFORM.

PARIS, Feb. 11.—M. Humbert, Minister of Justice, has determined to revise the Companies Act of 1867. He promises, prior to submitting the bill to the Chamber of Deputies, to lay the question before an extra-parliamentary commission, who shall consider the advisability of abrogating the clause placing Bourse transactions other than for cash on the same footing as gambling debts, which are legally irrecoverable.

THROUGH LOSS.

PARIS, Feb. 11.—The Marquis de Jocas, a large shareholder in the Union Generale, has committed suicide. The Marquis had invested 600,000 francs in shares of the Union Generale. He introduced American vines in the south of France.

STUDENTS' ROWS.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 11.—The university at Kharkoff, Russia, has closed in consequence of disturbances among students. The disorders at Kharkoff University were caused by the expulsion of three students for ill-treating a person, who was formerly a Socialist, for changing his views.

BENT ON DESTRUCTION.

LONDON, Feb. 11.—The Observer understands that yesterday's Cabinet council decided that while on questions peculiarly affecting the business of the House of Commons all amendments to the proposed rules of procedure may be fully considered, the Government will be unable to retire from the position they have deliberately assumed, or to accept any amendment seriously hampering the operation of the cloture clause. The Observer says the persistence of the Government seems to promise most untoward results for both the Liberal party and the country.

THE INSURRECTION.

VIENNA, Feb. 11.—Official reports state that several minor engagements have taken place in the Herzegovina since the 9th inst. The insurgents were worsted in every case. A fight occurred on the 10th near Tirnova, lasting from daybreak until two o'clock in the afternoon. The insurgents fled, leaving twenty dead and carrying away forty wounded. The Austrians lost five killed and wounded. In order not to offend Russia, Austria has entirely abandoned the plan of a partial or temporary occupation of Montenegro. Negotiation are, however, proceeding with Prince Nikita for the passage of Austrian troops across his territory, if necessary. This has helped to discourage the insurgents.

ANNIVERSARY BANQUETS.

MADRID, Feb. 11.—The banquets given to-day and yesterday by the Spanish Republicans to commemorate the proclamation of the Federal Republic in 1873, passed off, without disturbance. Senor Sagasta seems inclined to convoke the Cortes in March.

CLAYTON-BULWER TREATY.

LONDON, Feb. 11.—The belief is firmly fixed here that no serious difference of opinion can arise between the people of the United States and Great Britain regarding the Clayton-Bulwer treaty.

NILSSON'S TROUBLE

LONDON, Feb. 11.—Great sympathy is felt in England for Christine Nilsson, whose home and fortune have been wrecked through the panic on the Paris Bourse.

MILITARY DEMONSTRATION.

CARIO, Feb. 11.—The ceremony of the return of the sacred carpet from Mecca was celebrated to-day in presence of the Khedive and his Ministers. There was an unusual display of troops and cannon. Araby Bey, Minister of War, was prominent during the ceremony. He received special attention from the court, and was warmly greeted by the populace. The absence of the English and French controllers-general from the ceremony excited surprise.

MORE EXPLOSIONS.

LONDON, Feb. 11.—There were two explosions in the Rhondda valley mine last evening. The first killed two persons, and while an exploring party was descending a second explosion occurred, shattering the shaft and killing four persons, one of whom was blown to pieces.

HONORED BY FRANCE.

PARIS, Feb. 12.—Mr. B. B. Hotchkiss, the American inventor of the revolving cannon adopted by the principal governments, has received the decoration of Chevalier of the Legion of Honor on account of his services to the French marine. The Danish Government has also conferred upon Mr. Hotchkiss the Cross of Denmark for similar services rendered to its artillery.

COLLIERY EXPLOSION.

LONDON, Feb. 11.—A terrific explosion occured this evening in a colliery in the Rhondda valley, Wales. Houses were shaken two miles off. The loss of life is unknown, but it being Saturday night there was but few persons in the pit. Two thousand persons are thrown out of employment.

JEWISH OUTRAGES.

BERLIN, Feb. 13.—A Jewish woman, her daughter aged 17, and son aged 14, were massacred by peasants.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

VIENNA, Feb. 13.—An Austrian advice boat has been captured in Bochero de Bataro by an Italian vessel with a cargo and crew of six. They were arrested and the vessel taken to Castle Miviro.

AMERICAN.

U. S. MAILS.

NEW YORK, Feb, 13.—The Times' Washington special says it is reported that after a conference of the sub-committee of the House on the Post Office and the commerce and naval committee, they have agreed to report a bill providing for carrying all the American mails to foreign countries in American built ships, and for the creation in the Post Office department of an ocean mail Bureau.

THE EARLIEST YET.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.— The Sun says that the Democratic members and assemblymen, who were in the city yesterday for the purpose of organization, say that the Legislature will commence earlier than any time since it held its first session.

SALES OF STOCK.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.— 1,331,000 shares of stock were sold here last week, a decrease of 50,000 from the previous week.

MODERATE DUTY.

NICELY EATEN UP.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—When Owen Murphy, Treasurer of the Excise Board, absconded with $50,000 there was left in the treasury $80,000 deposited as security by the applicants for licenses. The Times says that about $60,000 has been consumed in Referee's fees, lawyers allowances and other expenses and only about $20,000 restored to the liquor dealers.

WHO SHOT SATELDO?

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—The World's Washington special says that the Sateldo post mortem demonstrated that the fatal ball was fired from a pistol of 32 calibre, while the younger Sateldo's pistol was of 36 calibre. Barton's pistol was of 32 calibre, but parties who examined it and who know about fire arms say that it was almost impossible that it could have been fired as late as Thursday last, or for at least a month before. There is no shell in the empty barel and both barrels and breech are coated with bright rust. Nowhere upon the pistol is there discoloration from sulphur. The inference seems to be that the fatal shot was fired from a pistol of which a police know nothing. It is admitted that something remains to be told of what happened before the younger Sateldo fired. No one supposes now that the elder Sateldo had the slightest intention of shooting Barton.

WHITE VS. BLACK.

MARYSVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 13.—The College here is attended by whites and blacks. A literary society, composed of white students, rejected the application of a negro for membership. The faculty threatened to abolish the society if the negro was not admitted. The society refused and the black members were expelled. The society then carried the furniture and library to other quarters, and the faculty cannot recover them. Fifty students who did not belong to the society have withdrawn from the school. This college, which is one of the oldest places of learning in the State, taught the anti-slavery doctrine previous to the war. The faculty has been looked upon by the community as being quite extreme upon the subject of race equality. Many believe that the trouble grew out of some sentiment expressed by Congressman Hawk, who represents this district.

A YANKEE TRICK.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—The Consul at Manchester reports that 1,000 pounds of bags of sand are bought in bales of American cotton, at the price of cotton ever year in Olddam. It is apparently thrown into the cotton by the shovelful while packing. Sometimes nearly 100 pounds are found in one bale, from 20 to 80 pounds being in the middle of the bale. It is said that in many cases large quantities of water seem to have been thrown into the bales to increase the weight. The amount of weight caused by dampness is sometimes 15 per cent. It is stated that some factories have worked for months without profit in consequence of such frauds.

OBIT.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Dr. Theodore Lewes, a leading mason, died at Brooklyn yesterday, aged 79 years. He was President of the American Association far the cure of inebriates, and was otherwise prominent.

STATE OR TERRITORIES?

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—The Tribune's Washington special says it is stated that seventeen Democratic Congressmen and two Democratic Senators, who strongly oppose the admission of Dakota as a State, have pledged themselves to support the project of dividing Dakota into two territories.

LIFE SAVING SERVICE.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Commander Cox states that the life saving service counts among its benefits over 10,000 lives and over $11,000,000 worth of property saved. The loss of life has been defended everywhere except on our coasts.

KISS ME.—"TRABERRY," the new and exquisite little gem for the teeth and breath, has a beautifully plated metal screw top. Try a 5 cent sample.

There is no comfort, night or day,

And Oh! the pain that we shall feel,
When bitter hours at last reveal,
That all our woe came grim and gaunt
From our neglect of Sozodont.

Mothers! Mothers!

Are you disturbed at night or broke of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. OUR INLAND NAVIGATION.

GRATIFYING as it must be to all Canadians to read the reports of the handsome surplus in our treasury, the news is more especially satisfactory to the inhabitants of this district. With such a favorable balance of revenue over expenditure, and every prospect of its continuance, it is evident that it will not only be possible, but judicious, to devote at least a portion of this surplus to the construction of public works, which will prove reproductive, while opening up and facilitating the progress of the country. There can be no doubt the opening of the Trent Valley Navigation stands in the very first rank of these desirable improvements, and therefore we have every reason to hope that a handsome sum will be placed in the estimates for its furtherance.

The present administration, both from report and from the personal observation of several members of the Cabinet, are already convinced both of the feasibleness and the importance of the project, so much so that they have pledged themselves to proceed with the construction as soon as the finances would allow. That happy period has certainly now arrived.

One great advantage of the proposed works is that by the completion of any one section a valuable means of transportation will at once be provided for fertile and prosperous districts. It is not a case in which no advantage can be derived till the whole scheme is accomplished, for each link will bring its own benefits.

That we cannot press on too rapidly the completion of the whole line is, however, evident, for at the rate at which our north-western lands are now filling up, it is certain that by the earliest day possible for the opening of the route, there will be a larger demand upon its capabilities for transporting produce.

There is, however, little necessity for dwelling now upon the advantages of this route, for its merits are acknowledged. The Government engineers have also reported that its cost is insignificant in proportion to its utility, and though the report of the engineer who made the more detailed survey last year is not yet published, unless locks of greater and therefore unnecessary dimensions are provided for, his calculation cannot differ greatly from those of his predecessors.

We hope that our representatives, not only for this county, but for the whole district along the line of navigation, will impress upon the Government the feeling of their constituents that the time has now come for the fulfilment of the official pledges on this behalf. Otherwise we may have others, who are more persistent, obtaining the preference for works, which, though useful would be of less service to the country at large.

A Successful Experiment.

The Toronto Telegram has the following editorial:—

"It is odd how public journals can work themselves up to believing things, or affecting to believe things, that are widely improbable. The Globe affects to believe that Sir John Macdonald and his followers will be beaten out of their boots at the next election. It speaks of the session of parliament just opened as sure to witness "the last gathering of an elected Tory majority in this generation." It is possible that the Tory party will be overthrown at the next general election, but before that happens the Reformers will have to take a very different course in regard to the N.P. They were beaten by opposing the N.P. as an experiment. The experiment having proved a success, so far as native industry is concerned, we may be sure that every man who has benefitted by it will do all he can to keep in power those who are prepared to stand by it. When a man is fighting for his bread and butter he fights hard."

Another Novelette.

"What though the duty does lessen the trade of Montreal and Quebec by keeping away many vessels with cargoes of British coal. Is not that what it is intended for?—Globe."

It is quite true that our imports of coal from Great Britain have fallen off. In 1878 they were to the amount of 124,614 tons, and in 1880 they had fallen to 123,322 tons, a loss of nearly 1,300 tons. How many more hundred vessels would have visited Montreal and Quebec to bring those 1,300 tons, it is impossible for us to say. Perhaps the Globe will tell us. It is to be noted, however, that in 1878 this coal cost $2.59 a ton, and in 1880 it cost $2.36, including the duty. Now, will our contemporary please explain how the consumer was robbed?—Hamilton Spectator.

NORWOOD.

FROM THE "GREAT LONE LAND."—The Register says that Hugh Drain, Esq., of the township of Asphodel, has received several letters from his son Thomas, who is speculating in the North-West. We have two of the letters before us. He says there is lots of money to be made by risking a little, and gives the following transaction to substantiate his words: "I bought four lots for $500 and sold them in the course of two weeks for $800, clearing nearly $300." He represents the climate of the country as being a great deal steadier than that of Ontario; the farms around Portage la Prairie (the scene of his speculation) as being as costly as those in the vicinity of Toronto, and attributes the high price of land in that neighborhood to the excitement of the buyers, more than to the actual value or prospects of becoming valuable. He has now on hand 16 lots, which he intends disposing of shortly.

SNEAK THIEVES are still numerous in our village. Mrs. J. C. Wildman had, while attending divine service in the Methodist Church here the other Sunday, a valuable shawl stolen out of the sleigh. Mr. Thomas Buck had about 50 pounds of beef stolen the other night—the thief entering the woodshed through a broken pane of glass. Another person left his team standing in front of Mr. Foster's grocery while he went across the street, and on returning found that his whip had been stolen.

L. O. L.—The East Peterborough County Orange Lodge met on Tuesday last. All of the lodges were well represented. Officers elected: D. McFarlane, M.; R. Bonar, D.M.: J. Bonar, Chap.; C. Stephenson, Treas.; W. Dafoe, Sec.; A. Smith, D. of C.; T. McIntyre, Lect. Semi-annual meeting to be held in Keene. Next annual meeting to be held in Norwood. The Order is in a flourishing condition, owing, in a great measure, to the excellent management of the P.M., Rev. W. M. Pattyson.

A TERRIBLE HOLOCAUST.

TWO WOMEN AND THREE CHILDREN BURNED TO DEATH BY A FOOL'S ACT.

Two Men Badly Injured—They are not Expected to Survive—The Result of a Kerosene Explosion—A Heartrending Scene.

MADOC, Feb. 10.—Probably the most frightful calamity that ever befel any family in this portion of Ontario overtook John Morland and his wife and children, between the hours of twelve and one o'clock this morning. Morland is a sober, hard working farmer, living about ten or twelve miles south-west of the village of Madoc, and in the township of Huntingdon. Yesterday morning he and his wife and Peter Vanallan, jr., drove down to Belleville together to make some purchases. It seems that Vanallan, who is getting out logs in the neighbourhood, was boarding at Morland's along with two young men in Vanallan's employ. These were Simon Rambeau of Napanee, and Minor Hough, whose home is near Belleville. There were besides these in the household, Morland's six children, as follows:—John, aged twelve years; Henry, aged ten; Lizzie, aged eight; Sarah, aged six; Charlie, aged two; and a baby boy some six or seven months old. Mrs. Morland's sister, Miss Susanna Douglas, having come over to take care of the children in the mother's absence, was also, unfortunately, in the house at the time of the disaster. It seems that about midnight Vanallan and the Morlands came home, and found Miss Douglas and the two young men Hough and Rambeau still out of bed awaiting their arrival. The young men assisted to put out the horses and carry in the things out of the sleigh, and then they hurried off to bed.

HOW IT OCCURRED.

Mr. and Mrs. Morland, Mr. Vanallan and Miss Douglas remained up, however, and waked up two of the children, Sarah and Charles, to let them try on new boots that had been purchased for them. Among the things which they had brought from Belleville was a five gallon glass demijohn filled with kerosene oil, and covered with the usual wicker or basket work. Charlie was walking up and down the room to try his new boots, and just as he was close to the demijohn it exploded with a report similar to that of a revolver, and immediately the oil, which had been expanded by the heat of the warm room, and the gas or vapour generated by the rapid rise in temperature began pouring through the small openings in the wicker work with a sharp hissing sound similar to that made by escaping steam. Two ordinary pots were brought, and in a few minutes about three out of the five gallons was secured in them and set aside at the back of the room which was the full size of the house, 18 by 20 feet. As the cracks in the floor of the room were very wide and comparatively open, the greater part of the other two gallons of the oil quickly disappeared. With a view to getting rid of the last of it, however, Vanallan lit a match and ignited it. He allowed a small space to burn off, and then extinguished the fire with his foot. After which he lighted another spot, which was subsequently smothered, and these very dangerous operations appear to have been repeated several times. At length Morland lighted a piece of paper from the little fire which Vanallan was watching, and with it ignited several spots on the floor in rapid succession. Almost immediately after this had been done the flames began to mount higher from the floor, and waver and tremble as though they were not confined to the oil on the floor. Miss Douglas seized a pail of water to throw on the floor, but Mr. Morland stopped her to beat down the flame with the broom. At the first stroke more than half the broom itself became wrapt in flame, and an instant later a broad, fiery column shot up to the ceiling and swept swiftly along overhead. Then all was confusion, and the survivors are not clear as to what happened. Miss Douglas opened the door, but for some reason closed it again without making her escape. Perhaps with true womanly instinct she turned to save the helpless little ones. Vanallan seized a fulled cloth overcoat, still hoping to smother the conflagration, but before he knew what he was doing the room was literally full of blazing gas, and he was just able to stagger to the door fainting and half suffocated.

THE SLEEP OF DEATH.

All this time not a sound came from the doomed ones inside the house, and Vanallan says he only heard the wailings of Morland as he staggered out of the house with beard and clothing both on fire after a vain attempt to save his wife and little ones by groping wildly about in the mass of seething flames in-doors. A door at the back of the house was burst open and a window driven in, but the house was literally full of blazing gas, and it was impossible to enter. In the meantime the three boys—Johnnie, Henry, and little Charlie—had managed in some way to escape, but Mrs. Morland and Miss Douglas, and Lizzie, Sarah and baby Morland were never seen again. Meantime the young men Hough and Rambeau had not been alarmed as early as those down-stairs, though it is presumable they were not asleep. Hough sprang from the window, while Rambeau threw himself head first down the stairs. Both were still alive this afternoon when I visited the scene of the disaster, and hopes are entertained of Hough's ultimate recovery, but poor Rambeau has no chance whatever. He is frightfully burned all over. Some parts of his person are entirely burned away, his ears being so charred that they crumbled to pieces when touched. He is perfectly conscious and rational, however. Hough is blackened and disfigured past recognition, but Dr. Hudson, who is attending him thinks he will recover. How Rambeau escaped after falling headlong downstairs he himself does not know, but from the frightful manner in which he has been burned almost to a cinder it is probable that he dragged himself out of the burning building on his hands and knees. The survivors saw nothing of him until they found him lying in a bed of blood-soaked snow outside the house.

CARING FOR THE SURVIVORS.

As soon as the survivors saw that the doomed ones were utterly beyond hope, the necessity of immediate action on behalf of some of their own number was forced upon their dazed and bewildered senses. Vanallan was clothed and unhurt, and Morland was not badly burned and was dressed at the time of the disaster, but the three little boys had only their shirts on, Charlie having his boots on of course, while Hough and Rambeau had only the charred remains of their shirts clinging to them. Morland tore off his coat, vest, trousers, socks and boots, and used them to shield his three little frightened, shivering, motherless boys from the bitter north wind, while Vanallan divided his clothes with Rambeau and Hough, and hastily harnessing the horses they had stabled less than an hour before, poor Morland, barefooted, bareheaded and clad only in his undershirt and drawers, loaded into the sleigh all that was left to him of what was an hour before a happy and hopeful family, and drove a mile and a half to the nearest neighbour's house, where the little ones and the young men were sheltered for the time being.

SEARCHING THE RUINS.

Careful search was made in the ruins this morning, but of the five unhappy victims that perished there not a shred that is recognizable remains. Two heavy masses of cinder that have been found are supposed from their shape to be the heads and shoulders of the two women, but not a trace of the little ones is to be found. Of the three little boys that escaped only one is burnt at all, and that not seriously. It is thought that the distracted father must have thrown these little fellows out of doors without knowing how or when he did it. The ruins of the little cabin are still smoking, and the suddenness with which the calamity overtook the doomed household is marked by an unusual amount of utensils and furnishings, the blackened remains of which are lying directly beneath the spot where they were used last. Both Morland and Vanallan are thoroughly sober men, and neither of them had been drinking anything yesterday. Mrs. Morland was during her girlhood a Sunday School pupil, and subsequently a Sunday School teacher. The Coroner thinks that no inquest is necessary.—Globe.

TRADE NOTES.

IT has been finally decided by the Hochelaga Town Council to exempt the Canada Iron and Steel Company from taxation for twenty years, and it is announced that the erection of the works will now be speedily commenced.

AT the meeting of the Canada Cotton Company, held on Tuesday last, it was decided to issue new stock to the amount of $125,000 at ten per cent. premium, to shareholders only, to be devoted to the enlargement of their mills at Cornwall.

THE new cotton company at Chambly, Que., has adopted the style of the "Chambly Cotton Company" instead of the "Providence Cotton Company" as at first proposed. The greater part of the machinery is now placed, and an early start is expected.

THE Montreal Cotton Company held its annual meeting on the 6th inst.; the old Board of directors was re-elected. It was resolved to nearly double the present capacity of the mills at Valleyfield. The mill as enlarged will run 70,000 spindles, being only 10,000 less than the Hudon Cotton Company now run in their mills.—Monetary Times.

DYSPEPSIA OF THIRTY YEARS' STANDING.—From J. T. Bowen, of East Aurora, N. Y.—"I was troubled with dyspepsia for thirty years, and tried several medicines advertised for the cure of this distressing complaint without deriving any benefit from them. About a year ago I commenced taking the Peruvian Syrup, and after using altogether twelve bottles I find myself entirely cured. I consider my case one of the worst I ever heard of, and I take great pleasure in recommending the Peruvian Syrup to all dyspeptics, believing that it will be sure to cure them." All druggists sell it.

FROM HAMILTON.—A gentleman writes: "I have suffered for over four years with night losses and general weakness, caused by abuse. I had tried all the advertised medicines, and a number of eminent doctors, and found no relief or benefit. I have used twelve boxes of Mack's Magnetic Medicine, and am entirely restored." See advertisement in another column.

DR. PIERCE'S "Golden Medical Discovery" has become so thoroughly established in public favor that were it not for the forgetfulness of people it would not be necessary to call attention to its power to cure consumption, which is scrofula of the lungs, and other blood diseases, as eruptions, blotches, pimples, ulcers, and liver complaints.

COUGHS, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Pains in the Throat and Chest, relieved and cured by the use of Dr. Carson's Cough Drops. The most reliable testimony has been received as to their efficiency. In bottles, 50 cents. J. D. Tully, agent for Peterborough.

Burdock BLOOD BITTERS

SENDING A VALENTINE.

I might begin, "The rose is red,"
(Though that is not so very new),
Or this the boys all think is good
"If you love me as I love you."

But—seems to me—a valentine
Is nicer, when you do not say
The same old things that every one
Keeps saying, in the same old way.

And I asked Jane the other night,
What grown-up people write about,
She would not answer me at first,
But laughed till I began to pout,
That stopped her, for she saw I meant
The question (and she will not tease,)
"Why—love," she said, "and shining eyes,
A kiss, soft hair—just what they please."
It can't be hard, if that is all,
So I'll begin by saying this:

To my dear lady beautiful,
I send my valentine and kiss,
The valentine, Because she has
The loveliest hair and gentlest eyes;
The kiss, because I love her more
Than anyone beneath the skies;
Because she is the kindest, best,
The sweetest lady ever known;
And every year I'll say the same,
The very same, to her alone!

There! Now it's finished. Who will do
I've thought of one and then another,
Who is there like it? Why of course,
I'll send it right away to Mother!

ILL-TIMED WORK.

School work is often ill-timed. I cannot believe that, for most boys, work before breakfast, except in summer to a limited extent, is a good thing. The practice of schools on this point seems to vary greatly. It is impossible either that all can be right, or that the point is immaterial. That work so timed, is, for most boys, of permanent intellectual good, is at least doubtful; that it does physiological harm to many seems pretty certain; but that it is eminently odious is, I think, unquestionable.

But the most ill-timed of all school work appears to me to be that done in the afternoon after an early dinner. It is a very good thing to have an hour, at the outside, of the afternoon, occupied with drawing, singing, English reading and recitation, science lectures, lessons on musical instruments, &c., which cannot be better timed, and which serve the purpose of preventing active games from beginning too soon after a hearty meal. But if it is true, and I hear it is true, that at some schools, on some days of the week, three out of the four hours immediately succeeding dinner are taken up with lessons, which involve serious brainwork, it is little wonder that work is unpopular. That arrangements should exist at any school which must have the affect of forcing the blood to the brain, when it ought to be doing its work in the process digestion, is of itself enough to prove that the elementary laws of physiology, in their application to daily life, are not yet realized by school-masters or by the public. Public opinion is sufficiently alive to the dangers of infection or bad drains, or badly regulated diet, and yet in this after dinner work we have a cause, slowly, but surely and permanently, weakening both the digestion and the brain power of every boy who tries to do his duty in school, and yet on this subject no note of warning is heard. On half holidays boys escape from the drowsiness of hot school rooms, from the struggle, against which nature rebels, between the work of digestion and sufficient work of the brain to escape punishment, from the unnecessary burden of dark cloth clothes, which seems to be considered necessary for all boys, as well as for all men, who are engaged in labors of the brain—into the glorious liberty of flannels, the free breath of heaven, and the instinctive joyousness caused by the harmonious action of all the vital functions. Can it then be wondered at that they should associate pain with their work, pleasure with their exercise? It may be said that this blunder of attempting to carry on brain work during digestion is not a new one, while the inordinate development of athletics is new. Perhaps so, but my contention is, that the athletic movement is an instinctive protest by the youth of a high-spirited nation against physiological blunders, and that, when, owing to the increased facilities of intercourse and the tendencies of the day toward competition and publicity, great personal prominence in athletics has become possible, they are sometimes made an antagonistic power to book work, by arrangements which make the latter odious, painful, and unnatural. The fact is sometimes lost sight of that boys always did hate, and will hate, excessive or ill-timed brain work. All that can now be said is, not that they hate such book work less, but that they love and exalt games more.—Macmillan's Magazine.

WINNIPEG HOTELS.

We find this in the Winnipeg Sun:—Alexander may have conquered the world, and then sat down and wept because he had no more worlds to conquer. If somebody had given him a Winnipeg hotel kitchen to run for about a week he would have wound up by slaying the cook, flogging the waiters, busting the range, smashing the crockery, and then he would have gone home feeling perfectly satisfied that he had had enough conquering to do him for the rest of his life. People in general have no idea of the difficulties under which hotel men labour in this city. The other day in a first class hotel a high-toned Irish gentleman, descended from an Irish cook, got mad about the delay in waiting upon him, and demanded that the waiter be censured. The Steward was obliged to say that he could better afford to lose ten boarders than one waiter, "they are so scarce." The cook, however, is the biggest toad in the puddle; he gets as good wages as the Lieut.-Governor, and the proprietor never forgets in passing to tickle him under the chin. But he sometimes strikes. And he generally strikes just about dinner time. This is a good time for a cook to strike, and if the proprietor gets scared an increase of wages is assured. But a certain cook in this city met his match the other day. He struck at noon. The proprietor with fire in his eye rushed into the kitchen, snatched up a butcher knife, and flourishing it over his head in the most approved fashion, threatened that if the cook didn't go to work, he would carve him up like a roast. The cook turned as white as his cap and said that he didn't intend to strike, that hereditary insanity ran in the family, and that he'd go to work—of course he would—which was very satisfactory.

The other day a waiter girl went into the kitchen to get some buckwheat cakes for a ravenous guest outside. She complained that they were cold. The cook respectfully requested her to sit on them and warm them. The waitress presented her compliments and asked the cook to sit on them himself and see how he liked it. A row ensued and the girl left. The other day a new waiter put down a soiled plate before a clerical gentleman from the east. An old waiter who had graduated out of a livery stable picked up the plate, looked at it on all sides, and then said to the clerical gentleman: "What untamed idiot gave you that?"

The Governorship of Ceylon will soon be vacant. The name of The O'Donoghue, M. P. for Tralee, is mentioned in connection with the appointment. As he has just become bankrupt there is likely to be very great opposition to his being sent out.

A Word of Wisdom.—There is only one sure and certain way of keeping your live stock—whether fowls or animals—in perfectly healthy and paying condition, and that is by mixing Harvell's condition Powders with their feed. Try these specifics and satisfy yourself.

It is well known that a black object on a white ground will appear to be much larger than it really is. A white stripe, for instance, on a black surface seems broader than a black stripe on a white surface, although both be of the same width.

A wicked Ohio man has been getting $1 apiece from simple minded farmers by sending them through the mail, for $1, a "recipe" to prevent pumps from freezing on a cold night. The answer to the farmers' letter was:—"Take them indoors over night."

"Don't Give up The Ship" were the memorable words of Commodore Perry. We repeat, "Don't Give up the Ship," poor, despairing involid, but try Burdock Blood Bitters. It cures others, why not you? It renovates, regulates and tones all the organs of secretion, and restores lost Vitality.

Timely Warning.—Now is the season for sudden colds and distressing coughs, treat them with Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, it cures in fluenza, asthma, croup, whooping coughs, bronchitis, and all pulmonary complaints leading to consumption.

Midnight Doctors are the most unwelcome visitors, even the doctor himself curses the luck that compelled him to leave his comfortable bed. Suppose you try our method, and keep a bottle of Perry Davis' Pain-Killer in the house, and let doctor Squilla stay in his bed and enjoy himself.

The London Echo announces that a subscription is being raised in legal circles for the benefit of Mr. Edwin James, who has for some time been in reduced circumstances, and that several of the judges have already contributed. Mr. James was formerly a Q. C. and M. P. for Marylebone, and for a short time was a member of the bar of New York city.

A reporter of the Norfolk (Va) Virginian recently referred in that paper to a conversation with Prof. Cromwell the world-renowned art exhibitor, wherein he states that he had some year or so before suffered excruciating torments from rheumatism, and that he had tried all kinds of medicines and so-called cures—all without effect. He heard, however, of St. Jacobs Oil, and resolved to give it a trial, which he did, and he stated that its effect on him was almost magical. A complete cure was effected, and since then he had never suffered from rheumatism. But in order that he might be at all times prepared for the enemy, he never traveled without carrying in his trunk a bottle or so of St. Jacobs Oil.

Some of the inhabitants of the little town of Auchtermuchty, in Fife, Scotland, have set the example of printing, in pamphlet form, a translation of the royal charter granted by James VI., with other historical documents. Their object is to show that the estate then belonging to the town has been wrongfully diminished by the encroachments of neighbouring land owners.

Millions Given Away.—Millions of bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, and Colds, have been given away as trial bottles of the large size. This enormous outlay would be disastrous to the proprietors, were it not for the rare merits possessed by this wonderful medicine. Call at Taylor & Macdonald's Drug Store, and get a trial bottle, and try for yourself. It never fails to cure.—5

Never Give Up.—If you are suffering with low and depressed spirits, loss of appetite, general debility, disordered blood, weak constitution, headache, or any other disease of a billious nature, by all means procure a bottle of Electric Bitters. You will be surprised to see the rapid improvement that will follow; you will be inspired with new life; strength and activity will return; pain and misery will cease, and henceforth you will rejoice in the praise of Electric Bitters. Sold at 50 cents a bottle, by Taylor & Macdonald.—5

Rump Steak Pudding.—Cut about two pounds of tender rump steak into pieces an inch and a half square, and season these with a dessert spoonful of salt and a teaspoonful of pepper. Line a shallow thick-rimmed pudding dish, well buttered, with a good suet crust half an inch thick, and leave about an inch of pastry over the edge. Lay in the steak and add a quarter of a pint of stock, gravy, or water. Cover the meat with a circular piece of pastry, moisten the edge of the pastry that was left over, press it closely and tie the dish rather loosely in a cloth which has been wrung out of boiling water and floured. Plunge the pudding quickly into boiling water and keep it boiling until done enough. Either serve it in the dish around which a napkin has been tied, or turn it carefully upon a hot platter after allowing it to stand five minutes. If liked, a circular piece of pastry may be cut out of the top of the pudding and a slice of butter put into it to enrich the gravy. The pudding will be very much improved if a dozen and a half of oysters and some small birds are put into it with the beef. It will take four or five hours to boil. There were will be sufficient for six persons.

A Grand Auction Sale!

MANITOBA TOWN LOTS.

Charles Stapleton is instructed to Sell

On Friday Next, the 17th February

AT HIS AUCTION ROOMS, UNDER THE TOWN CLOCK, PETERBORO',

200 LOTS

IN

CRYSTAL CITY.

The mere announcement of lots for sale in this, the first important point settled in Southwestern Manitoba, will be sufficient to those acquainted with the country. First, also, in population, as well as in the fertility and natural advantages of its surroundings.

By Far the Largest Town in Rock Lake District!

Surveyed in 1880, it is no prospective town, but is a thriving place—a large business being done. Churches, Schools, Mills, Registry Office, Stores, and every essential to supplying the wants of a thickly populated section. The town site is the property of but one proprietor (Thos. Greenway, Esq., M. P. P.,) and his faith in the future of Crystal City is such that the proceeds of this, as well as of former sales, will be employed in fostering every legitimate industry and building up the town.

A REBATE OF FIFTY PER CENT.

Of purchase money to those who construct medium-priced brick or frame buildings within twelve months from sale. Within six months lots have advanced 200 per cent., and with early railway facilities this is but an intimation.

OVER 40 BUILDINGS NOW UNDER CONTRACT FOR EARLY SPRING COMPLETION!

As to the eligibility of investing, we refer intending purchasers to anyone acquainted with the Province, or to the shrewdness of speculators in Manitoba town property.

The mere fact that over 7,000 letters were posted at this office in one quarter will convey a partial idea of the volume of business done, as well as the population of the district.

No extended description of this point is required, for the merit of its natural advantages caused its survey. It has grown to its important position by its merits, and will be sold on the same.

Title Perfect. Terms Easy. Sale at 2 & 7.30 P.M.

Daily Evening Review

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1882.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

An Old Favourite.

As the majority of our readers are probably aware by this time, Mr. Andrew McNeil, who for the last six years has had charge of the tailoring department of Messrs. Hall, Innes & Co.'s extensive establishment, has opened out business on his own account in the store on George Street east, one door north of Messrs. P. Connal & Co., and just opposite Mr. George Stethem's. The building has been refitted throughout under Mr. McNeil's personal supervision, and is probably the most complete in town. The front shop, or show room, is different to any other in town and in our opinion possesses decided advantages over the old style of showing goods. Besides the large shelf on the south side, there are two long tables extending the entire length of the shop on which are displayed in great profusion, the latest patterns in Scotch, English, Irish, Canadian and various other makes of tweed, besides finer cloths of all patterns and makes. On the opposite side are shown gents' furnishings of a class heretofore almost unknown in Peterborough, in fact the very best that could be procured. Mr. McNiel, is confident that by offering the best articles at the very lowest cash prices he will obtain a fair share of patronage, and we ourselves share in that belief. Mr. McNeil's capability as a first class cutter are too well known to require any commendation from us. He is well known to a majority of the townspeople and to a large number from the surrounding country, and if strict attention to business and the wants of his customers, keeping only the best goods and selling at the lowest possible prices count for anything, then Mr. McNeil is bound to do a good trade. We wish him success in his new undertaking, and as he has never failed yet to carry anything through that he has been identified with, we fully anticipate that it will be the same in this case.

Wheat the Town Builder.

What has given to Manitoba its most distinguished prominence over all other portions of the world yet opened to agriculture? Wheat, it is needless to assert, is the most important cereal grown, forming as it does the principal staple of food for the entire human family. It is the only vegetable production of the soil which at all times and in every portion of the world represents money. The farmer may experience a delay in selling his oats, his corn or his potatoes, but wheat always brings cash. A bushel of wheat represents an immediate available value as surely as a coined dollar. What has built up the mighty cities of the Mississippi Valley but wheat? With a capacity to produce 450,000,000 bushels, in a year, in the North-West, who can foretell the fortunes of the towns in the fertile section of Southern Manitoba. Crystal City is unquestionably surrounded by the finest country in the North-West.

Thought it was a Fair.

A gentleman who was in town yesterday informs us that he thought, Sunday was a fair day here, as he noticed no less than seven cows standing on the market square at one time, and also at least twenty "sun fish" at the south end of the opera house building, whom he thought were "taking in" the show. It is a standing disgrace to our otherwise respectable town, that cows, pigs, horses and all other animals are allowed to run at will, more especially on such a public place as the market square. When will our representatives at the Council Board ever take action? As all know the cow by-law is a dead letter or nearly so. Something more stringent must be passed.

Entertainment.

The last of the series of the entertainments will be held in St. Luke's School Room on Monday evening, Feb. 13th, at 7.30 p. m., consisting of vocal and instrumental music, readings and recitations. Admission 5 cents.

The Court House.

The contractor is making good progress in repairing the damage to the court house roof. The tinsmiths have commenced work and will soon finish up.

Probs.

Bound to meet the requirements of the public, the managers of the Telephone Office now announce that they will display daily at the head office the weather probabilities after 10 o'clock a. m.

Personal.

Mr. F. H. Hobbs, agent for the Herndon Opera House Company, was in town to-day.

POLICE COURT.

USING ABUSIVE LANGUAGE.

MONDAY, Feb. 13.—John McPherson was charged by Benjamin Green with using grossly insulting and abusive language towards him on the 8th of February.

The DEFENDANT wanted the Magistrate to explain what he said.

The MAGISTRATE said he did not know anything about the case.

The DEFENDANT asked for an enlargement until he procured witnesses.

The MAGISTRATE asked when the summons had been served?

The DEFENDANT said he thought it was on Thursday last. The witnesses he wanted lived in Cavan. They were present at the time of the alleged offence, and would testify in his behalf. He would like to have the case enlarged until Saturday next.

The COMPLAINANT said that Saturday would not suit him.

The MAGISTRATE said he wanted to meet the convenience of both parties.

The case was finally enlarged until Wednesday.

Runaway Accidents.

On Saturday afternoon a team of horses attached to a light buggy, while driving out of the Stewart House yard started to run. Another vehicle was in the way, and the driver, in trying to pass it, came in contact with both the buggy and one of the gate posts. There were a few quick revolutions of the front wheels of his buggy, and soon the sidewalk was strewn with "hammer handles," as the spokes were all smashed, only the rims remaining. No further damage was done.... On Saturday morning a team belonging to Mr. Wallis, while coming up the hill from the yard of Mr. Allen's Temperance House, became restless and started off at a spanking pace. The cutter was pretty badly broken before the driver gained control..... On Sunday afternoon a certain young man took his lady love out for a drive, probably thinking it was the last of the season, but certainly he (never expected a runaway, or the probabilities are that he would have remained in town. He was passing along Brock street, apparently deeply engrossed in conversation with the charmer by his side, when the lines slipped from his hands, and the fiery steed, free from restraint, dashed towards Aylmer street at a rapid rate. The lady screamed, of course, and the young man vainly endeavored to secure the lines again, while the horse kept on, paying not the slightest attention to the frantic yells of the supposed driver. Happily for the occupants of the cutter the horse was stopped at Bethune street by a gentlemen, the lines handed to the young man, and everything was lively again.

Railway Notes.

Messrs. Ferguson, Superintendant, and Croft, Store Manager, of the Midland Railway, will move here about the 1st of March, it is expected. Their offices are now being fitted up.

Mr. H. Bailey, consulting engineer of the Midland Railway, left for Toronto on Saturday night to perfect arrangements for the prosecution of the survey from Omemee to Wick. He will return on Tuesday and the work will be proceeded with at once.

The Ontario and Quebec engineers on Saturday laid out the line across the river, at the very narrowest point, just before entering the Lake. The line is staked out on the ice, and was viewed by a large number of people on Sunday.

The Toronto World of a recent date contains an account of an interview with Mr. J. C. Bailey, Chief Engineer of the Toronto and Ottawa Railway, and some of the statements attributed to Mr. Bailey were so ridiculous, that we are greatly surprised, that some of our contemporaries, who should know better, clipped the interview and published it. Mr. Bailey desires us to state that it was the worst "mixed up" thing he ever read and did not at all convey what he said. 'Nuff sed.

Back Again.

The majority of our readers will remember Prof. Armstrong and his talented family, who resided here about nine years ago, and who for a winter delighted our citizens by their excellent music at Hill's Metropolitan Rink. The Professor and two of his sons, Harry and Job, are with Healy's Hibernian Minstrels, and all play better than ever. The Professor wears his age well and looks just as young to-day as he did when he formerly lived here. During the day they have been visiting their many friends and all express admiration at the push and enterprise displayed in our inland town, regarding which the Professor says "It is the prettiest and most go-ahead place in Canada."

Removed.

The undersigned in returning thanks to their numerous customers, beg leave to say that they have removed to the new store recently erected by Garvey and Dolan, opposite the market square. Where, with increased facilities and strict attention to the wants of their customers they hope to merit a continuation of their patronage. CARTON BROS.

TWO ORGANS.—Regulate first the stomach, second the liver; especially the first, so as to perform their functions perfectly and you will remove at least nineteen-twentieths of all the ills that mankind is heir to, in this or any other climate. Hop Bitters is the only thing that will give perfectly healthy natural action to these two organs.—Maine Farmer.

WHAT PHYSICIANS SAY.—San Leandro, Cal., January 6th, 1877. Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., Dear Sir—I have employed your Pleasant Purgative Pellets in my practice for the last four years. I now use no other alterative or cathartic medicines in all chronic derangements of the stomach, liver, and bowels. I know of nothing that equals them. J. A. MILLER, M. D.

The Hibernian Minstrels.

Healy's Hibernian Minstrels arrived in town to-day and are stopping at the Caisse House. This company which is the only Irish Minstrel Troupe travelling, have met with the greatest success wherever they have shown. The following extracts from one of our contemporaries will show how they are regarded in other places:

"Healy's Hibernian minstrels gave an excellent entertainment at the Opera House last evening. Captain George Liable, the infant prodigy, made a decided hit. The company is in every way worthy of the heartiest support. They appear again to-night. Go and see them."

When we state that the company comprises among its members Mrs. and Mr. R. A. Brennan, both old Peterborough favorites, and Myles Morris and Ned West, the celebrated comedians, our readers can rest assured that the company gives one of the most laughable and enjoyable entertainments ever given here. Prof. Armstrong's band accompanies them. Remember this evening only at the Opera House.

The Weather.

True to the predictions of young probs., rain commenced to fall on Sunday morning, and continued during the greater portion of the day. The evening was finer, and in consequence the number of promenaders were numerous. The weather probabilities for this district for the following 24 hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a.m., to-day, by the Great North-Western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes—Cloudy to rainy weather to-day, high westerly to north-westerly winds, clearing and slightly cooler weather to-night.

One Better.

Mr. D. A. McDonald, of Point St. Charles, having noticed in the Young's Point correspondence to the REVIEW, that a steam sawing machine belonging to Mr. Chalmers of that place with eleven men cut 45½ cords in one day, says that this was very good work, but he thinks that a sawing machine, belonging to Mr. Baton of Dummer, of eight horse power with ten men which cut 30 cords in 7½ hours, for McDonald Bros., made undoubtedly a better average. You will have to do better Mr. Dugan.

MR. SAMUEL MCCAW, the well-known conductor on the Whitby and Lindsay Railway, says Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters cured me of Dyspepsia. I always kept them in the house, and consider them invaluable as a family medicine. J. D. Tully, agent for Peterborough.

LAME BACK.—Lumbago, Kidney complaint, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, and all pain and inflammation are speedily cured with Hagyard's Yellow Oil. Croup, sore throat, colds, burns, scalds, bruises, frost bites, chilblains and all wounds of the flesh are quickly healed by Yellow Oil.

STRIKING THE BULL'S EYE!

Experience tells that there is as much at all times and unusually more real cheapness in a fairly good article of any kind than in an inferior or poor thing, however little money it may cost.

Even more important is it to those who have a moderate sum to spend that they spend it wisely, and make the dollars do all the work they can.

A poor thing at a trifling cost, bought over and over, soon eats up twice the cost of a good one, which can yet be of moderate price with tenfold satisfaction in its use.

If you buy cotton, buy what is good of its kind and for the use needed. It is the cheapest. If you buy linen, buy that which is linen, even for common use. Common goods involve only greater wear.

If you want anything to wear, buy goods that are perfect of their kind.

Thin, sleazy, irregularly made goods don't wear well, starch don't add strength to any fabric.

If you buy wool goods, buy those you can depend on—the wool of the sheep, and not the wool of the mill that makes it of woollen rags.

Finally if you want to buy anything in the foregoing articles, you will find them—and of the right quality too, and right in price, at our new stores. A heavy stock of all lines in now, and new goods still coming in daily.

Remember the stores, 1 and 2, Cluxton's Block, corner of George and Hunter Streets.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

AN ATTEMPTED MURDER.

SYRACUSE, Feb. 12.—William Terdre, who attempted a double murder at the bagnio kept by Libbie Stokey, last night, and afterwards put two balls into his own head, is sinking rapidly, and the physicians say he will not live till morning. He has been unconscious all day. His two victims, Mrs. Stokey and Nellie Tart, are both in a precarious condition, with the chances in favor of the first named if inflammation can be averted. The girl suffers much pain, and her physicians report that she must die. Thus far the location of the balls in either of the persons have not been found. Miss Tart, who is greatly depressed, stated last night that she was going to die, and Coroner Knapp took her ante mortem statement.

THE GUITEAU TRIAL.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 13.—Mrs. Garfield denies the report that she has written to the President asking him to commute the sentence of Guiteau. Wall opened the letter. The girl demanded the money, whereupon Wall stripped her and horsewhipped her till she fainted. He then poured strong brine over her. The girl is in a precarious condition, and the neighbors threaten lynching.

THE WHITLA CASE.

DETROIT, Feb. 13.—It is said that prosecuting attorney Caplis has within the past few days come into possession of some entirely new and startling evidence in the case of the murder of Martha Whitla, which corroborates the testimony already adduced against Hugh Peoples, and furthermore implicates Dr. James N. Hollywood in the crime. Mr Caplis laid the whole matter before Justice Miner, and warrants were at once issued and placed in the hands of officers, who this afternoon arrested Hollywood and Peoples and placed them behind the bars until a jury has passed upon their guilt or innocence, as the new evidence raises a "strong presumption of guilt" and precludes bail.

THE LINCOLN CLUB.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—The Lincoln Club tonight celebrated its eleventh anniversary and the 73rd birthday of President Lincoln by a banquet. Among the guests were Governor Cornell, General Grant, Emory Storrs, and ex-Senator Macdonald. Grant made a speech, saying he liked the name of the Club, because it bore the name of the greatest man this country ever produced. He stated that when the war was near the close he had received a communication from the Governor of Virginia, asking if he would be allowed to remove the seat of Government to Danville, and if not if he and a few friends would be permitted to leave the country unmolested. (Great laughter.) Letters were read from ex-Senators Conkling, Platt and others.

THE BOND SWINDLE.

ADRIAN, Mich., Feb. 13.—The excitement here over the bond swindle has by no means abated, and has in fact been intensified by the alleged complicity of Ralph J. Jewell with Novin in the attempt to realize on the bonds. After the revelation of the $48,000 cheque business it was decided to arrest Jewell, which was done on Saturday night after he had, it is claimed, been making efforts to get his property into other hands. Jewell was arraigned this morning before Judge Long on a charge of conspiracy to defraud, and his examination was set down for a week from to-day. F. A. Clark, President of the Council and acting-Mayor, was arrested this afternoon charged with complicity in the bond swindle, having been with Novin in New York as alleged when the bogus bonds were negotiated.

FOR EXPORTATION.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—The Tribune's Washington special says that considerable interest is shown by Congressmen in the efforts to secure a law to prevent the sale and exportation of grain on margin, except under the proper name. The members representing districts which have large dairy interests are especially active, and declare that the exportation of imitation butter has already worked vast injury to the American dairy products in the European markets.

TORONTO.

Special to the Review, Feby. 14.

THERE IS A GREAT FIGHT going on in the railway committee to-day over the bill to consolidate the Midland, Whitby, Port Perry, and Lindsay, Toronto, and Nipissing, Toronto and Ottawa, and Grand Junction Railways. Belleville and Lindsay are protesting on the ground that they gave bonuses to the Grand Junction, and Whitby roads for the sake of competition and special advantages which will be taken away by the amalgamation. Lindsay complains of want of competition to obtain which she had bonused rival roads, and Belleville of the local advantages she was to receive in return for bonuses to the Grand Junction. The chairman Mr. Pardee is trying to arrange a settlement between the parties, but prospects are not bright.

THE BUDGET SPEECH will be delivered this afternoon.

Daily Evening Review

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 1882.

AN EARLY START.

THE Administration at Ottawa is consulting the public convenience and proving the attention they have paid to their departmental duties by the very early date at which some of the blue books have been prepared, several of them being presented immediately after the address in reply to the speech from the throne.

A very praiseworthy step has also been taken in the introduction of several measures in the Senate, for the Upper House will thus have some work in their hands from the commencement, instead of having to wait till bills come up to them from the Commons. This will facilitate the more thorough consideration by both Houses of the legislation of the session.

CIVIL SERVICE REFORM.

THE Globe ridicules the idea of any Civil Service Reform being attempted by the present Dominion Government, and accuses them of having neglected this matter since they came into power. Well, Mr. Mackenzie and his party held the reins at Ottawa for some years, and yet we cannot remember that these self-styled Reformers with nothing to reform, carried out any reformation of the Civil Service, however loud their professions may be while out of office. We have on the contrary a distinct recollection that Mr. Casey was snubbed by them in his persistent efforts to introduce a reform of the Civil Service, and that they refused to aid him in pressing this matter.

The country has tried the experiment once, and the constituencies know what value to attach to promises of reform made by the Globe and its friends while out of office.

REVIEWS.

CANADIAN MONTHLY.—The current number of "Rose-Belford's Canadian Monthly and National Review" fully bears out the promise made at the beginning of the year of continued progress. An anonymous writer discusses "The Colonial Status Quo," and Mr. J. W. Longley, of Halifax, "The Future of Canada," in articles which are thoughtfully and temperately written from their respective points of view. The Rev. W. Wye Smith's "Illustrations of Canadian Life" will be read with interest as a record of bygone struggles. The papers on "Modern Life and Nervous Force," and "The Taboo of Strong Drink," are both worthy of attentive perusal. "A Day with the Children," by Miss J. Toes, of Port Hope, is amusing, but rather highly colored. There are several interesting tales and verses of more than average merit. We might perhaps spare the long article, in which Mr. Goldwin Smith airs one of his favorite antipathies, in an attack upon the Jews. "The Major's Big-Talk Stories" will amuse the young people.

FENELON FALLS.

THE CHAMPION LYNX TRAPPER.—The Gazette says that there are very few persons who can truthfully boast, as Mr. A. Laliberte, of this village can, of having caught four lynxes in as many days. A short time ago Mr. Laliberte found in a snare he had set in a swamp, about two miles from the Falls, the partially devoured body of a hare, and naturally inferred that some kind of carnivorous animals were around. So he baited and set a steel trap of about the size used for foxes, but made the mistake of chaining it to a tree; for when he visited it he found it sprung, with some skin and hair between the jaws, and with one of the springs broken. This only inflamed his desire to catch something, and last Saturday he set two traps, a considerable distance apart, and attached to each a long heavy pole, which would impede the progress of any animal that might be caught without enabling it to pull with all its strength on the chain. On Monday afternoon he went to the swamp again and found in each trap a dead lynx, with which he returned to the village, where he was immediately surrounded by a crowd eager to look at and handle his victims, one of which had been nearly half eaten after it was caught, but the other which weighed 10½ lbs., was uninjured. Next day Mr. Laliberte again visited his traps, and found in one of them a much larger lynx than either of the others, for it weighed 19½ lbs., stood two feet high and measured 4 feet 4½ inches from the end of the hind feet to the tip of the nose. It had probably only just been caught, for it was not only alive but so active and ferocious that the first impulse to preserve it and make a pet of it had to be given up, as it could not be approached with safety, and its captor was compelled to shoot it. When Mr. Laliberte brought his third victim home, it was thought that his luck as a lynx catcher must have reached its climax; but it was not so, for on Wednesday evening he returned from the swamp with a fourth, a much smaller one than any of the others. A villager who lately lived near the swamp tells us that it is just full of wild cats and that they howl all night long; and, judging from Mr. Laliberte's success, the statement is probably correct, with the exception that the animals—or, at any rate, the specimens subjected to our inspection—are lynxes, and not wild cats, if popular opinion is correct.

RUN OVER.—Last Thursday evening a number of children climbed on to Mr. Thomas Graham's sleigh for a ride, and in jumping off again one of them, a little boy about 7 years old, second son of Mr. John McIntyre, fell or was thrown down, and one of the hind runners of the sleigh passed over his left leg just above the ankle. Fortunately no bone was broken, but the limb was very badly bruised.

RECOVERING.—We are glad to learn that Mr. Robert Douglas, the engineer who lost his right leg through the late accident on the Victoria Railway, is in a fair way to recovery, although he has had a hard time of it. He did not recover from the shock of the injury and that of the operation for several days, during which his condition was very critical; and almost as soon as reaction set in, it was accompanied by erysipelas, which rapidly spread up the remaining portion of the limb and over the bowels, very seriously complicating the case and adding greatly to the discomfort of the patient. Dr. Bryson's last report is however very encouraging, the unfavourable symptoms having disappeared. Soon after the accident a subscription in Mr. Douglas's behalf was commenced in this village, and a considerable sum has already been raised.

FIRE RECORD.

Destruction of Globe Agricultural Works, London—Bungling the Alarm.

LONDON, Feb. 11.—About half past four o'clock on Saturday morning a gentleman passing along Adelaide street saw smoke issuing from one of the rear windows in the upper storey of the Globe Agricultural Works on Dundas street. About the same time the watchman at the Victor Oil Works, London East, observed the smoke, and was thoughtful enough to use the telephone. He was placed in connection with the Firemen's Hall, and gave the general information that there was a fire "out here.' This was construed to mean a blaze in London East, and seeing that they are not allowed to go outside the city limits they resolved to wait. Somebody at last awoke to the knowledge that there was an alarm box at the corner of Dundas and Maitland streets, and a messenger was despatched to have it rung. Here again a good deal of bungling was done, and it is estimated that three quarters of an hour had elapsed before the members of the fire brigade appeared on the scene. During all this time the fire had made rapid progoess, and by the time the horses of the fire department galloped up to the corner the flames were roaring and hissing from the ground floor to the roof. There were, of course, the stores and office, moulding shops, engine house, etc., adjoining yet untouched, and the firemen quickly laid four lines of hose for the purpose of saving them. By determined efforts they succeeded. The flames were confined to the building in which they began the work of destruction; but that was the most important part of the works. It was where all the machinery was worked, the wood work made, the painting, etc., done, and beside this contained the parts of one thousand reapers and mowers, almost ready to be put together. The machinery was particularly valuable. All this was, in the course of two hours, rendered a smouldering and blackened mass between the four walls of the foundry. A great many persons had assembled, and they willingly lent the brigade men every assistance in their work of preventing the flames from spreading. The supply of water was excellent and powerful, and to its judicious use may be laid the credit of saving a great deal of surrounding property belonging to the Company. It took until nearly noon before it was considered safe to cease the throwing of water. The fire is believed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion.

The loss will be about $50,000, and some fifty men have been thrown out of employment. On the building and contents the insurances were as follows:—North British and Mercantile, $3,200; Phœnix, $2,500; Canada Fire and Marine, $7,000; Scottish Imperial, $3,500; Commercial Union, $2,000; London and Lancashire, $2,000; Northern, $1,000; Royal, $1,000, and Guardian, $4,500—in all $26,700.

WORRIED BY WITCHCRAFT.

An Arkansas Negro Persecuted by a Woman from whose Nose Issued Jets of Fire.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Feb. 10.—There was a novel case in the justice court of this county to-day, which brings to mind the witchcraft superstition of the sixteenth century in New England. The trial was of a witch in open court, the charge being preferred by the alleged victim, an intelligent looking negro, against a smart appearing girl of the same color. Jackson Holmes brought the charge under the head of vile practices, and the erudite justice, also coloured, caused the arrest of Cathrix Martha Hodges. The woman denied nothing, but told her tale, how Jackson had proposed for her hand, won her love, and then trampled upon it. She had begged him to marry her, but he had laughed at her. Her grandmother had then revealed to her the mysterious powers of which she possessed, and aided the girl in revenge to lay certain spells on the faithless lover. The victim then took the stand and testified that he had loved Martha, but was horrified to observe a jet of blue fire occasionally come from her nose, and gave up the idea of marrying her, because she was a witch. Martha swore vengeance, and the next night he awoke with a choking sensation. An unseen power impelled him to the door, where he found on the step a rabbit foot. When he picked it up he was answered by a mocking laugh. On another occasion he found bird's claws and horse's hoofs. Then he became crippled and a total wreck. The Justice, after mature deliberation, settled matters by declaring that they must marry, and closed the trial by solemnly joining them.

THE LATE PRESIDENT.

Expenses of His Illness and Funeral—Some Extraordinary Claims.

DETROIT, Mich. Feb. 11.—A Washington special says:—The limit fixed by the committee to audit the expenses of the sickness and funeral of the late President Garfield in which claims and bills could be presented expired yesterday. A large number of bills were filed, some of them of a character to excite surprise. None of the attending surgeons filed bills, but made statements tending to show the extent of their services. The committee will hold a meeting at once to examine and pass upon these claims. The feeling among members of the committee is against allowing exorbitant amounts, and while the surgeons have intimated privately that they think they should have from $20,000 to $50,000, the probability is that Drs. Bliss, Agnew and Hamilton, and probably Dr. Boynton will be given from $7,000 to $10,000; Dr. Reyburn, $5,000; and Mrs. D. Edson and Steward Crump from $3,000 to $5,000. Surgeon-General Barnes and Surgeon Woodward have given the members of the committee to understand that they would prefer to be promoted to receiving a money consideration for their services. Dr. Woodward, who is now a major, wants to be made a colonel, and Surgeon-General Barnes, who now ranks as brigadier-general, asks to be made a major-general, so that he can be retired at that rank. If the committee were to make public the claims presented, a sensation would be created.

Canada for the Canadians.

The Emerson (Manitoba) International in a recent article says in reply to the Globe's misrepresentations:—

"The disallowance of the South-Eastern Railway charter was effected for the purpose of keeping 'Canada for the Canadians,' and that motive we rather think ranks a little higher than 'whim.' When Alexander Mackenzie disallowed the first charter granted to a railway calculated to tap the Canadian Pacific, the Grits called his action patriotism. But what was patriotism in Mackenzie is downright treason in Sir John Macdonald! We wonder if it ever occurs to the Grit organs and leaders that their inconsistency on this question is as clearly seen though as anything can be. If it does not, then party feeling must have a wonderful power of distorting moral perception."

Committed for the Murder of Mrs. Hough.

GUELPH, Feb. 11.—The jury on the case of Mrs. Hough, the old woman who was assaulted by Thos. Kenny about a month ago, brought in the following verdict:—"That the deceased woman, Ann Hongh, came to her death from the effects of the wounds inflicted on her by Thomas Kenny on the eleventh day of January last." Death resulted from a clot of blood in the brain caused by blows on the head. The deceased was a strong and healthy woman. The poisoner was committed for trial.

DYSPEPSIA OF THIRTY YEARS' STANDING.—From J. T. Bowen, of East Aurora, N. Y.—"I was troubled with dyspepsia for thirty years, and tried several medicines advertised for the cure of this distressing complaint without deriving any benefit from them. About a year ago I commenced taking the Peruvian Syrup, and after using altogether twelve bottles I find myself entirely cured. I consider my case one of the worst I ever heard of, and I take great pleasure in recommending the Peruvian Syrup to all dyspeptics, believing that it will be sure to cure them." All druggists sell it.

FROM HAMILTON.—A gentleman writes: "I have suffered for over four years with night losses and general weakness, caused by abuse. I had tried all the advertised medicines, and a number of eminent doctors, and found no relief or benefit. I have used twelve boxes of Mack's Magnetic Medicine, and am entirely restored." See advertisement in another column.

CROWN JEWEL FLOUR!

This Flour is made of No. 1 Hard Wheat by the new process, combined with the best methods and machinery in operation in the best Hungarian Mills, and will produce from 30 to 40 pounds more Bread per Barrel than the best superior wheat flour. Therefore, the first cost though higher, is full, compensated in the increased yield of Bread as well as being a much better quality and more nutritious, having a much larger percentage of gluten and less starch than ordinary wheat flour. To those who may not be familiar with the use of this kind of Flour, we suggest mixing it moderately soft, which will require considerably more water than is ordinarily used.

Knead thoroughly, and bake with a strong heat and in such a manner that bottom and top shall be equally well baked.

MILLIONS GIVEN AWAY.—Millions of bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, and Colds, have been given away as trial bottles of the large size. Call at Taylor & Macdonald's Drug Store, and get a trial bottle, and try for yourself. It never fails to cure.—5

IS IT A HUMBUG? Some people think all proprietary medicines humbugs. In this they must be mistaken. A cough medicine like N. H. Downs' Elixir that has stood the racket of 52 years must have some virtue, and must cure the diseases for which it is recommended, or people would not continue to buy and use it as they do. It seems to us that even if we knew nothing of its merits, the fact of its large and continually increasing sale justifies us in recommending Down's Elixir to all who may need a reliable cough medicine.

NEVER GIVE UP.—If you are suffering with low and depressed spirits, loss of appetite, general debility, disordered blood, weak constitution, headache, or any other disease of a billious natnre, by all means procure a bottle of Electric Bitters. You will be surprised to see the rapid improvement that will follow; you will be inspired with new life; strength and activity will return; pain and misery will cease, and henceforth you will rejoice in the praise of Electric Bitters. IN

CRYSTAL CITY.

The mere announcement of lots for sale in this, the first important point settled in Southwestern Manitoba, will be sufficient to those acquainted with the country. First, also, in population, as well as in the fertility and natural advantages of its surroundings.

By Far the Largest Town in Rock Lake District!

Surveyed in 1880, it is no prospective town, but is a thriving place—a large business being done. Churches, Schools, Mills, Registry Office, Stores, and every essential to supplying the wants of a thickly populated section. The town site is the property of but one proprietor (Thos. Greenway, Esq., M. P. P.,) and his faith in the future of Crystal City is such that the proceeds of this, as well as of former sales, will be employed in fostering every legitimate industry and building up the town.

A REBATE OF FIFTY PER CENT.

Of purchase money to those who construct medium-priced brick or frame buildings within twelve months from sale. Within six months lots have advanced 200 per cent., and with early railway facilities this is but an intimation.

OVER 40 BUILDINGS NOW UNDER CONTRACT FOR EARLY SPRING COMPLETION!

As to the eligibility of investing, we refer intending purchasers to anyone acquainted with the Province, or to the shrewdness of speculators in Manitoba town property.

The mere fact that over 7,000 letters were posted at this office in one quarter will convey a partial idea of the volume of business done, as well as the population of the district.

No extended description of this point is required, for the merit of its natural advantages caused its survey. It has grown to its important position by its merits, and will be sold on the same.

Daily Evening Review

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 1882.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Personal.

The many friends of Mr. Joseph Craig, an old employee of the REVIEW Office, and now of Walkerton, Ont., will be pleased to learn that he was successful in passing the examination for admission into the first-class of excisemen. We may state that all competitors for this class must have previously obtained a first-class certificate at the ordinary examination, and to be successful must obtain at least 80% of all the marks obtainable. It is of the utmost importance to an excise officer to get into the special class, besides getting a considerable increase of salary, he has a chance of rising in the service, promotions to the higher offices being generally made from the special class. We congratulate Mr. Craig on his success, not only for his personal merits, but as a graduate of the REVIEW Office.

An Object of Charity.

The Belleville Intelligencer says that the unfortunate man John Moreland, who lost nearly all his property and half his family by the fire in Huntingdon on Thursday night, is left entirely destitute with his remaining three children on his hands. He not only has no home to shelter himself and them, but has lost the means for providing a home—all the money he had in the world being destroyed in the flames. In his present half-crazed condition he is utterly helpless, and is a most deserving object of charity. Those who may be disposed to contribute anything may send their amounts to the Intelligencer office, Belleville.

Crystal City.

In view of the sale that is to take place here on Feb. 17, of lots in Crystal City, Manitoba, the following extract from a letter by a gentleman residing there to the West Durham News will be of interest:—

"Eight dwelling houses, one flour mill, one store, and a shoe maker's shop have been built this year. The Rock Lake county registry office is being raised in this place. The Canada Methodist denomination have let the contract to build a church here, which is to be finished next July. Other buildings are in contemplation, and taking all things into consideration, Crystal City is outstripping its rivals."

The Weather.

"Gentle Spring," as the poet has it, is at hand, or at least one would think so while walking along the bare sidewalks, not a vestige of snow being visible anywhere. One can hardly realize that this is February, but realize it or not, such is the case, as all will admit. The weather probabilities for this district for the following 24 hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a.m. to-day, by the Great North-Western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes—Westerly, to south westerly winds; fair continued mild weather.

Railway Time Table.

The following gives the time of arrival and departure of the Midland and Grand Junction trains at Peterborough station:—

MIDLAND RAILWAY TRAINS DEPART at 7 and 10.20 a.m., and 4.30 and 6.40 p.m.

ARRIVE at 8.35 and 11.50 a.m., and 6.15 and 9.55 p.m.

GRAND JUNCTION TRAINS DEPART at 7 a.m. and 3 p.m.

ARRIVE at 11 a.m. and 6.10 p.m.

Removed.

The undersigned in returning thanks to their numerous customers, beg leave to say that they have removed to the new store recently erected by Garvey and Dolan, opposite the market square. Where, with increased facilities and strict attention to the wants of their customers they hope to merit a continuation of their patronage. CARTON BROS.

Healy's Hibernian Minstrels.

Very seldom does any troupe appear to such a packed and respectable audience as Healy's Hibernian Minstrels did at the Opera House on Monday night. To say that the hall was full does not properly express it, standing room was at a premium, and well it might be, for a more pleasing entertainment was never given in Peterborough. While partaking of a variety character, the show is of such a character that nothing is said or done to offend the most fastidious. This company gives a decidedly novel performance totally different to anything ever seen here before, and has to be seen to be appreciated. Of the performers we may say that all filled their parts to perfection, and from the numerous encores, it was plain to see that their efforts to please were fully appreciated. Of course Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Brennan, two old favorites met with a warm reception, and notwithstanding that five or six years have passed since they last appeared here, their rich brogue and fine acting was just as much appreciated as ever. The Murrays, although new to a Peterborough audience, took the popular fancy and had to respond to several encores. Captain Liable, though deminutive in stature, is large in attainments and at once became a favorite. Myles Morris, in his motto songs was very good. We can recommend the company as well worthy of public patronage, and bespeak for them a successful tour through Canada. They propose returning to Peterborough in the course of about five weeks, and of course they will be greeted by a crowded house.

TRANSPLANTING HUMAN FLESH.

A Philadelphia Doctor Who Puts Disfigured Faces into Shape.

Transplanting human flesh has always been considered a difficult operation; but the success attending two remarkable operations of this kind recently performed by Dr. Richard J. Levis at the Pennsylvania Hospital has attracted the attention of the entire medical profession. The subject that received the severest cutting from the surgeon's knife is a coal miner named John Delaney, from the Lehigh Valley district, who received terrible injuries about the head and breast by the explosion of a can of blasting powder. The accident happened five years ago, and after the wounds had healed the man was horribly disfigured, presenting a sickening appearance. The head was drawn so far forward that his chin had grown fast to his breast, while the eyes were without lids. It was impossible for him to shut his eyes, and food could be taken with only the greatest difficulty. In this condition life was a misery to the unfortunate man; while his repulsive appearance was no less a scource of annoyance to his friends. In this condition he came to the Pennsylvania Hospital about fifteen months ago, and was placed under the care of Dr. Levis. The head was first brought to an upright position by what is known as the planter operation. The flesh that held the chin down was cut, and to prevent this new wound from drawing the chin to its former position it was covered by the skin turned up from adjacent parts of the breast. The chin was held in position by props and bandages, and within a few weeks time the patient was able to hold his head erect.

But the eyes were still a scource of great annoyance to him. The upper and lower lids were burned off, leaving the inflamed edges turned outward. The upper lids were supplied by flesh from a little finger which it was necessary to amputate. The application healed, and in a short time Delaney returned home greatly improved in appearance. He was able to partially close his eyes, but the under lids were still sore. A few weeks ago he again came to the hospital, and was supplied with new lids taken from the flesh of an arm. This application was no less successful than those that had preceded it, and in a short time the man will be able to leave.

The second operation performed by Dr. Levis was one requiring even more skill than the preceding, although the results obtained were not as great. The patient in this case was a young woman, the corner of whose mouth and the under lip were eaten away by disease. The flesh was gone even down to the jawbone. To heal this a portion of the upper lip was cut and turned over, so as to fill the place of the part eaten away. The wound is healing rapidly, and within a short time the mouth will be whole and without a disfigurement, only a slight scar showing.—Philadelphia Record.

UNEXPECTED SUCCOR.

Providential Escape of Shipwrecked Voyagers.

At 9 o'clock on the morning of the 30th of last December, the steamer Moravian, of the Allan line, bound for Liverpool via Halifax, while on her way from Portland to the latter place, ran ashore on the south-west point of Mud Island, some fifteen miles from the town of Yarmouth, Nova Scotia. A stiff breeze was blowing at the time and a heavy surf running, and the situation was one of peril. It was found that the forward compartments had filled with water and orders were given to lighten the cargo while preparations were made to land the passengers on the Island, with a supply of food and clothing. The landing was safely effected, but the cold was intense and some of the party were severely frostbitten. On the ship's manifest was a consignment of St. Jacobs Oil, which the Toronto House of A. Vogeler & Co., of Baltimore, Md., had just shipped to Francis Newberry & Sons, London, to fill English orders. The part it played in the catastrophe is described in the following article, which we quote from the Yarmouth (Nova Scotia) Tribune of January 18th:

"The passengers and crew of the wrecked steamer Moravian, during their brief encampment at Mud Island, suffered severely from exposure to the weather, and some of them were severely frostbitten. Fortunately, among the landing of the ship was a package of proprietary medicines; more fortunately still, the bulk of these consisted of St. Jacobs Oil, and by the prompt and liberal use of this invaluable remedy, the parties were speedily relieved and all unpleasant after consequences averted."

Two ORGANS.—Regulate first the stomach, second the liver; especially the first, so as to perform their functions perfectly and you will remove at least nineteen-twentieths of all the ills that mankind is heir to, in this or any other climate. Hop Bitters is the only thing that will give perfectly healthy natural action to these two organs.—Maine Farmer.

MR. SAMUEL MCCAW, the well-known conductor on the Whitby and Lindsay Railway, says Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters cured me of Dyspepsia. I always kept them in the house, and consider them invaluable as a family medicine. J. D. Tully, agent for Peterborough.

STRIKING THE BULL'S EYE!

Experience tells that there is as much at all times and unusually more real cheapness in a fairly good article of any kind than in an inferior or poor thing, however little money it may cost.

Even more important is it to those who have a moderate sum to spend that they spend it wisely, and make the dollars do all the work they can.

A poor thing at a trifling cost, bought over and over, soon eats up twice the cost of a good one, which can yet be of moderate price with tenfold satisfaction in its use.

If you buy cotton, buy what is good of its kind and for the use needed. It is the cheapest. If you buy linen, buy that which is linen, even for common use. Common goods involve only greater wear.

If you want anything to wear, buy goods that are perfect of their kind.

Thin, sleazy, irregularly made goods don't wear well, starch don't add strength to any fabric.

If you buy wool goods, buy those you can depend on—the wool of the sheep, and not the wool of the mill that makes it of woollen rags.

Finally if you want to buy anything in the foregoing articles, you will find them—and of the right quality too, and right in price, at our new stores. A heavy stock of all lines in now, and new goods still coming in daily.

Remember the stores, 1 and 2, Cluxton's Block, corner of George and Hunter Streets.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

PORT HOPE.

New Bank.—The Guide says that as will be seen by advertisement in another column, Mr. Stanley Paterson has organized a local banking institution with a capital of $100,000, and has accepted the position of President. We have often wondered how it was that such an institution had not been established here before, as nearly every other town of an equal size has one successfully working. They supply a want sometimes very severely felt, as they can make advances on securities that a bank issuing a paper by its charter is not allowed to do. Mr. Paterson's well pronounced ability is a guarantee of its success.

One way in which parents may make a bulwark against corrupting literature is to provide as much as possible of good reading-matter. In homes where two or three religious weeklies are taken, the demand for printed slush is very small. On the other hand, there are many families too poor to take a religious paper in which the children manage to buy every week some one of the trashy weeklies. The truth is, a religious paper is a necessity for decent housekeeping, and probably worth many times more than it costs in its influence upon other expenditure. This, at least, is true; no parent ought to complain of the men who furnish his children with demoralizing reading, so long as he himself fails to provide them with good reading. Something the active young minds crave, and they will get it. It is too often the parent's fault that they get poison where they seek food.—Methodist.

DOMESTIC AND USEFUL.

To Prepare Frozen Fish.—There is a good deal in the way the fish should be treated prior to being cooked. When taken out of the refrigerator they are a frozen, hard, compact body, and must be thoroughly thawed and then boiled in hot water. The most approved method of thawing is to immerse a fish in cold water and let it remain until it is sufficiently flexible to be gutted; when the entrails and gills are taken out, replace it in cold water, and let it remain until all the frost is extricated. Then take it out, wipe it dry, and, without scaling, tie it up in a cloth; next plunge it into a batter (so as to retain intact the little flavour it has) and boil it in the ordinary way. When served it will appear first-rate; it will "give" to the slice to all appearance, as if it were a genuine native fish, the flakes and curd look tempting; the colour is satisfactory; nevertheless, owing to its inherent quality, the richness, piquancy, and flavour are wanting.

A New way of Dressing Poultry.—After the fowl is killed and plucked cut off the head and feet, and draw out the entire inside parts. Then carefully wash and place aside to cool. After cooling sprinkle 'good table salt well on the outside of the body; then nicely clean and salt the heart, liver and gizzard, and place them into the carcase, as many buyers prefer to have them; or if preferred clean the fowls as directed, and instead of salting place in an air tight box, and at the bottom of the box burn a small quantity of sulphur. As soon as the sulphur fumes begin to rise close the box and at the end of half an hour take out the fowls and pack them for market. They will keep for weeks by this process, as the sulphur fumes effectually prevent fermentation in all substances; and instead of being injurious, are positively beneficial, in completely destroying everything that could be injurious to the carcases. It will give a peculiar glazed appearance to the fowl and a slight odour of sulphur may remain (often none), but the moment the carcase is heated the sulphur gas passes off, and the meat is purer and better than before.

FLOURISHING INDUSTRIES.

THE following is an extract from the speech of Mr. Guillet M. P. for West Northumberland, in seconding the address in the House of Commons :—

"There are parallel cases of progress and development in every section of the country, but in West Northumberland we find abundant testimony to the wisdom of the policy which the Government, with the approval of the people, has adopted. I find that since the introduction of the National Policy the proprietor of the Cobourg car works has increased his car shops, in buildings and machinery, to the extent of $45,000 ; that he has increased the number of his employees by 224 ; that the wages he pays have run up from $7,960 in 1878 to $89,950 in 1881 ; and that the average advance in wages has been twenty per cent. I find also that to the business new branches have been added, including the building of mail express and baggage cars, and that the manufacture of railway car springs is to be commenced in about a month. The output of these works in 1878 was $17,300 ; while in 1881 it ran up to $620,000. Take then the Cobourg Woollen Mills. Large additions are being made to them with a view to doubling their productions. The hands have already been increased from eighty-eight in 1878 to 110 in 1881, and the wages paid have increased from $1,250 in one month in 1878 to $2,092 in December, 1881, while the production has gone up from $93,244 in the former year, to $125,080 in the latter. Besides this there is a new mill, the Norval Mill, which has been started during the last twelvemonth. It employs thirty hands and the wages average $700 per month. The Cobourg Mat and Matting Works, which were closed during the depression, have been re-opened under the National Policy, and are doing a good business. At Grafton, the mill of Mr. Greenwood was nearly at a standstill during 1878, but in 1881 it received more orders than its proprietor could conveniently fill. Its output in 1878 was $5,000, and, in 1881, $12,000, and the men employed in it received higher wages than previously."

STOPPING THE WATER SUPPLY.

In a paper of reminiscences by the Rev. W. Wye Smith, published in the Canadian Monthly, we find the following paragraph, which deserves attention as a striking illustration of the mischief that is being done by overclearing :—

"It will seem odd to the younger inhabitants of Brantford to state that near where the two railways cross, on the north edge of the city, was a mill-pond, supplying power to a mill some distance below. I once, when a boy, wandered out there, and had an exciting engagement with a snapping turtle that was sunning himself on the bank. And in 1852 I remember getting on board a queer flat-bottomed steamer—a regular old tea pot—to go to Buffalo. I was very glad to find that we changed boats at Dunnville, for I did not think much of the seaworthiness of "The Queen ;" which I believe was the name of the old scow I made the passage in. Probably the navigation of the Grand River (Lord Dorchester, the 'Sir Guy Carleton' of history, called it, in 1798, the 'Ouse ;' but the name did not appear to stick), will never be revived. For one thing, the volume of water is immensely less than it was. I spent three months on its banks in 1837 ; and when a three days rain storm came, the river became swollen and dark coloured, and remained so for a month. Now, with the upper forests cleared away, it has hardly more water than will turn a mill on a dry summer. I was much interested in seeing, in the summer of 1837, some men who were running a pail factory in Galt pass down the rapids above Glenmorris, on a raft, with several hundred gaily painted pails, bound for Brantford. This could not be done now, except on the dangerous eddies of a great freshet. The same may be said of other streams ; old mills are found with not a drop of water running past them in a dry summer."

SCOTTISH EMIGRATION.

The following letter has been sent to the Edinburgh Scotsman :—

To the Editor of the Scotsman.

MY DEAR SIR,—You were kind enough to publish my previous letter in reference to aid to emigrants in finding new homes in the Dominion of Canada. By the same mail which brought me the Scotsman in which said letter was contained, I received three communications from intending emigrants, expressing their interest in the subject treated of, and their deep solicitude for further correspondence. The letter above my own signature, published in your columns, together with the chief portions of the three communications referred to, have been reproduced in two of the papers of this town. One of these papers, the Peterborough REVIEW, I forwarded to you last week, in the hope that you would favor the article on "Immigration" with a short notice.

No doubt other letters of a like character are on their way westward, and probably many other intending emigrants would like to write in the same strain. This letter is intended as an answer, in part at least, to these enquirers.

"Where can I obtain a good location in that new country ?" is a question which will often be asked by intending emigrants. To help to a solution of the difficulty I have to report that it is intended that lists of farms for sale will be procured by means of schedules, now in course of preparation for the purpose. These schedules will give the following particulars, among others, viz. :—address of seller, location, size of farm, and price per acre, number of acres cleared, character of buildings, distance from the churches of the leading denominations, distance from schools, market towns, railway stations, etc. It is intended that the lists, when tabulated, will be forwarded to Great Britain and Ireland for circulation, and that copies will be on hand at ports of exit and entry. A map of the district will, if possible, accompany each list.

Long lists of good farms now in the market, ranging in price from £10 to £20 per acre according to quality, locality, etc., are easily obtainable.

Several reasons can be assigned why so many farms are for sale. Loan companies have something to do with it, fathers and husbands dying intestate have something to do with it, but the great reason is the "Manitoba Fever." The majority of the tens of thousands of new settlers every year pouring into Manitoba and the North West Territory are from these older Provinces, and more especially from the best province in the Dominion, the Province of Ontario. This Manitoba fever does not seem to be a dangerous one. It is policy for a man with four or five stalwart sons, who wish to become farmers, to sell 100 acres in Ontario, and with the proceeds to buy 1,000 or 1,200 acres of as good land in one block in the North West Territory. But why should not Old Country emigrants go to these newer provinces too? Some of these, I believe, should, if they have but little to invest in real estate. That little will go further there than here. Upon payment of a fee of £2 for registration purposes, any man over eighteen years of age can have a farm of 160 acres of the best land upon condition of making it his resting place. At the end of five years he gets his deed, provided he can testify truly as to certain improvements made. Settlement duties simply require residence for six months of the year, the erection of a small house and the cultivation of a few acres additional each year for five years in succession. Then the property becomes his own to dispose of as he pleases. People who have much to gain and little to lose in the matter of money are wise in going to Manitoba and the North West Territory. It is wise for some Old Country emigrants to do it, if they have only means sufficient to carry them there. The prospect of comfort and wealth in the near future will sustain them under the many trials they will be called upon to bear. It is not wise, however, for emigrants from the Old Country who are possessed of means to go. They do not need to do it, £1,000 will give a settler a comfortable home in Ontario, where he will have churches, schools, associates, and travelling facilities equal to those which he had enjoyed at home. In the North-West the first settlers who get the cheap lands, are as a rule many years destitute of these privileges. Emigrants to Manitoba from Great Britain and those from the older provinces of the Dominion of Canada are not for one moment to be compared in point of ability to overcome the common difficulties in the new field. The climate is much more trying to the one than to the other. The Canadian is already somewhat accustomed to low registrations of the thermometer. He knows again how to act when storms are at their height. He knows how to ford rivers, construct extempore bridges, battle with black flies and mosquitoes. He can with his own hands build his house, his stables, his barns and his fences. In these older provinces all this unnecessary. Here we have a salubrious clime, comfortable homes, food, fuel, and clothing in the greatest abundance—all that you have at home you can have here.

Yours truly,
WILLIAM BENNETT.

KEENE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

CARNIVAL.—The skating carnival here, as previously announced by posters, came off on Thursday evening of last week. This being the first affair of the kind held in Keene, the villagers naturally looked forward to the eventful evening with a goodly degree of interest and various were the surmises as to its probable success. We are very much pleased to state the carnival was successful in every respect, far exceeding the expectations of the most sanguine, and we may fancy might do credit to a much more pretentious place than the village of Keene. The ice was in splendid condition, the weather exceedingly fine, and the attendance of skaters in costumes good, for the first masquerade held in the place. The get up of the costumes was in most cases creditable, and the characters assumed very fairly represented. A large number of spectators were present, and as every preparation was made for their comfort, they could not and did not fail to thoroughly enjoy the treat. Mr. R. B. McIntyre, the manager, informs us that should the weather prove favorable another one will be given in the course of a few weeks, which will undoubtedly surpass the first as regards the number and variety of costumes, and we anticipate a much larger attendance of visitors at the next. The following is a list of those in character :—

THE LATE MRS. HARPER.—With deep regret we record the death of this estimable lady, who entered into rest on Friday evening the 10th inst. Deceased was the beloved wife of the Rev. Cecil Harper of this village, and in the prime of life when so suddenly and unexpectedly called away from time into eternity. Mrs. Harper was a woman of great amibility of character, courteous, kind and dignified in her deportment, and as a Christian woman exhibited undoubted sincerity for the welfare of others. Although her sojourn with her husband in this circuit was comparatively short, she commanded in a high degree the confidence and respect of a large circle of acquaintances, by whom she will long be remembered with love and affection. The mortal remains were conveyed to Toronto on Saturday for interment at which city her parents reside. We would seek to tender our kindest sympathies and condolence to her husband and relatives, in the sad bereavement with which they have been visited.

ESCAPED FROM GAOL.

Eleven Desperate Prisoners Regain Their Liberty—How it was Accomplished.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Feb. 12.—The old rookery known as the Monro County gaol was delivered this afternoon of eleven prisoners. The escape was made through a dining room which is on the south-east corner of the south wing. The south wing has been used to confine the most desperate prisoners in the gaol. The dungeon has been unused of late, and the prisoners conceived the idea of getting in there, cutting a hole through to the outside wall, and then escaping. The lock on the dungeon door was forced and the job was done by means of an iron bar taken from a bedstead. The hole was probably completed yesterday, for shortly after three o'clock this afternoon eleven persons passed through into a chicken coop, thence by means of a ladder placed against the wall into Hollester's yard, which is located just south. George R. Schoffell, a son of Sheriff Schoffell was on a visit to the gaol, and while walking in one of the upper corridors looked out of a south window. He was amazed to see the ladder against the wall, and the last two of the prisoners climbing over. He gave the alarm to his father, who immediately sent word to police headquarters, and then ran out into the gaol yard. He saw two prisoners, Del. Vanhauten and Fred Hall, on a roof, and

COVERED THEM WITH HIS REVOLVER,

They surrendered. Deputy-Sheriff Hovey captured Joseph Yawman at the Erie Railway depot, and policeman Seiffered overhauled Louis Heine at Fitzhugh street. The Sheriff then discovered that the following named prisoners were at large :—John Warrsenberger, the burglar, who was one of the leaders of another gaol delivery, and who had just been brought back from Chicago ; Philip Stein, the sheep thief ; William Howard (coloured), indicted for burglary ; Edward Cramp, grand larceny ; Frederick G. Broes, a car burglar ; Charles Shepard, indicted for attempting to set fire to the Sibley Block on Main street ; and John Farlin, indicted for burglary—making a total of seven. They are still at large.

A Bad Policy.

The Toronto Telegram has the following editorial :—

"Mr. Crooks is being rapped over the knuckles by Mr. David Blain for his administration of educational affairs. Mr. Blain shows that Mr. Crooks has put the control of affairs into the hands of his own partizans, only one-fifth of the members of the University Senate being of the opposite politics to his own. A more serious charge than this is the fact that he has studiously ignored native talent in filling the positions under his control, it being put forward as a fact that of the president, seven professors and the resident dean, forming the Council of the College, there is but one native Canadian, all the rest being from abroad. It is not hard to forsee what the effect will be if Mr. Crooks continue to pursue a policy the chief objects of which are to put the educational affairs of the country in the hands of one political party, and to make all the appointments on an anti-Canadian line.

MR. SAMUEL MCCAW, the well-known conductor on the Whitby and Lindsay Railway, says Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters cured me of Dyspepsia. I always kept them in the house, and consider them invaluable as a family medicine. J. D. Tully, agent for Peterborough.

MRS. PARTINGTON SAYS, dont take any of the quack rostrums, as they are regimental to the human system ; but put your trust in Hop Bitters, which will cure general dilapidation, costive habits and all comic diseases. They saved Isaac from a severe extract of tripod They are the ne plus unum of medicines.—Boston Globe.

NEVER GIVE UP.—If you are suffering with low and depressed spirits, loss of appetite, general debility, disordered blood, weak constitution, headache, or any other disease of a billious nature, by all means procure a bottle of Electric Bitters. You will be surprised to see the rapid improvement that will follow ; you will be inspired with new life ; strength and activity will return ; pain and misery will cease, and henceforth you will rejoice in the praise of Electric Bitters. Sold at 50 cents a bottle, by Taylor & Macdonald.—5

MARKET FEES.

Text of the New Bill Respecting Market Fees —Nature of the Proposed Restrictions.

The following is the text of the Bill introduced into the Ontario Legislature respecting market fees :—

Her Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, enacts as follows :—

1. Notwithstanding anything in "The Municipal Act," or the amendments thereto, or any by-law, rule, or regulation of any municipality or any usage or custom, it shall not after the first day of April, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two, be lawful for any municipality, or the officers and servants thereof, to impose, levy, or collect a market fee upon any wheat, barley, rye, corn, oats, or upon any other grain, or upon any hay or other seed, or wool, lumber, lath or shingles, or cordwood or other firewood, or upon dressed hogs, poultry, or cheese, or upon hay, straw, or other fodder that may be brought to market or to the market place for sale or other disposal, or upon the person bringing or the vehicle in which the same is or shall be brought; nor shall any fee be charged, levied, or imposed upon or in respect of butter or eggs brought to market, or upon the market place, for sale, unless a convenient, and fit place in which to offer or expose the same for sale shall be provided by the municipality which shall afford shelter in summer and shelter and reasonable protection from the cold in winter.

2. When the vendor of any merchandise, article, or articles brought to market for sale, in respect of which a market fee may be imposed, proceeds directly to the place of delivery thereof, without hawking the same upon the streets or elsewhere in the municipality than at such place of delivery, and without proceeding to or upon the market place with such aforesaid goods or articles, or any of them, it shall not be lawful for any municipality, or its officers or servants, to impose, levy, or collect a market fee thereon, or from or upon the person so bringing the same to market, or of or upon the vehicle in which the same shall be brought, if such articles or merchandise shall be so brought to market in pursuance of a prior or existing contract, or if the same shall not be brought into the municipality until after the hour of nine o'clock in the forenoon between the first days of November and April in any year, and after the hour of 10 o'clock in the forenoon between the 1st days of Nov. and April in each year and shall not be taken to or upon the market place, or hawked, offered for sale, or sold, otherwise than in this section hereinbefore particularly specified.

3. Nothing herein contained shall prevent a purchaser of hay or fodder before the delivery thereof, at his option, to require that the same shall be weighed when public weigh scales are provided, and the purchaser of wood may, at his option, require the same to be measured when the municipality appoints, authorizes or empowers a person to act as measurer.

4. No person who proceeds to and upon the market place, and exposes any of the goods in this Act mentioned for sale, shall by any by-law, rule or regulation, be required to remain with the same, or keep the same upon the said market place, before proceeding to sell the same elsewhere, beteween the first day of April and the first day of November in any year later than nine o'clock in the forenoon, and between the first day day of November and the first day of April in any year, later than ten o'clock in the forenoon.

5. No market fees shall be imposed by any municipality higher than those contained in the following scale :—

Upon articles brought to the market place in a vehicle drawn by two horses, upon which fees may be imposed, not more than ten cents.

Upon articles brought to the market place in a vehicle drawn by one horse, not more than five cents.

Upon articles brought to the market place by hand or in any basket or vessel, not more than two cents.

Upon or in respect of any live stock driven to or upon the market place for sale :—

Every horse, mare, or gelding, not more than ten cents.

Every head of horned cattle, not more than five cents.

Every sheep, calf or swine, not more than two cents.

And no fee shall be imposed or levied by any municipality for weighing or measuring greater than as follows :—

For weighing a load of hay, ten cents.

For weighing slaughtered meat, or grain, or other articles exposed for sale, under 100 pounds two cents.

Over 100 pounds and up to 1,000 pounds, five cents.

Over 1,000 pounds, ten cents.

For weighing live animals, other than sheep or pigs, per head three cents.

Sheep or pigs, if more than five, per head one cent.

If less than five, for the lot, four cents.

For measuring a load of wood, three cents.

6. Nothing herein contained shall prevent any city, town, or incorporated village from preventing or regulating the sale by retail in the public streets or on vacant lots adjacent thereto, of any of the articles hereinbefore mentioned which may be offered for sale, or for regulating the traffic in the streets, and preventing the blocking up of the same by vehicles or otherwise, as heretofore.

7. So much of any Act or Acts, law or laws, as contrary to or as conflict with this Act, are hereby repealed.

Why the Mustard was Applied.

To the Editor of the Montreal Star.

SIR,—Perhaps the public would like to know what offences were considered bad enough to be punished with a mustard plaster. Here they are :—

Ernest Long, first time for running away from the home, second time for taking a piece of bread.

John Whitcher, for seeing Long running away and not telling.

Andrew Craig, first time for telling a lie, and second for not cleaning the boots.

David Dunlop, for being sick in church.

John McMillan, for talking.

Frank Leonard, first time for asking if the mustard was hot, and second for taking out his sleigh.

Hugh McAdam, for taking a drive on his sleigh.

Willie McAdam, first time for disobedience and second for telling a lie.

James Haslett, for taking the wheels of Archie Harris' cart and putting them on a stick.

John Rae, Angus McMillan, Mary Ann Robb for weakness.

Francis Reddy, for telling a lie.

Bessie Hensley, first time for telling a lie second for misunderstanding Maggie Anderson.

Emma Brunnette, for breaking six plates.

Eliza Davies, for bad temper.

Henry Masters, for telling a lie.

Mrs. Greig put the mustard plaster on Eliza Davies with her own hands.

A FRIEND OF THE INSTITUTE.

P. S.—I forgot to state that Mrs. Greig was not in the habit of asking anyone's opinion about what she should do.

FROM ALL OVER.

AS A sign-board pointer to the gallows, Judge Porter's finger is entitled to the blue ribbon.—Denver Tribune.

WHEN A struggling horn-blower sees himself announced as a "cornet virtuoso," he becomes none the less attentive to the door-keeper's cash returns.

SHAKESPEARE modernized: The good die young. The bad live to lie about the weather, and are spoken of as the oldest inhabitants.

TIMELY WARNING.—Now is the season for sudden colds and distressing coughs, treat them with Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, it cures influenza, asthma, croup, whooping coughs, bronchitis, and all pulmonary complaints leading to consumption.

"PEOPLE who complain of the abundance of legislatures in this country will find consolation in the statement that Bengal lost 10,064 of its population by snake bites last year."

YOUNG and middle aged men suffering from nervous debility, premature old age, loss of memory, and kindred symptoms, should send three stamps for Part VII of phamplets issued by World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

NEAT, but not gaudy: Student (not very clear as to his lesson): "That's what the author says, anyway." Professor: "I don't want the author; I want you!" Student (despairingly): "Well you've got me."

MIDNIGHT DOCTORS are the most unwelcome visitors, even the doctor himself curses the luck that compelled him to leave his comfortable bed. Suppose you try our method, and keep a bottle of Perry Davis' Pain-Killer in the house, and let doctor Squills stay in his bed and enjoy himself.

JESSE ROBINSON was killed, and John Kyler and J. Keith fatally injured on Saturday, by the explosion of a blast. They were "picking out" in the Government quarry, near Cedar Creek, Ky.

A LITTLE daughter of L. Tourtolett, who separated from his wife, was abducted from her father's house on Friday evening. The woman in the house desperately resisted the robber, one firing at him.

"DON'T GIVE UP THE SHIP" were the memorable words of Commodore Perry. We repeat, "Don't Give up the Ship," poor, despairing involid, but try Burdock Blood Bitters. It cures others, why not you? It renovates, regulates and tones all the organs of secretion, and restores lost Vitality.

FELLOWS' Hypophosphites makes an old person look years younger. "This witness is true." Would that I could more widely make it known for its many virtues. Long may its inventor live to see the happy fruits of his invention. ALEXANDER CLARKE, D. D., Amherst, N. S.

LAME BACK.—Lumbago, Kidney complaint, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, and all pain and inflammation are speedily cured with Hagyard's Yellow Oil. Croup, sore throat, colds, burns, scalds, bruises, frost bites, chilblains and all wounds of the flesh are quickly healed by Yellow Oil.

THE Trinidad River is higher than since 1866. Large amounts of lumber, small houses, and driftwood, and considerable dead stock, are floating down. Trains on the Missouri Pacific, Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe, Texas Trunk, and Chicago, Texas & Mexican Central have been abandoned the past two days.

THE Battleford Herald of Dec. 13th says:—Grain threshing has been the order of the day for some time past in this neighbourhood, and we are happy to say that the outcome is satisfactory to the husbandmen throughout, as usual, the Battle River Valley. New settlers can make no mistake by locating in this fertile region with the railway in prospect.

HAD SUFFERED MANY PHYSICIANS and grew no better but rather worse. Mr. D. H. Howard, of Geneva, N. Y., after dismissing his physicians, tried nearly half a gross of the various blood and liver remedies advertised, no benefit; when one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters cured him of Paralysis and General Debility. At the advanced age of 60, he says he feels young again, and is overjoyed at his wonderful recovery.

"I'M PROUD of this town," said a little man, sitting before the stove with a pipe in his mouth. "Proud of it!" repeated the stranger at the bar, who turned around as he heard the words, and looked at the speaker with a look of infinite contempt. "What are you proud of it for?" "That's an easy one," returned the little man. "There are four cemeteries here, and I've got a wife in every one of 'em."

MILLIONS GIVEN AWAY.—Millions of bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, and Colds, have been given away as trial bottles of the large size. This enormous outlay would be disastrous to the proprietors, were it not for the rare merits possessed by this wonderful medicine. Call at Taylor & Macdonald's Drug Store, and get a trial bottle, and try for yourself. It never fails to cure.—5

WHEN you meet a friend whom you haven't seen for some time, don't fail to greet him with, "How old you have grown," or, "I hardly know you, you have changed so greatly." It will add so much to his joy in meeting you. It is astonishing how much a man enjoys being told that he isn't looking well, or to be asked if he is sick, especially when he isn't feeling quite his usual self.

DYSPEPSIA OF THIRTY YEARS' STANDING.—From J. T. Bowen, of East Aurora, N. Y.—"I was troubled with dyspepsia for thirty years, and tried several medicines advertised for the cure of this distressing complaint without deriving any benefit from them. About a year ago I commenced taking the Peruvian Syrup, and after using altogether twelve bottles I find myself entirely cured. I consider my case one of the worst I ever heard of, and I take great pleasure in recommending the Peruvian Syrup to all dyspeptics, believing that it will be sure to cure them." All druggists sell it

DURING a fight at Clinton, Mo., on Saturday, two miners named John Groger and Jack McKinzey pulled their pistols and began shooting. McKinzey killed a bystander named John Zeigel, and another named John Carpenter was shot through the hand. McKinzey was shot in the abdomen by Groger, but he was able to make his way to the woods and so escaped. No arrests have been made, but Sheriff Hopkins is on the trail of McKinzey and will overtake him in a few hours. The fight was the result of an old feud.

Meeting Mr. H. G. Keffer, treasurer of the Cleveland Herald, recently, a representative of the Cleveland, O., Penny Press, inquired of that gentleman, after stating his mission, if he personally knew anything about the Great German Remedy, St. Jacobs Oil. A smile played across Mr. Keffer's face and his eyes twinkled merrily as he replied in the affirmative,—"I will not refuse to state my experience with it, and you may use it as you think best. Four years ago I sprained one of my ankles, an accident which, as you are aware, entails much suffering and sometimes leaves the limb in a condition to remind one frequently of the old hurt. Unfortunately this result ensued. Whenever the weather became damp or my system absorbed the slightest cold my ankles pained me. This went on at intervals for over three years, and I could not obtain relief. Last winter I applied the St. Jacobs Oil and it entirely cured me. I have not since felt a return of the pain."

MANITOBA TOWN LOTS.

Charles Stapleton is instructed to Sell

On Friday Next, the 17th February

AT HIS AUCTION ROOMS, UNDER THE TOWN CLOCK, PETERBORO',

200 LOTS

IN

CRYSTAL CITY.

The mere announcement of lots for sale in this, the first important point settled in Southwestern Manitoba, will be sufficient to those acquainted with the country. First, also, in population, as well as in the fertility and natural advantages of its surroundings.

By Far the Largest Town in Rock Lake District!

Surveyed in 1880, it is no prospective town, but is a thriving place—a large business being done. Churches, Schools, Mills, Registry Office, Stores, and every essential to supplying the wants of a thickly populated section. The town site is the property of but one proprietor (Thos. Greenway, Esq., M. P. P.,) and his faith in the future of Crystal City is such that the proceeds of this, as well as of former sales, will be employed in fostering every legitimate industry and building up the town.

A REBATE OF FIFTY PER CENT.

Of purchase money to those who construct medium-priced brick or frame buildings within twelve months from sale. Within six months lots have advanced 200 per cent., and with early railway facilities this is but an intimation.

OVER 40 BUILDINGS NOW UNDER CONTRACT FOR EARLY SPRING COMPLETION!

As to the eligibility of investing, we refer intending purchasers to anyone acquainted with the Province, or to the shrewdness of speculators in Manitoba town property.

The mere fact that over 7,000 letters were posted at this office in one quarter will convey a partial idea of the volume of business done, as well as the population of the district.

No extended description of this point is required, for the merit of its natural advantages caused its survey. It has grown to its important position by its merits, and will be sold on the same.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Presentation.

At the regular weekly meeting of Peterborough Lodge, I. O. G. T., No. 340, Miss J. Brooke, who is about to move away from town was made the recipient of a handsome silver pickle cruet, as a mark of esteem. For many years Miss Brooke has been an active member of the Lodge and has contributed greatly to its welfare. The following address was read by Mrs. H. Nesbitt, and Mrs. J. Mowry presented the gift :—

Peterborough, Feb. 14th, 1881.

DEAR MISS BROOKE,—Having heard that you are about to leave this Lodge, we desire to express our sorrow at parting with you. Ever since you joined us you have endeavoured to help us in every way in your power, and we shall ever hold you in grateful remembrance, and on behalf of the the officers and member, of this Lodge, I now present you with this small gift, wishing that you may have a long and happy life, and that at last we may all meet in that great temple above.

Signed on behalf of the Lodge,
MRS. H. NESBITT.

Miss Brooke, in reply said that it grieved her greatly to part with the members of the lodge. She had watched its progress ever since she joined, and was glad to say that it had increased largely in membership, and her earnest wish was that it always might continue to prosper. If in the future she was not present in person she would be present in spirit at all meetings. She closed an admirable reply by returning thanks for the handsome gift.

Personal.

The many friends of the Rev. Mr. Stobo will be glad to learn that he has been able to leave his bed for the last two day, after having been confined to it for nearly six weeks. Though it is gratifying to be able to announce this improvement, we regret to say that Mr. Stobbo's medical attendant, considers that he is far from being restored to health, and that it must require many weeks of rest and careful nursing before he can be fit to resume active ministerial duties.

Mr. John Benson of Winnipeg is here. He talks of trading off an 8 x 10 lot in the Prairie City for the whole town.

Mr. Donoghue, formerly proprietor of the Rossin House, Winnipeg, is at present sojourning in Peterborough. He likes the look of the coming railway centre.

T.V.C.

In the House of Commons on Monday Mr. Hector Cameron, M.P., North Victoria, gave a notice of motion that he would move to ascertain whether the location and survey of the Trent Valley Canal has been completed, and if not what progress has been made with it and when it will be completed; and whether any report has been made by the engineer in charge of the survey since the former report was made by Mr. Stark, C.E., confirming or differing from the last mentioned report as to the probable cost and practicability of the work, and whether it is the intention of the Government to recommend to Parliament the construction of the work.

To the Charge.

On hearing that Manitoba needed eight hundred marriageable females, some one of a poetical turn of mind committed the following :—

Winnipeg, Winnipeg,
To Winnipeg onward,
All to the marriage mart,
Send the eight hundred.
Forward the bride brigade!
Charge girls! Who's afraid?
Into the marriage mart,
Go it, eight hundred!

THE MIDLAND RAILWAY.

The Question of Consolidation Considered by the Railway Committee.

TORONTO, Feb. 15.—There was a large number of railway magnates and railway lawyers present at the meeting of the legislative railway committee yesterday, when the bill to consolidate the Toronto and Nipissing, the Whitby, Port Perry and Lindsay, the Victoria, the Toronto and Ottawa, the Grand Junction, and the Midland Railways, under the name of "The Midland Railway of Canada, was considered. There was a full attendance of members.

TERMS OF AMALGAMATION.

The bill provides that an agreement made by these companies and embodied in the act, shall be valid and binding. The agreement recites that the companies desire to secure the construction of the Sault line, and that their consolidation would give greater financial strength and unity of action, and would also benefit the public by giving more efficient train service, and greater traffic facilities generally, than they could otherwise do. The capital stock is to be $6,600,000 in shares of $50, to be allotted proportionally to holders of shares in the contracting companies. It authorizes the company to make traffic arrangements with the Sault company by securing the interest on the bonds of that company, or some part of them to be sanctioned by two-thirds of the shareholders present in person or by proxy. The chief office is to be at Peterborough or Toronto, or such other place in the province as the directors may select.

FOR AND AGAINST.

Representatives from all the railways interested were present. The chairman read a petition from the Belleville council against the bill, the grounds of antagonism being that $150,000 was given the Grand Junction line on condition that it was to be an independent line, that the principal officers were to be at Belleville, that cordwood was to be conveyed at certain specified rates, and that six directors and the mayor were to be appointed to the railway board to represent Belleville, all of which conditions were proposed to be dispensed with by the bill, though Belleville has to pay $9,000 a year in aid of the company. Mayor Billings, of Whitby, and W. C. Grace, of Lindsay, where heard in opposition to the bill. They claimed that the consolidation would destroy competition. Mayor Taylor, of Lindsay, was also heard. Both Mr. Henderson, city solicitor of Belleville, and Mr. Robinson, secretary of the Grand Junction, spoke against the bill. Hon. Mr. Wood did not see that there was any objection to the amalgamation, provided that certain rights of the municipalities could be secured. He thought that the difficulty could be arranged by legislation to secure fair rates, and giving the government power to revise the tariff. Mr. Ferris, whose name appears on the bill, asserted that though Belleville had at one time claimed to control the Grand Junction railway she afterwards willingly surrendered her position, and gave up her representatives on the board of directors, consenting that the shareholders should select a board to suit themselves. In reply to Mr. Pardee, Mr. Bell, Q.C., of Belleville, said the agreement signed by the six companies was unanimously assented to at the meetings held by each, at least there was no dissenting voice heard.

AMENDMENTS BY THE COMMITTEE.

After considerable further discussion the bill was taken up section by section. The style under which the act should be known and the first section were passed. The second section, confirming the agreement in the schedule, was allowed to stand. In the third section a clause was inserted providing that the Mayor of Belleville should be an ex-officio director. The fourth and fifth sections were passed. The sixth section, regarding the application of the assets of the companies consolidated, was allowed to stand until the second section was passed. The representatives of the various roads stated that they had no floating debt. When the tenth section, giving powers to construct branch lines, was reached, Mr. Pardee said he thought it was an attempt to get power to construct lines wherever they liked. The clause was vicious in principle. Mr. Bell explained that it was meant to give them power to construct branch lines to mines. It was allowed to remain over to be amended in a way providing that the Victoria and Grand Junction should have power to construct branches in certain districts. The fifteenth section was struck out as useless. The twenty-fourth, twenty-fifth, and twenty-sixth sections were allowed to stand over for further consideration. Mr. Bell, in answer to a question from the chairman stated that the amount of the bonds proposed to be issued by the company exceeded by $2,000,000 the amount of the bonds now issued. A portion of the money would be used in building the line from Peterborough to Ottawa. He read the amendments proposed to be added to the bill, providing that the rates of freight should be regulated by the directors, subject to approval and revision by the lieutenant-governor in council.

The chairman, in adjourning the meeting, said that when the consideration of the bill was resumed to-day the committee would require from the promoters of the measure a detailed statement with regard to the allotment of surplus stock.—World.

Successful.

The Rocky Mountain News of a recent date contain the following :—

"The Denver Co-operative Loan, Building and Homestead Association is now paying its stockholders a final dividend of $795.00 per share at the office of David Rubidge, treasurer, 357 Arapahoe street, Denver, Col. Since Feb. 2nd, 128 shares have been redeemed, amounting to $101,760.00."

Mr. Rubidge, who formerly resided in Port Hope is well known here, and his many friends will be pleased to learn that he is prospering in his adopted home.

The Weather.

The weather continues remarkably fine and warm, and is far more like summer than the middle of February, but it cannot last long. The weather probabilities for this district for the following 24 hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a.m. to-day, by the Great North-Western Telegraph Company, are as follows :—Lakes—Southerly to westerly winds, continued fine mild weather to-day, local rains to-morrow.

For Sale.

The residence of the late Mrs. Cottingham will be offered for sale in the early part of March. Intending purchasers can inspect the house on application to the man it charge. The furniture will be offered for sale at the same time.

Pantomime and Charade.

A grand entertainment will take place in the Opera House, to-morrow night at 8 o'clock. The programme presents some new features. Proceeds for St. Luke's parsonage. Admission 25 cents, reserved seats 35 cents.

Sudden Death.

Many of our readers, to whom he was personally known, will be grieved to learn of the death of Mr. George Fitzaerald, formerly of the township of Smith. Only two weeks ago he left Peterborough for Courtright in the county of Lambton, where he had purchased a farm. When he left here he was apparently enjoying the best of health and spoke highly of his future prospects. On Tuesday his relatives received the sad news of his death, which took place on the preceding day. From the meagre information obtainable, we gather that he had been suffering for two days only from malarial fever, before he died. He was aged 51 years and was probably one of the best and most favorably known men in Smith. His remains will arrive here to-morrow and will be interred in the Methodist Cemetery.

What it Was.

The shock felt and the report heard on Tuesday evening was not an earthquake, it was simply the noise made by Lieutenant Sanderson's artillery company while practising with one of the Durham Field Battery cannons. We understand that under the tuition of that officer, the boys are rapidly becoming adepts in handling ordnance. As this was the first time that the company drilled in public, the small boy was numerous, and never took his eye off the cannon until it was stored away in the drill shed.

A Spur Line.

The Midland Railway engineers are at work locating a spur line from Downer's corner on the Grand Junction division, to the main track of the Midland. The line will cross the river in the neighbourhood of the Locks. This will lessen the distance to Peterborough very considerably and will be very handy.

Port Hope's Carnival.

On Friday night next a grand masquerade skating carnival takes place at Port Hope. We understand that if the weather is favourable, quite a large number—probably thirty—will go down from Peterborough.

The Fever.

Messrs R. Nimmo and H. Long have gone to Winnipeg to have a look at the country. A large number of others are going in a few weeks, some to remain there permanently.

AN ORDINARY day's business on 'Change at Chicago is sales of about 10,000,000 bushels of grain. Saturday's sales are estimated at nearly 30,000,000. One of the Cincinnati operators is reported to have cleared up $75,000 in quietly scalping the market.

DRUGGISTS throughout the country testify to the great merits of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. No medicine they sell acts so promptly in curing Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, &c. Have you tried it? J. D. Tully, agent for Peterboro'.

TWO ORGANS.—Regulate first the stomach, second the liver; especially the first, so as to perform their functions perfectly and you will remove at least nineteen-twentieths of all the ills that mankind is heir to, in this or any other climate. Hop Bitters is the only thing that will give perfectly healthy natural action to these two organs.—Maine Farmer.

FROM HAMILTON.—A gentleman writes : "I have suffered for over four years with night losses and general weakness, caused by abuse. I had tried all the advertised medicines, and a number of eminent doctors, and found no relief or benefit. I have used twelve boxes of Mack's Magnetic Medicine, and am entirely restored." See advertisement in another column.

HOW TO CURE A COLD.—Upon the first feeling of chill or shivering remain indoors if possible, bathe the feet in tepid water, gradually increasing the heat as long as it can be comfortably borne, drink freely of warm ginger tea or sage tea, to induce perspiration, and take Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam according to directions on the bottle. Hagyard's Balsam cures coughs, asthma, and bronchitis.

THE DEAD CANNOT BE RAISED nor if your lungs are badly wasted away can you be cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." It is, however, unequalled as a tonic, alternative, and nutritive, and readily cures the most obstinate cases of bronchitis, coughs, colds, and incipient consumption, far surpassing in efficacy cod liver oil. Send two stamps for Dr. Pierce's phamplet on Consumption and Kindred Affections. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y.

STRIKING THE BULL'S EYE!

Experience tells that there is as much at all times and unusually more real cheapness in a fairly good article of any kind than in an inferior or poor thing, however little money it may cost.

Even more important is it to those who have a moderate sum to spend that they spend it wisely, and make the dollars do all the work they can.

A poor thing at a trifling cost, bought over and over, soon eats up twice the cost of a good one, which can yet be of moderate price with tenfold satisfaction in its use.

If you buy cotton, buy what is good of its kind and for the use needed. It is the cheapest. If you buy linen, buy that which is linen, even for common use. Common goods involve only greater wear.

If you want anything to wear, buy goods that are perfect of their kind.

Thin, sleazy, irregularly made goods don't wear well, starch don't add strength to any fabric.

If you buy wool goods, buy those you can depend on—the wool of the sheep, and not the wool of the mill that makes it of woollen rags.

Finally if you want to buy anything in the foregoing articles, you will find them—and of the right quality too, and right in price, at our new stores. A heavy stock of all lines in now, and new goods still coming in daily.

Remember the stores, 1 and 2, Cluxton's Block, corner of George and Hunter Streets.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

SOLVED LIFE'S PROBLEM

John Phelan, of the Fourth Ward, Suicides.

HE CUTS HIS THROAT WITH A KEEN RAZOR.

OVER INDULGENCE IN LIQUOR SAID TO BE THE CAUSE OF THE ACT.

Found by his Son lying dead in his Bedroom—A Ghastly Spectacle—He Severs the Jugular Vein and Dies Instantly—An Inquest opened and Adjourned.

Seldom does it become our duty as journalists to record a case of suicide, occurring within the confines of our quiet and orderly town, but however painful it may be, on this occasion we are compelled to record a case of self-destruction, by a man who for the last thirty years or more has been a resident of the town of Peterborough.

On Wednesday evening between five and six o'clock a rumor flew through the town that John Phelan who resided in the northern portion of the town, just above Hall's or Martyn's grist-mill, had taken his own life and that his body had been found lying in a pool of blood, on the floor of his own bedroom.

As naturally might be expected, the information caused a thrill of horror to pass through the blood of those who heard the report. A representative of the Review, in order to ascertain its truth or falsity, at once proceeded to the residence of John Phelan, and soon found that the report was too true, and that John Phelan had indeed "solved the great mystery," and was lying cold in the arms of death, with a horrible gash, self inflicted, across the centre of his throat, stretching nearly from ear to ear and actually severing the jugular vein and wind-pipe. A large pool of blood was beside him on the floor, and a very sharp razor found near his right hand soon told the story of the suicide, far better than words could tell it.

The victim of his own rashness was first discovered about five o'clock by one of his sons, a young lad, aged probably 12 or 13 years, on his return from school. The house is a very small one and contains but two rooms, a kitchen and a bedroom, both of very limited proportions. The bedroom contains two beds, each up against the wall on either side and between the beds is a passage probably three feet wide. In this passage, with his feet towards the door, young Phelan found his father. The young fellow was at first so frightened that he did not know what to do, but he soon gathered his wits and alarmed the neighbors, and then ran down street and informed some relatives. As quick as possible, medical aid was summoned, but it was found that long ere that the vital spark had fled, and John Phelan was beyond all human aid.

Acting on the advice of the surgeons who had been called in, Dr. Fife, coroner, was informed of the dreadful affair, and after viewing the body and giving necessary directions, he swore out a warrant and instructed Chief Johnston to summon a jury for the purpose of holding an inquest.

The deceased was aged about 55 years, and was a laborer by occupation. For a time he worked on one of the western railways as a navvy. He afterwards was employed as a night watchman by one of the saw mills in the Georgian Bay District, and afterwards at Nassau Mills by Messrs. Irwin and Boyd. Those who knew him personally, state that he was a very quiet inoffensive man, but was too fond of intoxicating liquor, and probably while suffering from the effects of drink, he was prompted to do the rash act, which carried desolation to his family and friends.

The deceased leaves a widow and a large number of children, eleven, it is said, to mourn his untimely end.

THE INQUEST.

Coroner Fife after swearing in a jury who chose Mr. W. Lilley as their foreman, opened an inquest at the late residence of deceased. The jury examined the body, and after being instructed as to their duties, at considerable length, by the coroner, agreed to adjourn until eight o'clock on Thursday evening, to meet at the office of the Collector of Taxes.

STEAMSHIP DISASTER.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—The steamer Bahama whose loss was reported last night, was valued at $100,000. The cargo was worth about the same. It is claimed that she was unseaworthy. The vessel belonged to the Quebec and Gulf Ports Steamship Co. The following were lost: Astwood, Captain; E. Field, Bermuda; Heyghton, Chief Engineer, New York; Jas. Sutton, Purser; Robt. Foster, Geo. Foster, G. Thomas, McCarthy P. Ryan, Jno. Smith, Chas. O'Brien, Wm. Wattaran, Paul Bickner, and G. Dubois, all of Quebec. A white man from Porto Rico, belonging to Ottawa, Canada, whose name is unknown, was a passenger. A colored man, a native of Porto Rico, was also a passenger. John Williams, of Halifax, Charles and John Peterson, both of Sweden, J. Ferrill, St. John, N. F., total, 20. There were only four passengers, two of whom were rescued. An unknown man from Porto Rico, ran below to secure his clothing while his companions were leaving the sinking ship. He was undoubtedly washed overboard. Scarcely had the captain's boat rowed 20 yards from the sinking ship when a great wave overwhelmed it. The occupants of the other boat heard an awful shriek above the the howling gale and then all was over. For a moment they saw the captain's boat floating capsized, with here and there a hand strecthed appealingly for help. All were drowned but two. A sailor, of herculean build fought the sea with the strength of despair until he reached the steamer, he dragged himself up on deck when with a wild glance he saw the direction of the second boat, and sprang into the waves to swim towards it. He was not seen again. Another of those in the captain's boat reached the steamer. He clung to the shrouds and pilot house. His appeal for help could be heard by his fast receding comrades, above the fury of the storm. The persons in the second boat owe their lives to the skill of the second officer, Robert Ross. The boat was of iron, only 13 feet in length and 12 people were crowded into her so that her gunwales were scarcely above the water. The sea ran mountains high. The survivors were in the boat 12 hours before they were rescued. They were exhausted and famished. It is barely possible that the men who remained on the Bahama were taken off by a passing barque.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1882.

CANADIAN PARLIAMENT.

THE address was moved in French by Mr. Bergeron, and second by Mr. Guillet, of West Northumberland, Mr. Blake who spoke next complimenting these gentlemen upon their speeches. He moved no amendment, and after Sir John Macdonald had replied, the address was carried.

A great number of the departmental reports were presented immediately after the address was agreed to.

Sir John Macdonald on Tuesday gave an explanation of the ministerial changes.

Mr. Blake, Sir R. Cartwright and Mr. Anglin, in default of good reason for criticism, raked up some old Nova Scotian debates in anti-confederation times when Sir C. Tupper and the Hon. Mr. McLelan were opposed to each other, but they were signally discomfitted in this mean attempt to resuscitate disputes that happily have long ago been terminated. Sir R. Cartwright was reminded of his own acknowledged duplicity in making one statement to capitalists in England, and another widely different in his place in parliament and on the platform—also of the uncomplimentary discription of him, by the chief organ of his new allies as a mixer and muddler of figures. Mr. Anglin was asked to recall the fact that after stating that certain gentlemen were only fit for the penitentiary, and using other violent language about them, which he had never retracted, he had accepted from them the Speakership, using that position for his own pecuniary benefit by obtaining from them contracts for Government printing. Mr. Blake, however, fitly came in for the greatest share of the well deserved castigation. It was shown how he had successively undermind his leaders, Mr. McKellar and Mr. Mackenzie, and how he had deserted the latter in times of need—how he had degraded himself by plotting with a member of the government to betray his colleagues, the reward of his treachery being a judicial office. In vain Mr. Blake and once again endeavoured to excuse himself to quibble over these charges, for as member after member who had sat with him in the Ontario Legislature confirmed the accusation of his inviting Mr. Wood to betray his own administration, he vainly attempted to put a favourable canstruction upon the words "you had better speak now" which he had to confess he had written to the traitor.

Sir C. Tupper, in the course of the debate dared the Opposition to make in the House any of the charges against his management of his department, which their organs were so fond of insinuating in their columns, while their parliamentary leaders did not dare to sustain these falsehoods, but could only assail him with regard to Nova Scotian politics of fifteen years ago. His old opponents there had since become his friends and supporters.

Mr. McLelan stated that Sir C. Tupper had been completely cleared from the charges made against him in Nova Scotia.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

A motion by Mr. Meredith for a return of members who had been appointed to office led to a discussion, which showed that the Reformers had, as usual, acted systematically in disregard of their professions while in opposition.

Mr Hay moved for returns of the grants to agricultural societies

Mr Wood supported the present system.

A motion by Mr. Meredith for correspondence with the Dominion, as to removing County Court Judges, led to another discussion as to Dominion or Provincial jurisdiction.

On Tuesday Mr. Wood made his budget speech showing receipts for 1881, $2,746,772, and expenditure $2,585,063. He estimated the revenue for 1882 at $2,848,900 or a balance over estimated expenditure of $520,515. The surplus he placed at four millions and a half, the greater portion however, as on previous occasions, being made up from trust funds, share of library etc. He took up a large portion of his speech with an attack upon the Dominion Government about the provincial boundary.

Mr Meredith criticised the Treasurer's speech, and showed the fallacy of his pretensions to economy.

Mr. Creighton's motion for the second reading of his bill enabling County Councils to fix the salaries of gaolors led to a discussion, which further exposed the practice of the Mowat Administration of seizing upon patronage for the benefit of their friends. The motion was negatived by 50 to 25.

SECRETARY-TREASURER.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—Last week your talented correspondent instead of meeting my defence on the point raised by him, evades the matter altogether, and by insinuation introduces others which are foreign to the subject under discussion.

He attributes what he terms my "vindictiveness" to his victory at the recent school election—a victory which I have reason to believe, can be accounted for in a large measure by a number of misrepresentations which were made to the electors during that memorable campaign. Mr. S. having obtained what he seems to consider a life lease of the offices of Clerk and Treasurer in this municipality, the unlucky individual who dares to question the right or propriety of his continuing to fill both said offices at once becomes the object of his attacks.

I have not taken up the political cry which has been so frequently raised in our municipal and other local contests, nor joined the faithful brigade with Mr. S. as the recognized leader, in voting the Conservative ticket irrespective of the candidate's merits as a private citizen or his public qualifications. For my wavering career in this respect, I am accused of being "easily led," and have caused such friends as Mr. S. painful regret. Ever since I have had the privilege of using the franchise I have invariably cast my vote with the Conservative party at every Dominion and Provincial election, and as far as I know at present will continue to do so in the future, and I challenge Mr. S. to prove anything to the contrary. But while I have followed that course with regard to parliamentary elections, I have always maintained that politics should not enter into our local contests, having always voted on the candidates' private merits or his public qualifications, irrespective of his political leanings.

The course I have taken in the past regarding these matters I still intend to pursue in the future, even though I am denounced as a tool in the hands of designing men.

Lest there should be any misconception on the part of your numerous readers, I wish to state that in speaking of Mr. S.'s few followers, ardent admirers, and the faithful brigade, I do not include all who voted for him at the recent election, but simply those who are ever ready to do his bidding.

Respectfully yours,
W. J. WALLACE.

DIVISION COURT.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R.R. is now assured, and guarantees to settlers cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific, together with the construction of the network of 700 miles of railroad by the O. R. & N. Co. in the valleys of the great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the lands now open to purchase and pre-emption. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future.

CROWN JEWEL FLOUR!

This Flour is made of No. 1 Hard Wheat by the new process, combined with the best methods and machinery in operation in the best Hungarian Mills, and will produce from 30 to 40 pounds more Bread per Barrel than the best superior wheat flour. Therefore, the first cost though higher, is fully compensated in the increased yield of Bread as well as being a much better quality and more nutritious, having a much larger percentage of gluten and less starch than ordinary wheat flour. To those who may not be familiar with the use of this kind of Flour, we suggest mixing it moderately soft, which will require considerably more water than is ordinarily used.

Knead thoroughly, and bake with a strong heat and in such a manner that bottom and top shall be equally well baked.

DUNHAM, P. Q., March 10th, 1879.
DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Gents:—About a year ago I fell in the road on to some ice and was badly hurt in the hip joint, which caused me much suffering. I tried various remedies, but none gave relief until I tried Kendall's Spavin Cure. I applied it full strength twice a day for two weeks during last October, and it effected a perfect cure I have since then been well and free from lameness. It is very valuable for man as well as for beast.

THE GOLDEN WEDDING.

BY ROBERT P. GALES.

The minstrel's harp was daintily strung,
And empearled like a shell of the sea;
Sweet rang the chords he swept as he sung
In the pride of his minstrelsy.

And amid the strings of the harp somewhere,
But where could never be told;
For all were gilded to see and fair,
There nestled one string of gold.

And whatever tones the minstrel brought
From the chords he waked from sleeping,
Into the music all unsought
A thrilling sound came creeping.

For high above the pulsing beat,
The surge of the song and the shiver,
With a sound more clear and a note more sweet
The golden string would quiver.

And souls peered out from their prison bars,
As the worldlings stopped to listen,
And thought of something beyond the stars,
And dull eyes 'gan to glisten.

And those whose grief had choked them, broke
At the sound of the harp into sobbing;
For in every heart an echo woke
From the gold string and its throbbing.

And mortals thought that one sweet note
Had slipped through the great pearl portal,
Down the dim depths of space afloat
To earth from the choir immortal.

* * * * * * *

But the fountain drops plash with a liquid chime
On the brook which flows to the sea;
And we are but drops in the sea of Time,
As it sweeps to Eternity.

* * * * * * *

So there came a dawn in the early spring,
When never a song remains unsung,
When birds are highest on the wing,
And grass, the world again feels young.

The meadows sparkled with morning dew,
Twittered the birds in their wild-wood bower;
They rustled their little throats and grew
Half mad with joy of the passing hour.

The nightingale piped his lustiest lay,
(Now was the time for a song or never)
The sweet time rose and died away,
But the minstrel's harp had died forever.

The breeze all wanton touched the springs,
But they echo back no token,
And the mourners sobbed as the sun went down,
For the golden string lay broken.

HEALTH IN EDUCATION.

It is necessary that the posture of the child should be considered and nothing be strained in it. If limbs become cramped, or the neck be strained, we cannot expect a child to apply its mind to the object before it. The child has not the strength to overcome these obstacles and go on learning; it hesitates and stutters and is at fault, and has to suffer for the uncomfortable seats and benches that have been provided for it. Continued attention on any subject is already a great task for a child, and when that task is made more difficult by physical conditions, it is hard to expect the child to do its duty.

In many a school half the children are provided with seats that enjoy good light, while others are half in darkness. Now it has for some time been recognized that proper light is one of the most necessary things for all mental work, and particularly for that which requires the use of the eyesight. In many a school the books used are printed in by far too small a type, and are, as it is, injurious for constant application, but when this is aggravated by bad light it becomes positively hurtful to the child. If the school-room admits only of a certain number of scholars to enjoy proper light, then only a certain number should be put into it, since we have no right to ruin or weaken a child's eyesight, because that child is to learn a certain number of lessons.

The time will come when it will be found necessary to limit classes, because it is impossible to congregate unreasonable numbers for any length of time and give them rooms that can be sufficiently ventilated and kept sweet and wholesome. Children must first of all be made comfortable, before we can expect their young brains to work in the right direction. Just look at the little ones in that close room; they are fidgety and uncomfortable—they do not know themselves why. Their attention becomes distracted from the lesson taught, because their physical condition is not pleasant and congenial. Some, stronger than others, manage to give good answers, others do not; they are lowered, or punished, for what? For the fault of their elders, who had not sense enough to know what child-life could bear, and what it could not bear.

Again, see those shivering children on a cold Winter's day. The room is but partially warmed, and it is impossible to get into a comfortable state in it. The scholars feel uncomfortable, and cannot exercise their brain power; no one thinks of this circumstance, and they are found fault with, when they are not to blame.

The time will come when we shall enquire whether it is possible for any child to go from one subject to another without intermediate relaxation. The jumping from one lesson to another is not education, and only produces loss of power and loss of time. Before the child's mind can divert itself from the associations of one subject, it is already called upon to engage upon another and give it all its attention. It is for many children an impossible feat, and produces that want of application of which so many teachers complain. We allow the earth to get rid of one product before we put into it another, Can we not do the same with children and allow them sufficient time to be ready for the new impression. Would it not be much easier for teachers to have their scholars always ready and prepared for their teaching than to drag them to it by main force and find them wanting? Let, therefore, but ten minutes intervene between lessons, and it will not be lost, but enhance the value of the instruction to be given.

Unless education cultivates health, it is merely a cramming process of little value, that will never benefit the child in after life.—Food and Health.

The Scientific American Offices.

We are glad to announce that the Scientific American came out of the late fire in New York like the fabled Phœnix, with renewed life. The subscription lists, account books, patent records, patent drawings, and correspondence were preserved in massive fire-proof safes. The printing of the Scientific American and Supplement was done in another building; consequently the types, plates, presses, paper, etc., were unharmed, and no interruption of business was occasioned.

The new Scientific American offices are located at 216 Broadway, corner of Warren Street, a very central and excellent situation. Here, in addition to the issuing of their interesting publications, Messrs. Munn & Co., aided by trained examiners and draughtsmen, prepare specifications and drawings for American and Foreign patents. If any of our readers should happen to make a new discovery (we hope every one of them may do so, and gain a fortune), they have only to drop a line to Munn & Co., 261 Broadway, New York, who will reply at once, without charge, stating whether the invention is probably novel and patentable. A handbook of instructions, with full particulars, will also be sent, free. Messrs. Munn & Co., have had over thirty-five years' experience in the business.

FROM ALL OVER.

THE London Times announces on good authority that the government has decided to buy up the telephone companies in Great Britain.

THE late bibliophile, Lord Spencer, during a year's stay in Rome, devoted his whole attention to a search for the original edition of Martial, and having found it, posted straight home in high spirits, without having visited St. Peter's or the Coliseum.

MIDNIGHT DOCTORS are the most unwelcome visitors, even the doctor himself curses the luck that compelled him to leave his comfortable bed. Suppose you try our method, and keep a bottle of Perry Davis' Pain-Killer in the house, and let doctor Squills stay in his bed and enjoy himself.

SOUTH KENSINGTON has received from the late Mr. John Jones, of London, who made a fortune as a tailor, a noble collection of art objects, the value of which is computed to be $2,500,000. It comprises pictures, antique furniture, Sevres porcelain, miniatures and enamels.

THE finding of an extensive deposit of magnetic iron ore is reported from Leeds Township, in the county of Megantic, Que. The deposit, which shows excellent surface indications, is within eight miles of railway communication by the International road.

FELLOWS' Hypophosphites makes an old person look years younger. "This witness is true." Would that I could more widely make it known for its many virtues. Long may its inventor live to see the happy fruits of his invention. ALEXANDER CLARKE, D. D., Amherst, N. S.

Now that Mr. Blake has gone to Ottawa, and Moses Oates can gain nothing by being mistaken for the leader of the opposition, he has donned a hat of plugular or stove-pipe build. "It is one I bought seven years ago," said Moses, "for funeral going, and it does seem ancient, but it makes me looked at, and you know it is notoriety I am after."

MILLIONS GIVEN AWAY.—Millions of bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, and Colds, have been given away as trial bottles of the large size. This enormous outlay would be disastrous to the proprietors, were it not for the rare merits possessed by this wonderful medicine. Call at Taylor & Macdonald's Drug Store, and get a trial bottle, and try for yourself. It never fails to cure.—5

THE Rev. Knox-Little, Canon of Worcester cathedral, and Vicar of St. Albans at Manchester, England, lectured on Wednesday night at St. George's church, in Stuyvesant square, New York, on "Overcoming the World." The church was crowded. The canon returns to England a week from to-day for the Lenten services at Worcester cathedral, and in May he expects to sail for Australia. He is in America for his health, the doctors thinking that a change of air and a sea voyage might benefit his lungs, which trouble him greatly. There is no truth in the rumour that he is in trouble with his parish at home.

PEOPLE of advanced ideas are never slow to recognize that which will result in the greatest benefit to their health, wealth and happiness; such people never fail to perceive the great benefit resulting from the use of St. Jacobs Oil, when afflicted by rheumatism. Wm. H. Wareing, Esq., Asst. General Superintendent, Third Division Mailing and Distributing Department, New York Post Office, in writing concerning St. Jacobs Oil says: The reports from the several clerks and superintendents who have used the Oil agree in praising it highly. It has been found efficacious in cuts, burns, soreness and stiffness of the joints and muscles, and affords a ready relief for rheumatic complaints. Hon. T. L. James, now Postmaster-General of the United States, concurred in the foregoing.

BRITISH Bastile Robinson has been and gone and done it. He has let the cat out of the bag. He thinks that no man of American blood can stand on the floor of Congress and discuss the Irish question without "the indignant blood rushing to his head." It is a common symptom of mental aberration that the patient imagines other people to be suffering from the very complaint under which he is labouring. The next time Mr. Robinson rises to speak on this subject they should have a surgeon handy with a lancet and a bag of ice.

IS IT A HUMBUG? Some people think all proprietary medicines humbugs. In this they must be mistaken. A cough medicine like N. H. Downs' Elixir that has stood the racket of 52 years must have some virtue, and must cure the diseases for which it is recommended, or people would not continue to buy and use it as they do. It seems to us that even if we knew nothing of its merits, the fact of its large and continually increasing sale justifies us in recommending Down's Elixir to all who may need a reliable cough medicine.

DYSPEPSIA OF THIRTY YEARS' STANDING.—From J. T. Bowen, of East Aurora, N. Y.—"I was troubled with dyspepsia for thirty years, and tried several medicines advertised for the cure of this distressing complaint without deriving any benefit from them. About a year ago I commenced taking the Peruvian Syrup, and after using altogether twelve bottles I find myself entirely cured. I consider my case one of the worst I ever heard of, and I take great pleasure in recommending the Peruvian Syrup to all dyspeptics, believing that it will be sure to cure them." All druggists sell it

The mere announcement of lots for sale in this, the first important point settled in Southwestern Manitoba, will be sufficient to those acquainted with the country. First, also, in population, as well as in the fertility and natural advantages of its surroundings.

By Far the Largest Town in Rock Lake District!

Surveyed in 1880, it is no prospective town, but is a thriving place—a large business being done. Churches, Schools, Mills, Registry Office, Stores, and every essential to supplying the wants of a thickly populated section. The town site is the property of but one proprietor (Thos. Greenway, Esq., M. P. P.,) and his faith in the future of Crystal City is such that the proceeds of this, as well as of former sales, will be employed in fostering every legitimate industry and building up the town.

A REBATE OF FIFTY PER CENT.

Of purchase money to those who construct medium-priced brick or frame buildings within twelve months from sale. Within six months lots have advanced 200 per cent., and with early railway facilities this is but an intimation.

OVER 40 BUILDINGS NOW UNDER CONTRACT FOR EARLY SPRING COMPLETION!

As to the eligibility of investing, we refer intending purchasers to anyone acquainted with the Province, or to the shrewdness of speculators in Manitoba town property.

The mere fact that over 7,000 letters were posted at this office in one quarter will convey a partial idea of the volume of business done, as well as the population of the district.

No extended description of this point is required, for the merit of its natural advantages caused its survey. It has grown to its important position by its merits, and will be sold on the same.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Railway Notes.

Mr. Beemer, of Montreal, the contractor for the "Missing Link," and his foreman are here, preparatory to commencing work.

Mr J. C. Bailey, Consulting Engineer of the Midland is here.

The Spur line engineers are making good progress, and will have very little trouble in securing an excellent connection below the locks. This will necessitate the building of another bridge.

The Port Hope Times says that it is now perfectly well known that the head offices of the Midland Railway will be at Peterborough, and it is also put down as a certainty that the Midland shops will be moved there eventually.

A handsome new passenger coach has been brought from the Cobourg Car Works, and is now running on the Midland. The new smoking and postal car in the course of construction at the Midland shops at Port Hope, is about completed, and will be on the road in the course of nine or ten days.

The Port Hope Times says that Mr. Richard Fogarty has just completed a new set of headlinings for one of the new passenger coaches of the Midland Railway, which reflect great credit on his skill as an artist and designer. The design is original, while the colors are bright and tastefully arranged, so that when placed in position they cannot fail to give the car a very pleasant appearance. This piece of work will place Mr. Fogarty in the foremost rank of those engaged in this class of work.

It is expected that the new Midland time table will come into effect about the first of March. We will then have five trains each way on the Midland line each day, and Lakefield two. The morning and night trains will leave and arrive here at the same time, but additional accommodated will be afforded during the day.

The Globe says that the consideration of the Midland Amalgamation Bill was resumed by the Railway Committee on Wednesday morning.

The twenty-sixth section, relating to the stock in the consolidated company, was adopted.

The tenth section, providing for the construction of branch lines, being considered too general in its provisions, an amendment was substituted empowering the company, in order to connect the road with iron mines in Snowdon, Glamorgan, Galway and Lutterworth, to build sidings on the branches from the line of the Victoria Railway by such routes as might be found best to the mines in those townships, and also to extend the Grand Junction from its terminus in Madoc to the village of Bancroft, in Faraday Township, to the mines in that place, and passing by the iron mines situated between these points.

Several amendments, framed for the purpose of protecting the rights of municipalities interested in the lines amalgamated were introduced.

An amendment was presented providing that where any of the companies consolidated were by agreement bound to carry cordwood at a fixed rate, the consolidated company should be bound by that agreement.

An amendment providing that the city of Toronto should have the same power to appoint an ex officio member of the Board of the Company as they possessed with respect to the Toronto and Nipissing, and that the Mayor of Belleville should also be an ex officio director, was introduced.

Mr. Robert Bell moved a further amendment to the effect that the rights and privileges which the corporation of Toronto might have in connection with the Nipissing Railway should continue with regard to the Nipissing section of the Midland Railway of Canada.

In reply to a question by Mr. P[illegible]e.

Mr. W. Gooderham said that he was not aware of any other agreement between the city and the Nipissing Railway than that in relation to the carriage of cordwood and representation on the Board of Directors.

Mr. McWilliams, City Solicitor, said that he had not been instructed to take any action by the Council.

Mr. Pardee said that Mr. Bell's amendment was evidently superfluous—and it was accordingly withdrawn.

Mr. Taylor, Mayor of Lindsay, claimed that that town and the county of Victoria should also be represented on the Board.

Mr. Pardee would reserve this point for further consideration.

The original amendment was adopted.

Several clauses were presented, providing that the rates of freight should be approved by the Lieut.-Governor in Council, and subject to revision by him from time to time.

Mr. W. C. Grace, of Lindsay, maintained that, notwithstanding this protection, the interests of Lindsay would suffer from the consolidation. The system of pooling was a great fraud, and although the companies were bound to carry cordwood at certain fixed rates, in practice it was found that cars for that purpose were frequently unobtainable when wanted. The same difficulty was experienced by parties who desired to ship railroad ties.

Mr. Pardee said that they would let those clauses remain over for consideration. The Bill however, must positively be closed to-morrow, or at latest on Friday.

Provisions securing to municipal corporations holding stock the same rights as ordinary shareholders, and confirming the agreement between the Lake Simcoe Junction and Toronto and Nipissing Railways were confirmed.

Provisions authorizing the Company to construct a branch from Perth or Smith's Falls to a point on the Grand Trunk between Warren's Point and Milles Roches, was taken up.

Mr. Pardee said it was irregular, as it was in effect a proposition to build a new railway without giving the usual notice, and would be a dangerous precedent.

After brief discussion, the section was withdrawn on the understanding that they would not be opposed next year.

G. J. R. Mail Service.

Mr. A. White, General Traffic Manager of the Midland Railway, has been successful in arranging with the Post Office authorities at Ottawa for a mail service on the Grand Junction Division. It is intended to put on a mail car from Belleville in the morning, which will leave here in the afternoon every day. On the morning train from Peterborough and the afternoon train from Belleville, the conductors will be provided with sealed bags, so that two mails each way every day will be carried. To the residents along the line this will be a great boon, and they are greatly indebted to the Midland authorities for securing them the favour. Mr. Griffin, P. O. Inspector of this district, is expected here daily, and the arrangements will be made at once.

The following telegram has been received from Toronto :—

Crystal City.

We had to-day a visit from Mr. C. S. Wallis, who has just arrived from Winnipeg on a business tour. Mr. Wallis proposes holding sales of Brandon property in several of our large cities and towns, of which one probably will be in Peterborough.

DRUGGISTS throughout the country testify to the great merits of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. No medicine they sell acts so promptly in curing Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, &c. Have you tried it? J. D. Tully, agent for Peterboro'.

TWO ORGANS.—Regulate first the stomach, second the liver; especially the first, so as to perform their functions perfectly and you will remove at least nineteen-twentieths of all the ills that mankind is heir to, in this or any other climate. Hop Bitters is the only thing that will give perfectly healthy natural action to these two organs.—Maine Farmer.

FROM HAMILTON.—A gentleman writes: "I have suffered for over four years with night losses and general weakness, caused by abuse. I had tried all the advertised medicines, and a number of eminent doctors, and found no relief or benefit. I have used twelve boxes of Mack's Magnetic Medicine, and am entirely restored." See advertisement in another column.

Trent Valley Canal.

In reply to a question from Mr. Cameron (Victoria) in the Dominion House on Wednesday, Sir Charles Tupper said that the Engineer-in-Chief had made a careful location in reference to the Trent Valley Canal, with the view or the construction of that work. Owing to the difficulty of the work the Engineer had reported verbally that he would not be able to complete the survey during the present year, but he expected shortly to make a progress report, and on that report the question would be considered whether the work would be proceeded with in part or in whole.

Another Industry.

We have been shown a letter and telegram from a manufacturer who proposes to establish in Peterborough a large woollen factory, provided the town grants him exemption from taxation for a number of years. It is probable that a special meeting of the Council will be called and the request granted without any discussion. Factories build up towns, and we want all we can get. We have lots of room, and should encourage manufacturers to locate here.

Removed.

The undersigned in returning thanks to their numerous customers, beg leave to say that they have removed to the new store recently erected by Garvey and Dolan, opposite the market square. Where, with increased facilities and strict attention to the wants of their customers they hope to merit a continuation of their patronage. CARTON BROS.

The Weather.

The weather probabilities for this district for the following 24 hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a.m. to-day, by the Great North-Western Telegraph Company, are as follows :—Lakes—Cloudy weather, with local rains to-day; high northerly and northeasterly winds, decidedly colder weather to-morrow.

Fire at Madoc.

A Madoc telegram says that a fire occurred this morning in the station house of the G. J. R. The damage was considerable. The fire is supposed to have originated in some cases of matches. It was put out before the building had fairly caught. A quantity of goods in the station were badly burned.

Quite an Oarsman.

Paul Patullo, formerly of Peterborough, but now of St. Louis, Mo., has been matched to row a four mile race on March 4th, at Beardstown, Ill., against G. W. Colvin of that place, for $100 a side.

STRIKING THE BULL'S EYE!

Experience tells that there is as much at all times and unusually more real cheapness in a fairly good article of any kind than in an inferior or poor thing, however little money it may cost.

Even more important is it to those who have a moderate sum to spend that they spend it wisely, and make the dollars do all the work they can.

A poor thing at a trifling cost, bought over and over, soon eats up twice the cost of a good one, which can yet be of moderate price with tenfold satisfaction in its use.

If you buy cotton, buy what is good of its kind and for the use needed. It is the cheapest. If you buy linen, buy that which is linen, even for common use. Common goods involve only greater wear.

If you want anything to wear, buy goods that are perfect of their kind.

Thin, sleazy, irregularly made goods don't wear well, starch don't add strength to any fabric.

If you buy wool goods, buy those you can depend on—the wool of the sheep, and not the wool of the mill that makes it of woollen rags.

Finally if you want to buy anything in the foregoing articles, you will find them—and of the right quality too, and right in price, at our new stores. A heavy stock of all lines in now, and new goods still coming in daily.

Remember the stores, 1 and 2, Cluxton's Block, corner of George and Hunter Streets.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

JOHN PHELAN'S SUICIDE

RESULT OF THE INQUEST ON THURSDAY EVENING—VERDICT, SUICIDE.

The Facts as Sworn to are Very Nearly the Same as Those Given by us Before—Evidence of Those Who Frst Found the Victim—Medical Testimony—A Bad Wound.

According to previous announcement the jury empannelled by Coroner Fife, to hold an inquest on the body of John Phelan, met at the Council Chamber on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. The following were present and answered to their names:—

Wm. Lilley, Foreman.

R. J. Lee,	T. Darcy,
W. Lee,	F. Cavanagh,
Jas. Martin,	M. O'Donnell,
M. Sullivan,	M. O'Brien,
N. Fairbairn,	Jno. Pillar,
R. Pidgeon,	Jno. Smith.

The Coroner explained their duties to the jurymen and stated that he was ready to hear the evidence of any witnesses, who could throw any light on the unfortunate and tragic affair.

THOMAS PHELAN sworn,—He was a son of deceased. He was at school, and upon returning about 4.30 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, he found his father lying on the floor of his bedroom bleeding. He called deceased and shook, him but his head shook and he knew that he was dead. He then ran down town and told Mr. T. Cavanagh. He did not see where he was cut, but saw blood all over the floor. Witness then went back home in company with several others. His mother was in the house when he returned. His father was just in the same condition as when he left. He saw deceased alive last about 8 a.m. on Wednesday. He appeared in his ordinary condition and state of health. Deceased was a laborer, but had not been working recently. Deceased was not the worse of liquor when he saw him last alive. He had not been drinking lately. Deceased did not work all winter. He never suspected that his father was out of his mind. He could assign no motive for the act.

TO THE FOREMAN,—Deceased was in the habit of drinking, but had not done so for a week or more. Deceased was not at all despondent. As far as witness knew no person was in the house with deceased during the day. Deceased had drank liquor five or six days ago. There was no liquor in the house on Wednesday.

PETER PHELAN sworn,—He was a son of deceased but knew nothing regarding his father's death. He went home as soon as he heard of it, and found several persons in the house. His father was dead when he got home. He knew of no motive for the suicide. He had not seen him since Tuesday. Deceased was not the worse of liquor. He had not seen him drinking for some time. His father never drank to excess.

MISS NORAH CAVANAGH sworn,—She did not know anything about the cause of John Phelan's death. She had not seen deceased for a long time before she saw him lying on the floor of his bedroom, dead. He was very quiet and remained at home. She knew nothing of his habits of sobriety. She knew nothing whatever regarding the cause of death.

MISS PHELAN was called but not sworn, as she did not know any more than the previous witnesses.

T. CAVANAGH sworn,—Deceased was his brother-in-law. He went to the house of deceased, when told by young Phelan that his father was dead. In company with deceased's brother he went to the house and found him dead. He had not seen him for fully three or four months previously. Deceased was not inclined to work, but would remain around the house. He always regarded deceased as a sensible man, and when he would work was a good worker. He thought that deceased drank at home. Witness and the brother of deceased had spoken to him several times regarding his drinking proclivities. Deceased was particularly quiet and inoffensive and was well liked by all his neighbors. Deceased was well educated and read a good deal.

J. O'SULLIVAN, M. D., sworn,—He was called on Wednesday afternoon about 5 o'clock. He found deceased lying on the bedroom floor as described by previous witnesses. The floor was saturated with blood. He raised Phelan's head and discovered that his throat was cut. Dr. Fife then came in and picked up a razor from a pool of blood on the floor. The chief pool of blood was about the centre of the room. There were two other pools of blood and also some on the side of the bed. Death resulted from a wound in the throat. The wound was a fearful one, severing all the principal arteries, of the neck and the windpipe. He had seen several cut throats, but none so fearful as this one. He could not have lived over half a minute after committing the deed. The wound was such a one as would be caused by the razor that he had seen picked up. The wound was very deep, and the razor had an unusually broad blade. Deceased had been recently shaved, and from that fact he drew the inference that deceased had not been drinking very hard of late, or had not suddenly stopped drinking, or he would have been too nervous to shave himself. As far as he knew deceased was a jovial, genial person. He had seen him within eight or nine days, and he then appeared as usual. He had no reason to believe that deceased had any predisposition to insanity, but he had recently heard that his mother was insane. He ventured the opinion that deceased had not been suffering from delirium tremens after hearing the evidence of the witnesses. He had heard of domestic troubles, which might have caused him to commit the rash deed.

JOHN PHELAN, re-called,—There are only two children at home. He has seven brothers and sisters. He met his mother at the Smith street crossing of the Grand Junction Railway, going towards town from home, as he was going home. In the interval between her departure and my arrival my father killed himself, I believe.

The CORONER then addressed the jury, reviewing the evidence at considerable length, when they retired, and after a long consultation brought in the following

VERDICT:

"We, the jurors empanelled to enquire into the cause of the death of the late John Phelan, find, according to the evidence, that it is the opinion of the jury that John Phelan came to his death by cutting his throat with a razor while laboring under temporary derangement, and it appears from the evidence that although deceased had been in the habit of drinking, he had not been doing so for the last five or six days previous to his death."

WATERY GRAVES.

A Man Drowned in Buckhorn Lake and a Boy at Lakefield.

Information has reached town of two drowning accidents, that occurred north of Peterborough on Thursday evening, and of the narrow escape of several others from watery graves.

The first of the sad affairs occurred during the night at Buckhorn Lake. A farmer named Archibald Johnston, who resides in the township of Harvey, on the island, was crossing the Lake in company with his wife, two children and a man named Malone. They had crossed the ice in the morning on their way to town and thought they could return the same way. The night was very dark and the horses were driven into open water. Johnston being an excellent swimmer succeeded in saving himself, his wife and two children, but Malone was drowned. The horses were both lost. Johnston was in the REVIEW office during the day, and stated that the ice was not any too strong, a statement that was verified afterwards, but thought he could cross it safely enough.

NUMBER TWO.

The second drowning accident occurred at Lakefield, at an early hour in the evening, by which a boy named Macquire lost his life. As the bridge leading to the village is being repaired, teams and villagers cross the river by means of a scow ferry. Deceased, in company with another boy, got into a waggon that had just crossed the ferry. As soon as the ferry started to re-cross the river, the horses backed up over the bank into the river. The two boys were immersed and cried for help. One of the men engaged on the ferry jumped in and succeeded in bringing out one of them, but young Macquire was drowned.

CHEAP FUEL.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—We are to-day paying from $4 to $5 a cord for hard wook, and when the contemplated railroads and machine shops are added on to the consumers, we may expect to pay still higher. If the people of Peterborough will join with me and form a Steamboat and Fuel Company we can regulate the price of wood. By buying wood lands on the river and lake, wood can be laid down for $2 a cord, of the best quality. What I propose is to form a Company with $20,000 capital in $25 shares. I will place my boats and scows in at valuation. I would suggest that each stock holder be allowed the privelage of one cord of wood at cost price for each share held by him. This would be a guarantee of a remunerative investment for his money of at least eight per cent.

Yours truly,
H. CALCUTT.
Ashburnham, Feb. 16, 1882.

WHEN undertaking a long journey, we advise you to take along a good supply of St. Jacobs Oil in case of an attack of acute rheumatism or other painful ailments. In this connection the St. Louis Post Dispatch relates the following:

Under the title of 'Old Probabilities' one of the most useful and valuable officers of the United States Government is most widely known. But quite as well known is Prof. J. H. Tice, the meteorologist of the Mississippi Valley, whose contributions to his favorite study have given him an almost national reputation. On a recent lecture tour through the Northwest, the Professor had a narrow escape from the serious consequences of a sudden and very dangerous illness, the particulars of which he thus refers to: "The day after concluding my course of lectures at Burlington, Iowa, on the 21st of Dec last, I was seized with a sudden attack of neuralgia in the chest, giving me excruciating pain and almost preventing breathing. My pulse usually 80, fell to 35; intense nausea of the stomach succeeded and a cold, clammy sweat covered my entire body. The attending physician could do nothing to relieve me. After suffering for three hours I thought—as I had been using St. Jacobs Oil with good effect for rheumatic pains—I would try it. I saturated a piece of flannel, large enough to coser my chest with the oil, applied it. The relief was almost instantaneous. In one hour I was entirely free from pain, and would have taken the train to fill an appointment in a neighboring town had my friends not dissuaded me. As it was, I took the night train for my home, in St. Louis, and have not been troubled since."

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 1882.

THE SOUTH MONAGHAN TRADE.

Now that Peterborough is fast becoming a great railway centre, and there is every prospect of the speedy utilization of our great navigable route, we have every reason to be well content with our prospective means of communication with distant points. This, however, should not make us negligent of the means of opening up traffic with our own more immediate neighbourhood, but should rather spur us up to secure the business of the whole of the district that we can fairly demand.

The project of rebuilding Rosa's bridge connecting the townships of South Monaghan and Otonabee, and so giving the farmers of the eastern portion of South Monaghan easy means of bringing their produce to Peterborough and procuring their supplies here, is no new scheme. Its manifest advantages long ago caused it to be warmly advocated, though for various reasons, unsuccessfully at the moment. The time has now come when we would do well to take the matter into earnest consideration again.

A glance at the map will show that the river makes a sharp bend to the east, so as to form the northern boundary of the eastern portion of South Monaghan. It is obvious that a bridge at a convenient point would give the farmers of the section in question a short and easy route into our town. As it is they would have to make a wide circuit to the west to strike the gravel road, and they naturally will not take such a long and round-about road to us.

About three Saturdays ago farmers from eastern South Monaghan might be seen on our streets by the dozen. On being questioned, they said that the river being frozen over there was sleighing across, and they had taken advantage of this circumstance to come to the market they preferred. It naturally occurred both to them and to those of our business men who heard them that if this natural bridge afforded this temporary advantage, it would be well to construct a bridge and secure this trade permanently.

The custom of a fertile and well-settled district like this, is a thing not to be despised, and some effort should be made to obtain it in. We would like to see the matter taken up by some member of our Town Council, for we are primarily and chiefly interested in it. Other municipalities concerned might then be approached to see what aid they would give toward this improvement. Who will stir in the matter?

A GOOD EXAMPLE.

THE election of a Conservative for North York, England, always a close constituency, excited unusual interest, as besides the political aspect, the contest was complicated by its being between a landowner and tenant farmer. In spite of the strong feeling thus evoked, the speeches of the candidates after the announcement of the result, as reported by the Farmer are worthy of consideration and imitation. Mr. Dawney, the successful candidate, in the course of his remarks said :—

"Never before had a North Riding election been conducted with such strong feeling, but in the gratification of their own victory he should remind them that their victory meant the defeat of their opponents; and, remembering what their feelings would have been if they had been defeated, they must sympathise with their opponents. He took the opportunity of placing on record the exceedingly chivalarous, courteous, manly, and fair way in which throughout, Mr. Rowlandson had conducted that election, and he trusted that they parted now as good friends."

His opponent, Mr. Rowlandson, was not to be outdone. He said :—

"His pleasing duty was to thank the 7,779 electors who had given their votes in his favour. He would also thank the 8,135 for recording their votes according to their consciences, hoping that if he ever stood before them again they would come over to his side. He was exceedingly obliged for the kind, courteous, and generous manner in which his opponent had treated him."

CANADIAN COMPETITION.

The London Farmer and Chamber of Agricultural Journal in an article on "Canadian competition" says :—

"Only a very small portion of the vast and rich wheat land has yet been brought under cultivation, but it will be developed with increasing rapidity during the next few years. The grain carrying trade which Montreal has been competing for with other Atlantic ports will, therefore, in all probability be vastly greater and more profitable in the future than it is at present, and as the wheat centre moves north the greater is the Canadian advantage in the race.

Nor has Montreal alone to be reckoned with. There appears, with the recent developement of Manitoba, to be some serious chance of Hudson's Bay being opened up and a regular port established at the S. W. corner of that vast ocean inlet. The sea voyage straight to England would be very cheap—far cheaper than any existing tariff—and it is asserted that the whole course of the vessel would be safe and unimpeded by ice eight months out of the twelve. The present season is merely a lull; there is no real abatement of competition, but, on the contrary, a largely developed trade from the American North-west must be faced as one of the leading contingencies of the immediate future.

EUROPEAN VEGETABLES.

Enormous Importation of Potatoes to New York and Exportation of Hay.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—From two to three thousand tons of potatoes are now imported weekly from Great Britain and Germany. Owing to this unprecedented business the cost of freight transportation from Liverpool has advanced 50 per cent. in the last four months, the rate now being 33s. per ton. There is a duty of fifteen cents per bushel on potatoes. The price of potatoes here, instead of decreasing, is higher than when the importations began. Large quantities of other vegetables are also being imported. Large cargoes of hay are exported, owing to the partial failure of that crop in England and Scotland.

LAKEFIELD NEWS.

From our own Correspondent.

CONCERT.

The concert given in the P. C. A. Hall on Tuesday evening last, to aid in obtaining funds for a new bell for St. John's Church, Lakefield was a decided success, in fact so far it was the concert of the season. The attendance, though fair, was not so large as it should have been, but the roads were so fearfully bad that nothing but the expectation of a treat would have induced so many to attend as did. The entertainment was a mixed literary and musical one. Readings were given by Miss Duff and Mr. Sheldrake which were well received. Mrs. A. Strickland's piano solos received well merited encores. A song by Mrs. and Mr. Wright, in character was well carried out. The singing of a duet by Miss Clarin and Mr. Henderson was much admired. In the vocal line Mrs. Eden was the star of the evening, her enunciation was clear and distinct, and her manner easy and graceful. We believe this to be the first public appearance of Mrs. Eden before a Lakefield audience, but it is hoped that it will not be the last as she seems to be a general favorite. Mr. Wright and his friends must have been at considerable trouble in getting up this entertainment, but if public appreciation is any reward for exertions then we should have a couple more before the winter closes.

MUNICIPAL ELECTION.

It is reported, and we believe the report to be correct, that Mr. Hull's election as Councillor for this village has been set aside with costs. The mandamus has not yet been served on the Corporation, so the time at which the new election will take is not yet known, but enough is known to warrant the assertion that it will come off early next month. There can be but little doubt that there will be a lively contest. It is evident that Mr. Nelson will be opposed by Mr. Hull. Mr. Nelson has been a councillor in Lakefield for 5 years consecutively and has been untiring in his exertions to advance the best interests of the village and his whole course at the Council Board has been marked by sound judgement, straightforwardness and fair dealing to all, irrespective of place, position or politics. Mr. Nelson is not and cannot be charged in his official acts with neglecting to do his duty faithfully, fearlessly, and impartially, but he is charged, much to his credit, with refusing to carry his political feelings to the Council Board. He has point-blank refused to intrigue with and do the dirty work for a certain political clique who are continually exerting themselves to stir up ill will and strife among their neighbours. Mr. N. in municipal matters has always treated his peers with civility and respect, whether differing with his opinions or otherwise. We believe his whole course of action in this village has eminently tended towards its prosperity and the peace and good will of its citizens one with another, and we believe the result of the ensuing election will show in an unmistakable manner that the people of Lakefield appreciate such honest actions and laudable endeavors.

EXTRAORDINARY WEATHER.

The weather here for some time has been remarkably mild. Robins and other spring birds have made their appearance, and were it not the middle of February one would be inclined to think it was spring.

FORESTRY.

The regular meeting of Court Lakefield No. 43 will be held in the Hall, on Queen street, on Thursday evening next the 23rd instant, at eight o'clock.

SPURIOUS COIN.

There have been, it seems, some counterfeit 25 and 50 cent silver pices in circulation in this part of the county lately. Something should be done to put a stop to this business at once. Your correspondent is of opinion that it would be more to the credit of the magistrates of Lakefield to prosecute, and prosecute rigorously, all such criminals, instead of a couple of old and inoffensive Indians.

HASTINGS.

NEARLY AN ACCIDENT.—The Star says that as two ladies were returning from church last Sunday evening, a cow pursued by a dog rushed out of a hotel yard, and before the ladies could get out of the way of the frightened animal, a collision took place, throwing the ladies into the ditch, one of them being slightly injured by the fall.

ACCIDENT.—As Mr. and Mrs. John Gibson, was returning from Campbellford on Thursday last, the buggy, owing to the slippery state of the roads, upset, throwing both out. Mrs. Gibson had several ribs broken by the mishap.

ANOTHER ONE.—Mr. Jeremiah Myles, senr., fell from his stable loft on Thursday last and was seriously injured.

THE "HUM."—Mr. H. Doxsee is fitting up the stave factory for a general woodworking establishment.

THE Rev. Mr. Goldie, of Watford, has a brave-hearted wife. One day lately her little girl, while playing, fell into the cistern. Mrs. Goldie missed the little one, and went at once in search. Looking into the cistern and observing the water bubbles, she unhesitatingly plunged in and found her child almost gone. By rubbing and turning she partially restored the child, and was just able to lift her up out of the cistern. She then found herself in a sad fix, being unable to get out. The child, however, succeed in bringing out the neighbors, who by placing a high stool in the cistern released her.

CROWN JEWEL FLOUR!

This Flour is made of No. 1 Hard Wheat by the new process, combined with the best methods and machinery in operation in the best Hungarian Mills, and will produce from 30 to 40 pounds more Bread per Barrel than the best superior wheat flour. Therefore, the first cost though higher, is fully compensated in the increased yield of Bread as well as being a much better quality and more nutritious, having a much larger percentage of gluten and less starch than ordinary wheat flour. To those who may not be familiar with the use of this kind of Flour, we suggest mixing it moderately soft, which will require considerably more water than is ordinarily used.

AN OLD MAID'S SOLILOQUY.

A happy old maid am I,
No martial cares for me;
No husband to make me sigh,
Heigh-ho, I wish I was free.

No family cares to fret
And worry me night and day;
No looking back with regret,
Wishing I had but said nay.

I am free from sordid care,
Saving, and striving in vain
To make my hundred a year
Go as far as my neighbour's ten.

I am free, like Selkirk I reign,
With none my will to dispute,
Content, if friendship remain,
Tho' lovers may all be mute.

It troubles me not to know
No man ever calls me wife,
As I "paddle my own canoe"
Down the rough current of life.

THE people of Greenwood, N. Y., are being treated as rebels. THE magnificent old cathedral at Schwerin in Germany, was threatened with destruction by fire the other night, and that calamity was only averted by the personal efforts of the Grand Duke of Mecklenburg-Schwerin and the regiment of Grenadiers stationed in that city. THE ladies of the Hervey Institute in Montreal continue to defy public opinion. The matron and governess of the establishment have resigned, and their resignation has been accepted by the committee, who went out of their way to express regret at the step—in other words, passed a vote of confidence in themselves. If these ladies appear to approve of the mustard plaster mode of punishment for refractory children it will scarcely be impertinent to ask if they have adopted it in their own families.

SOME miners in the English Black Country were seen on a recent Sunday to be busily engaged in catching rats. When they had secured a number of them the hour of dinner approached, and one of the men calmly suggested that they go to a public-house and cook the rats for their mid-day repast. Accordingly the whole company proceeded to the house, skined the rats, cooked them over a gridiron in the kitchen, and then devoured them. "A good Black Country relish" was their virdict on this meal.

DYSPEPSIA OF THIRTY YEARS' STANDING.—From J. T. Bowen, of East Aurora, N. Y.—"I was troubled with dyspepsia for thirty years, and tried several medicines advertised for the cure of this distressing complaint without deriving any benefit from them. About a year ago I commenced taking the Peruvian Syrup, and after using altogether twelve bottles I find myself entirely cured. I consider my case one of the worst I ever heard of, and I take great pleasure in recommending the Peruvian Syrup to all dyspeptics, believing that it will be sure to cure them." THE NEWSPAPER IN A FARM HOUSE.

People who live in the great thoroughfares, where they have access to two or three dailies and a half-dozen weeklies, do not fully appreciate the value of a newspaper. They come, indeed, to look upon them as necessities, and they as cheerfully do without their morning meal as their morning mail. But one must be far off in the country, remote from the "maddening crowd," to realize the full luxury of a newspaper. The farmer who receives but one newspaper a week does not glance over its columns hurriedly, with an air of impatience, as does your merchant or lawyer. He begins with the beginning and reads to the close, not permitting a news item or advertisement to escape his eye. Then it has to be thumbed by every member of the family, each one looking for things in which he or she is most interested. The grown-up daughter looks for the marriage notices, and is delighted if the editor has treated them to a love story. The son who is just about to engage in farming, with the enthusiam that will carry him far in advance of his father, reads all the crop reports, and has a keen eye for improved modes of culture. The younger members of the family come in for the amusing anecdotes and scraps of fnn. All look forward to the day that shall bring the paper with the liveliest interest, and if by some unlucky chance it fails to come, it is a bitter disappointment. One can hardly estimate the amount of information which a paper that is not only read but studied, can carry into a family. They have week by week, spread before their mental vision a panorama of the busy world, its fluctuations and its vast concerns. It is the poor man's library, and furnishes as much mental food as he has time to consume and digest. No one who has observed how much those, who are far away from the places where men most congregate, value their weekly paper can fail to join in invoking a blessing on the inventor of this means of intellectual enjoyment.—Cedar Rapids Republican.

A Grand Auction Sale!

MANITOBA TOWN LOTS.

Charles Stapleton is instructed to Sell

On Friday Next, the 17th February

AT HIS AUCTION ROOMS, UNDER THE TOWN CLOCK, PETERBORO',

200 LOTS IN CRYSTAL CITY.

The mere announcement of lots for sale in this, the first important point settled in Southwestern Manitoba, will be sufficient to those acquainted with the country. First, also, in population, as well as in the fertility and natural advantages of its surroundings.

By Far the Largest Town in Rock Lake District!

Surveyed in 1880, it is no prospective town, but is a thriving place—a large business being done. Churches, Schools, Mills, Registry Office, Stores, and every essential to supplying the wants of a thickly populated section. The town site is the property of but one proprietor (Thos. Greenway, Esq., M. P. P.,) and his faith in the future of Crystal City is such that the proceeds of this, as well as of former sales, will be employed in fostering every legitimate industry and building up the town.

A REBATE OF FIFTY PER CENT.

Of purchase money to those who construct medium-priced brick or frame buildings within twelve months from sale. Within six months lots have advanced 200 per cent., and with early railway facilities this is but an intimation.

OVER 40 BUILDINGS NOW UNDER CONTRACT FOR EARLY SPRING COMPLETION!

As to the eligibility of investing, we refer intending purchasers to anyone acquainted with the Province, or to the shrewdness of speculators in Manitoba town property.

The mere fact that over 7,000 letters were posted at this office in one quarter will convey a partial idea of the volume of business done, as well as the population of the district.

No extended description of this point is required, for the merit of its natural advantages caused its survey. It has grown to its important position by its merits, and will be sold on the same.

Title Perfect. Terms Easy. Sale at 2 & 7.30 P.M.

Daily Evening Review

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 1882.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Personal.

We clip the following from the True Witness of Feby., 1st. The gentleman named is a native of Seymour and a brother of Dr. O'Sullivan, of Peterborough :—

"Mr. D. A. Sullivan, the eminent Toronto barrister, has appeared for the second time as a legal author. His last effort, the "Manual of Government of Canada," is a work of the greatest importance and acknowledged to be such by some of our prominent statesmen. He is out now with another work, which will realize for him still more celebrity, and let us trust profit as well. His present work is upon "Conveyancing in Canada," and no one acquainted with the ignorance that prevails on the subject will say that it is not required. We can safely say that millions of dollars have been lost through the bungling of lawyers in drawing up mortgages, deeds of sales wills, quite claims and other documents for the transfer of property. Mr. Sullivan's new work will prevent this. It is as complete and as convenient as possible, and will, like the "Manual," become a standard work to be consulted by legal authorities and to be the guide of conveyancers. Mr. Sullivan has an easy flowing style of his own, as is quite evident in reading his works, for a man who can write on legal subjects without boring has a happy style indeed."

The Toronto World says of it :—

"It bears ample marks of care, originality, and research, and the assistance which was given the author by leading members of the bar, and which he acknowledges in the preface, is in itself a sufficient guarantee of the value of the contents."

Canadian Poultry Association.

At the annual meeting of the above society the following officers were elected for 1882:—

PRESIDENT.—W. H. Doel, Toronto.

1st VICE-PRESIDENT.—Adam Bogue, London.

2nd VICE-PRESIDENT.—E. Kester, Brantford.

SECRETARY.—Wm. Sanderson, Stratford.

TREASURER.—John James, Toronto.

Board of DIRECTORS.—S Butterfield, Sandwich ; J. W. Buck, Brantford ; T. G. Sprague, Guelph ; James Saulter, Peterborough ; J. Eastwood, Hamilton ; C. Boriwick, Toronto ; Lewis Thorne, Blythe ; U. Roddy, Toronto ; J. Main, Boyne.

AUDITORS.—J. H. Hill, Toronto ; J. O. Weldon, London.

It was decided to hold the next exhibition in Toronto.

Immigration.

At an informal meeting held in Messrs. Poussette and Roger's office, on Thursday morning, called at the invitation of the Rev. Wm. Bennett, to consider the question of assisting emigrants to the settlement of improved farms in this country, it was considered advisable to call a more general meeting with the view of forming some organization for this purpose, and Mr. Bennett was requsted to take the necessary steps to have such meeting called. See advertisement in another column.

Midland Railway of Canada.

The traffic of the above railway for the week ending February 11th, 1882, was as follows :—Passengers and Mails, $4,702.15 ; Freight, $9,767.34 ; Total, $14,469.49 as compared with $8,005.43 for the corresponding week of 1881, being an increase of $6,464.06 ; and the aggregate traffic to date is $75,652.77, being an increase of $29,689.09 over 1881.

The Port Hope Carnival.

Owing to the bad state of the weather, the Port Hope Carnival which was to have taken place this evening, has been postponed until Monday evening next. We understand that quite a large number will go down from Peterborough, arrangements having been made for a special train.

Pantomime and Tableaux.

The entertainment given in Bradburn's Hall last night in aid of St. Luke's church, was so well appreciated that by special request it will be repeated with a complete change of tableaux, on Saturday night when there should be a full house. The price of tickets has been reduced to 25 and 15 cts.

The Census.

By the last census the population of the town was 6,812, and Ashburnham 1,266, or a total of 8,078.

One Day's Record.

The Winnipeg Sun of a recent date says that Fred Winch a popular citizen of Peterborough, arrived in town last night with an eye on business, and the other on pleasure bent....Jack Jenkins, and Bob Stevenson, two of the "boys' from Peterborough, were observed examining real estate on Portage Avenue this morning ....Mr. Alex. Elliott, of the extensive firm of Rush & Elliott, Peterborough, is in the city taking observations....Mr. R. B. McKee of Peterborough, is at the European Hotel....Mr. W. H. Chamberlain, of Peterborough, has made large investments in property in St. Boniface West....H. H. Beck and C. S. Wallis, of the firm of W. Crafford & Co., left for the east this morning on business connected with the firm....Mr. D. W. Dumble, a Peterborough barrister, came in last evening to invest some of his superfluous wealth in Manitoba mud....Mr. Hunt, one of the teachers of the Central School will leave on Monday for Ontario, he having been called home by the serious illness of his sister....Ten Peterborough men mentioned in one paper in one day is not a bad record at all.

Ontario Legislature.

The following petitions were presented in the Ontario Legislature on Wednesday :—

Mr. Blezard—Of the County Council of Peterborough, in reference to agricultural instruction in schools.

Also—Of the same municipality, in reference to the grant to the Board of Agriculture.

Also—Of the same municipality, praying that the income of Upper Canada College may be diverted and divided.

Removed.

The undersigned in returning thanks to their numerous customers, beg leave to say that they have removed to the new store recently erected by Garvey and Dolan, opposite the market square. Where, with increased facilities and strict attention to the wants of their customers they hope to merit a continuation of their patronage. CARTON BROS.

Large Funeral.

The funeral of the late George Fitzgerald, whose sudden death we noticed a few days ago, took place to-day, and was one of the largest and most respectable ever seen in town.

Liver and Kidney difficulties, Ruptures, and many other diseases. Illustrated pamphlet sent free. Address Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich.

DRUGGISTS throughout the country testify to the great merits of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. No medicine they sell acts so promptly in curing Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, &c. Have you tried it ? J. D. Tully, agent for Peterboro'.

TWO ORGANS.—Regulate first the stomach, second the liver ; especially the first, so as to perform their functions perfectly and you will remove at least nineteen-twentieths of all the ills that mankind is heir to, in this or any other climate. 'Hop Bitters is the only thing that will give perfectly healthy natural action to these two organs.—Maine Farmer.

FROM HAMILTON.—A gentleman writes : "I have suffered for over four years with night losses and general weakness, caused by abuse. I had tried all the advertised medicines, and a number of eminent doctors, and found no relief or benefit. I have used twelve boxes of Mack's Magnetic Medicine, and am entirely restored." See advertisement in another column.

KISS ME.—"TRAINBERRY," the new and exquisite little gem for the teeth and breath, has a beautifully plated metal screw top. Try a 5 cent sample.

There is no comfort, night or day,
When teeth are suffering from decay.

When bitter hours at last reveal,
That all our woe came grim and gaunt
From our neglect of Sozodont.

WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it ; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and gives rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians, and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle. d52w9

STRIKING THE BULL'S EYE !

Experience tells that there is as much at all times and unusually more real cheapness in a fairly good article of any kind than in an inferior or poor thing, however little money it may cost.

Even more important is it to those who have a moderate sum to spend that they spend it wisely, and make the dollars do all the work they can.

A poor thing at a trifling cost, bought over and over, soon eats up twice the cost of a good one, which can yet be of moderate price with tenfold satisfaction in its use.

If you buy cotton, buy what is good of its kind and for the use needed. It is the cheapest. If you buy linen, buy that which is linen, even for common use. Common goods involve only greater wear.

If you want anything to wear, buy goods that are perfect of their kind.

Thin, sleazy, irregularly made goods don't wear well, starch don't add strength to any fabric.

If you buy wool goods, buy those you can depend on—the wool of the sheep, and not the wool of the mill that makes it of woollen rags.

Finally if you want to buy anything in the foregoing articles, you will find them—and of the right quality too, and right in price, at our new stores. A heavy stock of all lines in now, and new goods still coming in daily.

Remember the stores, 1 and 2, Cluxton's Block, corner of George and Hunter Streets.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic ; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

Daily Evening Review

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1882.

THE result of the contest in South Simcoe is the election of the Conservative candidate, Col. Tyrwhitt, by a majority estimated at from 750 to 1,000, for the full returns are not yet in. This, no doubt, must be taken as another instance of that reaction in favor of the Reformers, of which we used to hear so much.

THE GREAT NORTH-WEST.

To the Editor of the Review:

SIR,—Manitoba as you are all aware is pretty well settled, that is to say all the homesteading sections that are worth taking are settled.

A large portion of the country is taken up with railroad, school and Hudson Bay sections, which are mostly all held by speculators, thus preventing the country from being thickly settled.

A settler going into the country is not going to pay for a farm when he can get 160 for $10 and preempt 160 acres more for three years with the option of taking it at the expiration of the of the said term at $2.50 per acre.

Therefore settlers wishing to find a home in the North-west will have to go further west, and I feel satisfied that in all the North-west they will not find a place better suited to satisfy their wants than Qu'Appelle, "the Oasis of the North-west." The country on all sides is magnificent, but more especially on the south and east. The country is a gently rolling prairie, interspersed with poplar bluffs and is not broken up with ponds and sloughs like some districts.

The soil in parts is a heavy clay soil in others a black loam.

Wood is plentiful all along the Qu 'Appelle valley, and the water good. Another great advantage to this district is the main line of the Canadian Pacific R. R., which is located 18 miles south of the present village of Qu'Appelle and ought to be in running order by June next.

There is also bound to be a town somewhere along the line of road, and I think the situation most likely to be selected will be at Long Lake, about 170 miles west of Brandon.

It is the general opinion of speculators that the future city of the west will be somewhere in the Qu 'Appelle district, which would increase the value of farm lands tremendously. Settlers wishing to go to Qu'Appelle should leave Brandon about the middle of March, so as to reach their destination before the roads break up, as travelling after that is very bad. And now Mr. Editor, thanking you for the space I have taken up,

I remain respectfully yours,
R. S. COOK.

THE BUCK LAKE MURDER.

The Family of the Prisoner in a Starving Condition—Assistance Just in Time

KINGSTON, Feb. 15.—A gentleman named Mr. Joseph Thorne, of Perth road, sends word to Kingston that having heard that Mrs. Vankoughnet, wife of the man who is in gaol charged with the Buck Lake murder, and her family were starving, he went to her house with some provisions, and when he entered the dwelling the little children ran and hid themselves behind the stove, in order to conceal their nakedness. All of them were barefooted, and the two youngest almost entirely nude. The whole scene was one of appalling destitution. Lying upon a bed was the mother, covered with an old cloak and some rags, and in a state of starvation. Not a vestage of bedding could be found in the house with which to cover the wretched woman, but an appeal to the neighbours was the means of procuring some. After leaving what provisions he had, and doing what he could for the comfort of Mrs. Vankoughnet, Mr. Thorn started out to canvas the country for contributions in behalf of the destitute family. When he returned three days' later, he found that the family had been increased by a little girl beig born to share the hardships of its brothers and sisters. A further supply of bedding and provisions was given the family, and the sick mother was left in comfortable quarters. Had it not been for the visit of Mr. Thorne, it is probable that the woman would not have survived. While his family are thus suffering, Vankoughnet himself is thriving wonderfully. He is growing very stout, and his hopes of getting free are growing stronger every day.

IRISH OPINION.

DUBLIN, Feb. 17.—Mr. O'Connor Power, member of Parliament for county Mayo, says that Mr. Gladstone's declaration justifies the opinion that this is an appropriate time for pressing the question of Home Rule. The Freeman's Journal says it would be impossible to exaggerate the significance of Mr. Gladstone's attitude.

LAND LEGISLATION.

LONDON, Feb. 17.—In the House of Lords tonight a motion was adopted, after strong opposition from the Government, for the appointment of a select committeee to enquire into the working of the recent land legislation in Ireland

JEWISH OUTRAGES.

LONDON, Feb. 17.—Advices from St. Petersburg confirm the report of recent outrages upon the Jews in a village near Kichinef, where ten were nearly beaten to death. A Jewish maiden ran away with a Christian lover to get married, and be baptized in the orthodox faith. The Jews being angered, accused the maiden of robbery, a charge that was not substantiated. They afterwards attempted forcibly to capture her, but the peasants drove them off, and the Jewess was subsequently baptised and married. Fire breaking out during the ceremony was attributed to Jewish revenge, and hence the attack upon the Jews.

THE WATER SUPPLY.

VIENNA, Feb. 17.—The city is threatened with a total failure of its water supply.

ANTI-JEWISH AGITATION.

VIENNA, Feb. 17.—Fresh anti-Jewish disturbances are reported in the Government of Rieff. The military Governor General has declined to interfere without special instruction from St. Petersburg. His refusal produced a painful impression among the orderly population.

GLADSTONE'S OPINIONS.

LONDON, Feb. 17.—In explaining last evening in the House of Commons his recent utterances with regard to Home Rule, Mr. Gladstone said that he held on the question of local government very clear and distinct opinions, although it was unlikely that he ever would be called to take action on them. He considered that the decentralization of Parliament should be the cardinal rule of policy. Local institutions were a source of great strength, and the only limit which in principle was necessary to them was adequate provision for the supremacy of the central authority. He believed that a wise and just way of meeting the demand for bringing Irish affairs more under Irish control was not to regard it as the first step toward separation, but rather to ask the promoters of the change to formulate the guarantees they propose to give for the supremacy of Parliament. He had never yet received any satisfactory explanation on this point.

THE DURHAM EXPLOSION.

LONDON, Feb. 17.—Forty bodies have been recovered from the colliery at Trimdon Grange, Durham, where the explosion occured yesterday. It is feared the forty men still in the pit are dead. Another account of it says it is now believed that from sixty to seventy perished. Rescuers are retarded by the debris in the mine.

AGAINST GERMANY.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 17.—It is stated that Gen. Scobeleff while receiving some Servian students said Russia hitherto had been held in check by certain foreign influences, namely, that of Germany. The sword was the only means the Russians had of ridding themselves of the incubus. He declared that a struggle between the Slavs and the Teutons was inevitable, and it would be long, sanguinary, and terrible, but the Slavs would triumph. General Skobeleff concluded:—"If any one attempts to molest States recognized by treaties, thank Heaven you will not be alone. If fate so decides, we shall meet again on the battlefield, side by side against the common foe."

EXPLOSION OF FIREWORKS.

CHESTER, Pa., Feb. 17.—At eight o'clock this morning an explosion occurred at the Pyrotechnic works of Prof. Jackson. The building was shattered and burned. Fifteen and probably more lives were lost and many dangerously wounded. The building is the old homestead of Admiral Porter. Second despatch—A number of colored families lived in the Porter mansion. The building first took fire and while the firemen were playing on the flames the crowd surrounded them when the explosion occurred, scattering destruction far and wide. The number killed is between 15 or 20, about 10 are dangerously and five less injuriously wounded. The dead are being laid in the city hall and the wounded cared for in various drug stores, so no accurate list can be obtained now. The scene is one of great excitement.

ACCOMPLISH NO GOOD.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—The State Charities Aid Association met yesterday. John Jay, the President, spoke of the public good work of the Association in trying to improve the condition of the insane. He said that as long as the Commissioners of Public Charities and Correction were appointed as political agents, no effective or lasting improvement can be made.

A BURSTED BANK.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Feb. 18.—The Merchant's Bank of this city closed its doors this morning.

LOST AT SEA.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Feb. 18.—The schooner Corunna, Bishop master, from Grand Banks, reports the following as lost during a terrible gale on the fifth inst., while in dories visiting Terrawals:—John Colson, Jas. McGoff, John Reed, Peter Christian, Charles Roisomas and Frank Kamp.

SOUTH SIMCOE.

Triumphant Return of the Government Candidate—Majority Over 500.

TOTTENHAM, Feb. 16.—The election for the riding of South Simcoe was held to-day, the candidates being Mr. Richard Tyrwhitt, of Bradford, Conservative, and Mr. John S. Lucas, of Churchill, Reformer. The election resulted in a majority of 500 for Mr. Tyrwhitt, with Mulmur and Tossorontio to hear from, which will increase the majority.

FIERCE FLAMES.

HAVERHILL, Mass., Feb. 18.—The finest street in the city, and the principal business mart in the city is in smouldering ruins. Eighty shoe firms are entirely burned out, and others have suffered more or less. Men last night worth thousands are to-day penniless. The loss of others is fully or partially covered by insurance. Two thousand people are out of employment, and several families are homeless. The loss is estimated at $2,000,000. Engines were present from Newbury, Port Lawrence and Lowell. The men are already clearing away the debris. There is no panic and everybody is hopeful. The wind blew fresh, and the scarcety of water, and freezing of the hose made it hard work to control the fire. Several persons are reported as missing but nothing definite is known. No business is being done here to-day, as everybody is at the ruins.

PECULIAR DIVORCE SUIT.

CANTON, O., Feb. 18.—Mrs. Joseph Kyiente, has been granted a divorce from her husband. It is alleged that he drove her into the woods and by threats of shooting compelled her to write an admission of criminal intimacy with certain men. Two men then appeared and signed as witnesses. The husband threatened death if she revealed the occurrence in the wood. His answer was filed to deny these statements, but it was subsequently withdrawn. The case excites unusal interest.

UNDER CONTROL.

HAVERHILL, Mass., Feb. 18., 3.55 a. m.—The fire is now under control. But one block remains on Wingate street and two at the upper end of Washington street. All else in the square bounded by the Merrimace river on the south, and Washington square and Essex street on the east, the north side of Wingate street on the north and railroad square on the west is burned to the ground. This territory embraces the largest part of the boot & shoe manufacturies. The loss is not estimated. Joseph Pratt, a fireman was killed, and Geo. Whittier fatally injured.

Daily Evening Review

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1882.

MR. BLAKE'S PLOT.

The Ottawa correspondent of the Montreal Gazette says under date of Feb. 15th:—The debate last night and Mr. Blake's explanations on the "speak now" episode are the subject of general conversation to-day. The Opposition feel very keenly the position in which the debate has left Mr. Blake, and they are raging at the maladroitness of Sir Richard Carrwright in provoking a personal controversy. The facts connected with the "speak now" transaction have been talked over, and members who were members of the local Legislature at the time are astonished at Mr. Blake's perversion of the facts. His first statement was that Mr. Wood had announced his resignation two days before the "speak now" missive was sent across the floor, and the latter was sent simply to warn Mr. Wood that the debate was likely to close and that he had better speak then if he intended to speak, leaving the impression that he made a second speech. When contradicted by Mr. McCallum he attempted to get out of the difficuty by saying that although Mr. Wood asked him to inform him whether the debate was likely to close, as he wished to speak before its close, he in fact did not speak, his only speech being that in which he announced his resignation two days before the "speak now" missive was sent. It now transpires that this missive was not the first communication between Mr. Blake and Mr. Wood at that time. On the day upon which he announced, to the surprise of everyone, as the Globe stated next morning, his resignation, Mr. Wood, while sitting in the Council with his colleagues, received a letter from Mr. Blake by the hands of a messenger, who was indiscreet enough to announce it as from Mr. Blake. When the House met, the First Minister, Mr. Sanfield McDonald, announced the intention of the Government not to give way until the vacant seats were filled, for there were six seats vacant at the time, and a full House could declare confidence or non-confidence in the Administration. It was at that time that the message was seen to pass from Mr. Blake to Mr. Wood, who tore it in two and threw the pieces on the floor, from which they were picked up by a member of the Government. Mr. Wood then got up and made the speech announcing his resignation, thus practically breaking up the Government and handing over the reins to Mr. Blake and his friends. Moreover, gentlemen who were in the House during the first sessions of the last Parliament recall Mr. Wood's threats, made openly, that he would start a "Raise hell" party if the promises to him were not fulfiled. He was shortly afterwards made Chief Justice of Manitoba by the Mackenzie Government, when Mr. Blake, if I mistake not was Minister of Justice. After last night's exhibition, the public will be convinced that Mr. Blake is only made of common, mortal clay after all, and his chief source of strength is gone when that conviction seizes the public mind.

CAN HE BE GUILTY?

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—In reference to the late murder, charged against the young boy, Smith, nephew of the murdered man, I would like to make some observations. And as I do not believe he is guilty, I will endeavour to show the reasons why I do not so believe. The boy is said to be about 14 years old, of a very quiet and retiring disposition, having few companions and seeking few. He is also said never to have exhibited any indications which would lead one to look upon him as likely to commit any crime, much less, such a dreadful crime as this. It is not alleged that he and his uncle ever lived upon unfriendly terms, or that his uncle ever evinced any fear of the boy. On the contrary, it may, I think, be assumed that they live together in peace and harmony. And the father of the boy, and his neighbours and acquaintances as well, all unite in giving him a most excellent character. Now then, this being the state of things, and there never having been any complaint or fear expressed about the boy by the uncle, and whilst everything went on in the usual quiet way, all at once the neighbourhood is aroused by the report of the uncle's murder, and a murder too, committed with such brutality and violence, as to make it almost impossible to believe that it could have been committed by any other than a full grown, strong man. There being no one else upon whom to charge the crime, this little, simple, inoffensive, quiet boy, of but fourteen years, is set upon and actually found guilty by a coroner's jury, is found guilty of the murder, after the jury was twice charged by the coroner and urged to do so. The chances are that time will show that while people were accusing the boy, the real murderer has escaped. No one appears to have thought of such a possibility. Being so intent upon trying to prove the boy guilty, they forgot every one and everything else. The poor boy must be held to be the murderer of his uncle simply because people would not and did not find any one else upon whom to throw the blame.

Now let me look at the evidence upon which the coroner and his jury found the boy guilty. Let us not forget that, up to the time of the death of the uncle, he and his nephew boy lived, as they had always lived, in peace and harmony together, and that there is not one tittle of evidence to show any ill feeling on the part of the uncle to the boy, nor on the part of the boy to the uncle. And that in the midst of this state of things the uncle is foully murdered, and the crime was accompanied by such acts and circumstances as, to my mind, clearly show that the perpetrator of it must have been a person of physicial strength as well as of coolness and experience, far beyond that possessed by any mere boy of the age and disposition, and capacities of the boy in question. It was well known that the uncle possessed and kept in his house a large sum of money. This boy always knew it, yet, always knowing it, we do not hear that the uncle was afraid to trust him, or ever accused him with the taking of even one cent of it. Had he wished to get the money, what was easier than to have taken it? What necessity was there to commit the murder for it, when at any time, had he so pleased he could have possessed himself of it, and had he been the hardened and shrewd boy the coroner's jury apparently think him to be, have thrown the blame upon others. Seeing this to be so, we naturally ask for some more direct proof of the boy's guilt. Well, here is the evidence, such as it is, and I ask any reasonable man if he can conscientiously say, much less swear to decide according to the evidence, that this boy is guilty. One witness says he sold the boy a pistol and a box of cartripges shortly before the murder. And he also says that the boy was alone when he bought them. He afterwards says that he cannot swear that this was the boy. Another witness says that he was present at the sale of the pistol, and that there were two boys. A ball was found in the murdered man's head, which, it is alleged, fitted this pistol. The box of cartridges is afterwards found buried in the snow. It is said to be the box of cartridges, but who knows it to be so? There were other pistols and boxes of cartridges, of the same kind, sold, and who can say one of them was not in the hands of the strange man, whom the boy says he saw when the fatal shot was fired, and who, for all any one can say to the contrary, did have such a pistol and box of cartridges, and did kill the uncle? And, if I mistake not, another person testified that he, at the time referred to, did meet a man of the description given by the boy on the highway and going away from the place of the murder. The boy also says that as soon as the shot was fired, he looked through the window and saw the man described above, and that he, the boy, then started to run to a neighbour's house, when the man fired at him and the ball passed through his cap. And it is shown that an examination of the cap showed this to be so. This statement given by the boy of his running from the house, is just what anyone would suppose he would do in his great fright, and it is admitted that he did run away and did alarm the neighbors. Now, as the object of the murder could only have been for the robbery of the uncle's money, how natural it is to suppose that this man, after the boy's escape, finished his bloody work with the club, and then threw it into the wood-pile where it was found, and, it may be, threw away his pistol and box of cartridges also, in order to prevent detection. He also set fire to the house for the purpose, no doubt, of hiding the traces of the crime. We can easily understand the likelihood of all this, if done by this man. But it does not look reasonable, or even possible, to say that all this work was done by this little boy. To say that, after living for years in kindness with his uncle, with all the opportunities which he possessed of taking the money at any time if he wanted it, he, this boy of but fourteen summers, ignorant of the ways of the world, as he is said to be, and of the timid, retiring disposition, which he is said to possess, should all alone plan and deliberately carry out such a devilish, elaborate, cold-hearted scheme as this murder was. It is against all reason and experience to believe it. And then, look at the conduct of the boy afterwards, and all through the trial. Did that indicate guilt? On the contrary, did it not show, to the satisfaction of any human, reasonable mind, that the boy never did commit this murder. Was there one single act, word, or look which could, in any way, indicate the boy's guilt? Had he been a man, and a man acquainted with the world's wickedness, we can well suppose, hardened as he might have been, that he could control himself and appear indifferent. But no boy, such as this boy is, nor indeed any boy, could comport himself in the unsophisticated manner that this boy did, from first to last, and be guilty. It is contrary to human nature to believe it. Much more easy and reasonable is it to believe him innocent, and upon mere weak circumstantial evidence, such as exists in this case, it would be a most dreadful wrong to convict this boy for the murder of his uncle. Circumstantial evidence undoubtedly does sometimes lead to the conviction of the right person, but this is the exception and not the rule. As a matter of fact, we all know that it is a very difficult and dangerous means to use, where life and death are concerned, and that it should only be used when all the items of circumstances put together, logically and inevitably lead up to and leave no other conclusion, but the guilt of the accused party. Take an instance as an illustration. A murder was committed by a stranger upon a man in his own house, and in his own private room, no one being present. His servant, hearing the noise, rushed into his master's presence and there saw the murderer just escaping through a door into the street, leaving his stiletto sticking in the master's body. The servant immediately proceeded to remove it, and, while doing so, was observed by others who entered the room. What more natural than to accuse the servant of the murder? All the facts and circumstances pointed that way. It is true that no one saw him commit the crime. But he was seen drawing the dagger from his dead master's body. According to the strongest of circumstantial evidence, the servant was convicted and executed, protesting his innocence. Now, there is no such strong circumstantial evidence against this boy of the murder of his uncle, but only evidence, at the most, of the purchase of a pistol and box of cartridges, and nothing more, and yet upon these simple facts, without any connection between them and the murder, the coroner's jury say he is "guilty," guilty, forsooth, because the boy bought a pistol and box of cartridges, and his uncle being afterwards killed, therefore the boy is his murderer! The whole fabric of his presumed guilt is unsound and illusory, and the conclusion unwarranted and illegical. Take another instance of circumstantial evidence. Two men are standing together near a river. Suddenly one of them attempts to jump into the water and drown himself and the other strives to prevent him. The struggle is seen by some persons at a distance. The man breaks away from his friend and springs into the river and is drowned. The friend is arrested for the alleged murder; his guilt appears plain; he is tried, convicted and executed, protesting his innocence. Here, so far as could be observed by those witnessing the struggle between the two men, who were too far away to do more than to see what was going on, we may fairly say that the evidence pointed directly to the gult of the friend. Human nature is not given to look at the conduct of others in the light of good intentions, but it at once jumps to the opposite conclusion, and cries out murder. How many innocent people have been hung in this way it would be impossible to tell. Take another case: A young girl is accused of stealing. The goods are found carefully packed away in her trunk. She is arrested and tried. Fortunately a kind-hearted lawyer took up the case and proved by one of her companions that she herself put the things there out of spite to her fellow servant. Now in all these cases the evidence of guilt was connected and led logically all the way up to the presumed guilt of the accused parties, while in the case of this little boy there is no other evidence of his guilt save his purchase of a pistol and a box of cartridge, and the finding, what is supposed to be this box of cartridges and the bloody stick. It is upon such a basis as this is that it charged that the boy killed his uncle. The verdict of the coroner's jury in effect says to the boy: "You bought the pistol and the cartridges; your uncle was killed by a bullet fired by some one from a gun or pistol, therefore you killed him. A bloody stick was found in the wood pile, with which, no doubt, your uncle was beaten after being shot, therefore you killed him." Now was ever anything so unreasonable as this? It is admitted by everybody that the boy has ever been most exemplary in all his conduct, ever been kind and gentle, ever lived peacefully and contented with his uncle. When the murder is committed he at once runs to the neighbors and gives the alarm. All through the investigation by the jury his manner and deportment shew his innocence, and yet he is said to be guilty. I do not believe it, and so will say every right thinking person.

An Enterprising Canadian Arrested—Miraculous Escape from Death.

OTTAWA, Feb. 15.—A constable arrested one McGuire at Pembroke yesterday for bigamy, and put him on the train for Aylmer gaol. The prisoner took his arrest very quietly, and asked permission to have his hands free and to visit the closet, which he did frequently. Near Ashton the train was going at 35 miles an hour, and McGuire passed the closet and jumped off. When the officer reached Ottawa he received a telegram that McGuire was alive and at Stittsville, having walked five miles from where he jumped off. The officer drove out the twenty-five miles and secured the prisoner, who is a hard looking citizen. He thinks bigamy such a common thing that he will escape with a light sentence. He says he has married five or six wives. He is now in Aylmer gaol.

A POET ON FOREST FIRES.

If Mr. Joaquin Miller's poetry did not entitle him to the fame of an original genius, a scheme that he has for preserving the forests of America would. In the New York Independent he proposes to run fire through the woods every autumn by way of keeping them safe from fire in the summer. This, it appears, has been the practice from time immemorial of the Western Indians, from whom in his youth Mr. Miller obtained much of the knowledge by which he shines before white men. As the Indians in question lived on great treeless plains when the poet knew them, and long before, we may believe that their ancestors did run fires through primeval forests in those regions, perhaps with the intention of preserving them, but not exactly with that result.

In Mr. Miller's day the Indians of his acquaintance had, it appears, but small patches of deciduous trees, bordering on the prairie, to preserve, and it is quite likely that their practice of running fire through and around them every fall was a good one. The accumulation of easily ignited grass, leaves, etc., was thus prevented and the light annual fire would not injure leafless hardwood trees.

But the poet proposes to deal with all the forests of the continent on the Indian plan. He says:—

"An annual fire is as natural, and necessary too, as is a rain fall at seed-time for the health and long life of any forest. When the leaves have fallen and all the nuts and fruit are ripened; when the bark of the tree is hard and sapless, and the new bushes and new branches are denuded and are made sound and hard, then the dry and indolent Indian summer possesses the land. The winds are still then, and there is no peril at all in turning the fire loose. This is the time the Indian takes to clear of his fields for the grasses of the coming spring, and to purify them of the malaria, burning leaves, and mosses that otherwise would lie rotting on the ground, harbouring insects, reptiles, fevers, death, and smothering out the new grasses, flowers, roots, and ground fruits for the coming year. The borer, the caterpillar, Colarado beetle, grasshopper, and bull-cricket—these are some of the beautiful fruits borne from the white man's management, of our plains and forests."

After appealing to the history of Palestine, Assyria, Babylon, and ancient Germany, old Gaul, Italy, and Tyre, to support his argument, he says:—

"But to return to our own forests. I know it might at first be dangerous and difficult to burn out our forests now, and get them back to a state of nature, as it were. Yet it must be done. The old briar-bound and moss-grown worm-fence that winds about the hill to mark the limit of some settler's domain must go. Better the old fence should be burned now than the barn, house, cattle, and perhaps babies and all, in the end. However, these are details that must adjust and fit in themselves.

"The one special idea is to have the forests all burned over and burned out every autumn. These natural annual fires are so light that even the smallest and frailest little bush will not perish. See how nature has ordered this.

"Of course, all this will have to be regulated, by law; but here again I come to detail, which I shall not touch now. I should say, however, that every State ought to have its Forest Commissioners, and every part of each State be made to keep its forests clean, as certainly and exactly as any division of a city is made to keep its streets clean or in repair."

Mr. Miller hit the blot on his plan in the second sentence of the last quoted extract. It would at first be difficult and dangerous to run fire through pine forests in Indian summer, but never difficult or dangerous or necessary again, because there would probably be no forests left.

Though the poet's plan would not work, the idea that underlies it is a good one. It would be well to keep the forests free from accumulated rubbish. Every year vast quantities of inflammable material—pine needles, branches, chips, etc.—are left in the woods by lumbermen to assist in the spread of the fire. There is no reason why all this stuff should not be burned as soon as made in the winter, when the fire would not run. The Government could commission bushrangers to see this done, and thus the great necessity which Mr. Miller perceives for burning the forests in order to keep them from being burned would be somewhat lessened.—Globe.

CAMPBELLFORD.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH.—The Herald says that as Mr. Adam Hay, a young man residing in Seymour township, was returning home in his waggon on Tuesday last, he stopped at the railway crossing on Rear street, to wait till the evening train from Belleville, then approaching, had passed. As the train neared the road, the horses became frightened and bolted over the track. Just as the waggon was clearing the rails, the locomotive struck the rear end and made a wreck of it in an instant. The horses continued to run. Young Hay was thrown a considerable distance, but pluckily clung to the lines and was dragged some distance through the mud. Fortunately, he received only a slight injury on his left side. One of the wheels of the waggon was thrown about sixty or seventy feet. Both Mr. Hay and his horses had a narrow escape.

GOOD THRESHING.—A very nice little piece of work in threshing was accomplished by Mr. D. Stockdale, of Percy, on the premises of Mr. D. Johnston, lot 12th in the 9th con. of Seymour, one day last week. In the space of eight hours he separated forty bushels of clover seed from its stalk, and was quite able to eat a hearty meal afterwards.

A FINE OWL.—Mr. Roderick Kellar brought into the village on Saturday last an owl measuring four feet three inches over expanded wings. He caught it in a trap, alive and without injury. It is a fine specimen of the grey species. He sold it to Mr. W. Whitton.

THE traffic on the Suez Canal has now reached such an extent that there is some talk of having another canal. English capitalists are at the head of the movement. The tonnage in 1881 reached 53,000,000 tons, and an increase of 701 ships over 1880.

COUGHS, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Pains in the Throat and Chest, relieved and cured by the use of Dr. Carson's Cough Drops. The most reliable testimony has been received as to their efficiency. In bottles, 50 cents. J. D. Tully, agent for Peterborough.

IT is proposed in Montreal to arrange a grand carnival week of winter sports, in which our skating, snow-shoeing, tobagganing and driving clubs should take part, such a scheme, if carried out properly, would attract large numbers of American visitors.

Land and Water says:—"It is stated that from the forests belonging to M. Bismark are cut the greater portion of the blocks used for the wood pavement in London, and that an English company is going to use it in Paris for the Boulevard Montmartre. Query, if it will be paved with good intentions!"

MILLIONS GIVEN AWAY.—Millions of bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, and Colds, have been given away as trial bottles of the large size. This enormous outlay would be disastrous to the proprietors, were it not for the rare merits possessed by this wonderful medicine. Call at Taylor & Macdonald's Drug Store, and get a trial bottle, and try for yourself. It never fails to cure.—5

MISS ROMAINE, of Ottawa, has entered an action for breach of promise of marriage against Mr. McLean, of the law firm of Walker and McLean. The marriage ceremony was cut short some time ago through the intervention of a friend of McLean entering the church and whispering something in his ear as the couple knelt before the altar.

"FEMALE COMPLAINTS."—Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.: Dear Sir—I write to tell you what your "Favorite Prescription" has done for me. I had been a great sufferer from female complaints, especially "dragging-down," for over six years, during much of the time unable to work. I paid out hundred of dollars without any benefit till I took three bottles of the "Favorite Prescription," and I never had anything do me so much good in my life. I advise every sick lady to take it. MRS. EMILY RHOADS, McBrides, Mich.

DYSPEPSIA OF THIRTY YEARS' STANDING.—From J. T. Bowen, of East Aurora, N. Y.—"I was troubled with dyspepsia for thirty years, and tried several medicines advertised for the cure of this distressing complaint without deriving any benefit from them. About a year ago I commenced taking the Peruvian Syrup, and after using altogether twelve bottles I find myself entirely cured. I consider my case one of the worst I ever heard of, and I take great pleasure in recommending the Peruvian Syrup to all dyspeptics, believing that it will be sure to cure them." All druggists sell it.

IS IT A HUMBUG? Some people think all proprietary medicines humbugs. In this they must be mistaken. A cough medicine like N. H. Downs' Elixir that has stood the racket of 52 years must have some virtue, and must cure the diseases for which it is recommended, or people would not continue to buy and use it as they do. It seems to us that even if we knew nothing of its merits, the fact of its large and continually increasing sale justifies us in recommending Down's Elixir to all who may need a reliable cough medicine.

ZOPESA.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Manitoba Mud.

The auction sale of Crystal City, Manitoba, lots at Mr. Charles Stapleton's auction rooms on Friday afternoon and evening was very successful in every respect. During the afternoon a large number of lots were sold at good prices, but at the evening sale, after the "boom" had struck our citizens in earnest, the sales were far larger and the prices better. The sale was conducted by Mr. Mannville, who before opening the sale delivered a very eulogistic address on Manitoba in general and Crystal City in particular. He is very sanguine regarding the future greatness of the valley of the Red River, and kindly answered the many questions that were showered at him by intending settlers. Mr. M. thoroughly understands his subject and his business, and makes the best auctioneer we have seen for some time. About 275 lots were disposed of during the sale. The following were the principal purchasers:—T. Bradburn, G. Edmison, B. Shortly, W. Lee, W. Lasber, H. LeBrun, A. Clegg, J. F. Austin, E. W. Low, T. Sherin, A. Carman, J. Sawers, W. H. Hill, W. Smith, H. B. Meharry, E. Morgan, R. E. Wood, J. Mitchell, Jas. T. Stenson, E. Phelan, H. T. Strickland, Jos. Sawdye, G. S. Kingdon, W. F. Kingan, W. Hudson, J. Carlisle, R. White and H. Ross. A large number of lots were also disposed of by private sale at prices far in excess of those obtained at auction.

The Assessors.

A friend informs us that the assessors are now out on their yearly little "biz" the by-laws having been passed and the Councils said :—

Now gentlemen, take your little rolls,
And go about your work, oh!
Let nothing scarify your souls
Or make your want to shirk, oh!

And when your little work is done
And your book is up on deck, oh!
You'll smile so sweet and sad at the fun
Of drawing your little cheque, oh!

A Model Village.

Omemee is fast aspiring to the dignity of a town,—that is if we are to judge of the morals of the people by a report of the proceedings at the Police Court on Saturday last, as given in the Herald. There were no less than twelve cases disposed of, and three others settled without coming into court. The principal offences were using abusive language, furious driving, using profane language, and drunk and disorderly. They had more cases in one day than we have had in six weeks.

Interesting Lecture.

The lecture to be delivered on Thursday evening next by Commander Cheyne, R. N., under the auspices of the Mechanic's Institute, on "Arctic Discovery and Voyages in the Northern Seas" will, we are confident, prove most interesting and worthy of public patronage. The lecture is spoken of in the highest terms by the press of both London and New York, and is profusely illustrated with splendid lime light views of scenery in the Arctic regions.

Railway Time Table.

The following gives the time of arrival and departure of the Midland and Grand Junction trains at Peterborough station :—

MIDLAND RAILWAY TRAINS DEPART at 7 and 10.20 a.m., and 4.30 and 6.40 p.m.

ARRIVE at 8.35 and 11.50 a.m., and 6.15 and 9.55 p.m.

GRAND JUNCTION TRAINS DEPART at 7 a.m. and 3 p.m.

ARRIVE at 11 a.m. and 6.10 p.m.

Fortunate.

It is an exceedingly fortunate thing that the fire of this morning did not occur during the night or the large brewery building would undoubtedly have been consumed. As it was the malt house had a narrow escape.

Gorgeous Hues.

The Omemee Herald reached us last week printed on a pink sheet and this week on a green one. The publisher is evidently fond of gorgeous hues.

Safe for Sale.

A Taylor safe with a combination lock, cheap for cash. Size 32 by 28. The safe may be seen and particulars learned by applying to Mr. Jos. Dann, V.S., Simcoe street.

Pantomime and Tableaux.

Do not forget the performance at Bradburn's Hall to-night.

Sad Accident.

Our Lakefield correspondent furnishes us with the particulars of the drowning accident at that village. At about half past six o'clock p.m. on Thursday last, the 16th instant, a boy aged about ten years, son of Mr. Joseph Maguire of this village was drowned. It appears that two small boys, sons of Messrs. John Isbister and Joseph Maguire, a lady and Mr. Nelson and Mr. Wm. McKibbon, with teams, had crossed the river on the scow and were supposed to have gone home, and two other rigs had passed onto the scow, and the scow was starting back for the east side, when a splash and a cry was heard. The scow was stopped, when it was found that Mr. McKibbon's team had backed the waggon over the steep bank, instead of going home as was supposed. The two lads are supposed to have got into McKibbon's waggon to get a ride and hence were dumped into the water. Mr. George Bell, almost immediately upon hearing the cry ran around the horses and into the water, and by holding to the waggon wheel was able to rescue one of the lads, the son of Mr. John Isbister, but was not able to reach the other the son of Mr. John Maguire. The lad drowned was a bright intelligent and well behaved boy. The father being away back in one of the Messrs. Strickland's shanties, much sympathy is felt through the village for the poor mother, who has so suddenly been bereft of her eldest son. At the time of the accident it was very dark and raining very heavily too. No blame can be attached to any one in the sad affair. It seems that Mr. McKibbon's waggon struck against a stump and in backing up to get away from the stump, his horses went too far, and that he did not know that the lads were on the waggon. The body was found about noon the next day within a hundred yards of the place where the accident occurred.

Fire in Ashburnham.

It appears in the light of recent events that an extra cold day or night cannot pass without a fire alarm being sounded. Apparently following up the rule, shortly after ten o'clock this morning the town bell pealed forth its warning note and summoned the fire brigade and citizens. Dense volumes of black smoke rising in Ashburnham, in the vicinity of Calcutt's brewery, led many to believe that institution was falling a prey to the fire fiend. The firemen were exceedingly prompt and before many minutes had elapsed the steamer, reels and truck were speeding across the bridge, the drivers for the nonce, not paying the slightest attention to the little legend about $20 fine painted on the signs overhead. Upon arriving at the brewery it was seen that the building was not on fire, but that a small frame shed, used as a storehouse by Mr. R. D. Rogers was all in flames, while there was great danger of the fire spreading to the brewery and a rough cast house on the east side. All the men from Rogers' mills, and the employees of the brewery swarmed on the roofs of the neighboring buildings, and by means of pails, buckets and blankets kept the fiend in check until the firemen got to work, which they did as speedily as possible. Soon they had two good solid streams playing, and in a short time the fire was under control. The loss will be about $400, and is, we understand covered by insurance. The origin of the fire is not known, but it is thought to have originated from a spark from the pipe of an old servant of Mr. Rogers, who slept in the burned building.

Midland Amalgamation.

The Midland Railway amalgamation scheme is passed as far as the Railway committee are concerned. On Friday at the meeting of the Railway Committee the consideration of the Midland Railway Amalgamation Bill was resumed and amendments were adopted incorporating in the measure the general provisions of the Railway Act, providing that freight rates should be approved by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, and be subject to revision by him from time to time.

Removed.

The undersigned in returning thanks to their numerous customers, beg leave to say that they have removed to the new store recently erected by Garvey and Dolan, opposite the market square. Where, with increased facilities and strict attention to the wants of their customers they hope to merit a continuation of their patronage. CARTON BROS.

Telephonic.

The Guide says that Mr. H. C. Baker, general manager of the Bell Telephone Company, Hamilton, was in Port Hope on Friday, making arrangements to connect Port Hope, Cobourg, Lindsay and Peterborough by telephone. A meeting of prominent business men was held during the afternoon to further the scheme.

The Weather.

The weather probabilities for this district for the following 24 hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a.m. to-day, by the Great North-Western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes,—Strong winds and gales from the east. Cloudy weather, with snow flurries or a snow storm to-night. Rising temperature.

Wake up.

The travelling correspondent of the Dominion Oddfellow who was here recently, says regarding our town. "I am of the opinion that a revival is necessary, so far as our Order is concerned in this place. I had the pleasure of an enjoyable chat with Bro. J. H. Bailey during my short stay."

Lancashire Insurance Company.

We had heard that the above good old company had withdrawn its agency from Peterborough, but we find upon investigation that the agency has simply been transfered to Mr. Geo. A. Cox, who in future will conduct the business of the company here.

Utilization of Canals.

The Wolverhampton Chamber of Commerce is to propose at the meeting in February of the Associations of Chambers, resolutions in favour of canals being emancipated from railway control, with the idea of making them the cheaper means of conveying goods and agricultural produce to markets.

LINDSAY.

THOSE POLES.—The Post says that an effort is being worked up at Peterborough to get rid of the telegraph poles off the front street. People having seen the telephone lines running all over town in Lindsay over the tops of houses, are reesoning that the telegraph lines might go the same way and save the unsightly poles on the best streets. The new company, now building its lines, are coming into town by the back way, so to speak, and not intruding their unbarked wire bolders where they will prove a nuisance. This is commendable.

FOR GAMBLING.—The hotel known as the Dominion House hase been temporarily closed up, the former lessee, Harrison Chester, having lost his license for allowing gambling to be carried on the house. The owner, Mr. J. Pyne, has taken the premises of Chester's hands and has applied for a new license. Mr. Pyne has rented the hotel to Mr. Robert Pogue, who is well known in this locality, and who proposes to carry on the hotel business for the next five years. The premises are to be partially rebuilt and thoroughly repaired early in the spring.

PRESENTATION.—On the occasion of the last regular meeting of Faithful Brethern lodge, No. 77, A.F. & A.M., a very pleasing circumstance apart from the regular business was the presentation by members to I. P. M. W. Bro. Burton of a handsome past-master's jewel. Bro. Burton during the two preceding years occupied the East with credit and every advantage to the craft. The jewel is in the form of a square, with clasps and pendants, and will be esteemed by Bro. Burton as an expression of brotherly feeling from his fellow craftsman.

HOW THEY SEE IT.—A correspondent of a Peterborough paper wants the price of whiskey raised to twenty-five cents per glass, or even as high as one dollar, and thinks it would be a benefit to all classes. If this should be done, speculating in Winnipeg lands would be dubbed as a slow way of making money. Has any other member anything else to offer for the good of the order.

HORSES.—St. German, a Montreal horse buyer, who has been buying here during the past week, shipped on Wednesday to Montreal a carload of sixteen excellent general purpose horses. The prices paid were very fair.

NORWOOD.

COAL OIL IN ABUNDANCE.—The Register says that a team belonging to a Hasting's man who was delivering a couple of barrels of coal oil to Mr. N. B. Gould of this village, ran away on Saturday last. When in the neighborhood of the bridge on Colborne St., the waggon came in contact with the sidewalk, with such force as to throw the barrels out. One barrel was a total wreck. Several youngsters who were in the vicinity when the "spill" occurred, immediately departed for their coal oil cans. Some of them succeeded in obtaining as much as three gallons.

RUNAWAY.—Mr. Chas. Nicoll's team took fright at the sound made by the whistle on the Hub Factory, the other day. After running through two or three fences in rear of the factory, they took up a position on top of a log-pile 6 feet high, and there remained until captured by Mr. Nicholl.

ACCIDENT.—A son of Mr. J. D. Ackerman's of this village, while sleigh riding down the hill at the north end of Colborne St., the other day, had his hand badly smashed, and was otherwise severely "shook up." This should be a warning to all juveniles. The next thing we will have to record will be a broken arm or something worse, if this warning is not acted upon.

CHANGED HANDS.—Mr. N. B. Gould, last week, purchased the new steam grist mill lately erected by Cumming and Sons. The amount paid for the mill is supposed to have been between two and three thousand dollars.

In reply to certain questions by our representative, E. L. Loweree, Esq., cashier of the Cincinnati Southern Railway observed: "I was suffering from a severe attack of rheumatism in my right foot; it was in a terrible condition; the pain was almost intolerable; our family physician waited on me without success; I sent for another well known M. D., but even the twain could do nothing for me; I could not get down here to the office to attend to my duties; in fact I could not put my foot under me at all, and after nine weeks suffering I grew desperate. My friend (whom of course you know, for he is known by everybody), Mr. Stacey Hill, of the Mount Auburn Inclined Plane Co., called to see me; he spoke very highly of St. Jacobs Oil, and recommended the remedy to me in glowing terms. I laughed at the idea of using a propietary medicine, and yet the party recommending it (Mr. Stacey Hill, remember), being a man of sound judgment, set me to thinking the matter over. The next day, when the physicians called I dismissed them, and said to myself I would let nature take its course. That resolution lasted just a day. On the following morning I, in a fit of desperation, sent a servant for a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil. I applied that wonderful remedy, and it penetrated me so that I thought my foot was about to fall off, but it did not; in fact it did just the opposite. The next morning the pain had entirely left my foot, the swelling was reduced, and really the appearance was so different altogether from the day before, that it actually surprised me. I applied more, of the St. Jacobs Oil, and that afternoon I walked down here to the office, and was able to attend to my duties and get around as well as anyone. Let me say for St. Jacobs Oil that it beats railroad time, and is always sure to win.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Hop Bitters is the only thing that will give perfectly healthy natural action to these two organs.—Maine Farmer.

FROM HAMILTON.—A gentleman writes: "I have suffered for over four years with night losses and general weakness, caused by abuse. I had tried all the advertised medicines, and a number of eminent doctors, and found no relief or benefit. I have used twelve boxes of Mack's Magnetic Medicine, and am entirely restored." See advertisement in another column.

STRIKING THE BULL'S EYE!

Experience tells that there is as much at all times and unusually more real cheapness in a fairly good article of any kind than in an inferior or poor thing, however little money it may cost.

Even more important is it to those who have a moderate sum to spend that they spend it wisely, and make the dollars do all the work they can.

A poor thing at a trifling cost, bought over and over, soon eats up twice the cost of a good one, which can yet be of moderate price with tenfold satisfaction in its use.

If you buy cotton, buy what is good of its kind and for the use needed. It is the cheapest. If you buy linen, buy that which is linen, even for common use. Common goods involve only greater wear.

If you want anything to wear, buy goods that are perfect of their kind.

Thin, sleazy, irregularly made goods don't wear well, starch don't add strength to any fabric.

If you buy wool goods, buy those you can depend on—the wool of the sheep, and not the wool of the mill that makes it of woollen rags.

Finally if you want to buy anything in the foregoing articles, you will find them—and of the right quality too, and right in price, at our new stores. A heavy stock of all lines in now, and new goods still coming in daily.

Remember the stores, 1 and 2, Cluxton's Block, corner of George and Hunter Streets.

N. H. DOWNS' Vegetable Balsamic ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis,

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation, when the cough is more observable, but rather dry; then becomes local fever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration.

CONSUMPTION

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are of so drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the CAUSE, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar to itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

Unclaimed Freight.

On Saturday Mr. Charles Stapleton sold on the market square, acting under the instructions of the Midland Railway Company, all the freight that has accumulated at the various stations on the line for years past. Mr. Fairbairn, the agent of the Company at Port Hope, looked after their interests here and did it in his usual, business like manner. Of course there were catalogues issued and the articles having been numbered were set down for just what they appeared to be. Purchasers were numerous and the bidding lively. Every person on the market appeared to want to "take a ticket in the lottery," for nothing short of that could it be called. Some of the purchasers got very good bargains but the majority did not. You could purchase almost anything you wanted from a tombstone to a pair of overalls or a box of last year's almanacs. One corpulent looking "grip" or valise brought $1.75, and the purchaser, importuned to open it by the by-standers, removed his property to the arcade and bursting it open, found that it was filled with broken stone and bits of old crockery. The discovery as may be imagined caused a great laugh and the unlucky purchaser left his newly acquired property where he opened it. Another man bought a trunk for about $1 and found that it contained four suits of cloths. He was lucky. Another puchased a valice with a silk dress in it, but when he came to unfold the silk dress, it fell into dust, whereat he was greatly discomfited. Another purchaser paid $2.50 for a package of Ayer's Almanacs of 1879. He got mad. Old stoves, stovepipes, cases of whetstones, baking powder, old ploughs, grindstones, parts of sewing machines, mattrasses and many other articles too numerous to mention found ready purchasers. The only article left unsold was a second hand tombstone, and for it no purchaser could be found. The sale throughout caused any amount of merriment, and the amount realized was quite a handsome sum. The result showed that the officials in selecting the "hub" as the place of sale thoroughly understood their business.

A Drunken Row.

On Saturday afternoon two men in a state of intoxication had a fight opposite this office. They cursed and swore and tore the coats of each other for fully half an hour amid the plaudits of a pleased crowd that formed a ring around the men. At last a friend took one of the bruisers away, but the other remained and announced that he was prepared "to lick all creation." P. C. McGhee appeared on the scene and quietly carried him off and deposited him in the cells, before he had a chance of having a spat with any person else.

Brandon Lots.

Mr. C. S. Wallis, of the firm of Crawford, Beck and Wallis, will be at the Oriental tomorrow (Tuesday) between 11 a.m. and 3 p.m., for the purpose of giving information with regard to, and showing plans of the Brandon lots advertised in another column, to be sold in Toronto on the 23rd and 24 inst.

IRISH OUTRAGES.

DUBLIN, Feb. 18.—Armed bands attacked the military in charge of a house at Carrick-on-Suir, from which a tenant had been evicted, and fired several shots. The military returned a volley, dispersing the band.

HIGH TIDE AT CALAIS.

CALAIS, Feb. 18.—The tide was extraordinarily high at Calais to-day. The water reached the quays, washed away the embankment, and penetrated the dry-docks.

THE BI-METALIC QUESTION.

BERNE, Feb. 18.—The proposal of the Swiss Federal Council to conclude an international treaty, fixing the standard for gold and silver coinage, has been refused by England, Germany, France, Italy, and other powers.

THE VERY ACME.

LONDON, Feb. 18.—In the House of Commons last night Chaplin, member for Mid-Lincolnshire, stated that all the evidence before the Royal Commission tended to show that the United States have reached the acme of agricultural prosperity, and that the worst therefore has been seen of foreign competition.

HOME RULE UTTERANCES.

LONDON, Feb. 18.—Sir Stafford Northcote, referring to Mr. Gladstone's Home Rule utterances, said they were something between a dream and an electioneering move which, though sufficiently characteristic of Mr. Gladstone, were exceedingly dangerous.

NEW FINANCIAL VENTURE.

PARIS, Feb. 18.—A kind of Credit Mobilier, with a capital of 100,000,000 francs, styled the Omnius Francais, is being formed in Paris. The object is to buy stocks and shares at present prices. The directors will represent leading financial establishments.

A BOLD PRELATE.

MOSCOW, Feb. 18.—The Metropolitan of Moscow has addressed a letter to the Czar, urging him to quit his seclusion, which suggests poltroonery, and is injurious to national traditions. The Emperor's seclusion, he continues, will lead to disunion between the Emperor and his people, who will finally accustom themselves to dispense with a sovereign. The Czar was irritated by the letter, and will endeavor to have the Metropolitan dismissed.

OUTRAGE BY PERUVIANS.

LONDON, Feb. 18.—A despatch from Buenos Ayres, dated Jan. 24th, says particulars have been received there of the massacre of the inhabitants of Pisco by Peruvian soldiery. Col. Mas, with six hundred troops from Ica, attacked Villavicencio, routed him, and proceeded to sack Pisco. One thousand pipes of wine were distributed among the men, who burned houses and murdered the inhabitants. Four hundred foreigners who resisted were cut to pieces, three hundred being killed, including the French consul. The total number of victims is one thousand. It is said Col. Mas has since been shot by Calderon's troops.

GLADSTONE'S MANNERS.

LONDON, Feb. 18.—The great subject of discussion is the attitude Mr. Gladstone has adopted towards the Queen. His conduct of late has passed the bounds of decency. It is customary on the Queen's arrival in London for the Prime Minister to wait upon her. On Thursday when Her Majesty arrived at Buckingham Palace Mr. Gladstone did not put in an appearance, but it was announced that he was indisposed. The same night he attended the House of Commons and made a long speech. On Friday the Queen held a drawing-room, but the principal Minister stayed away. The day passed over without a visit from Mr. Gladstone, and the Queen left London without having seen him. The correspondent attributes these occurrences to an article in the court organ referring to the great anxiety of the Queen about the present state of public affairs, and intimating that she has been compelled to submit to more than one indignity at the hands of her Ministers.

SKOBEDEFF'S SPEECH.

LONDON, Feb. 18.—The entire Vienna press condemn General Skobeleff's recent speech. The Fremdenblatt says the speech is significant because thousands of Russians hold the same views. Panslavism, it affirms, is as great a danger for Russia as for Europe. A Berlin despatch says the Emperor expressed the deepest indignation and sorrow because of General Skobeleff's remarks. He said if such wanton provocations continued he would be compelled to restore to energetic measures. General Skobeleff has informed an interviewer that he made his recent speech simply as a private individual, and although the report of his speech was exaggerated, he adhered to the spirit thereof. He altogether deprecated the importance attached to his utterances.

THE SARDINIAN.

LONDON, Feb. 18.—The passengers of the steamer Sardinian, transferred to the Nederland in mid-Atlantic, state that the captain of the Nederland declined to take the Sardinian in tow as his vessel was carrying mails, but offered to take the passengers. When the Nederland left the Sardinian on the 8th inst., nine hundred miles from Queenstown, her stern was leaking.

EXTRA PRECAUTIONS.

LONDON, Feb. 18.—Friday's drawing-room at Buckingham palace was remarkable for the unusual number of troops and police, and the immense turn-out of spectators in the streets and parks. Nobody believes the Queen to be in personal danger from an Irish plot, but precautions were taken exactly as if an attempt were expected.

THE SECRET OF BEAUTY.—No Cosmetic in the world can impart beauty to a face that is disfigured by unsightly blotches arising from impure blood. Burdock Blood Bitters is the grand purifying medicine for all humors of the blood. It makes good blood and imparts the bloom of health to the most sallow complexion.

CHILBLAINS.—These troublesome complaints may be speedily cured by Hagyard's Yellow Oil, the great Rheumatic remedy, which, as an external application and an internal remedy has a wider range of usefulness than any similar preparation in the world. All druggists sell it. Price 25c.

"I DON'T WANT THAT STUFF," is what a lady of Boston said to her husband when he brought home some medicine to cure her of sick headache and neuralgia which had made her miserable for fourteen years. At the first attack thereafter, it was administered to her with such good results, that she continued to use it until cured, and was made so enthusiastic in its praise, that she induced twenty-two of the best families in her circle to adopt it as their regular family medicine. That "stuff" is Hop Bitters."—Standard.

OMEMEE.

COMPLIMENTARY SUPPER AND ADDRESS.—The Herald says that on Thursday evening last about fifty of the magnates of Omemee assembled at the Bradburn House to partake of a complimentary supper given to W. H. English, Esq., who is about to take his departure for the "Great North West." The table was spread in Mrs. Bradburn's usual recherche style, and could not fail but please the most fastidious person present. Dr. Norris, our worthy Reeve, filled the chair, and Thomas Stevenson, Esq., the Vice-chair. After ample justice had been done to the oysters, cold fowl, pies cakes and tarts, so plentifully provided. the chairman read and presented a very flattering address to the guest of the evening. The customary toasts were proposed and responded to in an able manner. All present expressed deep regret at losing so true a citizen as the guest had proved himself to be, and wished him long life and prosperity in that far-away land.

THROUGH THE ICE.—On Monday last Mr. John Young, of the Windsor house, drove down with his horse and buggy to see if the ice would be fit for the races which were to take place the following day. He had not gone far, however, when the animal went plunging through the ice. Mr. Young, to use his own words, "being light and nimble, made a jump from the buggy, clearing the horse's head," managed to extricate himself from his dangerous position, and returned with the report that the ice would not hold.

Daily Evening Review

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1882.

THE "SPEAK NOW" EPISODE.

THE Ottawa Herald makes the following fresh contribution to the discussion on the intrigue between Mr. Blake and Mr. Wood, for the overthrow of the Government of Mr. Sandfield Macdonald,, of which Mr. Wood was then a member:—

"We make, subject to correction, a few remarks bearing on this matter, and our statement is based as best our memory serves us on the authority of one of the Sandfield Ministry. Whilst the late lamented, and ever to be remembered, first Premier of Ontario was sitting at the Council table surrounded by his colleagues, a page entered the chamber and handed a letter to Mr. Wood, remarking that Mr. Blake sent that note to him. The observation created much surprise among his associates, and on being asked "What it was about?" Mr. Wood said, "It was not from Mr. Blake." Subsequently the Hon. Mr. Carling left the room,and finding the page, asked him if he was sure Mr. Blake gave him the letter he handed to Mr. Wood. Having replied in the affirmative, he was asked to point out Mr. Blake, and did so. Mr. Carling communicated these facts to the Ministers. Now, if we assume this to be true, and remember that at the time this letter was sent into the Council Chamber Mr. Wood was a member of the Cabinet, we leave the public to decide as to the probability of the rumours that an interview had taken place some days previous between Mr. Wood and Mr. Blake. What followed the public knows. When the Assembly convened, and when the Provincial Treasurer was occupying a seat on the Ministerial benches, Mr. Blake sent a letter across the floor of the House to Mr. Wood, who, tearing it in two dropped it on the floor, and on being picked up by Hon. Mr. Richards, it was found to read as follows:—"Speak Now—Edward Blake." Now, either this version of the event is true or false. If true it needs no commentary. If false, our columns are open to Mr. Blake to particularize any inaccuracy in our narrative of it. We would profoundly regret doing Mr. Blake the slightest injustice, and will be most happy to correct and apologize for any incorrect version of what we have above penned. A member of the Sandfield Cabinet occupies a seat in the House. To him also we will appeal if necessary to vindicate Mr. Blake's record in the matter if any intentional wrong has been done him. But if we have given an historical, a true narrative of the conduct of Mr. Blake, not because we like him less, but because we love the honour, the character of our public men more, we denounce his action as deserving of the most unreserved and severe condemnation."

ASPHODEL'S DEPUTY REEVE.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—Noticing your editorial on those Deputy Reeves, and as it seems the matter is not yet disposed of, it would probably be well to give your readers a little information along with what you have already given, as to the way the Asphodel roll is made to count 506. Take No. 33 on the roll as a sample. No. 33 is assessed as a farmer's son, yet he has been and is a resident of the State of Iowa for some years. No. 274, assessed also as a farmer's son,—that is as the son of his younger brother (who is the tenant), has not been a resident of Asphodel for the last ten years.

Now sir, I think our late assessor, although a good Grit, had not much respect for the Hon. Mr. Mowat, or he would not set the Statutes of Ontario at defiance as he has done, or else he considered the services of our Deputy Reeve very valuable, when he would make a man appear as the son of his younger brother in order to get names enough on the roll to enable the Clerk (perhaps by straining his conscience) to make out the necessary certificate,

Yours, etc.,
ASPHODEL.

Asphodel, Feb. 14th, 1882.

BOBCAYGEON

OYSTER SUPPER.—The Independent says that on Monday evening about twenty of our leading citizens partook of an oyster supper in the back parlour at Goulais' Hotel. They met together for the purpose of entertaining Mr. Petrie and Captain Bottum previous to their departure for Winnipeg. Mr. C. Fairbairn, reeve of Verulam was in the chair, and the Vice-Chair was ably filled by Mr. Howson, ex-reeve of Bobcaygeon. Many excellent speeches were made on the occosion, the toast of the healths and success of the guests was drank with every demonstration of friendly feeling, and many sparkling bon mots, and bright little jests enlivened the evening. Mr Petrie and Captain Bottum left here the following morning on their way west, where they will probably stay some weeks. Mr. Howson brought the evening to a close by proposing as a toast "The safe return of the prospectors," a toast, which will be re-echoed by the entire village.

NEW BUILDING.—Mr. Moore, the waggon maker, is having a handsome new building erected as a workshop. It is at the corner opposite Orr's hotel, and is sixty feet in length, by ever so many in breadth, and it goes up tremendously high. Our village is improving in appearance. If we could only get a few plate glass windows and some bad smells, we might try a little rivalry with Lindsay and Peterboro' successfully. Mr. Moore is doing a first class business and naturally requires a first class build-He will have it.

BIG STABLE.—Messrs. Lancaster and Grant the builders, of this village have taken a contract to build a new stable for Mr. Boyd, at Little Bob. It will be 350 feet in length and will be built with all the latest improvements. The plans show a very tasteful piece of architecture.

CHEESE FACTORY.—A meeting of those anxious to establish a cheese factory in this village was held on Wednesday, when it was decided to erect the necessary buildings and go on with the enterprise. The directory appointed are about to buy a piece of land from M. W. B. Read, in Rokeby, and the factory will be in full working order with the opening of the milking season. A large number of cows will be affiliated to the factory.

FISH.—The Indians have latterly been catching a great many bass through holes cut in the ice. The fish are in splendid condition.

NEW FACTORY.—The new sash and door factory, and planing mill, of Messrs Lancaster and Grant was opened last week. The steam is up, the machinery is running, and lots of work going on.

DROWNED.—A man named John Anglo, residing in Harvey, while attempting to cross Pigeon Lake on Tuesday evening broke through the ice, and was drowned. His body has not been recovered.

KILLED BY A TREE.—An old man named Isaac Ascott, also a resident of Harvey, was killed on Friday evening by a falling tree.

A NOVEL CATTLE CAR.

A Good time Coming for Travelling Bovines —A Palace Car.

The Montreal Star of the 16th says:—A new cattle truck was exhibited at the Grand Trunk cattle yards yesterday morning, and attracted considerable attention. Amongst those who were present to witnessa its method of operation were Messrs. Wainwright and Spicer of the Grand Trunk. and Messrs. Alcer, Kennedy, P. S. Stevenson, and other prominent cattle dealers.

The new car is shaped like the old ones, only a few feet longer, and with patent fittings for the separation and feeding of the cattle during transit. A partition, cousisting of a number of boards connected by chains and suspended by a pole, separates each animal. The boards are made to fold up, and when down reach to within six inches of the bottom of the car. The whole framework is flexible, and yields readily to every motion of the animal. A trough, for the food and water, runs along one side and is accessible, from each partition, by a small door. Under the old system the animals had to be removed from the car three times between Chicago and Boston, and this delay is done away with. The new car was built by Mr. James Crossen, of Cobourg, the fittings being the invention of W. S. Hunter, of Belleville. The loading of the car yesterday was done in eight minutes and the unloading in four minutes. By practice this time will doubtless be shortened. Those present were unanimous in saying that for long distances the new truck is a great improvement on the old ones. The Grand Trunk authorities have given orders for new fittings for several cars, and they will without doubt be generally used.

MILLBROOK.

AN IMPROVEMENT.—Although the Nor'-West fever is still running high in Millbrook and vicinity, and large numbers of the inhabitants of that section are making preparations for an early spring start to that famed "Garden of Eden," (for speculation), Mr. John E. Norris, the enterprising proprietor of the Dominion House, is not deterred in adding comforts and convenience to his house for travellers, guests, and the village merchants. The latest improvement consists in creating an additional sample room, with an entrance separate and distinct from the hotel entrance. This enables ladies and gentlemen to enter the sample rooms and inspect the goods exhibited, without entering the hotel or coming in contact with the large number of guests that usually congregate in the office, sitting rooms, or bar-room. Travellers who have seen this last improvement are greatly pleased at the thoughtfulness of the "Dominion" proprietor.

TO PERSONS employed in constant mental toil, study or anxiety, Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites is especially adapted, namly to teachers, Clergymen, Editors, Lawyers, and impecunious business men.

BURNS AND SCALDS are promptly cured as all flesh wounds, sprains, bruises, callous lumps, soreness, pain, inflamation and all painful diseases; by the great Rheumatic Remedy, Hagyard's Yellow Oil. For external and internal use. Price 25c.

WORTHY OF PRAISE.—As a rule we do not recommend Patent Medicines, but when we know of one that is really a public benefactor and does positively cure, then we consider it our duty to impart that information to all. Electric Bitters are truly a most valuable medicine, and will surely cure billiousness, Fever and ague, Stomach, Liver and kidney complaints, even where all other remedies fail. We know whereof we speak, and can freely recommend them to all.—Exch.—Sold at fifty cents a bottle, by Taylor & Macdonald.—6.

O'GRADY TO THE REVIEW.

Hurrah for whiskey and shillelaghs! "The O'Briens to the fore." The following gentlemen residing in this neighborhood were brought before his High Chief Justiceship to answer a complaint lodged against them for fighting, etc. etc.:—Maurice O'Brien, Mick O'Brien, Tim O'Brien, Tom O'Brien, Wm. O'Brien, James Scott, Stephen Scott, and Michael Hynes. Fighting is a game the O'Briens always indulge in together wid a slight irrigation when they come to Apsley, after the manner of their lively forefathers on the ould sod. They were a purty looking set of lads as they stood around the railing in front of His Worship—not one widout a black, blue, or green eye. The following witnesses were sworn:—James McDonald, Frank Perry, George McIlmoyl, John McIlmoyl, Arthur McIlmoyl, Jud. K. Webster, William Eastland, Tommy Pratt, and George Cochrane, whose testimony showed that they fought several hours straight along, barrin' short intermissions for drinks. They knocked down the stove pipes in McIlmoyl's bar-room, kicked long Jim McDonald in the eye and "praty bag." The women of the house hid Mac., but they swore they'd have his heart's blood, and when they couldn't they battered away at each other till they were tired. They then adjourned to the Eastland House, where they passed a most enjoyable hour or two in pugilistic exercise, demolishing the front door and sitting-room door, kicking the top off the bar counter, smashed all the chairs they could get hold of, and tried their muscle on the plaister. After the above was sworn to by the several witnesses, His Honour then asked them separately,—Guilty or not guilty? Then came the invariable answer,—Not guilty, sorr! Overseer Cochrane seemed a little puzzled to find out what kind of fish these were, but being informed that there are two kinds of suckers, viz., the red-fin and the mullet-head wid purple eye, and that the specimens before him were of the latter description, Mr. Cochrane's testimony went to show that these fish are exceedingly hard to cultivate on account of their voracious nature. If they are kept near other fish in large quantites they devour them all. If kept in small quantities they have the propensity of the Kilkenny cats and eat one another. They are hard to maintain, as they require so much suction, and thrive best on a mud bottom. Mr. Cochrane's remarks were considered rather discouraging by his honor, who had gone so heavily into fish-culture. But he says he means to have ten dollars each for them, and he will have it sure with costs. Don't ye think that pretty high for suckers? He hopes to dispose of the most of them in Apsley, but those that are not settled for will be sent to Peterborough in time for Lent.

I see a vision from behind the prison bars,
O! Susanna don't you cry for me.
If your daddy sends me through the pearly gates ajar,
Sure we'll meet beyant the sky.
I will, dear George, you bet.

The above epitaph was written for a nice young man's tombstone, but he hasn't called for it yet. Some of the boys were at the Apsley ball and took much "pizon," one of the corpses was laid out in the punch-room of the Eastland House, and a washboard under his head and a towel over his face to keep the flies from blowing down his gas-pipe; but the dead couldn't rest there, so he got up and said they didn't tramp on a corpse at Harwood to wake it. Then he started for Peter's shanty. But he suddenly concluded he would show the public how he looked in a white shroud, so he laid himself out on the road for inspection.

The Agricultural Society held its first meeting for the election of officers on the third of this month. Johnny was elected secretary and treasurer; they also elected a president and nine generals. Mr. Young made a speech, gentlemen and ladies, and exhorted his hearers to be honest and straightforward, for by so doing they will have nothing to retract. Apsley was the scene of a nice little little scandal lately. Two young men arrived here from Lakefield lately in hot haste for the purpose of killing a few Apseleyites, on account of some stories that a young lady of that village got badly mixed up in whilst living in this part. It caused a lively time amongst the boys for a short time, but after all amounted to nothing, and had the young gents remained at home minding their own business, if they had any to attend to, they would have saved themselves from being classed with a certain long-eared quadruped.

We have to record visits from the Rev. Father O'Connell, of Douro, and two Rev. French gentlemen, a short time since, who made a tour of inspection to all the lumber camps in this neighbourhood. They'l have to make a special trip for the benefit of a couple of foremen in this part. One ancient specimen was running round loose here on the 3rd and 4th of this month, but did not get in the menagerie again. As a first contribution, Boyd & Irwin's men, intend to scoop out Jolly Jack, as a canal barge, to be used on the Jack Creek Canal, when opened. I can't say much about our Apsley parliament, as they only put up their notice of meeting "subsequently" and its hard to be there on time, but they had a "little hole in the wall" affair, and the first minister shoved through some pet appointments I believe. I understand the Lakefield dam will have to come down and make an end to that dam; business—as to what will be done with the Cruiser is no "sacret." So they had a carnival at Lakefield, eh? And there was a Turk to the fore.

"He never was fond of hard work,
'Twas ne'er a fault of the Bradys,
But he made a most illegant Turk
For he's fond of tobacco and ladies."

And I'm tould the Queen of Hearts did'nt "uchre" any body. I see John Hull has lost his seat, so now he is neither Councillor nor Commissioner, but I hope he'll fugle Nelson yet. Congresman Robinson has about as clear an idea of war with England, as the Commissioner of Public Works in Ontario has of the area of waters kept up by the dam at Young's Point, Clear Lake, six miles long, mile and quarter broad, Stony Lake, 12 miles from Burleigh Falls, to head of Lake, average, two miles wide. Mr. Commissioner only makes it 9,200 acres of water. I will give you a line as soon as our little parliament assembles as I observe it is the only municipality in the county that is ashamed to send a report of their proceedings to one of the county papers.

Yours truly,
OLD DAN O'GRADY.

FROM ALL OVER.

CONSIDERABLE comment has been caused in Belleville by the burial of a pet dog belonging to a lady in her husband's grave in the Cemetery. The body of the animal was encased in a handsome coffin.

THE Grand Lodge of the Young Men's Protestant Benevolent Association elected Mr. J. Lucas, of London, Grand Master. The future celebration day of the order was fixed for 12th August.

MR. SAMUEL MCCAW, the well-known conductor on the Whitby and Lindsay Railway, says Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters cured me of Dyspepsia. I always kept them in the house, and consider them invaluable as a family medicine. J. D. Tully, agent for Peterborough.

THE following is the text of Mr. Girouard's Bill:—(1) All laws prohibiting marriage between a man and the sister of his deceased wife are hereby repealed as if they had never been enacted; (2) this Act shall not effect in any manner vested rights.

Mr. SWEETNAM, of the Toronto Post Office, who has been appointed to hold an investigation into the Montreal Post Office affairs, walked into the Post Office unknown, unannounced and unchallenged. After walking about for a time he announced his name and business. General consternation was the result.

COUGHS, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Pains in the Throat and Chest, relieved and cured by the use of Dr. Carson's Cough Drops. The most reliable testimony has been received as to their efficiency. In bottles, 50 cents. J. D. Tully, agent for Peterborough.

A COMPANY has been organized at Cleveland to introduce a system of tubes in which to convey all electric and telephone wire through the streets, and thus dispense with poles. The company say they will use a wire which will overcome the difficulty of induction of wires by contact and retardation of the current. Experiments in Philadelphia are claimed to have demonstrated the efficacy of the system.

GIVEN AWAY.—We cannot help noticing the liberal offer made to all invalids and sufferers by Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. You are requested to call at Taylor & Macdonald's Drug Store and get a trial bottle, if you are suffering with Consumption, Severe Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Hay Fever, Loss of Voice, Hoarseness, or any affection of the Throat or Lungs. It will positively cure you. —6.

TWELVE tons of tainted beef were lately confiscated by the Health Inspectors at Winnipeg, Manitoba. It had been consigned by rail from Ontario, and the mild temperature having injured it, it was refused by the consignees, and when the railway authorities were selling it for charges the seizure was made. An order has now been issued that charges on perishable goods must be prepaid.

A GOOD FILTER.—To have pure water in the house every family should have a filter, the health and comfort depends largely upon the use of properly filtered water. The liver is the true filter for the blood, and Burdock Blood Bitters keeps the liver and all the secretory organs in a healthy condition. It is the grand blood purifying, liver regulating tonic.

FOR SEVERE COUGHS AND HOARSENESS.—Philadelphia, Jan. 1. 1876. Messrs. Seth W. Fowle & Sons; Gentlemen—Miss S. Burns, of Seventh and Coates street, has long been a sufferer from a severe cough and hoarseness, which I considered chronic. She was treated by some of our most eminent physicians, but they were only able to afford her temporary relief. I prescribed Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, the use of four bottles of which entirely cured her, as it is now four months since she took the last of it, during which time she has had no return of the complaint. For the good of suffering humanity, Miss Burns has requested me to lay the case before the public. Yours truly, T. D. McGrath, M. D., Druggist and Chemist, S. E. cor. Seventh and Wharton Streets. 50 cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by all druggists.

AN argument between two members of the 13th Batt. Band, of Hamilton, Thomas Egan and Robert Magness, on Tuesday night, was ended by Egan drawing a knife and striking at Magness. The blow was warded off and struck Jno. Rutley, another bandsman, in the left knee. Rutley was endeavoring to calm the disputants when he was struck. The loss of blood from the wound was such that he fainted. Egan was arrested on a charge of assault and stabbing, but was remanded back to jail to await the result of Rutley's injury.

A MIGHTY hard-working set of men are Uncle Sam's letter-carriers who are liable to contract rheumatism because of the constant exposure to which they are subjected. Calling at the post office the reporter had a pleasant conversation with Mr. J. H. Mattern, one of the most popular and clever letter-carriers in Indianapolis. Mr. Mattern said that, while in the army during the civil war, he sprained one of his ankles, which was always worse in the spring during the period of the rapid changes in the weather. He did not find much relief from the several remedies he applied. But two years ago he hit upon St. Jacobs Oil, and experienced wonderful relief from its use. Several applications of the Great German Remedy relieved him entirely. The reporter talked with others among the letter-carriers and found that the Great German Remedy was popular in the post office. They use it for sore feet, rheumatism, etc., and praise it highly.—Indianapolis, Ind. News.

Glass Fifty Years in a Lady's Foot.

A Welsh lady named Broderick, for many years a resident of Ansonia, and for over 40 of America, had the misfortune when a child of 10 or 12 to step upon some glass by which the sole of one of her feet was filled with the broken pieces, which, however, were, as was supposed at the time, all extracted. A few weeks since she began to have a soreness in the foot, and it increased until it was necessary to consult a physician—Dr. S. R. Baker, who, upon pressing the finger to a certain place, found a hard spot which was very sensitive to the touch. An incision was made and a piece of glass over an inch long and three-quarters of an inch wide at the base, tapering to a sharp point, was snugly hidden under the bones of the instep, where it had probably laid for nearly or quite 50 years.—New Haven Journal, Feb. 9.

"WOMEN NEVER THINK."—If the crabbed old bachelor who uttered this sentiment could but witness the intense thought, deep study and thorough investigation of women in determining the best medicines to keep their families well, and would note their sagacity and wisdom in selecting Hop Bitters as the best, and demonstrating it by keeping their families in perpetual health, and at a mere nominal expense, he would be first to acknowledge that such sentiments are baseless and false.—Picayune.

A CURE FOR HEADACHE.—What physician has ever discovered a cure for headache? Echo answers none. But Burdock Blood Bitters by their purifying, invigorating, nervine properties afford a cure in nearly every case. The health-giving principles of this remedy are unequalled by any similar preparation in the world.

Cacoethes Scribendi. Those troubled in this respect may find relief in using Esterbrook's Steel Pens. They are sold everywhere. Wholesale dealers, the leading Toronto stationers.

RHEUMATISM; yes, and Neuralgia too, are greatly relieved and often entirely cured by the use of Perry Davis' Pain-Killer—Try it.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1882.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

POLICE COURT.

D. AND D.

MONDAY, Feb. 20.—Alex. Ross was charged by P. C. McGhee with being drunk and disorderly on the public streets on Thursday last.

DEFENDANT pleaded not guilty.

P. C. McGHEE sworn,—He saw defendant and two others walking down George street on Thursday. He was under the influence of liquor. He was in the same condition the previous night. The three who were together made considerable noise.

The DEFENDANT said that on Thursday night he simply took a friend home.

The case was enlarged until Thursday at the request of defendant.

A SECOND CHARGE.

Alex. Ross was also charged with being drunk in a public place on Friday.

P. C. McGHEE—Defendant was staggering in the street on Friday afternoon. He made no noise.

This case was also enlarged until Thursday at 10 a.m.

FOUND DRUNK.

Hugh Riley was charged by P. C. McGhee with being drunk on the public street on Friday last.

DEFENDANT said that he was "tight." He acknowledged the corn.

The MAGISTRATE remarked that defendant had been that way several times before.

DEFENDANT,—Only three times, your honor.

The MAGISTRATE—You have been committed three times before.

DEFENDANT — Yes sir, three times only; Don't you figure too much; let me off easily.

The MAGISTRATE—The best plan will be to send you up to get sober.

DEFENDANT said that he did not want to get sober but wanted to work at his trade.

Thee defendant was very facetious, and caused the audience to laugh heartily.

Judgment—Fine $3 and costs $2.

DIDN'T SHOW UP.

Simon Weir was charged by P. C. McGhee with being drunk in a public place on Thursday last.

Defendant did not appear.

Chief JOHNSTON certified that he had served the defendant, and a warrant was issued for his arrest.

THE FIRST SHOT.

A boy named O'Dette was charged by Thos. Bradburn with raising a disturbance in the the Opera House on Thursday night.

P. C. McGHEE sworn,—He saw defendant on the night in question. He saw O'Dette throw something at the audience. He was also making a noise by laughing and talking loudly. He was acting in a disorderly manner.

DEFENDANT said he threw a handful of sawdust but did not make any noise.

The MAGISTRATE said he would teach him that he could not throw sawdust or anything else in a public hall, where people were assembled for amusement.

Judgment—Fine, $2 and costs $1, or 14 days in gaol.

THE SECOND SHOT.

A boy named Armour was charged with the same offence.

He pleaded not guilty.

P. C. McGHEE deposed that defendant was sitting with his feet on the back of a seat, and spitting all over the seat in front of him.

Mr. BRADBURN stated that the conduct of boys in the hall was becoming worse all the time and he was bound to stop it at once.

DEFENDANT said he spit on the sawdust and not on the seat.

P. C. McGHEE said he did not tell defendant to take his feet down. He could not swear that defendant spit on the seat.

Judgment—Not guilty.

THE THIRD SHOT.

A boy named Howard Parrington appeared to answer the same charge.

P. C. McGHEE said that defendant was shaking himself and running about from seat to seat. He was trying to cuff another boy's ears. He was making a disturbance. He was told by a gentleman in the hall that defendant was raising a row. He then watched him.

The DEFENDANT said he was simply brushing off sawdust that had been thrown on him.

The MAGISTRATE said the conduct of boys in our hall was referred to all over, and kept respectable troupes and people away from our Opera House. He was bound to stamp it out by all means that he could. When the cases were proved he intended to inflict a fine without distinction of person.

Judgment—Fine $1 without costs.

ASSAULT.

Patrick Tagney was charged by Margaret Tagney with committing an assault on her in the township of Otonabee on the 17th of February.

The case was enlarged until Wednesday next.

A HARD CASE.

George Clark, well known in police circles, was charged by P. C. McGhee with being drunk and disorderly on the public streets on Saturday afternoon.

DEFENDANT pleaded guilty, but said that another man named Simple was to blame for the whole thing.

Mr. C. LEARY said that he saw defendant and another man wrestling and pulling one another's coats off on George street. The men did not appear to be fighting in earnest; both were too drunk for that. The two of them were rolling on the ground. Defendant did not know all about the case, but knew what the affair started about.

P. C. McGHEE sworn,—He found defendant on George Street in his shirt sleeves. He was jumping and swearing, and accusing some person of stealing his money. Defendant's coat was lying on the sidewalk torn in three pieces and quite a crowd surrounded him.

The Herndons.

After an absence of quite a number of years the Herndon Opera House Company appear before a Peterborough audience at the Opera House this evening. As many of our readers will remember this popular organization played in Hill's Music Hall for a season of a week, during which time the Hall was jammed every evening. Since then Mr. Herndon and his talented company have played around the world. Their tour through Canada, so far, has been a great success, and we know that as far as Peterborough is concerned they will have no reason to regret visiting us, as this is one of the few towns in which true merit is prized at its right value. This evening will be presented for the first time here Bartley Campbell's great emotional play "Divorced, or Lost and Won," followed by the screaming farce "The Gregories." The press all unite in according this company the highest credit for the manner in which they place all their plays on the stage. We expect nothing short of a packed house. Reserved seats may be secured at Davidson's bookstore.

Keep Order!

As will be seen by reference to our Police Court proceedings, Mr. Thomas Bradburn, the owner of the opera house, has been convinced of the necessity of maintaining better order in the place of amusement during the performance of troops. The cases brought were against three boys all under fifteen years of age, two were fined and the third dismissed. The Magistrate spoke out his mind freely and said such conduct was a standing disgrace to the town and drove away many first class troupes that would otherwise have visited us. He gave a warning to the boys who almost filled the court room, that he int ended to deal severely with all cases that came before him and announced his intention of supressing the evil with a firm hand. Boys, large and small, beware in future!

The Ice Harvest.

The ice harvest is now in full blast, and affords employment to a large number of men. A gentleman informs us that one day last week he counted over sixty men at work on the Little Lake alone. The ice, notwithstanding the mild weather, is of a good thickness and is exceedingly pure. The principal consumers are of course, the ice house men, butchers and hotelkeepers, but a very large quantity is also cut for private consumption. The quantity already cut this season is, we are told, far in excess of that cut for many years. It comes in very handy for a variety of purposes during the warm summer months.

Sentenced.

Samuel Whitney, alias George Daly, and his brother William, who passed as a brother of Harve Thompson, of Bobcaygeon, were tried before Judge Dean at Lindsay on Saturday, for the theft of a buffalo robe, the property of Mr. James Crowley, at Brennan's hotel at Hastings some time ago. They were both found guilty. Samuel was sentenced to six months in the Central Prison and his brother to two weeks in the common gaol with hard labor.

That Settles It.

The Globe says Guiteau is pronounced Gee-toe, "Gui" as "Gee" in McGee, and "teau" as "toe," or the French "eau" with the consonant "t" prefixed.

AN AROMATIC FRAGRANCE is imparted to the mouth by the use of Sozodont. It is beyond doubt the cleanest, purest and best wash ever offered to the public. Sozodont and comfort are synonyms. It cleanses the cavities in the enamel of the teeth.

SICK HEADACHE.—This scourge of all ages and sexes succumbs at once to Dr. Herrick's Sugar-Coated Vegetable Pills. A single dose will alleviate even the most obstinate case, and a persistence in the use of the medicine effect a radical cure. Try the remedy.

DRUGGISTS throughout the country testify to the great merits of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. No medicine they sell acts so promptly in curing Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, &c. Have you tried it? J. D. Tully, agent for Peterboro'.

MRS. PARTINGTON SAYS, dont take any of the quack rostrums, as they are regimental to the human system; but put your trust in Hop Bitters, which will cure general dilapidation, costive habits and all comic diseases. They saved Isaac from a severe extract of tripod They are the ne plus unum of medicines.—Boston Globe.

FROM HAMILTON.—A gentleman writes: "I have suffered for over four years with night losses and general weakness, caused by abuse. I had tried all the advertised medicines, and a number of eminent doctors, and found no relief or benefit. I have used twelve boxes of Mack's Magnetic Medicine, and am entirely restored." See advertisement in another column.

Narrow Escape.

A copy of a Southern paper, kindly sent to us by some friend, says that on the 7th inst. Mrs. Hammond, wife of Mr. E. P. Hammond, the well-known revivalist, whose labors in this town will be remembered, had a narrow escape from a terrible death. She was thrown from a buggy in the suburbs of Nashville, Tenn.. just as the train came up. A man standing by pulled her away when the engine was within a few feet of her. The horse dashed across the track, but the buggy was caught by the cow-catcher and thrown high in the air. Mrs. Hammond will not get over the effects of the venture for some time.

Sale of Periodicals.

The annual sale of illustrated papers and periodicals will take place this evening at the rooms of the Peterborough Mechanics' Institute immediately after the quarterly meeting of the members of the Institute. This is always a good opportunity of obtaining the leading periodicals on very favorable terms.

STRIKING THE BULL'S EYE!

Experience tells that there is as much at all times and unusually more real cheapness in a fairly good article of any kind than in an inferior or poor thing, however little money it may cost.

Even more important is it to those who have a moderate sum to spend that they spend it wisely, and make the dollars do all the work they can.

A poor thing at a trifling cost, bought over and over, soon eats up twice the cost of a good one, which can yet be of moderate price with tenfold satisfaction in its use.

If you buy cotton, buy what is good of its kind and for the use needed. It is the cheapest. If you buy linen, buy that which is linen, even for common use. Common goods involve only greater wear.

If you want anything to wear, buy goods that are perfect of their kind.

Thin, sleazy, irregularly made goods don't wear well, starch don't add strength to any fabric.

If you buy wool goods, buy those you can depend on—the wool of the sheep, and not the wool of the mill that makes it of woollen rags.

Finally if you want to buy anything in the foregoing articles, you will find them—and of the right quality too, and right in price, at our new stores. A heavy stock of all lines in now, and new goods still coming in daily.

Remember the stores, 1 and 2, Cluxton's Block, corner of George and Hunter Streets.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng

FATAL FOOLISHNESS.

Two Men Literally Parboiled at Montreal—Death of One of Them.

MONTREAL, Feb. 19.—Yesterday afternoon at about three o'clock a fatal scalding accident occurred at the Montreal Custom House. It was rumoured at first that the boilers had burst and torn away part of the building. Enquiry revealed the true state of the case to have been as follows:—The engine and boilers for heating the Custom House and officers were under the charge of Mr. James Maherg, engineer, assisted by Patrick Coooney, of Colborne street. The larger boiler was mainly used in heating the building, while the smaller one was an auxiliary. Desiring to clean the large one it was thought that it could be dispensed with during the afternoon, which was a half holiday. This was done. At about three o'clock the fireman believed the steam to have been sufficiently exhausted to make the work of cleaning the boiler an easy task, and he proceeded with a cold chisel to knock off the man-hole in the top of the boiler instead of allowing the steam to escape by means of the valve. At the first blow of the chisel the steam burst forth with terrific force, knocking off the man-hole cover. Cooney was instantly overwhelmed with the scalding water and steam that gushed forth. Maharg rushed to Cooney's assistance to help th lattre to his feet, but before they could escape from the place they were literally parboiled. The escape of steam having been noticed the alarm was given, and the men were assisted to the Montreal General Hospital. Cooney rallied a little after his admission, but soon afterwards commenced to sink, and died in great agony at 1.30 this morning. He had only a small space upon his chest that was not scalded, the extent of the surface of the scalds rather than their depths proving fatal. Maharg, who made such a struggle to save his companion, was also very badly burned, and at the latest hour was in a very low condition. Hopes are entertained by the doctor that he will ultimately recover. Like his companion he was scalded over a large area of his body.

SUNDAY SHAVING.

The Court of Common Pleas Declares it to be Illegal.

TORONTO, Feb. 20.—Judgment was given by the court of Common Pleas on Saturday in the application to quash a conviction against one Taylor, a barber at Yorkville, who had been fined for shaving customers on Sunday. Chief Justice Wilson voiced the judgment of the court in the follolwing language:—The defendant in my opinion is a workman—one of the class of persons named in the statute. The act of shaving he is charged to have performed as a barber, is an act which was done by him in the ordinary course of his business as a barber, and it was done on the Lord's day, and was not a work of necessity or charity. It was that kind of worldly labour which the statute expressly forbids being done on that day. A barber cannot lawfully exercise his calling on Sunday any more than any other workman may. I do not say that a barber connected with a hotel or boarding house may not by arrangement with the hotel or boarding house keeper follow his ordinary calling on Sunday in such hotel or boarding house, and be considered in the light of a servant kept in a private family to do the family work on Sunday as on other days. In this case we cannot do otherwise than discharge the motion, but without costs.

Barbers will now probably govern themselves accordingly, and lay aside the razor and the mug for one day in the week.—World.

A wonderful discovery—Kendall's Spavin cure. Read advertisement.

A SYNDICATE of farmers at Shannonville who controlled a large quantity of No. 1 barley sold some 4,000 bushels to an itinerant buyer, who promised them 87c, and loaded it on the cars, after waiting over a week for their money, running a bill of $30 for demurrage, and watching the cars during that anxious period lest they might steal away unawares, as a last resource they sold to a local firm. That syndicate now has no faith in the stranger.

"WOMEN NEVER THINK."—If the crabbed old bachelor who uttered this sentiment could but witness the intense thought, deep study and thorough investigation of women in determining the best medicines to keep their families well, and would note their sagacity and wisdom in selecting Hop Bitters as the best, and demonstrating it by keeping their families in perpetual health, and at a mere nominal expense, he would be first to acknowledge that such sentiments are baseless and false.—Picayune.

THE JEWS IN RUSSIA.

LONDON, Feb. 20.—British Consular reports tend to a certain extent to extenuate the seriousness of the anti-Jewish riots in Russia. The reports of loss of life and outrages on women are generally denied. Those of the destruction of Jewish property are fully confirmed. Consular reports confirm the statement that a hundred Jews were shamefully maltreated at Warsaw, ten or twelve of whom have died of their injuries.

THE HOUSE OF LORDS.

LONDON, Feb. 20.—In the House of Lords Earl Granville announced that he and his colleagues did not think themselves justified in taking any part in the constitution or proceedings of the proposed committee to enquire into the workings of the Land Act. The Marquis of Salisbury deprecated any Government action in the matter as grave and unprecedented.

ATTEMPT TO GAG THE LORDS.

Mr. Gladstone's notification of the motion he intends to introduce in the Commons was received with prolonged cheers. The Opposition denounced it as an attempt to gag the House of Lords.

THE ARABIAN INSURRECTION.

THE BISHOP OF CORK.

DUBLIN, Feb. 20.—The Catholic Bishop of Cork in his Lenten pastoral refers to the immense benefit conferred by the Land Act, and says the violation of the just laws of property, individual rights and personal safety afford a dark cover for the introduction of a system of brigandage by wild and unprincipled persons.

THE CLOTURE.

LONDON, Feb. 20.—In the House of Commons to-day Mr. Gladstone moved the suspension of the orders of the day for the introduction of the rules of procedure. The Opposition warmly opposed the motion, but the orders were finally suspended without a division. Mr. Gladstone said with regard to the first resolution the Government is inclined to make a proposal which is not an alteration of the figures, but merely an addition, namely, to substitute after the words "two hundred members" the following, "or unless it shall appear to have been opposed by less than forty members and supported by more than a hundred members." He said the Legislatures in the United States found it expedient to adopt measures restricting discussion, and the restriction had never worked badly. Sir Stafford Northcote said that the first resolution might be a useful curb to individuals, but as it would destroy the freedom of debate and of voting, a great evil would be done for the sake of a little good. Everything that restricted the freedom of debate in the House of Commons would give a greater handle to the House of Lords in dealing freely with measures, which they would say were not the outcome of free discussion.

FIERCE FLAMES.

HAVERHILL, Mass., Feb. 20.—The finest street in the city, and the principal business mart in the city is in smouldering ruins. Eighty shoe firms are entirely burned out, and others have suffered more or less. Men last night worth thousands are to-day penniless. The loss of others is fully or partially covered by insurance. Two thousand people are out of employment, and several families are homeless. The loss is estimated at $2,000,000. Engines were present from Newbury, Port Lawrence and Lowell. The men are already clearing away the debris. There is no panic and everybody is hopeful. The wind blew fresh, and the scarcity of water, and freezing of the hose made it hard work to control the fire. Several persons are reported as missing but nothing definite is known. No business is being done here to-day, as everybody is at the ruins.

AMERICAN SALT BEEF IN THE NAVY

LONDON, Feb. 20.—Mr. George Trevelyan, Secretary to the Admiralty, replying to Mr. Maxwell, said American salt beef had been used in the navy since 1870, and had not been complained of. There was a saving in its use over English beef equal to 27 per cent., or five thousand pounds yearly.

BACK IN IRELAND.

GEN. SKOBELEFF'S UTTERANCES.

LONDON, Feb. 20.—The Times, commenting on Gen. Skobeleff's speech, says that the Russian Government, by its laxness of discipline, becomes morally responsible for a state of things distinctly endangering the peace of Europe. Gen. Skobeleff's position cannot fail to breed alarm and suspicion in the financial and political world. Europe has the right to ask that the Czar's authority shall be used to prevent the recurrence of firebrand speeches from Russian Generals. A Paris despatch states that Gen. Skobeleff says a great war is inevitable if Austria continues oppressing the Bosnian Slavs. He asserts that all Russia would unite in combat against the Austrians. The St. Petersburg Official Messenger states that the policy of the Government is in no wise pledged by the utterances of private individuals.

THE MASON COURT-MARTIAL.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The court-martial to try Sergeant Mason, who attemped to shoot Guiteau, met to-day. Lieut. Col. Henry Mizner acted as president, Mr. J. G. Bigelow appeared for the prisoner, and Lieutenant E. F. Brown as judge advocate. The prisoner's counsel suggested the propriety of the court securing an absolutely accurate diagram of the gaol and its surroundings. The judge advocate was instructed to procure such diagram. After a secret session the prisoner was formerly arraigned. The charges and specifications were read, and Mason had nothing to say. The president directed his plea of "not guilty" to be entered, and the court adjourned till Tuesday.

"I DON'T WANT THAT STUFF," is what a lady of Boston said to her husband when he brought home some medicine to cure her of sick headache and neuralgia which had made her miserable for fourteen years. At the first attack thereafter, it was administered to her with such good results, that she continued to use it until cured, and was made so enthusiastic in its praise, that she induced twenty-two of the best families in her circle to adopt it as their regular family medicine. That "stuff" is Hop Bitters."—Standard.

THE SARDINIAN.

The Missing Allan Liner in Tow of a Steamer—Lists of the Passengers.

The Sardinian has not yet arrived. The following account is narrated by a passenger:—"On Thursday, Feb. 2nd, the wind increased very much, blowing very hard, and it was decided to shorten sail. Whilst this was being done the vessel suddenly swung round, right into the wind, the rudder was carried away, and with the rudder went the rudder-post. Several sails were torn to ribbons, and the vessel was soon labouring heavily, rolling in the trough of the sea, and so continued throughout the day and the succeeding night. The position was very serious, for the steamer was practically at the mercy of the wind and waves, and anxiety was felt by all on board. On Wednesday, [the eighth, after sailing nearly a week under great difficulties, the steamer Nederland came up. She refused to tow the Sardinian, but offered to take the passengers. The Sardinian was then eleven hundred miles from Liverpool.

NAMES OF PASSENGERS LANDED.

The following Canadian passengers, with considerable risk, were got into the Nederland, and proceeded to Antwerp:—Felix Carbray, Quebec; Cummings, Truro, Nova Scotia; Lieut. McMillan, Nova Scotia; Palmer, Portland; Aldridge, Montreal; Freeman, New Brunswick; Captain Dowley, Nova Scotia; and Davies and Wright.

PASSENGERS REMAINING ON BOARD.

The saloon passengers who remained on board are Mr. Hope, son and daughter, Montreal; Mrs. Donell, and two children, Halifax; Messrs. Neall, Halifax; Mathieson, St. John; Mackay, Picton; and Luce, Gaspe.

TAKEN IN TOW.

LONDON, Feb. 20.—The British steamer Texas, from Baltimore, for Liverpool, was seen alongside the Allan line steamer Sardinian on the 15th inst., five hundred and fifty miles from Fastnet. When the steamer Nederland left the Sardinian the latter had several feet of water in her stern hold, but the water seemed to be kept down by the pumps.

THE HAWSERS PART.

The news about the Texas having been alongside of the Sardinian was brought by the Dominion. She reports that the Sardinian had been in tow of the Texas, but the hawsers parted. The texas intended to remain by the Sardinian until the morning and then try again to take her in tow. The Dominion proceeded, after tendering assistance.

Special to the Review.

PASSENGERS ARRIVED.

HALIFAX, Feb. 21.—The Anchor line steamer Bolivia arrived from London to-day, having among her passengers several of those who were taken off the Sardinian; W. H. Neal, Mathieson, Lewis, Hope and family.

TEMPORALITIES FUND.

Close of the Session of the Synod of the Church of Scotland.

The Synod closed on Friday night, having been engaged from Wednesday until that time in the discussion of matters considered necessary to protect the interests of the Church at the present time. Upwards of 100 congregations were represented either by members of Synod or delegates, the representatives being from all parts of Ontario and Quebec. The following resolution agreed to appears to be a contradiction of the charge that the funds in dispute were intended to be used solely for the benefit of the anti-union party and to the exclusion of those who thought it right to enter the union:—

It was moved by Rev. G. Lang, and seconded by Mr. Wm. Turner,—"That, having regard to the procedure of similar circumstances to those in which the church has been placed by the secession of 1875, Presbyteries be specially empowered to consider and determine any applications on the part of congregations or ministers for admission or re-admission, into the communion of this Church, always providing that those admitted, or re-admitted, distinctly declare, each and all, that they are prepared to uphold the Presbyterian Church of Canada in connection with the Church of Scotland; all action upon such applications to be reported to the immediately following meeting of the Synod."

The resolution was carried unanimously, and ordered to be sent down as an instruction to Presbyteries.

A vote of thanks was passed to the railway companies for the courtesy extended to the members of the Church in allowing return tickets at reduced rates to those attending the Synod.

The Synod will meet again in Toronto for regular session on the fourth Tuesday of June next.

Daily Evening Review

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1882.

THE BOUNDARY QUESTION.

THE determination of Messrs. Mowat and Blake to make the northern and western boundaries of this Province an issue in the coming campaign in Ontario—Mr. Blake will scarcely care to make it an issue in the other Provinces—renders it desirable that we should lay before our readers a brief resume of what has been done since Confederation in this matter by the Ontario and Dominion Governments in order that they may arrive at a just conclusion as to the actions of the rival parties.

To begin at the beginning, the Act of Confederation provides that "that part of the Province of Canada (as it exists at the passing of this Act) which formerly constituted Upper Canada and Lower Canada, shall be deemed to be severed, and shall form two separate Provinces. The part which formerly constituted the Province of Upper Canada SHALL constitute the Province of Ontario."

So far, then, as the Act of Confederation is concerned, it is clear that whatever belonged to or formed part of Upper Canada, now belongs to and forms part of Ontario. Unhappily, however, while there is no doubt upon this point a wide difference of opinion as to where the western and northern boundaries of Upper Canada or Ontario are, developed itself as soon as an attempt was made to locate them.

As soon as the Dominion had acquired the North-West Territories and settlers began to go in there, the desirability of ascertaining and locating these boundaries pressed itself upon the attention of both the Dominion and Provincial Governments, and to this end negotiations were commenced in 1871 which resulted in the appointment of the Hon. W. Macdougall on behalf of the Ontario Government and of Mr. E. E. Taché on behalf of that of the Dominion, as commissioners to determine and locate the same. Upon the Dominion Government, in 1872, issuing their instruction to their commissioner, the difference of opinion, which seems to have only grown wider with time, developed itself, and Mr. Mowat practically withdrew from all negotiation for the time being by first forbidding Mr. Macdougall to take any further action, and then by cancelling his appointment altogether.

Upon being informed of the difference of opinion which existed between themselves and the Ontario Government as to the proper location of these boundaries, Sir John Macdonald, in May, 1872, recommended that "the Government of Ontario be invited to concur in a statement of the case for immediate reference to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in England," which recommendation was adopted by his Government and sent to Mr. Mowat, who was also informed that the Dominion Government had appointed the Hon. J. C. Aikens to arrange with them for "a joint course of action" as to the management of the territory in dispute, until the matter was finally determined.

To this apparently reasonable and only legal proposition for settling the matter under the Act of Confederation Mr. Mowat demurred and asked that our boundaries should be ascertained not in accordance with the section of the Confederation Act which we have already quoted, but under another, giving power to the Dominion Parliament, with the consent of the province affected thereby, to reduce or increase the boundaries of any province—a proposition that was a virtual abandonment of Ontario's legal rights, and a most extraordinary one for a minister who has since asserted that "Upper Canada" extended to the foot of the Rocky Mountains, and as a consequence that Ontario includes the fertile belt.

With the exception of the appointment of Mr. Mills to gather information, nothing further was done by either Government until December 1873, when, a change of Government at Ottawa having taken place in the meantime, Mr. Christie, as Secretary of State, called Mr. Mowat's attention to the proposition already made, by Sir John Macdonald, for a reference to the Privy Council which does not seem to have called forth any official reply. In June 1874, however, we learn that Mr. Mackenzie and Mr. Mowat arranged, as suggested by Sir John thirteen months before, for a "conventional" boundary and the management of the country in dispute as "some considerable time" would elapse before the boundaries of Ontario could be finally adjusted. Another eighteen months having elapsed, the Siamese twins at Toronto and Ottawa, agreed to abandon Ontario's legal boundaries, and settle them in a manner which, if it did settle them, would enable Mr. Mowat at Toronto to claim that he had got for Ontario more than her legal rights, and the friends of Mr. Mackenzie in the other Provinces that Ontario had been shorn of some of the territory assigned to her under confederation.

That the arbitration then entered upon was not intended to ascertain our legal boundaries is amply proved by a memorandum of Mr. Crooks' with regard to the same, wherein "concurrent legislation" is pointed out as being required to give "binding effect to the conclusion that may be arrived at."

This took place in 1874. During the session of 1874 the Mowat Government caused the "concurrent legislation" required to be passed by the Ontario Legislature in fulfillment of their part of the compact with Mr. Mackenzie, but the latter gentleman, although he remained in power during four subsequent sessions of the Dominion Parliament, never asked it to confirm his arrangement with Mr. Mowat, and thus left the award over to be dealt with as the Dominion Parliament might deem best, when it knew what it was, and, as events proved, by one fresh from the people.

Well, matters then drifted along from 1874 to 1878. Two out of the three arbitrators appointed in the first instance died, and only on the 31st of July 1878, a new order in council was passed containing the names of the three gentlemen who on the 3rd of August, or four days afterwards, made the award which Mr. Mowat professes to consider so sacred and so binding.

During the September following, as everybody knows, Mr. Mackenzie's government was defeated at the polls, and the boundary award, like many other acts of his government, was left in a mess. Sir John Macdonald returned to power, and during the session of 1880 the award was referred to a committee of the House who reported, after taking a great deal of evidence, that it was "inconsistent with any boundary line ever suggested or proposed subsequent to the treaty of Utrecht (1713)." Of course under such circumstances the Parliament of the Dominion were not likely to pass the Legislation necessary to give effect to the award. This being the case, it is obvious that the only proper and binding way of ascertaining our "true" western and northern boundaries is the one proposed by Sir John Macdonald, viz: Taking it before the highest legal tribunal in the land (the Privy Council), and having it decided in accordance with the act of confederation, as quoted at the beginning of this article. While we want our rights, we are sure there is not a man in Ontario who wants, or at least will admit that he wants more than his rights, and surely no better tribunal than the Privy Council can be found to investigate and pass upon a purely legal question like this. And if, as Mr. Mowat contends, the arbitrators did not give us all we are entitled to, why in the world is he so much afraid of going before such a tribunal? And yet this is the real issue, as the last despatch from Ottawa amply proves, now pending between the two Governments, and about which a little rebellion is threatened. Sir John Macdonald takes the ground that the question involved is a legal one, and should not be made a political one; that as such it should be decided by the courts authorized to give a decision which both parties must accept, while Mr. Mowat wants to take it out of the hands of the proper authorities, and throw it into the political arena, and make the result depend upon the result of the general elections to be held in 1883. It strikes us that those who advocate such a course are thinking much more of their party than of the country. The past history of this Province teaches us that the political party to which Mr. Mowat belongs, has always attained the greatest success when they were arraying Province against Province and class against class, and it is no doubt in view of this fact that they have adopted their present policy. As a party move, it may prove successful in Provincial politics, it cannot in those of the Dominion, but whether it is or not it certainly must prove injurious to the country, to a greater or less extent in proportion as it is countenanced by the people of Ontario.

Death of Dr. Ryerson.

TORONTO, Feb. 20.—After a lingering illness the venerable Dr. Ryerson passed quietly away yesterday morning. His death was not unexpected, and for many months loving friends faithfully watched over the aged divine. The cause of his death was old age and its accompanying infirmities. The doctor had been unconscious since Friday night, when Rev. Dr. Rose called on him, but he was beyond the pale of communion with him. From that time until his death yesterday he remained unconscious. He was born on the 24th of March, 1803, and was consequently 79 years of age.

COBOURG.

FORGERY.—The World says that on Friday of last week, a man calling himself Brayley, but whose right name is Boland, presented the following note to Mr. Geo. Plunkett, and on the strength of it secured a pair of boots: "Feby. 10. 1882. I guarantee Mr. Brayley good for that or more. He has dealt with us and have found him honest. Cobourg. J. C. Field." On further looking at the note, and having his doubts excited by both writing and spelling, as well as by the peculiar wording, Mr. Plunkett took it to Field and Bro's. store, where it was at once pronounced a forgery. He afterwards had the man arrested, and on Saturday the Police Magistrate sent Boland to gaol for six months. We believe, however, that steps are being taken to have him released, under guarantee, as he appears to be scarcely responsible for his actions. He took a similar note to the store of J. Gillard, without any signature at all, and secured about $5 worth of pictures.

ATTEMPTED BURGLARY.—Some time during Sunday night, a burglar attempted to enter the store of Mr. G. Plunkett, corner King and Division Streets, but failed. He tried to unlock the front door, and broke his key, which was a misfit, leaving a part of it in the lock. On the same night, it is supposed by the same party, an attempt was made to enter the store of J. Sutherland and Co., on the next corner west; but this also failed. These crimes were, doubtless, sought to be committed by some town seed, short of groceries and boots.

RUNAWAY AND NARROW ESCAPE.—On Tuesday afternoon a team of horses ran down Division Street and turned into King, striking, overturning, and smashing a buggy in which, a moment before, Mrs. Wm. Graveley had been seated. Mrs. Graveley was warned and assisted to alight by some parties who saw the team approaching, and had barely reached the sidewalk when the crash came. Her many friends will congratulate her on her narrow escape.

DIED IN GAOL.—On Saturday night, an old man named Boswell, from Colborne, died in Cobourg gaol. He was putting in the winter as a vagrant. The customary inquest was held by Coroner Ewing, when it was found that the deceased had been suffering from disease of the heart.

MILLBROOK.

PUBLIC MEETING.—The Messenger says that on the invitation of notices issued by W. H. Sowden, Esq., who is deeply interested in the settlement of the Souris district, in the North West Territory, there was a very large gathering in the Council Chamber, on Saturday evening last—in fact the place was literally packed—so much so, that all could not get in. As it is seldom that meetings commence on time, we allowed an hour to pass, after the appointed time, before we put in an appearance; when we experienced considerable crushing to secure our place. Geo. Campbell, Esq., Reeve of Cavan, was in the chair, and Mr. Sowden was just beginning his remarks. The origination of this N.W. scheme, arose through a number of our citizens, subscribing a certain amount each, and sending W. H. Sowden, Esq., up with a view of prospecting and picking on a block of land, for the settlement. After the first visit, and also visiting the authorities at Ottawa, it was found that lands could not be bought out, and that certain government rules and regulations had to be conformed to, with a view of protecting and fostering actual settlers of the land. The parties subscribing to the fund, it would appear, formed themselves into the "North West Land Co." A large number of our young men, as well as those of maturer years, proceeded to the Great Lone Land, last spring, and helped to settle that portion of the West, known af the "Souris District," under the superintendence of Mr. Sowden, and the party, augmented by many from Port Hope and elsewhere, was known as the "Sowden Party." Ere the summer passed, that portion of the wilderness was, as may be said, made to "blossom as the rose," or a considerable portion of it, put in trim to do so this season. All seems to have gone on smoothly enough, till lately, when rumours began to get afloat, that things were not working as happily as it was desired; that several of the number of the company claimed that faith was not kept with them, some of them began to look after the matter and felt convinced that they were being left out in the shade—hence the rumours mentioned, and, hence the object of the meeting, so that full and satisfactory explanations could be given. To say that the meeting was an ordinary one, would not be sticking closely to the truth but considering the high feeling that existed, and the hard expressions that were used, by both parties, each to the other, and the large number of those present, we may be permitted to say, after that the meeting was remarkably well conducted, thanks, in a great measure, to the respect paid to the chairman. The main complaint made, was that one party, consisting chiefly of Messrs. W. H. Sowden, T. G. Kells, A. Wood, J. N. Kirchhoffer, Esq., etc., were not giving the other members of the company amongst whom were Mr. T. B. Collins, Dr. Hunter, John Hunter, W. Fallis and W. Smith, a fair take in the syndicate lands, of the settlement. Mr. Sowden went to Ottawa, on Monday morning. On his return, there may be more of it. In the meantime, we presume, both parties are preparing their documents, to be laid before the public.

Provocation to Russian Jews.

A writer to the St. James's Gazette of Tuesday has shown how largely the money element enters into the relations between the Jews and the Russian Government. The secret of the antipathy which is felt towards the Jew is his devotion to money-making, and his devotion, even it it were not one of his natural characteristics, would be engendered and encouraged in him by the laws under which he lives. The Jews are confined to the Western and Southern Provinces, but, by an exemption of this rule members of the Merchants' Guild and certified handicraftsmen are allowed to settle where they like. Admission to the Merchants' Guild is gained by a yearly payment of 800 rubles; consequently, the first desire of the middle class Jew is to amass money enough to be able to pay this heavy tax, and to buy the accompanying freedom of migrating into Russian proper. The exemption in favour of the handicraftsman is different in its operation, though equally mischievous in its affect. The permission to settle in the interior is given nominally to members of the Guild of Handicraftsmen, but really to any one, whatever his employment, who has money enough to bribe the Police to give him a license without calling for his papers. Consequently, the one object of a Russian Jew of the lower and middle class is to make money. If he cannot do this, there is no career open to him. He must remain a virtual exile in a remote Province, with with all the most lucrative modes of employing himself denied him. To escape from this lot he leaves no art unturned, and where money making is concerned an indiscriminating adoption of every method that presents itself is not calculated to make a man popular. The true way of at once preventing outrages, and by degrees removing the occasion of outrage, would be to put the Jews on a level in every respect with the Christians.

ZOPESA.
(FROM BRAZIL.)

The New Compound, its wonderful affinity to the Digestive Apparatus and the Liver, increasing the dissolving juices, relieving almost instantly the dreadful results of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, and the TORPID LIVER, makes Zopesa an every day necessity in every house.

It acts gently and speedily in Biliousness, Costiveness, Headache, Sick Headache, Distress after Eating, Wind on the Stomach, Heartburn, Pains in the Side and Back, Want of Appetite, Want of Energy, Low Spirits, Foul Stomach. It invigorates the Liver, carries off all surplus bile, regulates the Bowels, and gives tone to the whole system.

Cut this out and take it to your Druggist and get a 10 cent Sample, or a large bottle for 75 cents, and tell your neighbor about it.

FROM ALL OVER.

STUDENT duelling in Germany shows no sign of dying out. Among the Berlin University students the practice is increasing to a dangerous extent, and often results seriously. Moreover besides the usual 'Paukereien,' numerous duels with swords and pistols are fought in the suburbs.

A TRAGEDY occurred on Friday night in a Detroit saloon, by which a young man of highly respectable parentage, though himself bearing an infamous reputation, was shot through the heart and all most instantly killed. The circumstances surrounding the event are of the saddest character, and point a moral with great force.

THE Duke of Edinburgh played first violin in a very creditable manner at a smoking concert by the Amateur Orchestral Society on Friday. The members smoke and drink as much as they wish at these concerts. The Prince of Wales, Duke of Teek, and Duke of Saxe-Weimar were among the notables present.

THE great religious fair at Allahabad is now over. In spite of all precautions, cholera broke out among the vast crowds assembled there. It does not seem, however, to have caused much mortality at the fair, but the home-returning pilgrims are now carrying infection in all directions over the country.

MR. SAMUEL MCCAW, the well-known conductor on the Whitby and Lindsay Railway, says Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters cured me of Dyspepsia. I always kept them in the house, and consider them invaluable as a family medicine. J. D. Tully, agent for Peterborough.

A MEETING of the supporters of Wycliffe Hall, at Oxford, was recently held, at which, in addition to £40,000 already promised, two anonymous contributions of £5,000 and £3,000 were announced.

IT IS stated that the Home Secretary has recommended a grant of £500 each to the two men recently released from penal servitude for an assault upon a man at Leek, Staffordshire, who, before his death lately, avowed that his injuries had been self-inflicted.

COUGHS, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Pains in the Throat and Chest, relieved and cured by the use of Dr. Carson's Cough Drops. The most reliable testimony has been received as to their efficiency. In bottles, 50 cents. J. D. Tully, agent for Peterborough.

IT now seems possible that the terrible disaster at Chester, Pa., was caused by the explosion of Greek fire, which was stored away in an attic unb[illegible]n to the present owner. During the w[illegible] the building was used as a factory for this [illegible]plosive.

CHARLES MCKILLOP, the railway labourer who committed suicide at Winnipeg one day last week, had for some time been looked upon as a "crank." It is stated that one night recently he confessed to a friend that he had some years ago committed a crime worse than murder in Ontario, his victim being a little girl of thirteen, and his conscience had never given him rest.

THE Benton Record says:—"In regard to the recent collisions between the Mounted Police and the Blackfeet at the Agency, a later report says that the Indians seized Captain Francis Dickens and threw him upon the ice in Bow River. The chief Crowfoot went into the log building in which the police sought refuge, and the fear of killing him alone prevented the Blackfeet from storming the building.

GIVEN AWAY.—We cannot help noticing the liberal offer made to all invalids and sufferers by Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. You are requested to call at Taylor & Macdonald's Drug Store and get a trial bottle, if you are suffering with Consumption, Severe Coughs, Colds. Asthma, Bronchitis, Hay Fever, Loss of Voice, Hoarseness, or any affection of the Throat or Lungs. It will positively cure you. —6.

FOR SEVERE COUGHS AND HOARSENESS.—Philadelphia, Jan. 1. 1876. Messrs. Seth W. Fowle & Sons; Gentlemen—Miss S. Burns, of Seventh and Coates street, has long been a sufferer from a severe cough and hoarseness, which I considered chronic. She was treated by some of our most eminent physicians, but they were only able to afford her temporary relief. I prescribed Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, the use of four bottles of which entirely cured her, as it is now four months since she took the last of it, during which time she has had no return of the complaint. For the good of suffering humanity, Miss Burns has requested me to lay the case before the public. Yours truly, T. D. McGrath, M. D., Druggist and Chemist, S. E. cor. Seventh and Wharton Streets. 50 cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by all druggists.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

Dramatic.

The Herndon Company had a good attendance last night at their performance of "Divorced," in Bradburn's Hall, and they evidently gave general satisfaction to their audience. Mr. Herndon in the part of Mr. M. T. Muggs was irresistibly comic, while Miss Clara Goldsby as Florence Grantley, the ill-used but devoted wife, and Miss Hattie Morris as Blanche Sterling, the designing and unscrupulous adventuress, did full justice to the pathetic passages. Without particularizing the rest of the caste, we may say each part was adequately filled. The nterest of the rather sensational plot was kept upthroughout, and the tableaux as the curtain fell at the end of more than one act, were very striking and artistic. For the benefit of our fair readers we may add that the lady performers indulged in very frequent changes of costume, and the dresses were exceptionally handsome. The screaming farce of "The Gregories," which followed, kept the audience in roars of laughter. Mr. Herndon as "Gregory" was as comical as in his former part, and Miss Pertie Harrison as "Fanchette" was a very charming and vivacious soubrette. Altogether the company fully sustained their old reputation. Rip Van Winkle is announced for to-night and should draw well. The Orchestra has been engaged and will be in attendance this evening.

Military Matters.

The last Canada Gazette announces that by a general order the following are added as sub-paragraphs to paragraph 25 of the regulations and orders of 1879:—

"(2) An active militiaman who has completed his period of service and re-engages for a further period, must sign the service roll of his corps, and take the oath in the manner provided for first enrolements.

"(3) No militiaman who has enrolled for service in any corps is to be dismissed therefrom for irregular conduct until after due investigation, as provided by law, and approval from headquarters.

Paragraph 397 has been amended by striking out the words "of a magistrate" in the last line, and adding after the words "in writing" in the same line, the words "required under the provisions of paragraph 387." The paragraph 397 will therefore read as follows:—"No officer is to go out with militia for the purpose of aiding in the suppression of riot, the maintenance of the public peace, or the execution of the law, except under the requisition in writing required under the provisions of paragraph 387."

Dominion Grange.

At the Friday evening session of the Dominion Grange, at Toronto, the election of officers took place with the following result: Master, A. G. Gifford, Meaford; secretary, L. Cheyne, Brampton; overseer, D. B. Newcombe, Sheffield Mills, N. S.; treasurer, J. P. Bull; lecturer, Levi VanCamp; steward, W. Brock; chaplain, J. Chepley, Essex; assistant steward, Thos. McLeod, Dalston; gate keeper, D. Cameron, Port Stanley; ceres, Mrs. VanCamp; pomona, Hilburn; flora, Mrs. Wilkie; stewardess, Mrs. McLeod; auditors, Messrs. Hughes and Hilburn; executive committee, Jabel Robinson and R. Wilkie.

Railway Notes.

The exploring party of the Ontario and Pacific Junction Railway arrived at Uptergrove on Saturday morning. They report a very direct route from Bracebridge to Uptergrove, although rather rough between Washago and Bracebridge. The route is a very feasible one.

It is said that the Midland Railway Company intend to erect a large elevator at Belleville. What about the one we were to have here?

Attention.

The attention of our readers is invited to the auction sale of Moira Hall and furniture, which takes place on the 10th March next, as affording a rare opportunity for obtaining a most desirable residential property within a convenient distance of the town. For further particulars see advertisement.

Foresters' Anniversary.

Court Peterborough, of the Canadian Order of Foresters will celebrate their anniversary on Thursday Feb. 23rd, by a musical and literary entertainment in their Hall. Tea at half past seven o'clock.

The Court House.

The portion of the Court House roof that was blown off by the recent gale has been thoroughly repaired and has been made as strong as possible.

Immigration.

According to notice a public meeting of those interested in securing a desirable class of emigrants from the old country, to take the places of our farmers who are leaving for Manitoba, was held at the Town Hall this morning. Col. Haultain was appointed Chairman, and Mr. E. B. Edwards, Secretary, pro tem. Amonst those present were the Rev. Messrs. Bennett and Shaw, and Messrs. Hilliard, M. P., Roper, G. M. Roger and A. P. Poussette. After considerable discussion a committee consisting of Rev. Mr. Bennett, Geo. Hilliard, M. P., Poussette, Edwards and Roger was appointed to take the necessary steps towards organizing a general plan by which desirable farms for sale in this part of Ontario can be brought under the notice of intending immigrants possessing sufficient capital to buy.

Lindsay Awake.

The Lindsay Committee on Manufacturies on Friday afternoon met Col. A. A. Stevenson and Mr. H. Shakel, of Montreal, who, with Senator Ogilvie and other Montreal capitalists, are going into a paper mill at that place. Exemption from taxation for a period of ten years, with renewal for another period, was agreed to, with some other conditions. The company will carry on the manufacture of strawboard, millboard, and paper pulp in a large building that has for some years remained idle, and that has very fine machinery. Twenty hands are to be employed from the start, and it is expected the business will soon require fifty hands or more.

Encouraging Industries.

All the towns around us are straining every nerve to secure manufacturers to locate in their midst, while Peterborough is apparently resting on its oars. We have got the best powers and the best sites in the Province, and with very little effort we could secure dozens of men to start factories here. To-night the Town Council meets to consider the question of granting exemption from taxes for a term of years to a woollen factory. Let there not be a dissenting voice against it. Such is the wish of the people.

Railway Time Table.

The following gives the time of arrival and departure of the Midland and Grand Junction trains at Peterborough station:—

MIDLAND RAILWAY TRAINS DEPART at 7 and 10.20 a.m., and 4.30 and 6.40 p.m.

ARRIVE at 8.35 and 11.50 a.m., and 6.15 and 9.55 p.m.

GRAND JUNCTION TRAINS DEPART at 7 a.m. and 3 p.m.

The Weather.

Last night there was a high wind with sleet, but this morning the wind moderated, and as snow continued to fall for several hours sleighing has been renewed. Owing to the effect of the weather upon the telegraph wires the "probabilities" have not been forwarded to us from Toronto.

CAPTAIN CHEYNE'S LECTURE.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—Will you kindly allow me on behalf of our Mechanics' Institute, to call the attention of the public to our great lecture on Thursday evening by Commander Cheyne, on Arctic Exploration and Arctic Scenes and Incidents, in Bradburn's Hall. A gentleman from Uxbridge, who heard him on three occasions, speaks in the highest terms of praise, of this combined lecture and exhibition, for such it is. He tells of those brilliant lime lights views of stirring Arctic Scenes, thrown upon a screen over twenty feet diameter. Our Mechanics' Institute always aims to give the public double the worth of their money, and this entertainment will be no exception.

Yours &c.,
W. H. TROUT,
Chairman of Lecture Committee P. M. I.

ENGLAND.

AT Bicester the London and North Western Railway Company were fined, with costs £9 6d. for neglecting to properly clean and disinfect cattle trucks in use at that station.

AT Exeter a raid has been made upon the farmers sending milk into the city, and three were fined on Saturday for extracting the cream before selling.

A Dorsetshire farmer named Hole, obtained one farthing damages in an action for breach of promise to marry against Miss Minnie Harding, and Lord Coleridge refused to allow him costs.

MR. TIM GLEESON, ex-member of the Council from the Fourth Ward Cincinnati says he suffered terribly with rheumatism all last winter and spring. He tried all kinds of liniments and medicines without any benefit until he used St. Jacobs Oil, the first application of which insured a full night's repose, and its subsequent use entirely cured him. It is a great remedy, and the sufferer's hope.

DRUGGISTS throughout the country testify to the great merits of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. No medicine they sell acts so promptly in curing Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, &c. Have you tried it? J. D. Tully, agent for Peterboro'.

MRS. PARTINGTON SAYS, dont take any of the quack rostrums, as they are regimental to the human system; but put your trust in Hop Bitters, which will cure general dilapidation, costive habits and all comic diseases. They saved Isaac from a severe extract of tripod They are the ne plus unum of medicines.—Boston Globe.

FROM HAMILTON.—A gentleman writes: "I have suffered for over four years with night losses and general weakness, caused by abuse. I had tried all the advertised medicines, and a number of eminent doctors, and found no relief or benefit. I have used twelve boxes of Mack's Magnetic Medicine, and am entirely restored." See advertisement in another column.

"Cold Catching."

It is noteworthy as a curious yet easily explicable fact, that few persons take cold who are not either self-consciously careful, or fearful, of the consequences of exposure. If the attention be wholly diverted from the existence of danger, by some supreme concentration of thought, as, for example, when escaping from a house on fire, plunging into cold water to save life, the effects of "chill" are seldom experienced. This alone should serve to suggest that the influence exerted by cold falls on the nervous system. The immediate effects of a displacement of blood from the surface, and its determination to the internal organs, are not, as was once supposed, sufficient to produce the sort of congestion that issues in inflammation. If it were so, an inflammatory condition would be the common characteristic of our bodily state. When the vascular system is healthy, and that part of the nervous apparatus by which the calibre of the vessels is controlled performs its proper functions normally, any disturbance of equilibrium in the circulatory system, which may have been produced by external cold, will be quickly adjusted. It is, therefore, on the state of the nervous system that everything depends, and it is, as we have said, on the nervous system the stress of a "chill" falls. Consciousness is one element in the production of a cold, and when that is wanting the phenomenon is not likely to ensue. It is in this way that persons who do not cultivate the fear of cold-catching are not, as a rule, subject to this infliction. This is one reason why the habit of wrapping up tends to create a morbid susceptibility. The mind by its fear-begetting precaution keeps the nervous system on the alert for impressions of cold, and the centres are, so to say, panicstricken when even a slight sensation occurs. Cold applied the surface, even the form of a gentle current of air somewhat lower in temperature than the skin, will produce the "feeling" of "chill." Conversely a thought will often give rise to the "feeling" of cold applied to the surface—for example, of "cold water running down the back." Many of the sensations of cold or heat which are exerienced by the hypersensitive have no external cause. They are purely ideational in their mode of origination, and ideal in fact.—Lancet.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 18, 1880. Dr. B. J. Kendall & Co.—Gents:—I have a very fine mare that has had a bone spavin for a long time. I tried every thing man could devise to cure it, but all in vain, and was about to give it up when a friend of mine in this city came to me and recommended Kendall's Spavin Cure, which I tried with grand results, removing that bone clear and clean. Then I sent 25 cents to you for one of your illustrated horse books, and I think there is no better book printed on the horse and his diseases. I have taken great interest in it, and have since sold eighteen copies for you to my neighbors, and will try and do what good I can by getting them for others. Yours truly, G. W. MILLER.

AN AROMATIC FRAGRANCE is imparted to the mouth by the use of Sozodont. It is beyond doubt the cleanest, purest and best wash ever offered to the public. Sozodont and comfort are synonyms. It cleanses the cavities in the enamel of the teeth.

SICK HEADACHE.—This scourge of all ages and sexes succumbs at once to Dr. Herrick's Sugar-Coated Vegetable Pills. A single dose will alleviate even the most obstinate case, and a persistence in the use of the medicine effect a radical cure. Try the remedy.

SCORING A "CENTRE"!

If gentlemen ever intend to order Spring Clothing, now will be the most appropriate season.

We concede that warm Winter Clothing is needful and an element of comfort, but a person can have too much of a good thing.

And even though a man might prefer to have his ulster all summer, it is part of economy to throw it aside and don a new spring suit.

Most young men make up their minds where to buy some time in advance of ordering. This is precisely the point we wish to influence.

One of the best ways for a young man to increase his income is to curtail his expenses. This can be done, and a stylish appearance gained besides, by dealing with us for clothing.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—About a year ago I fell in the road on to some ice and was badly hurt in the hip joint, which caused me much suffering. SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 1882.

ENCOURAGING MANUFACTURES.

A Special and very Short Meeting of the Town Council.

A special meeting of the Town Council took place on Tuesday night at the Council Chamber.

Present:— Mayor Smith in the chair and Councillors Cahill, Alford, McNaughton, Poussette, Kelly, Wilson, Douglas, Rutherford, Menzies and Richardson.

On motion the reading of the minutes was dispensed with.

The Mayor stated that the meeting was called for the purpose of considering the advisability of encouraging a manufacturer to locate in our midst. As all knew, the question was one of great importance, and Peterborough should act at once. He then read several letters that had been received by Mr. R. Brodie, offering inducements to him to establish a woollen factory in different places.

A GOOD MOVE.

Moved by Councillor Poussette seconded by Councillor Menzies,—That it is expedient to grant Mr. A. Brodie's application for exemption from taxation for a period of ten years, and that it be referred to the Finance Committee to prepare the necessary By-law for carrying out this object.—Carried.

The Clerk was then instructed to telegraph a copy of the resolution to Mr. Brodie at the earliest moment.

A FOUNDERED ENGINE.

The Mayor introduced the subject of our foundered steam fire engine. He had been informed by the engineer that some of the tubes were leaking and that the "masheen" wanted overhauling.

Councillor Rutherford said the engine was in a bad state of repair, the tubes were leaking, and in consequence it took a far longer time to get up steam. He had been told by a practical man that a new set of tubes were required, and that they would have to be procured from Seneca Falls.

HOSE.

In answer to a question Councillor Rutherford said that hose had been ordered from England, but he had heard nothing of the matter since.

MORE FIRE MATTERS.

Councillor McNaughton remarked that Ashburnham owed the town a "snug" little sum for fire protection.

Councillor Rutherford said that he wanted a settlement of that debt at once.

On motion of Councillor Menzies, seconded by Councillor Richardson,—It was resolved to get a set of new tubes for the steam fire engine.

CARWORKS.

Councillor Poussette said that as all had seen by the Daily Review the Attorney General had refused to give the necessary legislation to enable the town to take $20.000 stock in the proposed carworks company. The only way to proceed in his opinion was to grant a bonus, the Company to repay the amount granted as soon as the necessary legislation was procured. He would like to see the matter referred to the Finance Committee to prepare a by-law.

Moved by Councillor Poussette, seconded by Councillor Kelly,—That whereas it is expedient to grant a bonus of $20,000 to the proposed carworks company on conditions that the amount of the said bonus be repaid to the town, upon the town taking stock, in the Company to the said amount, and it is therefore referred to the Finance Committee to prepare the necessary by-law. for submission to the Council at its next meeting, and to the ratepayers in accordance with the resolution of the ratepayers passed at the meeting of the Council in committee of the whole held for the purpose of considering the matter.—Carried.

TENDERS WANTED.

On motion of Councillor Richardson, seconded by Councillor Menzies,—It was agreed to ask for tenders for cedars for crossings.

Councillor Rutherford prior to the motion passing said that cedar crosings were wanted here. Pine only lasts for two years and always cost a large amount for repairs annually. He thought that cedar should be tried.

Councillor Richardson agreed with Councillor Rutherford. He understood that Port Hope and other places had tried cedar and found it good and in his opinion cedar was worth trying.

Councillor Menzies urged caution. Stone had been tried and found not good, and perhaps cedar would be found the same.

SIDEWALK WANTED.

The Mayor said that a sidewalk was badly wanted on Smith street near the railway track.

The Inspector was instructed to look after the matter.

The Council then adjourned.

MR. GILLANDERS' DEATH.

To the Editor of the Review.

My Dear Sir,—You were doubtless astonished at the receipt of a telegram from me on Feb. 2nd, announcing the fearful disaster by drowning of a Mr. William L. Gillanders, formerly of either North or South Monaghan, near Millbrook. A Mr. Lewis, formerly a Cariboo miner, and for some 16 years a farmer on the Fraser River, shared the same fate. It struck me with a terrible shock, having met Mr. Gillanders a day or two before, we both having had quite a conversation concerning Peterborough and its surroundings; the other gentleman, having done business with me the night before his death.

The particulars of the disaster are as follows:—Mr. Gillanders and a number of others had arrived a few days before to do business in the city. In the meantime the river became covered by ice, owing to a very severe and unusual frost. A meeting was held between them on Friday evening, when it was decided to cross over and endeavor to return home on the next day—Saturday, Jan. 28th. A Mr. Cawley and son, late of Woodstock, Ont., with several others, crossed over all safe. The tide from the Straits of Georgia has a large influence on the river, reaching up to what is known as the "Mission." All had crossed (except those now no more) about or before the turn of the tide, so the former ones are said to have warned the Indians who returned for those left not to come over, this being now 4 p.m. and the tide commencing to turn. They were also warned by parties on this side. But confidence is great with some. Those across had gone in a large canoe. The others, wishing to reach their loved ones, took a a smaller canoe manned by two Indians, one especially a clever fellow. When Gillanders and party were something like half crossed over they turned back for fear, but afterwards started again. When within hearing of the people where they were going, in an instant the canoe was mashed between two great blocks of ice, the current of the river bringing down the upper one against the lower one, which was stationary. A piercing cry was heard from both sides of the river, and all was over. Those that had lived were now no more. On Thursday, 31st Jan., the bodies of Gillanders and the two Indians came up at one haul from the grapples held by Mr. James Turnbull. In the last ten years I have heard of no such calamity here. Two families are now left fatherless. Mr. Gillanders, aged 34, leaves a wife and three children. The other Mr. Lewis, leaves a wife and children, some grown up. Both were upright, honest men, members of the Methodist Church. A short service was held on Saturday, 4th inst. at Mr. James Turnbull's house, formerly of Port Hope and Peterborough. Both persons looked lifelike in the coffins—the eyes being shut. The friends, who number a great many, have the sympathy of the whole country.

Mr. Walter Orde, of Peterborough, late of Winnipeg and Ottawa, was with me to-day, looking very well. I am waiting for him now to take him up to see my brother, J. C. Hughes' Government Land Agent, who left Peterborough in March, 1862.

Yours very truly,
HENRY W. HUGHES.
New Westminster, B.C., Feb. 8, 1882.

A Use for Sawdust.

The enterprising firm of Leathern & Smith are continually making new improvements and putting new ideas into operation. They are now making the necessary arrangements for using sawdust as fuel on the steambarge Thos. H. Smith next season. Piles are being driven that project just above the wharf alongside of which the barge lies while in port. Upon these piles a substantial frame-work will be constructed to the height of about twelve feet. On top of this will be placed a hopper, which will have a capacity for about fifty-five cords of sawdust. The hopper is filled by means of an elevator which is connected with the large circular saw in the mill close by. A wire sieve will be so arranged as to sort out all the bark and other rough material, which will be carried into the furnace by another elevator. From the hopper, a spout will slant down to the scuttle in the hurricane deck of the barge, and thence through the scuttle in the lower deck to the hold beneath. The space on both sides of the engine room will also be filled, only enough space being left on one side to allow a passage into the engine room. The barge has been supplied with an extra large boiler to enable her to use this kind of fuel. The hopper will be filled while the boat is outside, so that no time will be lost when she comes into port and is ready to wood up. This new arrangement will not only save the owners of the boat about $40 per day in fuel, but will save the expense of burning the material in the furnace, where the intense heat caused by it is continually burning the grates and cracking the kiln. In case freights are high next season the barge will only use sawdust on her way to Chicago, where she will take on coal dust and mix it with the former material to run the boat on her return trip. Other barge lines will undoubtedly take a valuable hint from the foregoing.—Dorr Co. Advocate.

DEATH OF DR. RYERSON.

By the death of the Rev. Dr. Ryerson—who died at his residence in Toronto, on Sunday last, at the age of 99 years—Canada, and especially Ontario, has lost a son of whom she has reason to be proud, and the fruit of whose life and works will be felt for good in this Province in ages yet to come.

Although Dr. Ryerson, devoted himself, in spite of his father's opposition, to the ministry of the Methodist Church at an early age, yet during the fifty odd years that have elapsed since he was admitted to "full connection" he did not find it inconsistant with that service to take an active part in some of the most important political struggles through which the Province has passed, or to make the chief work of his life, as it will be his most enduring monument, the building up of our common school system, and making it second to none in the world. To write even the briefest epitome of a career like that of Dr. Ryerson is to write the history of the period which it covers and of the people among whom his lot was cast, and would therefor be entirely beyond the compass of an ordinary newspaper article. Sprung of good old U. E. Loyalist stock, and born in our own Province in 1803, Dr. Ryerson became what he was in spite of adverse circumstances, and affords another illustrious example of what determination rightly directed can accomplish. Of his determination to do that which he believed to be right, he was called upon to give an early proof by his father giving him the alternative to "either leave the Methodists or leave his house," when he announced his intention of joining them. He did leave the house, but during his exile, he did, what few sons would do under even more favourable circumstances, and, while working his own way at school, hired and paid a man to take his place on his father's farm. In 1827 he was admitted to full connection, and it was while discharging ministerial duties at Cobourg shortly afterwards that he first came prominently before the public as the author of a critique which appeared in the Colonial Advocate over the signature of "a Methodist Preacher," in reply to a sermon of the Rev. Dr. Strachan, (afterwards Bishop of Toronto,) and in 1829 he became joint editor of the Christian Guardian. In 1835 he appears to have been the chief mover in obtaining a Royal charter for the Upper Canada Academy, (now Victorial College) and upon its being incorporated as a university in 1841 Dr. Ryerson became its first principal. In 1844 he was appointed Government Superintendant of schools for Upper Canada by Lord Metcalfe, and set himself with his whole heart, and with a determination that knows no failure, to build up our school system, amid difficulties and trials which those who are now enjoying the fruits of his labours can but faintly realize. As a writer few Canadians have ever plied a readier pen than Dr. Ryerson. Morgan gives no less than fifty-eight seperate publications, including of course his annual reports as Chief Superintendant of Education, and to these have to be added his last portly and most interesting work in two volumes on "The Loyalists of America and and their Times," which was published in 1880.

Now that he has gone to his rest full of years, the reader will be glad to learn that Dr. Ryerson has left behind him a recently penned history of his eventful life, which we are sure will be hailed with interest by all who admire the worth of an industrious, active and well spent life.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.

Annual Meeting—Satisfactory Reports—Presentation to Mr. Glover.

The annual meeting of the congregation of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church was held in the school room, on Tuesday evening, the 14th February. After tea, which had been provided by the managers, the chair was taken by the minister—The Rev. A. Bell—when Dr. Bell, Chairman of the Managers, presented the Financial Report for the past year, from which it was learned that the total receipts for the year had been $3,280.75, of which sum $1,550 had been applied to the payment of the debt; $25 to Apsley Hall and Mission fund, and the balance in payment in full of Minister's stipend and the working expenses of the congregation, while the statement of liabilities and assets showed a small surplus after providing for all liabilities.

The report of the Session showed that during the year seven members had been admitted by certificate, and twenty-six for the first time; while nine had withdrawn by certificate, and six names had lapsed, leaving the net addition during the year 18, and making the number now on the communion roll 166. During the year the collections for the schemes of the church had been $183, making the total amount contributed for outside objects over $200, and making the average contribution per communicant for the year over $20.

The Sabbath School was also reported to be in a prosperous condition with a full staff of teachers, and constantly increasing average attendance. The scholars are contributing $25 per annum to the Pointe-aux-Trembles school, and also to both the Home and Foreign Mission Schemes of the church. The reports having been adopted the next business was the

of an address and six volumes of books consisting of the "Life of St. Paul," "Life of Dr. Duff," two vols., "Sunday Magazine" for 1881, "Laws from Heaven for Life on Earth," and the "Great Cities of Bashan," to Mr. Lewis Glover, who after worshipping for 37 years with St. Andrew's congregation had recently removed to Allandale. The following is the address, which was very neatly executed by Mr. Grundy, Deputy Registrar, and suitably framed:—

To Mr. Lewis Glover,—The session members and adherents of St. Andrew's congregation Peterborough, have learned with regret of your removal to a distant abode, and your consequent separation from us as a fellow worshipper, and we cannot let you go without thus giving expression to the grief we feel at parting with you.

Your long connection with us, over thirty years, as an active and useful member of our congregation has given us all ample opportunity to know your worth, to admire in you the honesty of purpose and true christian spirit by which you have always been actuated.

We shall miss you from our meetings, but we bow to the guidance of Providence and sincerely wish you happiness and prosperity in your new home.

As a memorial of what we feel towards you we beg your acceptance of the accompanying volumes, and pray that their perusal shall strengthen the good hope which we believe is already yours, and that when this life is done the God of whom they speak shall be found to be your God and Saviour, and ours.

Alexander Bell, Minister.	R. W. Bell, Chairman of Managers.
Robert Tully, Elder.	A. H. Macdougal, Secretary.
Geo. Edmison, Elder.	John J. Lundy, Treasurer.
John Carnegie, Session Clerk.

Mr. Glover thanked the congregation for this expression of their good feeling towards himself which, although entirely unexpected was highly appreciated on his part.

Mr. Wm. Telford then, after a few introductory remarks, read the following lines:—

LINES DEDICATED TO LEWIS GLOVER, ESQ., ON THE OCCASION OF HIS LEAVING PETERBOROUGH, AND THE MEMBERSHIP OF ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.

Dear Sir and Brother, we regret to know
That from our midst you are resolved to go,
It is man's nature to contrive and plan,
Changes are frequent in the life of man.

If for your welfare, you the change have made,
Why should we murmur, grieve or be dismayed,
If for your good all former ties are broke,
Willing we bow to separation's stroke.

You know your duty, circumstances too,
To better these you bid us all adieu,
In your new sphere may prospects bright arise,
All that you hope for may you realize.

Your sojourn here has gained you many friends,
This night will prove how wide that love extends,
Not empty words—as friends oft meet and part,
But friendship's outburst binding heart to heart.

If I could now—but read your thoughts aright,
As you sit here within those walls to-night;
Grief inward striving your joy to erase,
As you look round on each familiar face.

Here you have worshiped over thirty years,
The thought of leaving almost causes tears;
The seed here sown on soil, fertile and good
Bears up your nature, strengthens your fortitude.

We can't allow you quietly to depart
Without some tribute from each grateful heart,
'Tis not their value makes their worth so great,
It is the source from whence they emanate.

Accept these offerings, trifling though they be,
As true mementos of our respect for thee,
They are but shadows of a nobler part,
As types of love, deep flowing from each heart.

This kind address hang on your parlour wall,
Each time you view it this night it will recall,
Reading those volumes may you interest find,
They will bring back old friendships to your mind.

With our best wishes to your new home go,
On you and your's may Heaven's best blessings flow,
Though ties be severed that have long been true,
We part in hope again to meet with you.

William Telford,
Smith.

After the transaction of some other business the meeting was brought to a close in the usual manner.

CAPT. CHEYNE'S LECTURE.

We have much pleasure in publishing the following letter which has been received by A. P. Poussette, Esq., President of the Peterbor. ough Mechanics' Institute:—

Dear Sir,—Taking a great interest in the welfare of the institutions of Peterborough, and seeing a lecture by Commander Cheyne advertised for Thursday, February 23rd, under the auspices of your Mechanics' Institute, I cannot refrain from this opportunity of urging upon the people of your town, the advisability of hearing such an instructive lecturer, and seeing such interesting views of Arctic scenery as will probably only be seen once in a lifetime.

Commander Cheyne gave three lectures in Uxbridge under the auspices of our Institute, and at each the hall was crowded, and the beautiful and realistic views shewn through the powerful instrument, manufactured especially for these lectures, and the interesting explanations of them by the lecturer completely carried the audience away, and the applause was hearty and well earned. I can only say, don't fail to hear and see him, as such a chance may never occur again. Trusting that you meet with great success, I am,

Yours truly,
EDWIN R. ROGERS.

LAKEFIELD NEWS.

From Our Own Correspondent.

MUNICIPAL ELECTION.

The following, which will be interesting to our readers, is a verbatim copy of the mandamus served on the Village of Lakefield on the 18th instant:—

Victoria, by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Queen, Defender of the Faith. To the Municipal Corporation of the Village of Lakefield, and to any returning officer or other person or persons to whom it shall of right belong to do any act necessary to be done touching the election hereinafter commanded to be held. Whereas, on the seventh day of February, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two, at the Judge's Chambers at Osgoode Hall, in the City of Toronto, before Robert G. Dalton, Esquire, Master in Chambers, it was by the said Master in Chambers adjudged and determined that John Hull, of the Village of Lakefield, in the County of Peterborough, had usurped and did then usurp the office of Councillor. All which has by the said Master in Chambers been duly certified into our High Court of Justice, Queen's Bench Division, pursuant to the statute in that behalf. Now, we being willing that speedy justice be done in this behalf, as it is reasonable, command that the said John Hull do not in any manner concern himself in or about the said office, but that he be absolutely forejudged, removed, and excluded from further using or exercising the same under pretence of his election thereto, and we do further command that you, the said Municipal Corporation, and any Returning Officer or other person or persons, or such of you to whom the same shall of right belong that you do pursuant to and according to the statute in that behalf, cause an election to be as speedily held as shall be lawful for the election of a person in the place or stead of the said John Hull, who has been removed as aforesaid. And that you, or such of you to whom the same doth of right belong, do administer to the person who shall be so elected the oath if any in that behalf by law directed, and that you admit or cause to be admitted, such person so elected into the said office, and that you, the said Municipal Corporation, do show how this writ shall have been executed to our High Court of Justice, Queen's Bench Division, at Toronto, on the first day of April, A.D. 1882. Witness the Honorable John Hawkins Hagarty, President of our said High Court of Justice at Toronto, this sixteenth day of February, A.D. 1882, in the forty-fifth year of our reign.

(Sd.) WM. B. HEWARD.

YOUNG'S POINT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

THE ROADS.—The roads last week were in a bad state, but since then the little more snow we have had has made them good to travel on again. A great many hired teams left the shanties last week, but if this last fall of snow lasts, they will return again. The lumbermen are getting along very well so far.

FOR THE SHANTIES.—Two loads of men passed through here this week for Messrs. Rathbun & Son's shanties in Anstruther. They evidently are not afraid how the winter is going to turn out. I presume they have been consulting the Clerk of the Weather.

GOVERNMENT DAM.—Messrs. T. Walters and McCallum, of the Local Government Public Works, were up here one day last week looking around the dam, locks, etc. Mr. Walters says that the new dam they are going to erect this summer will be a credit to these waters. The sooner the better. This does not look as if the dam at Lakefield is going to be lowered,—when they are inspecting locks, gates, etc.

TRADE NOTES.

A NEW locomotive factory has been commenced in the east end of Montreal by a company that has got already $80,000 capital subscribed.

THE knitted goods factory of Ellis & Stokes, at Port Dover, employs 100 hands and turns out 60 dozen shirts or pairs of woollen drawers per day.

Mr. Ashley, Belleville, submitted one of the iron farm waggons to a practical test which could not have been more satisfactory. The waggon was loaded with 10,080 lbs. of pig iron and driven down Front street to the market. He proposes to establish an iron waggon factory in Belleville.

MESSRS. J. L. GOODHUE & SON, of Danville, Que., having lately completed a driving belt, 28 in width and 70 feet long, for the mills of Robinson, Howell & Co., Preston, Ont. About a year since this firm made extensive improvements in their factory, by which their capacity has been nearly doubled.

THE National Policy has been the making of the Limestone City. Within the last four months a cotton mill has been erected, companies have been formed for the establishment of a knitting mill and car works, and a second knitting mill and a machine shop for the manufacture and repair of mill machinery are now on the tapis.

THE Corriveau Silk Mills are an example of what pluck, energy and enterprise can accomplish in the face of what were generally looked upon as insurmountable difficulties. Two years ago this industry started with one loom, and have since gradually increased their facilities till at the present time sixty looms are busily at work.

THE directors of the Kingston cotton mill had a meeting recently. The subscription list has been closed, $197,000 out of the $200,000 having been subscribed. The stock is now at 5 per cent. premium. Applications for over $40,000 worth of stock have been refused from capitalists in Montreal and Toronto. By the end of this month the mill will be running, and samples Kingston cotton will be on the market. Twelve thousand dollars' worth of raw cotton has arrived.

UNDER the fostering and benign influence of the present tariff, the kid glove industry is growing to magnificent proportions. Messrs. W. H. Storey & Son, of Acton, who formerly found it difficult to keep forty hands employed, now can hardly keep up to their orders with one hundred and forty hands, and largely increased facilities. Their out-put last year was upwards of fifteen thousand dozen pairs of gloves, as against about four thousand five hundred dozen in 1877. They have advanced the wages of their employees all round fifteen per. cent., while the prices of their gloves have not increased.

EVERYTHING is now working satisfactorily at the glass factory at Napanee, and an excellent quality of window-glass is being turned out in paying quantities. Mr. Herring is now satisfied that the enterprise can be made a good paying investment if the full capacity of the building is utilized, and we are informed that he has concluded to add an eight-pot furnace to the blowing room. The buildings are quite large enough to accommodate the extra furnace, and the flattening oven is of a capacity to handle the produce of eighteen pots, so that by the addition the full facilities of the establishment will be utilized. We understand that the prospects are good for an increase of ten per cent. in the tariff, which is an inducement to the proprietors to increase the works so as to be in a position to supply the demand.

THE Londonderry Steel Works are a striking illustration of the effect of the N. P. on the country. Before the policy was put in practical operation, these works dragged out a shakey existence. They are galvanized into new life under the N. P., and now they employ 600 hands and pay out $1,000,000 for wages and materials, and are the largest customers the Intercolonial Railway has, their payments on account of freight being over $100,000 a year. Their coal bill amounts to $70,000. They have increased their output 30 per cent. since the tariff was re-adjusted. A town is growing up around the works, and it already numbers 2,000 persons. The farmers around it all believe in the National Policy, finding as they do a home market near at hand with cash payments.

A WHOLE cargo of petroleum was lately shipped from New York in paper casks. These casks are made by a company at Hartford, at Cleveland and at Toledo. They are painted blue, and have iron hoops, and they are $1.35 apiece.

DRUGGISTS throughout the country testify to the great merits of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. No medicine they sell acts so promptly in curing Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, &c. Have you tried it? J. D. Tully, agent for Peterboro'.

MR. SAMUEL MCCAW, the well-known conductor on the Whitby and Lindsay Railway, says Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters cured me of Dyspepsia. I always kept them in the house, and consider them invaluable as a family medicine. J. D. Tully, agent for Peterborough.

OF hemlock bark, for tanning purposes, which is a large item in the Eastern Townships, one firm at Warden is receiving 200 cords per day, at Granby, one tanner has $30,000 worth on hand and has 3,000 more coming in. The price paid is at Dannville $4.50 per cord, and at Warwick Station $5.00.

SICK HEADACHE.—This scourge of all ages and sexes succumbs at once to Dr. Herrick's Sugar-Coated Vegetable Pills. A single dose will alleviate even the most obstinate case, and a persistence in the use of the medicine effect a radical cure. Try the remedy.

SENATOR David Davis's chances for a presidential nomination upon a non partisan civil service reform platform are not as good as they were. The senate restaurant, upon the management of which he has consecrated much official attention, is in some respects a disappointment. The service is inadequate and the pastry is not up to the reform standard.

A CURE FOR HEADACHE.—What physician has ever discovered a cure for headache? Echo answers none. But Burdock Blood Bitters by their purifying, invigorating, nerving properties afford a cure in nearly every case. The health-giving principles of this remedy are unequalled by any similar preparation in the world.

CHILBLAINS.—These troublesome complaints may be speedily cured by Hagyard's Yellow Oil, the great Rheumatic remedy, which, as an external application and an internal remedy has a wider range of usefulness than any similar preparation in the world. All druggists sell it. Price 25c.

CRUELTY to children does not seem to be punished with Draconion severity by the magistrates of Longton, England, who the other day imposed a fine of five shillings and costs upon a brutal fellow, who having lost a pigeon in a sewage drain, tried to recover it by stripping his son, aged nine, binding his arms and legs, and then forcing him head foremost down the pipe.

IS IT A HUMBUG? Some people think all proprietary medicines humbugs. In this they must be mistaken. A cough medicine like N. H. Downs' Elixir that has stood the racket of 52 years must have some virtue, and must cure the diseases for which it is recommended, or people would not continue to buy and use it as they do. It seems to us that even if we knew nothing of its merits, the fact of its large and continually increasing sale justifies us in recommending Down's Elixir to all who may need a reliable cough medicine.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

PORT HOPE'S CARNIVAL.

Peterborough Goes Down and "Scoops in" the Principal Prizes.

As the majority of our readers are aware Port Hope had a masquerade skating carnival on Monday night. Peterborough sent down about fifty persons, quite a number of whom were in costume, and as will be seen by what follows, we "appropriated the cake," carrying off all the principal prizes, even if we do, as a disappointed young lady from Port Hope said, "come from the back woods." The carnival was a grand success in every respect, those in charge were courteous and obliging and did everything they possibly could to add to the enjoyment of spectators. The rules, some of which were very stringent, were faithfully carried out without distinction to persons, and right here we may remark that Port Hope rather leads the managers of our rink in this respect. The rink is rather small and the accommodation for spectators is very limited and rather of a primitive style. Spectators have to stand on a small platform near the entrance or on the curling rinks, on either side of the main ice.

As far as those in costume were concerned they far surpassed in number, about two hundred were dressed, those present at any similar affair ever seen here. The majority of the costumes were very well got up and some of them were decidedly original. The irrepressible nigger was of course present, but we are glad to say, that his number was small. St. Jacob's Oil, the best advertised proprietory medicine in the world had no less than two representatives, and both of the costumes were very good indeed.

As usual, when our town goes in for anything they don't do it in a half hearted manner, and when we state that our "back woods" town, called by some the "plate glass city," carried off the principal prizes in each class, the public will understand that we were not very far behind on this occasion either.

Through the kindness of the Midland railway management, a special train was placed at the disposal of the Peterborough contingent, who were thus enabled to return home the same evening, after having an exceedingly enjoyable time.

The judges gave the very best of satisfaction, not a single word being said against any of the awards made by them.

On the start out there was a predisposition on the part of the judges to rule out Mr. E. J. Hartley on the ground that he was a professional skater, but upon the matter being referred to our representative, who has been present at each and every contest that Mr. Hartley has taken part in, their illusions regarding the professional business were quickly dispelled.

The following is a full list of those in costume from Peterborough :—

Veni, Vidi, Vici, as the late lamented Julius Cæsar said.

Personal.

Bengough's Cosmopolitan Shorthand Writer says that Mr. Fred W. Craig, late of Peterborough, called on us last month and asked us whether we had anything to offer in the city. We applied in the affirmative, and accompanied him to a law office, in which we had been asked to fill a vacancy. As none of the principals happened to be in, we left, intending to call again, but on the way Mr. Craig said he would prefer Chicago, and asked if we had anything there to offer him. We again replied in the affirmative, and on the strength of our brief acquaintance gave him an introduction to our Chicago agents, by means of which he wa placed in a few days with the Pullman Palace Car Company at a salary of $60 per month, and left for St. Louis that night. His merits were immediately recognized, and an increase of salary to $75 per month was promised, and has since been granted. Mr. Craig's previous engagement was on the Midland Railway. He writes a beautiful longhand, has a good shorthand speed, is a teetotaller, and has qualifications which fit him for taking a high position. We predict unusual success for him and wish him all the good that he can possibly enjoy. It is a pleasure to place such young men in lucrative and honorable positions.

Dramatic.

The performance of Rip Van Winkle drew a full house to Bradburn's Hall last night. Mr. Herndon in the title role, was admirable. With all the irresistible humour with which he depicted the character, he combined true pathos in such scenes as his expulsion from home, and his longing for recognition on his return. Miss Clara Goldsby was very successful in her representation of the shrewish wife of the drunken husband, and in the later phase of the cowed woman, only roused to rebellion by love for her daughter. Miss Pertie Harrison as the boy Hendrich Vedder, and in the third act as Meenie was quite equal to the respective parts. "Little Bella," as Meenie in her childhood, was surprising for such a juvenile actress. The other parts were well filled, and the whole play was well put upon the stage.

Railway Time Table.

The following gives the time of arrival and departure of the Midland and Grand Junction trains at Peterborough station :—

MIDLAND RAILWAY TRAINS DEPART at 7 and 10.20 a.m., and 4.30 and 6.40 p.m.

ARRIVE at 8.35 and 11.50 a.m., and 6.15 and 9.55 p.m.

GRAND JUNCTION TRAINS DEPART at 7 a.m. and 3 p.m.

ARRIVE at 11 a.m. and 6.10 p.m.

Midland Extension.

A special telegram from Toronto informs us that the Midland Extention Bill for a line either to Buffalo or to connect with the Grand Trunk at Caledonia has passed the Railway Committee and also the Northern Extension Bill, to connect with the Hamilton and North Western Railway at Burlington. Both bills were opposed by the Great Western, as authorizing competing lines between Toronto and Hamilton.

The Cadet Corps.

We learn that the Deputy Adjutant General, in answer to the letter of the Secretary of the Peterborough Board of Education, has granted permission for the retention of the arms, with a view to there organization of the Cadet Corps. We hope that the committee to which the matter wasreferred, will take it energetically in hand, and have the pupils who are desirous of joining enrolled at once.

The Weather.

The weather probabilities for this district for the following 24 hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a.m. to-day, by the Great North-Western Telegraph Company, are as follows :—Lakes—Winds, mostly from west and northwest, partially clearing weather; stationary or lower temperature.

FOR SEVERE COUGHS AND HOARSENESS.—Philadelphia, Jan. 1, 1876. Messrs. Seth W. Fowle & Sons; Gentlemen—Miss S. Burns, of Seventh and Coates street, has long been a sufferer from a severe cough and hoarseness, which I considered chronic. She was treated by some of our most eminent physicians, but they were only able to afford her temporary relief. I prescribed Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, the use of four bottles of which entirely cured her, as it is now four months since she took the last of it, during which time she has had no return of the complaint. For the good of suffering humanity, Miss Burns has requested me to lay the case before the public. Yours truly, T. D. McGrath, M. D., Druggist and Chemist, S. E. cor. Seventh and Wharton Streets. 50 cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by all druggists.

A GOOD FILTER.—To have pure water in the house every family should have a filter, the health and comfort depends largely upon the use of properly filtered water. The liver is the true filter for the blood, and Burdock Blood Bitters keeps the liver and all the secretory organs in a healthy condition. It is the grand blood purifying, liver regulating tonic.

THE SECRET OF BEAUTY.—No Cosmetic in the world can impart beauty to a face that is disfigured by unsightly blotches arising from impure blood. Burdock Blood Bitters is the grand purifying medicine for all humors of the blood. It makes good blood and imparts the bloom of health to the most sallow complexion.

BURNS AND SCALDS are promptly cured as all flesh wounds, sprains, bruises, callous lumps, soreness, pain, inflamation and all painful diseases; by the great Rheumatic Remedy, Hagyard's Yellow Oil. For external and internal use. Price 25c.

AMONG others referred to in a recent issue of the Norristown (Pa.) Herald, were the following cases of special interest. They are their own commentary. Mr. Samuel C. Nyce, resides at 308 Marshall st., and holds the responsible position of journal clerk in the Pennsylvania Legislature at Harrisburg. While Mr. Nyce and family were in the country recently, his boy, aged three years, fell and broke a limb. He recovered but a very troublesome stiffness set in and he could scarcely use his leg freely. The injured limb was rubbed several times with St. Jacobs Oil, and the stiffness was so much reduced that the boy was able to use his leg freely. Dr. Knipe said it was the use of St. Jacobs Oil that cured the stiffness. Mr. Nyce himself used the Great German Remedy for toothache with good effect, and also for a sprain and pains of a rheumatic nature. Mrs. Nyce also says she thinks the Oil is a splendid thing, and she always keeps it on hand.

"WOMEN NEVER THINK."—If the crabbed old bachelor who uttered this sentiment could but witness the intense thought, deep study and thorough investigation of women in determining the best medicines to keep their families well, and would note their sagacity and wisdom in selecting Hop Bitters as the best, and demonstrating it by keeping their families in perpetual health, and at a mere nominal expense, he would be first to acknowledge that such sentiments are baseless and false.—Picayune.

GIVEN AWAY.—We cannot help noticing the liberal offer made to all invalids and sufferers by Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. You are requested to call at Taylor & Macdonald's Drug Store and get a trial bottle, if you are suffering with Consumption, Severe Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Hay Fever, Loss of Voice, Hoarseness, or any affection of the Throat or Lungs. It will positively cure you. —6.

SCORING A "CENTRE"!

If gentlemen ever intend to order Spring Clothing, now will be the most appropriate season.

We concede that warm Winter Clothing is needful and an element of comfort, but a person can have too much of a good thing.

And even though a man might prefer to have his ulster all summer, it is part of economy to throw it aside and don a new spring suit.

Most young men make up their minds where to buy some time in advance of ordering. This is precisely the point we wish to influence.

One of the best ways for a young man to increase his income is to curtail his expenses. This can be done, and a stylish appearance gained besides, by dealing with us for clothing.

We are now in receipt of our stock of Scotch and English Tweeds. Our Canadian Tweeds have been in stock three weeks already. The lines in these goods cannot be equalled in Peterborough, as we have the exclusive sale of many of the patterns. The qualities of all are ne plus ultra.

Our FIT is easy, but neat. Our CUT is perfect and true. Our STYLE cannot be excelled. Our TRIMMINGS the best. Our WORKMANSHIP guaranteed.

Kendall's Spavin Cure

KELLEY'S ISLAND, Ohio, Mar. 28th, 1880.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—I have used your Spavin Cure on a bone spavin and am pleased to report that it has taken the enlargement completely off. It took only one bottle to perform the cure. I am confident that if it is properly used it will do all you claim for it.

Yours truly, C. M. LINCOLN.

Kendall's Spavin Cure

ON HUMAN FLESH.

Thousands of trials on Human Flesh has proved beyond a doubt that "Kendall's Spavin Cure" has sufficient strength to penetrate and virtue to cure the worst cases of rheumatism, corns bunyons, frostbites or any bruise, cut or lameness which are not affected in the least by ordinary liniments. It does not blister, but on the contrary, removes all soreness.

DUNHAM, P. Q., March 10th, 1879.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—About a year ago I fell in the road on to some ice and was badly hurt in the hip joint, which caused me much suffering. I tried various remedies, but none gave relief until I tried Kendall's Spavin Cure. I applied it full strength twice a day for two weeks during last October, and it effected a perfect cure I have since then been well and free from lameness. It is very valuable for man as well as for beast.

Yours truly, CHESTER K. GREEN.

N. H. DOWNS' VEGETABLE BALSAMIC ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis,

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation, when the cough is more observable, but rather dry; then becomes local fever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration,

CONSUMPTION

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are of so drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the cause, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

Railway Notes.

The engineer in charge of the surveying party of the Ontario and Quebec Railway, passed through the townships of Otonabee and Asphodel on his way to Norwood recently, inspecting the line of the old survey.

A Belleville despatch says that the survey of the Ontario and Quebec Railway is now completed to Tweed. The line is being run west to meet the other party coming east from Peterborough. The line is located from the east to the Parry Road. As soon as the parties meet they will then return to the Parry Road, and locate all the way through. The preliminary line is along the valley of Black Creek, north of Bogart, until it strikes Stoco Lake a little south of the mouth of the creek at Porter's Point, thence along by Lovelaces, and so into Tweed.

Mr. J. C. Bailey, Consulting Engineer of the Midland Railway, has been instructed to commence at once the surveys for the proposed road between Toronto and Buffalo. The funds will be supplied by the Grand Trunk.

On Wednesday when the consideration of the Midland Railway extension was before the Railway Committee Mr. George A. Cox, President of the Midland, addressed the committee, pointing out the necessity of railway connection between the east and west, in order that the iron ore of the Midland District might be shipped to Buffalo, and that the coal traffic might be pushed to its full developement. Last season the Midland, owing to being unable to procure enough cars, had been compelled to refuse enough lumber to make 1,000 trainloads of 20 cars each. He alluded to the increasing demand for coal throughout the section served by the Midland Railway, and the benefit of securing direct connections between Eastern Ontario and Buffalo with return freights of coal for the cars used in shipping lumber and iron ore to the United States. The ore beds of Eastern Ontario were at present locked up for lack of the requisite facilities either for getting the raw material to market or obtain the coal to manufacture it in the neighbourhood. After being strongly opposed by the Great Western officials the preamble was reported by a vote of 27 to 5.

Railway Time Table.

The following gives the time of arrival and departure of the Midland and Grand Junction trains at Peterborough station:—

MIDLAND RAILWAY TRAINS DEPART at 7 and 10.20 a.m., and 4.30 and 6.40 p.m.

ARRIVE at 8.35 and 11.50 a.m., and 6.15 and 9.55 p.m.

GRAND JUNCTION TRAINS DEPART at 7 a.m. and 3 p.m.

ARRIVE at 11 a.m. and 6.10 p.m.

Killed in the Woods.

We learned just before going to press that an elderly man named Hall, said to have relatives here, was killed to-day in one of Irwin and Boyd's shanties. We can ascertain no particulars.

WHAT'S SAVED IS GAINED.—Workingmen will economize by employing Dr. Pierce's Medicines. His "Pleasant Purgative Pellets" and "Golden Medical Discovery" cleanse the blood and system, thus preventing fevers and other serious diseases, and curing all scrofulous and other humours. Sold by druggists.

"I DON'T WANT THAT STUFF," is what a lady of Boston said to her husband when he brought home some medicine to cure her of sick headache and neuralgia which had made her miserable for fourteen years. At the first attack thereafter, it was administered to her with such good results, that she continued to use it until cured, and was made so enthusiastic in its praise, that she induced twenty-two of the best families in her circle to adopt it as their regular family medicine. That "stuff" is Hop Bitters."—Standard.

A RUSSIAN CRANK.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 22.—It is stated that Russian statesmen and the Emperor himself have not been astonished, let alone annoyed, by Skobeloff's sensational speeches. It is said that he is apt to make foolish speeches and no one ever attaches the slightest political weignt to them. It is asserted that but small importance is attached to him by the ambassadors of Germany and Austria at St. Petersburg. Last year Skobeloff expressed sentiments in direct contradiction to those contained in recent speeches.

LONDON, Feb. 22.—Mr. Bradlaugh is nothing if not persistent. He was again expelled from the House of Commons on Wednesday night, on motion of Sir Stafford Northcote, Mr Gladstone declining the responsibility of taking the lead he should have taken, and an order was made for issue of a new writ for Northampton. Thereupon Mr. Labouchere announced that Mr. Bradlaugh would again be a candidate. Men may come and men may go, but Bradlaugh runs for ever—for Northampton.

ENGLAND'S ENEMIES.

NEW HAVEN, Con., Feb. 23.—The Land League last evening celebrated the Grattan Anniversary. Rev. A. J. Chambers, colored made a fervent address. The feeling here is that unless they are their mission there will be vain.

It is thought that the flood will continue here for several weeks. Two hundred boats were in the middle of the streets yesterday, and newspapers were carried in skiffs.

A GOOD EXAMPLE.

The Canada School Journal, in an article on the Lindsay schools, says:—

"The Separate School for boys is attended by about 200 pupils, and has attained a high degree of efficiency during the past four years, during which it has been conducted by Mr. White, the gentleman who won the prize offered through the liberality of His Grace Archbishop Lynch to the Roman Catholic student who first obtained a first class Provincial Certificate, Grade A.

The Separate School for girls is one of the best school buildings in Ontario. Everything pertaining to the health and comfort of the pupils has received due attention in its construction. The furniture and fittings throughout are of the most approved modern pattern. The intellectual and moral culture of the pupils in both schools is attended to with the greatest possible care, but Father Stafford has recognized the fact, that it is not in either of these departments that the schools of the country are weakest, and as wisely made the most thorough arrangement for the recreation and physical development of the children attending these schools. The boys' school has a large, well-fitted gymnasium, as well as a good playground and the girls have a large field surrounded by a high board fence, in which they are encouraged to enjoy in a real, hearty manner, games of ball and other exercises which have too long been misnamed "manly sports." These girls have an organized "snow shoe club," and their large field affords ample opportunity for practice tramps during the winter season. Father Stafford claims to be a leader in introducing this and other games calling forth vigorous physical exercises into girls' schools. So far at least as snow-shoeing is concerned we think he is entitled to the credit of first introduction. Foot ball, base ball, &c., have for some time been practised in appropriate costume in Vassar and other schools for young ladies. We cannot too highly commend the wisdom and justice of the man who recognizes the fact that the physical constitution of a human being is a most important element in deciding his success or failure in life, and who believes that one of woman's best rights is a vigorous body. Such a man Father Stafford is, and he never allows a theory to grow cold or stale before putting it in practice."

THE CENSUS.

BELOW we give the figures of the last personal census for this county, as obtained from the official figures just laid before Parliament, and also the corresponding ones for 1871. From these it will be observed that the increase of population in the older townships is practically at a stand still and that the aggregate increase shown for the county is chiefly made up by the increase in the town and in the newer townships. With regard to the apparent decrease in the townships of North Monaghan and Smith it is to be remembered that the limits of the town were extended in 1872 so as to take in a considerable portion of these townships, which renders the comparison an unfair one so far as they are concerned. The same remark also applies to a certain extent to Douro, which at the same time lost the Auburn Mills, but on the other hand Douro, as given in these returns, includes the chief part of Lakefield—a village which has made considerable progress during the last decade. It will also be noted with satisfaction that the settlements on the Burleigh road have nearly doubled during the last ten years, as it is the best possible proof that the settlers in that locality are prospering.

The following are the figures :—

	1871.	1881.
Town of Peterboro'	4,611	6,812	Inc	2,201
Vil. of Ashburnham	1,197	1,266	"	69

Douro	2,671	2,864	"	193
Asphodel	3,247	1,918	"	216
Norwood / Hastings Vil., north		853 / 692

Burleigh, Anstruther, &c	721	1,381	"	660
	27,167	31,164
Net increase				3,997

We may add that the figures for South Monaghan are : 1871, pop. 1,145 ; 1881, pop. 1,148 ; increase, 3. Also that Emily, (including Omemee), shows a decrease of 170 ; and Cavan, (including Millbrook), a decrease of 134 during the decade.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

MR. GIROUARD has again introduced his "Deceased Wife's Sister Bill."

The Hon. Mr. Langevin presented the papers connected with the boundary question, including the Ottawa dispatch which Mr. Mowat, finding that it contradicted his subterfuges, so obstinately refused to produce.

A motion for the correspondence as to the disallowance of the Rivers and Streams Bill was agreed to.

In agreeing to a motion by Mr. Blake for papers as to grinding wheat in bond, Mr. Bowell denied that certain millers had been favoured by the Government. The only change that had been made was one requiring the shipment of the actual product of the grain imported instead of an equivalent. An official enquiry had shown that this regulation had not been evaded.

Mr. Blake called attention to the appointment of a commission by the local Government of Manitoba, to enquire into the conduct of Chief Justice Wood, which he believed was an invasion of Dominion jurisdiction. Sir John Macdonald said he quite agreed with Mr. Blake, who he hoped would not be blamed for attacking provincial rights.

Mr. Patterson, of South Brant, moved for a return of drawbacks, apparently to give him an opportunity of attacking the N.P. as diminishing our trade. Mr. Bowell showed that our manufacturers were too busy supplying our own enlarged market to have much opportunity of exporting, and showed that the interprovincial trade had greatly increased, because some of our provinces were taking goods from Canadian manufacturers instead of from abroad. The debate was adjourned.

Sir Leonard Tilley laid the estimates on the table on Tuesday, an unprecedentedly early period for their production.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

MR. WOOD'S Agricultural and Art Association Bill, striking off the official members of the Council, and declaring that an annual Provincial exhibition should not be compulsory, was read a second time.

Mr. Mowat's bill as to the Law of Evidence, enabling witnesses who do not believe in future rewards and punishments to affirm instead of swearing, was read a second time.

A motion by Mr. Creighton in favour of assimilating the form of Provincial ballots with those used in Dominion elections was lost, after a discussion on the necessity of further guarding the secrecy of the ballot.

Mr. Hardy brought down further correspondence on the boundary question, including the Ottawa despatch so long kept back, and a laboured reply to it, which among other things contends that the award is unfair to Ontario, as not giving her all the territory to which she has a right.

Mr. Wood's bill respecting market fees was read a second time, after considerable discussion.

THE last trip of the Cunard steamship Servia to Liverpool is said to have been the fastest across the Atlantic yet accomplished. The apparent time of the passage is 7 days, 12 hours, 30 minutes, and the actual time of the passage from Sandy Hook, 7 days, 7 hours, 41 minutes. This is by several minutes the shortest passage on record, notwithstanding that the Cunard route is by ninety miles longer than that taken by most of the other lines. On several days the Servia had easterly winds.

AQUATICS.

Preparations of Hanlan and Boyd for the Championship Race.

The Newcastle Chronicle of the 4th inst., contains an extended account of a meeting held by the committee of the Boyd fund, from which the following is excerpted :—Boyd was present, having journeyed over from Middlesbrough expressly to attend the meeting. Questions of finance first engaged the attention of the committee. When the subscriptions received had been put in, it was found that the sum in the hands of the treasurer, available for making the second deposit of the stake, due on Monday next was £223 1s. To this amount was added before the close of the meeting a cheque from Mr. Huge Taylor, of Chipchase Castle, for £25, making a total of £248 1s. in hand. Lists of promised subscriptions to the stake from members of the committee :—From Mr. Wilson, of North Shields ; Mr. Richard Major, of Gateshead ; the Tyne General Ferry Company ; Mr. Joseph Smith, of Middlesbrough ; and two or three anonymous donors were handed in, and it was found that the sum at the command of the committee exceeded the sum required for the stake (£500) and the £50 expenses allowed to Hanlan. The question of securing a trainer to take charge of Boyd during the last six weeks of his preparation was next discussed, and the sculler himself was asked to state his wishes on the subject. Boyd remarked that he would prefer to have for trainer some professional, who could go out for sculling exercise with him, and he mentioned the name of Robert Bagnall, of the Ouseburn, as a suitable man. The committee agreed that Bagnall should be engaged, if his business would permit him to undertake the task proposed for him, and Mr. McKenzie was authorized to wait upon that well-known sculler and secure his services if possible * * * We have ascertained since the meeting of the committee that Mr. McKenzie has interviewed Bagnall, and that that clever sculler is very willing indeed to undertake the duties of trainer to Boyd. Many of our readers will be aware that Bagnall occupies a good position among the wherrymen on the Tyne, and that at present he is fairly busy. But he is very anxious to render any aid in his power to Boyd in the attempt he is making to bring back the aquatic championship to England, and he is willing to leave his affairs on the river for the time being, and devote himself to the task of the Middlesborough sculler's preparation. It will be remembered that Bagnall was himself once a candidate for championship honours, and that he has several times represented the Tyne in matches against the scullers of the Thames and the Irwell. A better appointment for trainer to Boyd than the popular Ouseburn waterman could not possibly have been made. The old supporters of aquatics on the committee were very much pleased with Boyd's appearance when in attendance at the meeting yesterday. We have never seen the Northern sculler look so well when in the thick of his hard work as he is now, and so far his course of training has both reduced his weight and improved his general health. His weight yesterday morning was 11 stone 13 pounds, and he is within ten pounds of his rowing weight. The training work he underwent yesterday commenced with a strong spell of walking exercise before breakfast. Afterwards he took ship in the Wheat Sheaf at Newport, and did some rowing work on the Tees. The steamer Royal Charlie was going down the river when the sculler put off, and he dashed away in front of her for three miles and a half. Then he lay on his oars or paddled about for ten minutes, by which time the steamboat was coming up on its return journey. Boyd went away in front of it again, and made the trip back home without an easy. Immediately on getting ashore he set off for a four mile run, which he accomplished in good form. In the afternoon he visited Newcastle in response to the invitation of the fund committee, and it was his intention on his return journey to leave the train at Stockton and walk thence to Middlesborough.

HANLAN AT WORK.

On the 3rd inst. Hanlan took to his boat, and with such fine weather could not refrain from taking more arduous exercise than usual, and so making up for the enforced idleness of Thursday. On launching he went off to assist Cobb with his final starts, from the last of which he ran a very good chance of coming to grief, just stopping his ship in time off the T.R.C. to save hitting a barge driving down on the ebb. When Cobb had been disposed of the champion set off up stream for the real work, and continued away to the White Hart, Barnes, ere turning round. He was far from lazy on the way back, and finished up at the boathouses in good form. After dinner Blackman kept Hanlan company, the Canadian going on to Barnes, but Tom Green waited much lower down and took Hanlan on when a bit blown. They came down Putney Reach in Indian file, Blackman leading the way, and stopping rowing off the boat yards. Hanlan experiences very little pain from his hand blisters, and is in splendid health and spirits.

HANLAN IN TRAINING.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—(Special.)—Hanlan rowed over the championship course this morning against the tide, and in the afternoon rowed four miles at racing speed.

WORTHY OF PRAISE.—As a rule we do not recommend Patent Medicines, but when we know of one that is really a public benefactor and does positively cure, then we consider it our duty to impart that information to all. Electric Bitters are truly a most valuable medicine, and will surely cure billiousness, Fever and ague, Stomach, Liver and kidney complaints, even where all other remedies fail. We know whereof we speak, and can freely recommend them to all.—Exch.—Sold at fifty cents a bottle, by Taylor & Macdonald.—6.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.—"Golden Medical Discovery" is a concentrated, potent, alterative, or blood-cleansing remedy, that wins golden opinions from all who use it for any humour, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the formidable scrofulous swelling, or ulcer. Internal fever, soreness and ulceration, yields to its benign influences. Consumption, which is but a scrofulous affection of the lungs, may, in its early stages, be cured by a free use of this God-given remedy. A WONDERFUL PROPHET.

The Hamilton Spectator says :—What a great man Sir John Macdonald is ! Our city contemporary credits him with "skill as a tactician" and with "wonderful "foresight and penetration." It also thinks that he knew exactly when the depression was coming upon the country ; retired from office purposely, so that the odium of the hard times would attach to the Reformers ; and then got himself restored to office just in time to get the credit for the return of prosperity. What an able man Sir John must be, to be able to quit office or return to it at pleasure ! And what a folly in the Reformers to undertake to oppose such a man. But they need not despair. They are filled with the hope that bad times will soon return ; and then, if the opinion of the Times is well founded, Sir John will again retire and let them roll up their annual deficits as usual.

CROWN JEWEL FLOUR!

This Flour is made of No. 1 Hard Wheat by the new process, combined with the best methods and machinery in operation in the best Hungarian Mills, and will produce from 30 to 40 pounds more Bread per Barrel than the best superior wheat flour. Therefore, the first cost though higher, is fully compensated in the increased yield of Bread as well as being a much better quality and more nutritious, having a much larger percentage of gluten and less starch than ordinary wheat flour. To those who may not be familiar with the use of this kind of Flour, we suggest mixing it moderately soft, which will require considerably more water than is ordinarily used.

Knead thoroughly, and bake with a strong heat and in such a manner that bottom and top shall be equally well baked.

THE SAGE MURDER.

Important Link in the Chain of Evidence—An Indian on the Stand.

BRANTFORD, Feb. 21.—Philip Butler, held in gaol here on suspicion of having been implicated in the Sage murder case, was again brought before the Police Magistrate this morning. He appeared eager and anxious to know what new evidence was forthcoming, and apparently much disturbed at the turn the evidence took.

AN IMPORTANT LINK.

An Oneida Indian, very intelligent and a fine, manly-looking fellow, named John Beaver, was sworn. His evidence, which was given in an unhesitating, straightforward manner, in the principal points corroborated Smart the hostler's evidence, and was substantially as follows: He lives in Oneida, county of Haldimand, knows Butler well, and knows most of the Indians in his vicinity. On the day of the disappearance of Sage he, Beaver, came from Brantford to Caledonia on the G. T. R. morning train, having business with one Bogan. He saw the prisoner in Brantford in the afternoon on the street, and having missed the afternoon train called at the Robinson Hall and saw Sage, Butler and Rogers drinking together. Knew Sage, and recognized a photograph produced in Court. Sage had considerable money in his hand, and was drunk. He left them all in the hotel and went home on the 11 o'clock train at night. Afterwards saw Butler at the Middleport races in February or March, when he seemed to have money, and was offering $10 to $5 on his favorite horse. It answer to a question as to whether he knew any Indian who owned a team similar to the one the prisoner spoke of riding behind when he went home the night of the murder, he said an Indian named Mudturtle had such a team. He had made an entry of the date because of his business with Logan in Brantford that day.

ON THE RIGHT TRACK.

His evidence has aroused a more hopeful feeling on the part of the prosecution, and this straight corroboration of Smart's evidence is accepted as a sign that they are on the right track.

The prisoner, who hoped for a release on bail to-day, was very much dejected when he heard the words, "remanded for another week."

INDIAN DEPREDATION.

A Large Force of Blackfeet at the Ranches.—Traders Murdered and Cattle Killed.

BATTLEFORD, Feb. 21.—The southern mail arrived on the 17th and reports as follows:—There is a large camp of Blackfeet at the Forks of the Red Deer and South Branch. They have killed fourteen cattle, supposed to belong to the Cochrane cattle ranche, and five belonging to Pierre Lavalle and his brother. The latter are settlers of that place. It further reports that Bloods have killed over a hundred head on the same ranche. In Bow River County an American whiskey trader was shot while trading with the Blackfeet. Maxime Patris and his brother were found dead with two Americans close beside their waggons, supposed to have been killed by Indians. At Crow Creek Reserve the Sioux stole two hundred head of horses. They were followed across the line, and the horses taken back. The American authorities interfered, making prisoners of the owners of the animals. They have been set free, but their horses still continue on the American side. The reports say that the Blackfeet took Inspector Dickens a prisoner, and after a few days he was released by Superintendent Crosier and his party.

LAKEFIELD NEWS.

From Our Own Correspondent.

NOR-WEST.

Mr. Chas. Peyton, of this village, who has been municipal collector for a number of years, and one of our most respected citizens, has determined to make a visit to the Nor'-West, and intends leaving here early in March. He will have an auction sale of furniture, &c., &c., on March the first. This will be a favourable opportunity for those desiring to purchase. Mr. P. intends to invest in "Manitoba mud," and we hope in the near future to be able to record the successful result of his ventures.

MUNICIPAL ELECTION.

The nomination of candidates for the office of Councillor in Lakefield in the place and stead of Mr. John Hull, who has been excluded from the office by mandamus from the High Court of Justice, will take place in the Council Room, Lakefield, on Monday next, the 27th inst., at 12 o'clock, noon.

NEW BRIDGE.

It is confidently expected that the new bridge at Lakefield will be opened for traffic by the beginning of next week. Mr. Wynne expects that it will at least be so far advanced as to permit of being used in crossing and re-crossing by that time.

BOOT AND SHOE BUSINESS.

Mr. Cotton, one of our enterprising young business men, is pushing the boot and shoe business which he lately established here, with the energy and attention which generally ensures success. His stock would compare favourably with any in far more pretensions business places than Lakefield. Success to you Robert.

An Important Lumber Suit.

A suit of much importance to Pennsylvania lumbermen was recently decided by arbitration, by which P. M. Barber, of Philadelphia, was awarded $22,500, as plaintiff against John Irvin & Brothers, of Curwinsville, Pa. The claim was for violation of a contract made by the plaintiff with Irvin Brothers about a year ago, by which they agreed to deliver to him 2,200,000 feet of lumber of different grades for which he was to pay them $42,000. Mr. Barber claimed that he had paid Irvin Brothers over $23,000, and had received but little over $6,000 worth of lumber. Besides this he claimed that he was entitled to recover damages for their failure to deliver the lumber, he having been compelled to buy other lumber at greatly advanced prices. Irvin Brothers on the other hand claimed that Barber had not fully complied with his contract, and that by reason of this they were justified in retaining the money overpaid, and in their refusal to deliver more lumber. The award is regarded as a compromise, it being less than Barber claimed and more than Irvin Brothers admitted to be due. The case may go to court on appeal.—Northwestern Lumberman.

A GENTLEMAN, calling on a farmer, observed: "Mr. Jones, your clock is not quite right, is it?" "Well, you see, sir," said Mr. Jones, "nobody don't understand that clock but me. When the hands of that clock stand at twelve, then it strikes two, and I then know it's twenty minutes to seven."

MR. SAMUEL MCCAW, the well-known conductor on the Whitby and Lindsay Railway, says Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters cured me of Dyspepsia. I always kept them in the house, and consider them invaluable as a family medicine. J. D. Tully, agent for Peterborough.

GREAT Britain imported last year $830,000,000 worth of food. The growth of this vast import trade has been far in advance of that of the population. While the latter increased 16 per cent in the last twenty years the former increased 160 per cent.

THE Philadelphia Farmer has already predicted that there will not be ever a fair crop of peaches next pear, should the coming winter and spring be favorable. The freezing last winter and the hot, dry fall told severely. Blossom buds, usually prominent before frost, are shriveled, and show but little strength.

IN Lowell, Mass, resides Mr. P. H. MRS. STEWART was alone and unarmed when two tramps took forcible possession of her house, at New Vineyard, Me. SICK HEADACHE.—This scourge of all ages and sexes succumbs at once to Dr. Herrick's Sugar-Coated Vegetable Pills. A single dose will alleviate even the most obstinate case, and a persistence in the use of the medicine effect a radical cure. Try the remedy.

GIVEN AWAY.—We cannot help noticing the liberal offer made to all invalids and sufferers by Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. You are requested to call at Taylor & Macdonald's Drug Store and get a trial bottle, if you are suffering with Consumption, Severe Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Hay Fever, Loss of Voice, Hoarseness, or any affection of the Throat or Lungs. It will positively cure you. —6.

A "faith cure" is decribed in the British Medical Journal. An ignorant and superstitious English woman, troubled with palsy in the lower extremities, was taken to a French hospital for treatment. The consultation over her case being entirely in the French language, she imagined the words to be intended as a sort of incantation. At all events, the doctors were soon afterwards greatly surprised to see her moving around the room perfectly cured.

"WOMEN NEVER THINK."—If the crabbed old bachelor who uttered this sentiment could but witness the intense thought, deep study and thorough investigation of women in determining the best medicines to keep their families well, and would note their sagacity and wisdom in selecting Hop Bitters as the best, and demonstrating it by keeping their families in perpetual health, and at a mere nominal expense, he would be first to acknowledge that such sentiments are baseless and false.—Picayune.

In the third week in January a pair of those migratory birds (the swallow) were observed at the farm of Loquheriot, Gorebridge, and Mr. Herdman's attention having been drawn to them, he discovered that they had made considerable progress with the building of their nest in the corner of one of the windows. This circumtance is considered quite unprecedented in Scotland, April being generally the earliest month in which swallows are in the habit of coming hither.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

The Herndons.

The Herndon Opera House Company closed an engagement of three nights here on Wednesday evening, after delighting large and appreciative audiences. Last night, owing to Ash Wednesday and the bad weather combined, the attendance was rather slim, but the fortunate ones who were present enjoyed a rich treat, the performance being in our estimation, even superior to those given before. The great sensational drama "Out of the Fire," which abounds in thrilling situations was presented for the first time in Peterborough, and unless we are greatly mistaken, if ever it is placed on the boards here again, a packed hall will greet it. As Jonas Jonah, barber, lawyer and actor, Mr. T. J. Herndon was the central figure and kept the audience in roars of laughter. Clara Goldsby in the prologue as Alice Wilder, the drunkard's wife and in the other portion of the play as Alice full sustained her reputation. Mr. Nicholls as Richard Harding, the villain, and Mr. Harrison as Joe Wilder, who wanted nothing but revenge, were well worthy of favorable mention. Miss Morris as Margaret made an excellent spinster, and Miss P. Harrison as Nancy Nolen, was very piquante. All the other characters were well taken. The entertainment concluded with Mr. Herndon's great specialty, "The Toodles," and for over an hour the merriment was unbounded. We hope that this excellent organization will soon visit us again.

The Golden Lion.

Our readers will have seen the announcement that Mr. Thos. Bradburn has discontinued the dry goods business, which he has carried on for so many years in Peterborough. Mr. Bradburn, being a man of enterprise, has too many irons in the fire to be able to devote to the store the time and attention that a retail trade requires, and feeling that he could not do justice to the business he has relinquished it. Mr. T. Evans Bradburn has now acquired the business which he will conduct in future, giving it his personal supervision. He is well known here, and has been conducting a flourishing business in Lindsay, so we have no doubt that he will have even greater success in this more lively town, and will secure his due share of custom. As a sign of his enterprize and of his intention to keep pace with the times, the handsome new shop front with plate glass, that has already been put in, must be regarded as a favourable angury. The store is now closed for the purpose of taking stock and marking down goods, as he says, to rock bottom prices, but it will re-open on Saturday. By carrying on business on a strictly cash basis, he will be able to give those who come with money in their hands, the best possible value for it. We fancy that he will have a crowded store on Saturday, and that his customers will not be disappointed.

Good Crossings.

Those who read our report of the council meeting will have observed, that a motion was carried authorizing that tenders be asked for a supply of cedar blocks for the construction of crossings. We have tried pine and hemlock as well as stone, and find that none of them "fill the bill." When those disgraceful stone crossings at the corner of Simcoe and George streets were renewed, they were replaced by cedar scantling and these undoubtedly have been the best crossings ever laid down here. Now, what we should suggest is that cedar block crossings the same as the one at the corner of Walton and John streets, Port Hope, which is one of the best, if not the best that we have ever seen, should be tried and we feel confident that they would give the very best of satisfaction. It is well worth trying at any rate and the experiment will not cost much.

Manitoba Mud.

The Winnipeg Sun of the 16th says that yesterday thirty-two lots, blocks 5, 67 and 68, St. James, were sold for $350 each. They resold to Messrs. Hall & Davidson for $450 each, or an advance of $3,200, and an hour after Mr. R. B. McKee, of Peterborough, bought a half interest in them by paying $1,000 advance, and we venture to say will make a handsome profit at that.

Thanks.

We have to return our thanks to Dr. Kincaid M.P.P., for copies of parliamentary papers which are received regularly from him.

POLICE COURT.

ASSAULT CASES.

WEDNESDAY, Feb. 22.—Two charges of assault, against G. H. Toole preferred by J. Cobb, and a counter case against Cobb were enlarged until Friday.

A COUNTRY CASE.

Patrick Tangney was charged with committing an assault on Margaret Tangney. The persons mixed up in the case all reside in the country. The evidence was quite lengthy, and clearly established the guilt of defendant.

Judgment—Fine $10 and costs.

NOT WITHDRAWN.

THURSDAY, Feb. 22.—P. C. McGhee asked to be allowed to withdraw the charges he had preferred against Alexander Ross, as the defendant had gone back to work again.

The MAGISTRATE said that he would not be a party to withdrawing any charges, and thought it was setting a very bad precedent.

The cases were finally enlarged.

A GAME OF CHANCE.

Mr. John Sullivan was charged by P. C. McGhee with allowing a game of chance to be played on his hotel premises on Sunday last, under two clauses of By-law No. 395, as follows:—

25.—It shall not be lawful for any person or persons to keep, or permit to be kept or used in any house, room or place, within the said town, for the purpose of gambling, any faro bank, rouge et noir, or roulette table, or other device for gambling, or to permit or allow any games of chance or hazard, with dice, cards, or other device, to be played for money, liquor, or anything within such house, room, or place, and all and every description of gambling, and all playing at cards, dice, or other games of chance, with betting, in any such house, room or place, or in any hotel, saloon, grocery, or shop, within the said town, is hereby prohibited.

26.—No person shall expose in any of the streets, lanes, or public places, of the said town, any table, or device of any kind whatever, upon, or with, or by which, any game of chance or hazard can be played; and no person or persons shall play at or upon any such table or device, or otherwise, in any of the streets, lanes, or public places, of the town, any such game with cards, dice, or any device whatever.

Messrs. Edmison & Wood appeared for the defendant.

P. C. MCGHEE, sworn,—On Sunday evening last he passed defendant's hotel. The house is close to the street, and the windows were without blinds. People were inside. The men appeared deeply interested in something that was going on. He entered the room and found two young men playing a game of checkers, or draughts. Mr. Sullivan was sitting near the players, watching the game. He told defendant that he should not allow such a thing to be carried on, and said that he would report him. Defendant asked, when spoken to, if it was any harm to play checkers? The witness gave it as his opinion that draughts was a game of chance.

JOHN BRITTON, jr., sworn,—He was not in defendant's hotel on Sunday night. He had never been in the defendant's hotel since he had moved to the south side of Hunter street.

To Mr. WOOD,—He had played a few games of checkers, but knew but very little about the game.

Mr. EDMISON submitted that the offence charged did not come within the provisions of the By-law.

JNO. T. COLEMAN sworn,—He boards at the defendant's house. He had commenced to play a game when P. C. McGhee entered the room. Britton was not playing with him. They were playing for amusement. He did not see any others playing on Sunday. Checkers is not a game of chance, but purely one of skill and calculation.

The MAGISTRATE said the game might be prohibited under a properly constituted by-law, but under the present by-law he could not convict. The defendant's house was a properly conducted one, but such games as checkers do not tend at all to the morality of the town, and by allowing the game to be played on his premises on Sunday evening, Mr. Sullivan was setting a bad example.

Judgment,— Complaint dismissed without costs.

Midland Railway of Canada.

The traffic of the above railway for the week ending February 18th, 1882, was as follows:—

Passengers and mails, and freight, $14,469,-97 as compared with $8,822.68 for the corresponding week of 1881, being an increase of $5,-647.29; and the aggregate traffic to date is $90,122.29, being an increase of $35,336.38 over 1881.

Removed.

The undersigned in returning thanks to their numerous customers, beg leave to say that they have removed to the new store recently erected by Garvey and Dolan, opposite the market square. Where, with increased facilities and strict attention to the wants of their customers they hope to merit a continuation of their patronage. CARTON BROS.

East Riding Association.

The Liberal Conservative electors of the East Riding of Peterborough should not fail to attend the meeting at Norwood, next Thursday afternoon, for the purpose of perfecting their organization. Mr. Burnham, the member for the Riding, will be present.

FOR SEVERE COUGHS AND HOARSENESS.—Philadelphia, Jan. 1. 1876. Messrs. Seth W. Fowle & Sons; Gentlemen—Miss S. Burns, of Seventh and Coates street, has long been a sufferer from a severe cough and hoarseness, which I considered chronic. She was treated by some of our most eminent physicians, but they were only able to afford her temporary relief. I prescribed Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, the use of four bottles of which entirely cured her, as it is now four months since she took the last of it, during which time she has had no return of the complaint. For the good of suffering humanity, Miss Burns has requested me to lay the case before the public. Yours truly, T. D. McGrath, M. D., Druggist and Chemist, S. E. cor. Seventh and Wharton Streets. 50 cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by all druggists.

A LADY WANTS TO KNOW the latest Parisian style of dress and bonnets; a new way to arrange the hair. Millions are expended for artificial appliance s which only make conspicuous the fact that emaciation, nervous debility, and female weakness exists. Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" is sold under a positive guarantee. If used as directed, art can be dispensed with. It will overcome those diseases peculiar to females. By druggists.

The Finest Yet.

Mr. John Benson, Winnipeg's most extensive dealer in equine flesh, and who has been scouring this county for the last two weeks to procure the best animals that money could buy, has now at the Stewart House stables, eighteen of the finest horses that ever left the Province, and all of which he purchased from Mr. T. Cavanagh. The average price paid was $200 each, or $3,600 for the lot. Mr. Benson has already on two or three former occasions shipped car loads of first-class horses, but he is more than elated over his last venture. Many of our readers have doubtlessly heard of the celebrated team belonging to W. H. Lyons, of Winnipeg. Now, so much faith has Mr. Benson in his purchases, that he sta tes that he can pick no less than five teams out of the car load, that will exceed Lyons' horses in every respect. They are all horses of the "Hobby Noble" stock, and average from 2800 to 3400 lbs. a team in weight. Mr. Cavanagh is so taken up with the horses that he has offered to accompany them to the Prairie City, and it is needless to remark that "Ted's" offer was eagerly accepted. We wish Mr. Benson success in disposing of his cargo, and only hope that he will visit us often.

Arctic Discovery.

Our readers are again reminded of the lecture to be delivered at Bradburn's Hall, this evening by Commander Cheyne, R. N. The subject is Arctic Discovery and re-search, and as the lecturer has taken part in several government expeditions in seasch of Sir John Franklin, he has the very best knowledge of his subject. The lecture is very highly spoken of and is illustrated by magnificent lime light views of Arctic scenery.

Grand Orange Supper.

On Wednesday evening next, March 1st, a complimentary supper will be given to the Grand Orange Lodge, at the Town Hall, Millbrook. Mr. W. Reynolds, of the Queens, has charge of the spread, and is making extensive preparations.

Personal.

His Worship Mayor Smith was present at Dr. Ryerson's funeral, at Toronto on Wednesday.

SCORING A "CENTRE"!

If gentlemen ever intend to order Spring Clothing, now will be the most appropriate season.

We concede that warm Winter Clothing is needful and an element of comfort, but a person can have too much of a good thing.

And even though a man might prefer to have his ulster all summer, it is part of economy to throw it aside and don a new spring suit.

Most young men make up their minds where to buy some time in advance of ordering. This is precisely the point we wish to influence.

One of the best ways for a young man to increase his income is to curtail his expenses. This can be done, and a stylish appearance gained besides, by dealing with us for clothing.

We are now in receipt of our stock of Scotch and English Tweeds. Our Canadian Tweeds have been in stock three weeks already. The lines in these goods cannot be equalled in Peterborough, as we have the exclusive sale of many of the patterns. The qualities of all are ne plus ultra.

Our FIT is easy, but neat. Our CUT is perfect and true. Our STYLE cannot be excelled. Our TRIMMINGS the best. Our WORKMANSHIP guaranteed.

Remember the stores, 1 and 2, Cluxton's Block, corner of George and Hunter Streets.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

THE WOULD-BE BIGAMIST.

A Marriage Ceremony Interrupted by the Bridegroom's Wife.

OTTAWA, Feb. 22.—Yesterday Notre Dame Cathedral was the scene of a somewhat dramatical incident, which if it spoiled a future bigamy case for sensation hunters, fortunately rescued an unsuspecting maiden from a most unhappy fate. Some months ago a rather handsome man named Geroux, who resides in the Kristone Ward, obtained an introduction to a young lady named Bethramme residing in Lower Town, and shortly after the acquaintance began commenced to pay her marked and unmistakeable attentions. The maiden, who was only about eighteen years of age, prepossessing in manner and appearance, and a zealous member of one of the ladies' charitable associations of Lower Town, received his addresses in no unfrienly spirit, and in due course of time a proposal of marriage was made and the ardent lover was duly accepted. So far all went well, the banns were duly published, and no opposition made to them. Finally the wedding was fixed, the ring bought, and all was ready for the ceremony which should make the two a happy one for life. The ceremony was arranged to take place at 6 o'clock yesterday morning. The ladies of the association to which the bride expectant belonged, and of which she had been so useful a member, were all present to grace the nuptials of the sister in good works. The Rev. Father Bouillion, who was to perform the marriage rite, was about to begin the service when it was suddenly stopped by the appearance of an indignat female on the scene, who forbade the marriage to go on. The unexpected interruption caused no small consternation among the party, which was not diminished when the new comer explained her right to be there. She informed the bridal party that the groom was already married, that she was his wedded wife and could produce besides her marriage certificate, two charming children, pledges of the love that once existed between her and her now faithless lord and master. It is needless to say that the wedding did not take place.

ESCAPED FROM GAOL.

An Attempted Bolt form Napanee Gaol Thwarted—A Previous Escape.

On Tuesday evening, two prisoners confined in Napanee gaol, Thomas Davy and Robert Mathews, made an attempt to gain their liberty. They purloined a couple of sheets and secreted them in the yard, and during the day took one of the rods out of the side of a box stove in the corridor. When the turnkey let them into the yard to empty their buckets they hurriedly twisted the sheets into a rope, and with the iron fastened at the end as a hook had the means of escape at their disposal. With a bench Mathews raised Davy to the top wall. The hook was then placed over the wall, and the other hauled himself to the top, when they let themselves down into the garden on the outside. Mrs. Vanluven, the gaolor's wife, saw them on the top of the wall and immediately gave the alarm. The gaoler secured Mathews, the plucky woman the other and marched them both into their quarters in the gaol. The whole thing, says the Beaver, did not occupy five minutes. Davy was under sentence of six months for stealing, and Mathews was sentenced to six months in the Central Prison for larceny. Both are now undergoing punishment for their escapade.

The Standard relates the escape of Wager and Detlor, the horse thieves, from the gaol two years ago. They knocked turnkey Clarke senseless, and after getting out they crossed the railway bridge, then sneaked along the south side of the river towards Newburgh. Being without hats they made themselves head coverings of basswood leaves till they bought hats of a farmer's wife, explaining that in crossing Hay Bay they lost their hats in a gale. They next struck north through the burnt district, working their way through the woods to Peterborough where they got employment in the harvest fields for a fortnight. While coming through the woods for a long time all they had to eat were berries, roots, and what game they could kill with clubs. They then took the steamer at Port Hope, crossed to the States, and worked their way to Nebraska, where they got work on a cattle ranch as cow-boy—a class of which they will make creditable members.

"I DON'T WANT THAT STUFF," is what a lady of Boston said to her husband when he brought home some medicine to cure her of sick headache and neuralgia which had made her miserable for fourteen years. At the first attack thereafter, it was administered to her with such good results, that she continued to use it until cured, and was made so enthusiastic in its praise, that she induced twenty-two of the best families in her circle to adopt it as their regular family medicine. That "stuff" is Hop Bitters."—Standard.

There were six men on the engine when the engine struck bottom. The tender smashed down upon it, burying the men under the coal. When the Captain's boat capsized Charles Blank and Charles Smith, Swedes, swam back to the ship. Both were exhausted ten minutes after the boat started. Three shipmates sank, and when Metherum came to the surface he heard a loud noise which he attributes to the explosion of the boiler. Bleeker soon came to the surface and both made for the same plank. Bleeker headed himoff, and Methurem afterwards got on a large piece of wreck. He floated on this for six days with nothing to eat but a single biscuit and no water except a little caught in the fold of his coat. Vessels passed in sight, but he was not discerned until the brig Pearl came along.

THE SUPREME COURT.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The President has nominated Roscoe Conkling as associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States of America.

The Trade Resources of Newfoundland.

A paper on this subject was read on Friday evening, Feb. 7, by Mr. E. Hepple Hall, F.S.S., F.R.A.S., before the Colonial Section of the Society of Arts at John street, Adelphi. The reader pointed out that although Newfoundland was the nearest as well as the oldest of British colonial possessions, the general public were profoundly ignorant of everything connected with it. While admitting that the climate was moist, he contended that it was nevertheless most healthy, the temperature being remarkably equable, the mercury seldom falling below zero of Farenheit's scale in winter or rising above 90° in summer. Fogs were confined to the south and south-eastern shores, the rest of the island being free from them. It was a fallacy to suppose that the country is situated in a region of perpetual frost and snow, and if this were recognized he believed it would offer many attractions for intending emigrants from Great Britain and Ireland. Nature had lavishly endowed the island as the great fishing ground of the world, while its mineral resources in copper, gold, lead, iron and coal would, if developed, go far to constitute it one of the world's great mining centres. A railway was, however, necessary to develop these resources, and to connect the severed portions of the country, and fortunately there were no engineering difficulties to be surmounted. There were no hills to tunnel or large rivers to bridge, while wood for sleepers was abundant. Millions of acres of good land were available for agriculture, and the surveys for the proposed railway extension had disclosed the existence of large areas of rich grass land well watered, and in every way adapted for wool growing, for which the climate was better suited than Australia or New Zealand. A line of railway was now being constructed to open up the interior, and along it on either side fertile belts of land could be had on very easy terms. A discussion followed, in which Mr. Ridley, ex-member of the Legislative Council of Newfoundland, and others took part.—Daily News, London, Eng.

Daily Evening Review

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 1882.

UNDER THE N. P.

It seems that the Examiner is not pleased with us for showing by the testimony of Mr. P. Hamilton that our contemporary quoted an absurd and false statement in regard to an asserted increase of the price of agricultural impliments under the N. P., though we could hardly have found a more competent and impartial witness. We are sorry that our contemporary should be displeased with the prosperity of the country under the present regime, and with the statement of facts in regard to it, but we have the consolation of knowing that other people are better pleased. The farmers, his customers, are getting cheaper implements, so they are pleased; his employees are getting better, wages so they are pleased; he himself is doing a better business, so he is pleased; the storekeepers find better customers in the more highly paid mechanics, so they are pleased; and and the country is getting a larger revenue, so it is pleased. This being the case we must comfort ourself as best we can with the thought of so much pleasure, even if the Examiner is an unfortunate exception and is displeased.

THE SUPREME COURT.

OUR Reform contemporary indulges in a bitter attack upon the Supreme Court. It says in regard to the British Privy Council that nothing could be said against the [illegible] of the tribunal, but adds "not so with the Dominion Supreme Court." After singling out one of the judges for especial abuse it says:—

"It would be impossible for the Ontario Government to court defeat by pleading their case before such a tribunal. When the Supreme Court has fairly established its reputation for ability, impartiality and sound common sense, it may expect to gain the confidence of the people of Ontario, not till then."

The Conservative party has been accused of not estimating the Supreme Court sufficiently highly, but we have never seen such a slur upon that tribunal as this "Reform" diatribe. Conservatives indeed, whatever may be the case with Reformers, we are not in the habit of abusing our justiciary and belittling our law courts.

It will be remembered that this court was created by Mr. Mackenzie's Government.

TRENT NAVIGATION.

WE make the following extracts from the report for 1881 to the Minister of Railways and Canals, by Mr. Thos. D. Belcher, Superintending Engineer of the Trent Canal Works:—

LAKEFIELD.

On the stretch between this station and Burleigh, there is a considerable trade springing up in transportation of railway ties, cedar posts, cordwood, shingles, &c., and the channel in several places is obstructed by boulders; these are being removed by a "stone lifter," and when completed, an extra depth of a foot will be obtained, giving a total depth for navigation when water is level with the apex of dam, of 4' 8."

If the dam were under Departmental control, it would be a great benefit to all parties interested, both in the navigation, lumber and milling interests. At present it is a constant subject for dispute and contention, the water levels not being regulated satisfactorily.

PETERBOROUGH.

The saw-dust banks formed in the river have become such a nuisance as not alone to obstruct navigation, but to cause sickness in the surrounding locality. Having been requested by Mr. Perley, Chief Engineer, Public Works, to prepare a detailed report on this matter, I am doing so, and in order to shew the positions of the several saw-dust banks, and the depth of the accumulation on the bed of the river, I am making an accurate survey of the river and lake adjoining the John, to accompany the report.

LITTLE LAKE.

A new boom pier was constructed and others repaired, and the boom strengthened and fixed.

WHITLAW'S RAPIDS.

The repairs at this station consisted of deepening approach to lock and removing boulders, some masonry repairs to lock, fixing new chains to lock gates, strengthening wing dam, painting and strengthening lock gates. A shoal, that existed a short distance below the cross dam and directed the current into the entrance to canal below lock, was removed. The guide booms were overhauled and fixed.

The upper mitre sill of lock is being repaired, and the sluice area in gates enlarged.

The lock requires new lower gates, the wing dam, entire renewal.

OTONABEE RIVER.

The shoals at the following places, viz.: Yankee Bonnet, Dangerfield, Robinson's Island—have been removed and there is now three inches water more on these shallows, than on the lower mitre sill of lock at Whitlaw's Rapids.

HASTINGS.

In accordance with instructions contained in letter No. 3623 the repairs to the dam at this station were satisfactorily carried out. They consisted in stopping the leak under the dam which necessitated the construction of a coffer dam across the river at a place known as the "flat rock;" great difficulties were encountered in getting the coffer dam "water tight," and on several occasions it gave out, causing great annoyance and loss of time, but ultimately it got its "set" and the main dam was laid bare; it was found that between the sills and the bed of the river there was a space of 1' 6" through which the water flowed for one half the lenth (126' 0") of the dam, this was closed up with 3-inch plank and concrete, and the dam gravelled. The throat of the slide which also leaked badly was repaired and some masonry repairs to wing wall of lock executed. The beneficial result of these repairs is now apparent, Rice Lake being higher (notwithstanding the continued drought) than has ever registered for the last forty years according to the Lock Master's returns. New chains and gearing for working the lock gates have been fixed, and the Lock Master's house cleaned and painted; new fences around lock grounds were also erected.

The repairs required consist in repairing lower mitre sill of lock, and constructing lower gates, and the south half of the dams should receive similar repairs to those executed on the north half.

About ¾ of a mile above the lock, the river is spanned by a bridge constructed by the Grand Junction Railway Company, in which there is a swing. The swing in its present shape is totally inadequate for the requirements of navigation, inasmuch as the piers of the bridge are set obliquely to the direction of the current, and there are no approaches whatever constructed to the swing.

I submitted a detailed report on this matter to the Department, but I regret, and those interested in the navigation of these waters regret, that the details therein submitted, were not carried out. There is now, I am informed, an injunction in Chancery issued, prohibiting the railway from crossing the bridge in its present shape, and demanding that necessary improvements be made to the swing.

HEELY'S FALLS.

The dam has been gravelled and repaired and the throat of the slide above the stop logs replanked. To do this it was necessary to construct a cofferdam which was satisfactorily accomplished and remained staunch and tight.

The present guide boom should be extended about 180 feet, so as to direct drift wood into the slide and prevent it from going over the dam. The side walls of the slide require renewal and must be attended to this coming season.

MIDDLE FALLS.

Instructions having been given to construct a flat dam at the head of the rapids, a survey of the rapids is about being made for that purpose.

The lower slides having been for a number of years disused, it is now the intention of the lumberers, instead of running the rapid after running the upper slide, to run the lower slide, it will therefore require to be put in working order.

CAMPBELLFORD.

The pier and guide-booms have received a general overhauling and fixing.

RANEY'S FALLS.

The works erected here by the late Joseph Keeler, Esq., for the purpose of conveying water to the Pulp factory which is just completed and in running order, are of the best description and very creditable.

The factory is capable of running up to 600 H.P.

CHISHOLM'S RAPIDS.

The works carried out at this station consisted in cleaning out and deepening the canal, constructing open lock gates, gravelling and repairing dam. In order to hang the lock gates it is necessary that the lock should be pumped out and the chamber cleaned, as at present there is over 3 feet of debris and mud on its floor.

The boulders below the canal require removal and a head gate constructed at considerable expense and delay.

Application for a water power has been made by Mr. Clement Armstrong who has purchased all the land through which the canal passes, and who has divided it up into village lots and erected several houses thereon, and as the gentleman evidently means business and is possessed of enery and enterprise, I beg respectfully to advise that, as he would be a worthy recipient, it would be well to give him a grant of the surplus water according to Department form of lease.

He has already excavated his race-way and constructed his head gates, and according to his own statement is only waiting to receive a lease, to build a "large factory."

Before concluding, I beg to state that owing to the unsatisfactory manner in which the water was regulated on the feeders during the present season, I have found it necessary to place a man in charge for a month or two in the year of the dams erected thereon, so as to regulate the supply. This course I have found it absolutely necessary to pursue, as the lower levels are dependent on the feeder.

FOUNDATIONLESS CHARGES.

The Toronto Telegram says:—It is the height of absudity for the chief Reform organ to go on berating Sir Charles Tupper and accusing him of being guilty of all the crimes in the calendar, as well as of some that are not. No member of its own party has formulated these accusations on the floor of the House, although they have been repeated by the organ year after year. It is therefore safe to assume that they are foundationless, or at least that they are considered to be unprovable by the Globe's friends. To go on making charges that no member of your party will father and force on the attention of Parliament is simply waste of breath. Better keep it to cool your porridge. Quite possibly Sir Charles Tupper is a horse-thief and a land pirate, and stole himself rich during his tenure of office. But it seems that the Globe cannot induce even one of his opponents to bring the fact before the notice of Parliament, where it can be dealt with.

LAKEFIELD NEWS.

From Our Own Correspondent.

ANOTHER CONCERT.

Encouraged by the success of the recent concert for the Church of England "bell fund," the ladies of the Methodist [illegible] have arranged for a concert on Tuesday next, in aid of the choir fund of their church. Well known amateurs have kindly consented to take part. The programme is varied, extensive and inviting. A large turn out is expected.

ICE HALVEST.

A large number are busily engaged storing away ice for the ensuing season. The article is very good and in great abundance.

SLEIGHING.

For the last two or three days the good sleighing has given a lively appearance to our steeets. The farmers seem to be taking advantage of the late fall of snow to its fullest extent. The ferry has been kept quite busy with the carriage of teams. It is expected that the ferry will close this week.

BURNS AND SCALDS are promptly cured as all flesh wounds, sprains, bruises, callous lumps, soreness, pain, inflamation and all painful diseases; by the great Rheumatic Remedy, Hagyard's Yellow Oil. For external and internal use. Price 25c.

AN AROMATIC FRAGRANCE is imparted to the mouth by the use of Sozodont. It is beyond doubt the cleanest, purest and best wash ever offered to the public. Sozodont and comfort are synonyms. It cleanses the cavities in the enamel of the teeth.

THE SECRET OF BEAUTY.—No Cosmetic in the world can impart beauty to a face that is disfigured by unsightly blotches arising from impure blood. Burdock Blood Bitters is the grand purifying medicine for all humors of the blood. It makes good blood and imparts the bloom of health to the most sallow complexion.

A GOOD FILTER.—To have pure water in the house every family should have a filter, the health and comfort depends largely upon the use of properly filtered water. The liver is the true filter for the blood, and Burdock Blood Bitters keeps the liver and all the secretory organs in a healthy condition. It is the grand blood purifying, liver regulating tonic.

Reform with a Vengeance.

The Belleville Intelligencer says that the Newmarket Era, the editor of which is one of the oldest, most consistent and most respectable journalists in the province, thus witheringly rebukes the autocratic tendencies of the sham Reformers of the Ontario Government: "On a strict party vote of fifty to twenty-one the professed friends of Reform, under the leadership of a Reform Premier, in the Ontario Legislature, refused to sanction a Bill to take away from the Inspector of Prisons) really meaning the Local Government) the power to fix the salaries of Goalers, who are paid by County Councils from direct taxes of the people. It is no credit to Liberals, who profess to be friends of decentralizing power among the people, to thus vote for centralizing that power in the Government of the day. It was the tyranny of administratiou and action of central authority which brought on the rebellion in 1837; and now the sons of the patriots of that day, in the name of Reform, are binding fast the chains of political opponents of their fathers. This is Reform with a vengeance."

DRUGGISTS throughout the country testify to the great merits of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. No medicine they sell acts so promptly in curing Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, &c. Have you tried it? J. D. Tully, agent for Peterboro'.

THE LOVE OF AN HONEST MAN.

There's many a thing that the maidens wish
As they journey along in life,
As they take their part in the busy world,
And share in its cares and strife;
Perhaps they wish for a cosy house,
With furniture spick and span—
But to crown the whole they care the most
For the love of an honest man.

Yes, pretty maiden, where'er you are,
In palace or humble cot,
Whether your life is fair and bright,
Or trial and toil your lot,
Whether your name is Flora May,
Or homely Mary Ann,
You will be in luck if you win that love—
The love of an honest man,

O, a maiden may prize her diamond set,
Or dresses of latest style;
Or inhabit a house of costly build,
With carpets or velvet pile;
But the greatest blessing to woman's life—
Let her gain it while now she can—
From her golden locks to her silver hairs,
Is the love of an honest man.

Rules for Lent.

The following regulations are laid down for observance in the Roman Catholic Church during the lenten season, which commenced on Wednesday.

1st. All days in lent, Sundays excepted, are days of fasting and abstinence for those who are obliged by the law of fasting.

2nd. By a special dispensation of the holy see, 1875, for ten years, the use of flesh meat is allowed at every meal on Sunday, and once a day on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, except the Saturday of ember week and the Saturday before easter.

3rd. The church exempts from the law of fasting.

1. Those who have not attained their 21st year, though persons who have not attained that age are exhorted to mortify themselves and subdue their passions by fasting and prayer.

2. The sick and infirm from old age and the weakly; those who are obliged to work hard, which they could not perform if they fasted; women bearing and nursing children; and, in fine, those whose health would be seriously impaired by fasting. All should abstain from flesh meat on those days prescribed, unless lawfully dispensed by their pastors; and those who are thus dispensed with the law of fasting or abstinence are still enjoined to redeem their sins by prayer and alms-deeds. We exhort them to say each day three times the Our Father and Hail Mary, and to make an offering in the poorbox during lent for the orphans.

3. Persons unable to fast on account of age, delicate health, hard labor, or other legitimate causes, should abstain as much as possible from flesh meat, except when it is allowed by general dispensation.

4. Custom has permitted in this severe climate a small collation, about one-fourth of a meal at night, and a cup of coffee or tea with a morsel of bread in the morning. The use of fish is not allowed with meat at the same meal. Eggs, butter and cheese are not allowed at the night collation; also fasting food may be fried in lard, where butter cannot easily be procured.

Houses Built of Cotton.

Of all substances apparently the least likely to be used in the construction of a fire-proof building, cotton would perhaps take the first rank and paper the second; and yet both these materials are actually being employed for the purpose indicated and their use will probably extend. Compressed paper pulp is successfully used in the manfacture of doors, wall panellings and for other similar purposes, with the result that all risk of warping and cracking is obviated, while increased lightness is attained and the fear of dry-rot is forever banished. Papier-mache, after having served a useful purpose in an unobstrusive manner for years as a material for small trays, paper-knives and other such light articles, has now suddenly assumed a still more important position in the industrial world. A still more sudden and striking advance has been made in the employment of cotton as a building material. A preparation called celluloid, in which cotton is a leading ingredient, has been used lately as a substitute for ivory in the manufacture of such articles as billiard-balls and paper-cutters, and now a Canadian manufacturer has invented a process by which compressed cotton may be used not merely for doors and window-frames, but for the whole facade of large buildings. The enormous and increasing demand for paper for its normal uses as a printing and writing material prevents the extended use of paper-mache as a building material, for which it is so well suited in so many ways; but the production of cotton is practically unlimited, and there seems to be a large field available for its use in a new capacity as a substitute for bricks—or at least plaster—and wood. Treated with certain chemicals and compressed, it can be made perfectly fire-proof, and as hard as stone, absolutely air and damp proof; and a material is thus produced admirably adapted for the lining—internal or external—of building of which the shell may or may not be constructed of other material, while it easily lends itself to decorative purposes.—Colonies and India.

A Two Mile Walk under Lake Michigan.

About the middle of January the old tunnel under Lake Michigan, for the water supply of Chicago, was pumped out for an examination of the masonry. On the 24th of January, Mayor Harrison, with the city engineer and several reporters, walked through the tunnel to the crib, a distance of two miles, on a tour of inspection. The bottom of the tunnel at the end is sixty-eight feet below the surface of the earth, and the party were let down into the great hole at 2.15 p.m. With lighted miners' lamps they started on the journey, which was found to be laborious as well as uncomfortable, the water being ankle deep and the tunnel not quite high enough to permit a man to walk erect. The masonry was found to be perfect, and in commemoration of the trip, which took one hour and thirty-five minutes, the Mayor screwed a brass plate to the wall of the tunnel, 3,000 feet from the shore, bearing the inscription, "Water let in March 24, 1867. Pumped out January 18, 1882. Found in excellent condition." A climb of a series of ladders, seventy-two feet in length, brought the party, well-nigh exhausted, to day-light at the crib.

The End of a Famous Rose Tree.

Recently a high wind destroyed the famous "Gold of Ophir" rose tree, in Grass Valley, California. A Santa Rosa paper says that the stem was 26 inches around, and the shrub itself had grown over and around an oak 50 feet high, only stopping in its upward progress from lack of something to climb upon. When in full bloom nothing could be seen but a mass of golden flowers, forming an object of almost indescribable beauty and splendor. It was, as may well be supposed, the pride of its owner, who, when once before a strong wind partially uprooted the supporting oak, went to considerable expense to restore it to its upright position. But the recent injury was irremediable, and lovers of the beautiful in nature regret the loss.

RHEUMATISM; yes, and Neuralgia too, are greatly relieved and often entirely cured by the use of Perry Davis' Pain-Killer—Try it.

AN appalling fatality is reported from Ameliasburg. The wife of James Moody, a farm labourer, left three daughters, aged four years, two years, and nine months, in the house whilst she visited a near neighbor. When she returned she found the house in flames and was unable to save her children who were burnt to a crisp.

SOME one suggests that in a couple of hundred years from this, if the Bible is again revised to suit the times, the passage in the parable of the ten virgins which reads thus: "Give us your oil, for our lamps have gone out," will be changed to "give us your electric light, for our circuit is temporarily broken."

FROM HAMILTON.—A gentleman writes: "I have suffered for over four years with night losses and general weakness, caused by abuse, I had tried all the advertised medicines, and a number of eminent doctors, and found no relief or benefit. I have used twelve boxes of Mack's Magnetic Medicine, and am entirely restored." See advertisement in another column.

A PHILADELPHIA man has invented an electric church pew, which will accomplish much good. They are of metal and so connected with the pulpit by a powerful battery that every time the preacher brings his fist down during the sermon, the congregation is waked up by a powerful shock. The result will satisfy the minster if not the congregation.

GIVEN AWAY.—We cannot help noticing the liberal offer made to all invalids and sufferers by Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. You are requested to call at Taylor & Macdonald's Drug Store and get a trial bottle, if you are suffering with Consumption, Severe Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Hay Fever, Loss of Voice, Hoarseness, or any affection of the Throat or Lungs. It will positively cure you. —6.

MARYLAND and West Virginia have an unsettled dispute of long standing, involving the right to half a million acres of fertile land. Charles II. made a grant in 1669 of a large tract "bounded on the north by the Potomac." There are two branches of the river, and the northern one was taken as the line which became the boundary of the States; but Maryland has never given up her claim, and a new attempt is now being made to get the territory.

"WOMEN NEVER THINK."—If the crabbed old bachelor who uttered this sentiment could but witness the intense thought, deep study and thorough investigation of women in determining the best medicines to keep their families well, and would note their sagacity and wisdom in selecting Hop Bitters as the best, and demonstrating it by keeping their families in perpetual health, and at a mere nominal expense, he would be first to acknowledge that such sentiments are baseless and false.—Picayune.

IS IT A HUMBUG? Some people think all proprietary medicines humbugs. In this they must be mistaken. A cough medicine like N. H. Downs' Elixir that has stood the racket of 52 years must have some virtue, and must cure the diseases for which it is recommended, or people would not continue to buy and use it as they do. It seems to us that even if we knew nothing of its merits, the fact of its large and continually increasing sale justifies us in recommending Down's Elixir to all who may need a reliable cough medicine.

English Cattle Traffic.

Mr. Knowles, M.P., presided at a meeting held at Crewe, on Thursday, to consider the desirability of establishing a large cattle market with abattoirs, on land adjoining Crewe station. The London and North Western Railway Company have had under consideration for some time past a scheme for the diversion of the American cattle traffic from Liverpool to their new docks at Holyhead, which would practically give them a monopoly of the inland carrying trade. The situation of the docks at Holyhead, which offers peculiar advantages to the project, and the delay usually experienced by vessels coming in at Liverpool would be altogether obviated and much time saved. It is proposed to bring the cattle to Crewe, where the abattoirs would be formed, and the meat would then be distributed over the midland counties. The subject was fully discussed, and it was decided to form a Limited Liability Company, with a capital of £100,000 in 10,000 shares, such company to be called "The Crewe Cattle Market and Abattoir Company Limited." An architect, solicitor, and secretary were appointed to make the preliminary arrangements.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

ARCTIC EXPLORATION.

Interesting Lecture by Commander Cheyne, on his Plan of Reaching the North Pole.

Bradburn's Hall was well filled last night by the audience assembled to hear the interesting and instructive lecture on Arctic Exploration delivered by Commander Cheyne, R.N.

Mr. POUSSETTE, in introducing the lecturer, ably advocated the claims of the Mechanics' Institute, of which he is President, stating truly that with its extensive library and well-supplied reading room, it is not sufficiently appreciated or encouraged. The fact that they have brought here three such lecturers as Prof. Proctor, the astronomer, Mr. Archibald Forbes, the war correspondent, and now Captain Cheyne, the Arctic explorer, in itself gives them a considerable claim on the public gratitude.

CAPT. CHEYNE commenced his address by a complaint against the railway baggage smashers who by inexcusably rough usage had broken his three lanterns, the best ever made, damaging them so seriously that though Mr. Topley, the optician at Ottawa, had done his best, the repairs were not yet completed, and he had been compelled to borrow from him an ordinary stereopticon, so that instead of large views illuminated by the lime light, he could only present pictures on a smaller scale with the ordinary light. In spite of this drawback the views were very beautiful and interesting, well illustrating the lecturer's descriptions and explanations. He took the spectator on a supposed voyage to the North Pole, the pictures being taken from actual sketches by members of polar expeditions, and his accounts being drawn from his own extensive personal experiences, gained in the repeated explorations in which he has assisted. The dangers and difficulties of voyaging amidst the Arctic ice, with the means employed for combating or avoiding them were graphically described, and the hair-breadth escapes were thrilling in their interest, even in the repetition of them. The majestic and beautiful scenery, the curious sights, and the inhabitants, men and animals, of these inhospitable regions were described and shown in rapid succession. The route described was that by the west coast of Greenland through Smith's Sound, which the lecturer considered the only practicable course, because the ocean currents would drift the ice and the embayed ships in the right direction, whereas by way of Behring Straits or the east coast of Greenland, the currents would be setting in an unfavorable direction. The first part of the expedition was in a vessel, the course being shown by maps and the incidents illustrated by views; then came pictures showing the hardships and difficulties undergone by the sledging parties, which, pushing on from the ship's winter quarters towards the Pole, had reached with great peril the nearest point to it yet attained. Commander Cheyne then entered upon the view of the subject with which his name is now so closely identified. He lucidly explained his plan for reaching our northern axis by means of balloons. Starting in the summer from the ship's winter quarters at St. Patrick's Bay, near the head of Smith's Sound, where a fine seam of coal had been discovered, that could readily be utilized for fuel and gas, he would take three balloons over the 496 miles that intervene between that point and the pole. He minutely described the construction and outfit of these balloons, and the system of observations by which he would ascertain the favourable period when the wind could carry them in the required direction, making the distance in a few hours with ease and comfort, instead of the long days of peril and hardship with which sledging parties must in vain contend. It seems that careful observations during former expeditions have shown that in the summer there is a breeze northward for three or four days continuously, and then southward for a similar period, thus facilitating the trip both ways. He explained in detail his ingenious system of drag ropes, by which the balloon, in a tendency to rise, would have it counteracted by the greater weight of the rope as it was lifted from the ice, while a tendency to fall would be compensated by the lessened length and consequently weight of the rope to be carried. Inviting the audience to question him, in answer to Col. Haultain, Mr. Wood, and others, he explained satisfactorily certain details as to the use of the balloons. After showing several other scenes, concluding with the exhibition of twin portraits of Sir John A. Macdonald and Mr. Blake, as his was no political appeal, the picture of the Queen appropriately closed the lecture.

Captain Cheyne then explained that it was calculated that $80,000 would be required for the projected expedition, half of which he hoped to obtain from the United States, a quarter from Great Britain, and a quarter from Canada. He did not ask his audience for money, but to sign a petition, like other cities and towns, in favor of a Government grant for this undertaking, which would plant our flag for ever at the North Pole.

Mayor Smith, Col. Haultain, the Rev. V. Clementi, Judge Dennistoun, the Hon. Robert Hamilton, and Mr. A. P. Poussette were named as a committee, with power to add to their number, for the purpose of procuring signatures to the petition.

Port Hope's Carnival.

The Times referring to the recent carnival in Port Hope says:—

"At the carnival on Monday night, Peterborough was well represented, and some of the best prizes were taken to that town. While we would sooner see Port Hope monopolize these, yet the presence of the Peterborough and Cobourg citizens added much to the success of the carnival."

And in another place:—

"Over 60 altogether came from Peterborough, and a special train was provided for their accommodation. A great deal of the success of the carnival was due to those from Peterborough and Cobourg, especially the former. Not only were their costumes attractive and rich, but some very pretty ladies were from there."

The two foregoing excerpts are all right, but the following we think is rather unkind:—

"The competition for prizes in skating was much enjoyed. Five entered the list, and the figures they cut showed remarkable proficiency in the skating art, Mr. E. J. Hartley, of Peterborough, however, being something more than an amateur, if not a skilled professional, carried of the prize. He performed two or three almost astounding feats. Several other of the competitors did equally as well if not better, but the last two or three gyrations was a little beyond their powers and they had to give up the fight."

As we stated distinctly to the judges, on the night of the carnival, Mr. Hartley is an amateur in every sense of the word, and has not the slightest inclination to enter the professional arena. As we have been present at every contest that Mr. Hartley has ever taken part in, we know whereof we speak. In justice to Mr. Hartley we think that the Times should correct the wrong impression it they conveys in the last extract quoted.

Curling.

The members of the Curling Club played today for the silver cup, subscribed for by the players, and for the medal. As will be seen by the score, Mr. W. G. Ferguson won the cup and Mr. T. P. Attrill, the medal. The following gives the points made by each of the contestants:—

McGill	8
McDougall	9
Budden	8
Brown	10
Attrill	8
Smith	6
McClelland	3
Ferguson	10
Boucher	8

Brown and Ferguson were ties and played off. Ferguson won by one shot. For the medal competition, T. P. Attrill won at the thirteen point game.

FOR SEVERE COUGHS AND HOARSENESS.—Philadelphia, Jan. 1. 1876. Messrs. Seth W. Fowle & Sons; Gentlemen—Miss S. Burns, of Seventh and Coates street, has long been a sufferer from a severe cough and hoarseness, which I considered chronic. She was treated by some of our most eminent physicians, but they were only able to afford her temporary relief. I prescribed Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, the use of four bottles of which entirely cured her, as it is now four months since she took the last of it, during which time she has had no return of the complaint. For the good of suffering humanity, Miss Burns has requested me to lay the case before the public. Yours truly, T. D. McGrath, M. D., Druggist and Chemist, S. E. cor. Seventh and Wharton Streets. 50 cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by all druggists.

There is no comfort, night or day,
When teeth are suffering from decay.
And Oh! the pain that we shall feel,
When bitter hours at last reveal,
That all our woe came grim and gaunt
From our neglect of Sozodont.

Its Work in Strathroy.

Its often happens that the opinion of an experienced man, an expert, if we so call him conveys greater force than an aggregation of outside, uneducated testimony. And then, too, personal experience or observation is so much more convincing than mere assertion. Trained to habits of analysis and keenest accuracy, and from the very nature of their daily occupation, given to the most incisive criticism of anything of a proprietary nature, chemists, as a class, hesitate very long before indorsing anything of a remedial nature whose virtues have been announced through the public press. St. Jacobs Oil, however, is so universally successful and so unvaryingly accomplishes all that it promises that the able chemist, W. J. Dyas, Esq., of Medical Hall, Strathroy, Ont., sends, with his friendly recommendation, the following from David Harrison, Esq., 9th Conc., Township of Caradoc:—Having suffered with inflammatory rheumatism since last July, and hearing of St. Jacobs Oil, I sent for a bottle of the article on the 15th of October. At that time I was confined to the house, and could not possibly get out of bed without assistance. After four applications of the Oil the pain ceased entirely, and I was able to go about Strathroy in less than a week. I cannot give too much praise to St. Jacobs Oil for what it has done for me, and I believe it to be a most reliable remedy in rheumatism. Its wonderful efficacy should be brought to the knowledge of everybody.

Earthworms and Agriculture.

The subject of earthworms has been shown by Darwin to be both interesting and important. Dr. Gilbert, of Rothamsted, has recently made some experiments in order to ascertain the proportion of nitrogen in their castings. These worm casts, according to Mr. Darwin, amount to about 17 or 18 tons per annum per acre of two inches in depth. Dr. Gilbert collected the nests of two or three weeks' formation, and found they contained 35.0 per cent. of nitrogen, which is much higher than that contained in ordinary mould. It is two or three times as high as that of arable land, is higher than that of pasture land, which has been found to contain 25.3 per cent. in the first nine inches of soil, but is not so rich as highly-manured kitchen-garden mould. Ten tons of these castings per annum would yield 80 lb. of nitrogen per acre, or more than double that of ordinary meadows without manure. Dr. Gilbert's conclusions, however, were that no gain accrued to the soil, except what the worms brought up from below as by trenching.

TO PERSONS employed in constant mental toil, study or anxiety, Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites is especially adapted, namly to teachers, Clergymen, Editors, Lawyers, and impecunious business men.

A CURE FOR HEADACHE.—What physician has ever discovered a cure for headache? Echo answers none. But Burdock Blood Bitters by their purifying, invigorating, nervine properties afford a cure in nearly every case. The health-giving principles of this remedy are unequalled by any similar preparation in the world.

WORTHY OF PRAISE.—As a rule we do not recommend Patent Medicines, but when we know of one that is really a public benefactor and does positively cure, then we consider it our duty to impart that information to all. Electric Bitters are truly a most valuable medicine, and will surely cure billiousness, Fever and ague, Stomach, Liver and kidney complaints, even where all other remedies fail. We know whereof we speak, and can freely recommend them to all.—Exch.—Sold at fifty cents a bottle, by Taylor & Macdonald.—6.

SCORING A "CENTRE"!

If gentlemen ever intend to order Spring Clothing, now will be the most appropriate season.

We concede that warm Winter Clothing is needful and an element of comfort, but a person can have too much of a good thing.

And even though a man might prefer to have his ulster all summer, it is part of economy to throw it aside and don a new spring suit.

Most young men make up their minds where to buy some time in advance of ordering. This is precisely the point we wish to influence.

One of the best ways for a young man to increase his income is to curtail his expenses. This can be done, and a stylish appearance gained besides, by dealing with us for clothing.

We are now in receipt of our stock of Scotch and English Tweeds. Our Canadian Tweeds have been in stock three weeks already. The lines in these goods cannot be equalled in Peterborough, as we have the exclusive sale of many of the patterns. The qualities of all are ne plus ultra.

Our FIT is easy, but neat. Our CUT is perfect and true. Our STYLE cannot be excelled. Our TRIMMINGS the best. Our WORKMANSHIP guaranteed.

Remember the stores, 1 and 2, Cluxton's Block, corner of George and Hunter Streets.

ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis,

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation, when the cough is more observable, but rather dry; then becomes local fever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration,

CONSUMPTION

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are also drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the cause, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold every where.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

MUNICIPAL BONUSES.

A MOTION by Mr. Wigle proposing to amend the municipal law, so that by-laws granting bonuses to either railway or manufacturing establishments, shall be legal and binding when they receive the assent of a majority of at least one third of the voters on the voter's lists of a municipality, has been so favourably received by the Ontario Legislature, that a bill making the necessary amendment in the present law to that end will be introduced, and in all probability be passed during the present session.

LINDSAY.

THE LINDSAY PAPER MILL COMPANY.—The Post says that among the list of applications for charters by letters patent is the following: Alex. A. Stevenson, W. D. O'Brien, Richard Jellyman, Richard White, Alex. R. Brown, Hon. A. W. Ogilvie, Henry Dobell, Peter A. Paterson, Henry J. Tiffin, Arthur R. Plimsoll, Anthony H. Sims, Chas. R. Hosmer, Robert Campbell, George W. Craig, Miss Emily C. S. Bagg and Charles T. Gibbs, all of the city of Montreal, as the Lindsay Paper Mill Company (limited). Capital stock, $60,000; chief place of business, Montreal. On Friday last Col. Stevenson and Mr. H. Shackell visited Lindsay and had a meeting with the committee on manufactures in the town clerk's office. The present situation of the project was explained. Col. Stevenson said the company would go on at once with the necessary preparation to manufacture straw paper; straw board and mill board from wood and rice grass. They would give employment to twenty or twenty-five hands from the start and confidently expected to increase largely the number as business increased. Three-fourths of the goods they would make will be taken by three gentlemen interested in the concern, so that they were sure of a good market from the start. The business was one that would attain very considerable dimensions. They had other places under consideration, but the advantageous position of Lindsay and the fine machinery and building across the river led them to give this place the preference if satisfactory arrangements could be made. The conditions were stated and discussed, and the following resolution was adopted, the same being accepted by Col. Stevenson and Mr. Shackell: Moved by Mr. Grace, seconded by Mr. W. McDonnell, jr., "That whereas this committee having heard the proposition of the Hon. A. W. Ogilvie and Messrs. A. A. Stevenson and H. Shackell for the manufacture of paper and other merchandise in the premises known as the Maine Tannin Co's property in the town of Lindsay provided the remission of taxes now due on the said property since May, 1880, is made, which said taxes amount to $473, be it therefore resolved that this committee recommend the town council to remit the taxes which have accrued since that date, and further that the council be recommended to enter into an agreement with the said parties for a further remission of taxes on the said manufacturing premises for the term of ten years provided the said parties continue to keep employed in the said premises not less than twenty adult employees, and in case the number of adults so employed be reduced and the reduction continue for three months, then the agreement as to the exemption to become null and void. And this committee further recommend the council to extend the annual remission of taxation for a further period of ten years, providing the number of adults employed continuously in the said works be increased to fifty, the amount of taxes to be paid in the meantime up to the 20th May, 1880, the balance of the unpaid taxes to be charged back against the property." We understand the necessary preparations to go on with the works will be commenced in a week or two when the practical manager, who is now looking at some establishment in the states, will be on hand to superintend the changes and improvements required.

FAILURE.—The Post of Friday says considerable suprise and general regret was occasioned on Monday by the suspension of Mr. C. L. Baker. It appears that the action was taken by Frank Smith & Co. of Toronto for a claim of $3,000. It is understood that Mr. Baker's liabilities are about $12,000 and his assets about $6,000. The failure is ascribed to losses in closing up the Fargo business and in grain-buying. An unfortunate feature of the failure is the fact that a number of farmers who left their grain on the "raise" will not get their money. Rumor had these losses numerous and large but they will not amount to more than $1,500. Mr. Baker left for Toronto on Friday last to see his principal creditor, but Mr. Smith was in Ottawa, and Mr. Baker may have gone thither. Much sympathy is felt for his misfortune.

UTAH'S CURSE.

THE LAND ACT.

LONDON, Feb. 24.—In the House of Lords this afternoon after two hours' discussion, the committee proposed by Lord Donoughmore to inquire into the working of the Land Act was agreed to without a division, Lord Granville, referring to the motion to be made in the Commons by Mr. Gladstone on Monday, that an inquiry into the working of the Land Act will be injurious to the interests of good government in Ireland, denied that it was a proposal for vote of censure, but votes of censure in the House of Lords were not unprecedented. THE FLOOD.

VICKSBURG, Feb. 24.—Reports of terrible suffering have been received from below. Hundreds of families are without means of living, Colored families and cattle are floating about on flat boats. THE GARFIELD EXPENSES.

WASHINGTON, Feb, 24.—The statement published of the amounts allowed by the committee to audit the expenses of the sickness and burial of President Garfield to the attending surgeons is pronounced incorrect by a member of the committee. The amounts allowed are:—Dr. Bliss, $25,000; Drs. Agnew and Hamilton, $15,000 each; Drs. Reyburn and Boynton, $10,000 each; Mrs. Edson, $5,000; Crump the steward, $3,000; the other employees of the Executive Mansion, two months' extra pay. The committee agreed to grant Mrs. Garfield the remainder of her husband's salary for the current year.

MASON COURT-MARTIAL.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—At the Mason court-martial to-day the prisoner's counsel asked authority to bring Major Robinson, of Ohio, under whom Mason served in the war, here as a witness. Counsel said he expected to prove that the prisoner was a brave, faithful soldier, and that a wound in his shoulder had produced a marked change in his temperament and disposition. The court will consider the request. The gaol turnkey gave unimportant testimony. Capt. Graves testified that Mason exclaimed after firing at Guiteau, "I hope I have cut him in two." Lieut. Richmond testified that Mason said "I did it; I tried to kill him. I surrender myself to you. I am not coming out here to guard an assassin."

Wooden Vessels.

The American Ship says:—"Notwithstanding the general belief in the decline of the use of sailing vessels for long sea voyages between the Atlantic and Pacific ports, there are unmistakable indications of a steady revival of the investment of capital in the ownership of wooden sailing ships, mostly built in Maine, and freighted at Boston, New York, and Philadelphia for voyages around Cape Horn to San Francisco where they compete for cargoes of grain and flour to Great Britain, Japan and China, and so keep on with their trading voyages until they circumnavigate the globe. This is the same description of enterprise in which American shipping was once so renowned."

For Invalids.

When the yolk of an egg cannot be borne, the white may be given with perfect impunity. Albumenized milk is prepared by shaking in a wide-mouthed bottle or jar one pint of milk with the whites of two eggs. These are so thoroughly incorporated by this process that few would suspect their presence, and the mixture is much more nourishing than the milk alone. A delicious egg-nogg is made by beating the yolk of an egg separately and adding to it three teaspoonsful of sugar with the juice of half a lemon squeezed on it; when well mixed the milk is poured in, the white, beaten to a stiff froth with a small teaspoonful of sugar and a few drops of lemon juice, is heaped on the top or beaten through the milk, according to the fancy of the maker. Orange juice may be substituted for the lemon. Albumenized water is a refreshing and at the same time a nourishing drink. It is prepared like the milk, by shaking togethhr the whites of two eggs and a pint of cold water, and flavored with lemon juice, a slice of lemon being left floating in the glass. Cold toast-water can be used to make it.—Miss Scovel in Christian Union.

Daily Evening Review

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 1882.

OUR BOUNDARY.

An attempt is made by the Reform press to make it appear that the Conservatives of Ontario are giving away territory, which of right belongs to the Province, and that they are so acting in the interests of their party. The accusation is perfectly absurd, but is quite of a piece with Mr. Mowat's attempt to make political capital out of the matter, instead of doing his best to secure the interests with which he is intrusted. The dispatch from Ottawa, which as it disproved his statements, he so obstinately refused to produce, shows incontrovertibly that the Dominion Government in 1872, offered to take steps for a final settlement of the dispute, and that they have renewed these offers persistently to the present day, as also to provide for the temporary jurisdiction of the debateable territory. In his laboured answer to this document Mr. Mowat and his colleagues claim repeatedly that an injustice is done by the award, that the territory given to this Province is far less than is rightfully hers.

Now, why should Conservatives or any other inhabitants of Ontario, tamely yield up territory to which we are entitled, because Mr. Mowat thinks he can embarrass the Ottawa administration by so doing? For our part, while we have no wish to claim more than Ontario is entitled to, we are still less willing to give up one acre that is rightfully hers, and we would like the matter settled once for all by the highest court that can pronounce upon it.

If Mr. Mowat is so convinced of the justice of his case, or rather that Ontario has not been awarded her full rights, why should he be so anxious to avoid a decision by such a tribunal as the court of last resort of the empire. The answer is self evident, that Mr. Mowat is not aiming at securing the interests of his province, but at making use of the question to deal a blow at his political opponents.

As to the finality of the present award, Mr. Mackenzie "with his usual caution," refused to take steps beforehand to make it final, reserving it for his approval when declared our if it pleased him, so it is no such final award as to be binding on his successors.

We want all the territory to which Ontario is entitled, and we want the boundary settled by proper authority. We do not care to be a party to Mr. Mowat's selfconfessed relinquishment of the rights of the Province, because he wishes to make a partisan use of the surrender.

MILLBROOK.

The Millbrook Banking Company.—The Messenger says that this Banking Co. that succeeded the Molson's Bank, just a year ago, have entered into a second year's business in Millbrook, notwithstanding that certain predictions were made, when the Molsons retired, that the new concern would never secure the confidence of the local public, that its predecessor had. Under the management of its able and obliging Manager, S. V. Hutchings, Esq., it it has became a fast favourite in the community, and is looked upon, by both the merchants and agricultural community as one of the best monetary institutions that has sought for public favours. In fact, the accommodations granted have been so numerous and far-reaching in comparison to those granted by ordinary banks, that, in view of its still remaining under its present management, Mr. Hutchins may look forward to doubling his business of the bank, in the ensuing year. Apart from its ordinary business, the village receives considerable benefit from the local outlay, in the expenditure in connection with the bank, as well as that of its officials.

Bachelors' Ball.—According to invitations sent out, a few days since, by "The Bachelors of Millbrook," there was a gay assemblage inthe town hall last night, when the lively dance was kept up from about nine o'clock to three in the morning, with the exception of about an hour, which was spent in consuming the many delicacies so liberally provided by the lady friends of ye aforesaid Bachelors. Amongst those presswere a few from Port Hope, Peterborough, Lindsay, Bethany and South Monaghan. A pleasant evening was passed, and "The Bachelors" were complimented on their arrangements.

NORWOOD.

Attempted Burglary.—The Register says that about three o'clock on Monday morning, Feb. 20th, as Mr. A. Sanderson was proceeding to Mr. Brennan's hotel to obtain the services of Mr. Stevenson, V.S., he heard the rattle of keys in the doorway of Mr. W. H. Stephenson's store. Wondering who it could be that was visiting the store at such an untimely hour in the morning, he proceeded up the sidewalk to investigate. He had gone but a short distance when a man stepped out and after throwing the light of a dark lantern in his face, he asked him "where the fire was?" Mr. S. replied that there was no fire. No. 1 burglar was then joined by another, who it appears had remained concealed in the doorway during the conversation. Mr. S. after undergoing the scrutiny of the two for a moment or so, commenced to think of the great sin he was committing by loitering around when sent on a message, and immediately started for Mr. Brennan's on the "double quick." The burglars also appeared to have business in the same direction, but had gone but a short distance when a light moving in the house appeared to alarm them, it being their turn to run, they started, and in a short time were out of sight. They are described as having been dressed in knee-trousers, peaked hats and moccasins.

A Public Park.—A meeting of the ratepayers of the village was held in the Town Hall on Monday evening, Feb. 20, for the purpose of discussing the propriety of purchasing about five acres of land to be used as a public park and exhibition grounds. The meeting was largely attended. After some discussion a resolution was carried, having been moved by Mr. Roxburgh, and seconded by Dr. Massie,—That in the opinion of this meeting it would be desirable for the Village Council to purchase five acres of land, to be used as a public park and for holding exhibitions, etc.

COBOURG.

Presentation.—The Sentinel-Star says that a pleasant affair happened at the Car Works on Saturday evening last. After the men had quit work, they repaired to one of the shops to present a farewell address to Mr. Jas. Young, who has occupied the position of assistant book-keeper for several years past. After the men had assembled, Mr. Young was sent for, and on his arrival Mr. Wm. Barr presented him with an address. Accompanying the address was a purse containing $60, which was handed to him by Mr. Tinney. Mr. Young replied in appropriate words, stating that they all knew he could not make a speech, but it would be impossible for him to refrain from saying a few words of heartfelt thanks for this evidence of good will towards him. He wished to thank them all heartily, and in future years he would look back upon this address with feelings of great pleasure. Although he could not express his thankfulness deeply enough, he trusted they would, in this case, accept the will for the deed. Mr. Young left for the North-West on Tuesday last, carrying with him the best wishes of his numerous friends in Cobourg.

Fatal Accident.—A fatal accident occurred on the front road on Tuesday evening, Feb. 14. As Mr. M. Hoolahan and some more were going home in a double buggy, by some means he fell off a trunk on which he was sitting and the the wheel caught his head but did not pass over it on account of the slippery roads. He was dragged a considerable distance in this manner by the head, and would probably have been unnoticed by his drunken companions had not Mr. Baker, who was driving by that way and had seen him fall off, called their attention to him. After the horses had stopped he was found to be unconscious, from which state he never recovered. He died on Thursday and was buried on Saturday last in the Grafton burying ground: The scene of the accident was opposite the farm of Mr. Henry Covert.

Mark of Respect.—As the late Rev. Dr. Ryerson was so intimately connected with Cobourg in years past, and a substantial evidence of his untiring zeal for the cause of education is in our midst, the town bell was tolled by order of the Mayor, and the Methodist Church bell, on Wednesday afternoon last, and the flag at Victoria University, and that on the Mayor's residence were at half mast.

HASTINGS.

A Sharp Trick.—The Star says that it appears that our sister village, Norwood, has not a monopoly in the sneak thief line, as on the evening of the 13th Feb., Mr. A. B. German, of Percy, had a bag of flour taken from his wagon, which he had driven into one of the hotel sheds of this village. We understand that the parties who committed the theft are known, and will in all probability pay pretty dear for their bread.

The First of the Season.—Mr. E. R. B. Hayward left on our table on Monday last a very fine sample of maple sugar, which was made by one of his employees in Dummer the previous week. As we pride ourselves on being an excellent judge of this article—having a mouth specially adapted for the purpose—we shall be happy to receive further samples from our readers and render judgment thereon. No charge will be made for our decision.

Narrow Escape.—As Mr. H. Doxsee was engaged in adjusting a belt near the main shaft in the stave factory on last Saturday morning, a portion of clothing became entangled in the pully by which he was thrown heavily to the floor, and received a very severe shock.

Cattle.—Mr. John Collins sold a car load of cattle to Mr. Johns on Saturday, which the latter shipped by the morning train. Mr. Collins completed a second car load the same day, and which was sent forward by the evening train.

Contract Let.—The contract of 60 window frames and 1,200 lights of sash for the new tannery has been awarded to James Graham after a close competition. Hurley and Hayward acting for Mr. Walsh.

Full Up.—The elevators are full to overflowing in consequence of the scarcity of cars to ship the grain.

PORT HOPE.

Grand Orange Lodge of Eastern Ontario.—The Times says that the twenty-third session of the Grand Orange Lodge of Eastern Ontario is convened to meet at Millbrook on Tuesday, 28th Feb. and the Provincial Grand Black Chapter of that Province will open its annual session at the same place on the evening of the 27th. A full representation of delegates will be present. Among other important matters for discussion, a mutual insurance scheme for Eastern Ontario will be laid before the Grand Lodge.

A Lake Monster.—A steamer, to run on the lakes next summer, has been launched, lately, that will carry as much as the John Gaskin and her mate together, when the latter is completed. The name of the monster is the Onokol. Her keel is 286 feet long; over all 302½ feet; breadth of beam, 39 feet; depth of hold, 25 feet. The estimated capacity of the Onokol is 100,000 bushels of corn, or 3,000 gross tons of iron ore, on a draught of 14½ feet. The The cost of the steamer is about $225,000.

Aggrieved. — Mr. Geo. A. Cox passed through here on Monday evening; a deputation from the Council went to the station to confer with him, regarding the claims of Port Hope to a representative on the permanent Board of Directors of the Midland Railway. Peterborough, Lindsay, Belleville and Whitby have, it appears, greater claims than Port Hope in this respect, and we are to be entirely ignored.

Westward Ho!—On Monday a party of 5 left Port Hope for Manitoba. It was composed of the following persons, well-known citizens of this town: Messrs. D. H. Scott, Geo. Wilson, of the Guide, Philip Bros., and J. C. McNaughton, jr.

The Harbour—We notice by the estimates just brought down in the House of Commons, that Port Hope gets $10,000 for the improvement of her harbor.

The Best of It.—Lindsay and Peterborough are squabbling over the Midland Railway benefits. Evidently the latter has the inside track.

Store Robbery.—The Guide says that some time during Wednesday night last the tin-ware shop of Mr. John Reel was entered and a dollar's worth of cents and about the same of silver coin was taken from the till. It seems that the robber entered by the back door, the key of which was in the lock, and had been forced out of its place by means of another key. Nothing else was missed from the shop. The back door was locked again.

ENNISMORE.

From our own Correspondent.

Tavern Licenses.—The people of Ennismore have given this time no uncertain sound on the question of taverns or no taverns in their fair township. The vote stood on Wednesday, in favor of the by-law seventy-nine; against the by-law fifteen. Thus the people of Ennismore have fought a good fight and have gained a glorious victory.

Trade with the East.

The Montreal Gazette says:—"A few days ago we refgrred to the SS. Erl King as having been chartered to load rice, &c., at the port of Akyab, British Burmah, direct for Montreal. This will be followed by the SS. Africa, from Rangoon, British Burmah, with another cargo, direct to Montreal, both of which are on account of the Mount Royal Milling and Manufacturing Company, of Montreal, and are the first direct steamer cargoes from the East to Canada. This new company, which is the latest addition to our home industries, can claim the honor of opening up a direct trade with the British possessions in the East."

A lady wants to know the latest Parisian style of dress and bonnets; a new way to arrange the hair. Millions are expended for artificial appliances which only make conspicuous the fact that emaciation, nervous debility, and female weakness exists. Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" is sold under a positive guarantee. If used as directed, art can be dispensed with. It will overcome those diseases peculiar to females. By druggists.

An Aromatic Fragrance is imparted to the mouth by the use of Sozodont. It is beyond doubt the cleanest, purest and best wash ever offered to the public. Sozodont and comfort are synonyms. It cleanses the cavities in the enamel of the teeth.

Druggists throughout the country testify to the great merits of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. No medicine they sell acts so promptly in curing Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, &c. Have you tried it? J. D. Tully, agent for Peterboro'.

CROWN JEWEL FLOUR!

This Flour is made of No. 1 Hard Wheat by the new process, combined with the best methods and machinery in operation in the best Hungarian Mills, and will produce from 30 to 40 pounds more Bread per Barrel than the best superior wheat flour. Therefore, the first cost though higher, is fully compensated in the increased yield of Bread as well as being a much better quality and more nutritious, having a much larger percentage of gluten and less starch than ordinary wheat flour. To those who may not be familiar with the use of this kind of Flour, we suggest mixing it moderately soft, which will require considerably more water than is ordinarily used.

Knead thoroughly, and bake with a strong heat and in such a manner that bottom and top shall be equally well baked.

N. H. DOWNS' Vegetable Balsamic ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis,

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation when the cough is more observable, but rather dry; then becomes ocalfever and the poisemore frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration.

CONSUMPTION

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are also drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the cause, generally promotes the free to before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

MAN AND WOMAN.

A man will stand for hours and drink
With friends, and even those unknown;
A woman, she will pose and prink
As long before a glass alone.

A man likes well to drive at speed
A trotter which cannot be beat;
A woman likes, whate'er her creed,
When richly dressed her friends to meet.

A man is partial to the club
Where "draw" is not put under ban;
A woman likes to gad and snub
A rival beauty when she can.

A man well likes a rattling race,
Where horses on their merits run;
A woman prizes bits of lace,
Antique and rare, in color dun.

A man is ever betting, "just
To back an argument," you know;
A woman ever shows disgust,
When meeting "sisters fallen" low.

A man likes well to plague and joke
Some unsophisticated friend;
A woman likes to, will provoke
Another whom she can't command.

A man another oft will fight,
And speak of it without a blush;
A woman, strangely, will invite
A woman whom she'd like to crush!

A man will shake your hand, and treat
To "whiskey sour" or whiskey straight;"
A woman's kiss is very sweet,
And sends her love to those she hates.

A man likes much to read the news,
About a fire, divorce or "mill;"
A woman likes to see full pews,
When she in church is "dressed to kill."

A man will have his "little fun,"
And often, questionable sport;
A woman will from sun to sun,
With neighbors gossip—that's her forte.

A man goes on a three-weeks' spree,
And feels thereafter very "blue;"
A woman finds it ecstacy,
Her "upper draw-er" to go through!

Now, which is "six" of this queer pair,
And which is "half a dozen," I
Can't say: in fact I would not dare,
If either one were standing by.

TWO HUSBANDS AT FOURTEEN.

A Maryland Girl Marries Her Stepfather and then Her True Lover.

A Baltimore telegram says:—A wedding has just taken place in Dame's Quarter District, Somerset County, Md., under circumstances which have probably never been paralleled in this country. H. E. Whyte, a boy aged 17 and of excellent character, married a pretty little brunette named Ella Shores, aged 14, thus giving to the girl a second husband within a period of two years. On February 5th, 1880, precisely two years from the date of this marriage, the residents of Dame's Quarter were greatly excited by learning that Sydney Shores, a farmer aged 65 years, had married Ella Shores, the 12 year-old daughter of his deceased wife by a former husband. The ceremony was performed by the Rev Zacharias Bowen, a Methodist Episcopal clergyman, who as shown afterwards, was deceived by Shores as to the child's age and did not know that she was his stepdaughter. At that time there were threats of lynching the bridegroom, and a mob visited his house one night to hang him. Shores, however, who is an old soldier, showed fight and beat off the mob. After the man had lived with the child as wife for four days the county authorities took cognizance of the affair and arrested him. Shores was committed to jail in default of bail, and the girl was taken charge of by friends and removed from Shore's house. The feeling against Shores was further aggravated by the fact that his wife, who was the widow of his uncle, had only been dead a month when he married the girl. Some months later Shores was tried at the County Court, convicted of misdemeanor, and sentenced to pay a fine of $500, and stand committed until it was paid. The clergyman was acquitted on the ground that he had not known the facts of the case. Shores, being a poor man, could not pay his fine and would, doubtless, have been in jail to-day had he not succeeded in escaping last year, since which time he has not been heard of. Meanwhile the girl wife, by friends, applied for a divorce, which application was heard last fall and granted. Throughout her troubles, Whyte, her second husband, displayed the most Quixotic solicitude for her, and finally induced her to marry him last week as stated. Mrs. Whyte is an unusually pretty girl, well educated and intelligent. Several prominent residents of the county have taken an interest in the welfare of the young couple, and will help to establish the bridegroom in business.

IRELAND.

Military patrols are out almost every second night in the neighborhood of Cashel.

Captain Keogh, R. M. County Cork, has refused to grant gun licences to any persons who have been members of, or who have subscribed to the funds of the Land League.

Shipment of Irish-cured bacon of a fine brand continue on an extensive scale from Dublin. The "cure" is chiefly that of Limerick, and nearly all that is now being sent is consigned to London. The export of eggs is on a very small scale just now, a decided scarcity of these articles prevailing. Prices are locally high.

On Feb. 3rd about one hundred men assembled at Stamullen with spades, shovels, rakes, &c., under the direction of the Rev. Patrick Tuite, C. C., and turned up the soil and made several improvements in the extensive fruit gardens of Mr. Frank Fullen, who is at present confined as a suspect in Armagh Jail. The fife and drum band of Julianstown attended and played a variety of national airs.

On Jan. 24th Mr. Michael Fitzgerald, merchant, Cappoquin, was released on parole from Clonmel jail, where he has been confined for months past under the Coercion Act, in order to attend at Fermoy quarter sessions, where he was plaintiff in a case. He signed an undertaking that he would not engage in the Land League agitation and that he would give notice when his business was finished. The governor of the prison informed him that he had the parole as long he liked, and that he would not again admit him to the prison without an order from the Chief Secretary. On Jan. 27th Mr. Fitzgerald wrote to the Chief Secretary stating that his case was concluded, and asking that an order might be sent to the governor of the prison to readmit him, and in case his request is not complied with he will consider himself no longer under control.

There is, says a correspondent of the Dublin Express, no hope of recovering rents in the County Mayo. There are some thousands of civil bills and ejectment decrees in hands, but, says the writer, they are so much waste paper. He adds—"From Swinford to Ballaghaderreen on one side, to Ballyhaunis and Claremorris on the other, there is no prospect of recovering rents. The "No rent" manifesto is constantly posted, and £30 reward is offered for information of anyone who pays rent." In conclusion, the local observer says: "Mortgagees, annuitants, and landlords are reduced to dreadful privations. Although there are more than 50,000 bayonets at the service of the landlords the latter cannot collect their rents. The case would probably be just the same if half a million soldiers occupied the country."

FROM ALL OVER.

An appropriation of $100,000 for the relief of sufferers by the Mississippi flood has been recommended to Congress.

A reward of $1,400 is offered for information respecting Maggie McVey, who disappeared from Yarmouth township, county Elgin, in 1878.

Rheumatism; yes, and Neuralgia too, are greatly relieved and often entirely cured by the use of Perry Davis' Pain-Killer—Try it.

A mild and not very successful effort has been made to close the Chicago gambling houses and put a stop to Sunday theatrical performances.

Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Pains in the Throat and Chest, relieved and cured by the use of Dr. Carson's Cough Drops. The most reliable testimony has been received as to their efficiency. In bottles, 50 cents. J. D. Tully, agent for Peterborough.

The Hungarian Government objected to the delivery of 100,000 rifles ordered by Servia, because it apprehends a change in the government of Servia would bring into power a party sympathizing with the Bosnia insurgents.

At the court martial on Sergeant Mason, who attempted to shoot Guitean from the gaol yard in Washington, the prisoner endeavoured to introduce Guiteau's tactics of interrupting the proceedings. He was promptly suppressed.

Mr. Samuel McCaw, the well-known conductor on the Whitby and Lindsay Railway, says Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters cured me of Dyspepsia. I always kept them in the house, and consider them invaluable as a family medicine. J. D. Tully, agent for Peterborough.

Over three hundred Russian Jews have arrived in Philadelphia. They say that when the riots occured at Warsaw some of their number were driven out of the city at the point of the bayonet, and forced to fly with their families.

Sick Headache.—This scourge of all ages and sexes succumbs at once to Dr. Herrick's Sugar-Coated Vegetable Pills. A single dose will alleviate even the most obstinate case, and a persistence in the use of the medicine effect a radical cure. Try the remedy.

The report that mechanics cannot obtain employment in Winnipeg is absurdly false. About $4,000,000 is projected to be spent in Winnipeg in buildings and other public works this year, and that amount of capital will require more labour than it is feared will reach the city.

One of my friends from the South, said Mrs. Dr. A. A. Jordan, 51 Lincoln street, Worcester, Mass., spoke to me very highly of St. Jacobs Oil. I resolved to try it on my patients, and I must confess that I was surprised at the results. It has never failed to cure all that it claims to, and I prescribe it willingly and confidently to those of my patiets who suffer with rheumatism, sprains and all bodily pains. It is certainly a wonderfuly remedy, and I can highly recomend it.

There are only 113 works in the English language which the blind can read. Producing books in raised letters is very expensive, and of course the sales are small, so that their publication is a matter of charity. The Perkins' Institute of Boston have almost raised a fund of $100,000, with which they will issue twelve books a year indefinitely.

What's saved is gained.—Workingmen will economize by employing Dr. Pierce's Medicines. His "Pleasant Purgative Pellets" and "Golden Medical Discovery" cleanse the blood and system, thus preventing fevers and other serious diseases, and curing all scrofulous and other humours. Sold by druggists.

From Hamilton.—A gentleman writes: "I have suffered for over four years with night losses and general weakness, caused by abuse. I had tried all the advertised medicines, and a number of eminent doctors, and found no relief or benefit. I have used twelve boxes of Mack's Magnetic Medicine, and am entirely restored." See advertisement in another column.

Given Away.—We cannot help noticing the liberal offer made to all invalids and sufferers by Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. You are requested to call at Taylor & Macdonald's Drug Store and get a trial bottle, if you are suffering with Consumption, Severe Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Hay Fever, Loss of Voice, Hoarseness, or any affection of the Throat or Lungs. It will positively cure you. —6.

DOMESTIC AND USEFUL.

Pork and Beans.—Before putting the pork with beans, when about to have pork and beans, pour boiling water over it. This is necessary to remove all traces of the brine; rinsing in cold water is not sufficient.

Cracked Earthenware.—It is a fact that little, just perceptible cracks in earthenware will disappear, and the ware look as good as new, if it is boiled in milk. This has been tried on a small majolica patch, with success.

Escalloped Parsnips.—Mash one pint of boiled parsnips; add two tablespoonfuls of butter, one teaspoonful of salt, a little pepper, two tablespoonsful of cream or milk. Mix the ingredient; stir on the fire till the mixture bubbles; turn into a butter dish, cover with crumbs, dot with butter and brown in the oven.

Onions Stuffed with Kidneys.—Peel six large onions, cut about an inch from the top of each, scoop out the centre so as to admit a piece of kidney about an inch square, lay the onions in a saucepan, season them with salt and pepper, cover them with cold gravy or broth of any kind, and stew them gently for two hours; take them up carefully without breaking them and serve them hot. The pieces cut from them should be chopped fine, mixed with any bits of kidney remaining from the dish, mixed with double their quantity of cold chopped potatoes or bread soaked in cold water, and fried for a supper dish. Any kind of kidney can be used.

To Cure a Cold.—A warm bath for twenty minutes, and, if the sufferer is vigorous, for thirty minutes is a good remedy. Fill the bath tub so full that the body may be completely immersed to the neck and lie there quietly until the normal temperature and circulation of the blood have been established. The water should be warm enough to give an agreeable feeling of heat. Where the conveniencies of a Turkish bath or a full warm bath cannot be had, a sweat taken under a blanket over an alcoholic lamp, or even hot water in which hot bricks are thrown to create steam, is a very good remedy. The patient may be placed in an open-bottomed chair through which the steam readily passes, and wrapped in a blanket or blankets, and receive the affects of the heat and steam as they pass the body. After the sweating has been continued vigorously for a little while, remove the blankets and throw over the body a large sheet that has been dipped in tepid water, and take a wet sheet bath a most excellent and simple bath by the way, after which either go to bed or sit quietly by the fire. Persons who are very weak must manage baths with a great deal of care. It is a good precaution to keep warm and quiet in your room while a cold continues. One reason why it takes so long to break them up, is caused by the necessity for being exposed so much. Only persons with strong constitutions are able to do this. Another simple and effectual way of breaking up a cold is to go without the supper—Take a hot foot-bath and drink pretty freely of cold water for an hour before bedtime. Let the morning and evening meal be light also. It is wonderful how a cold will yield to this treatment if it is carried out thoroughly. The old adage, "stuff a cold and starve a fever," ought to be reversed.—Dr. Holbrook.

"Women Never Think."—If the crabbed old bachelor who uttered this sentiment could but witness the intense thought, deep study and thorough investigation of women in determining the best medicines to keep their families well, and would note their sagacity and wisdom in selecting Hop Bitters as the best, and demonstrating it by keeping their families in perpetual health, and at a mere nominal expense, he would be first to acknowledge that such sentiments are baseless and false.—Picayune.

Is it a Humbug? Some people think all proprietary medicines humbugs. In this they must be mistaken. A cough medicine like N. H. Downs' Elixir that has stood the racket of 52 years must have some virtue, and must cure the diseases for which it is recommended, or people would not continue to buy and use it as they do. It seems to us that even if we knew nothing of its merits, the fact of its large and continually increasing sale justifies us in recommending Down's Elixir to all who may need a reliable cough medicine.

To Consumptives.—"Golden Medical Discovery" is a concentrated, potent, alterative, or blood-cleansing remedy, that wins golden opinions from all who use it for any humour, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the formidable scrofulous swelling, or ulcer. Internal fever, soreness and ulceration, yields to its benign influences. Consumption, which is but a scrofulous affection of the lungs, may, in its early stages, be cured by a free use of this God-given remedy. See article on consumption and its treatment in Part III of the World's Dispensary Dime Series of pamphlets, cost two stamps, post-paid. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

That Carnival.

The Port Hope News in its report of the carnival says :—

"The awarding of the prizes was not the least interesting part of the programme. In that part of it Peterborough carried off the palm. The prizes for skating was well contested for, and while the judges awarded the medal to Mr. Hartley, of Peterborough, who is a professional skater, because he could cut more fancy figures than the other competitors, they seemed to overlook the fact that gracefulness is as great a requirement as twisting one's legs into all kinds of shapes. Had they given that point proper consideration, they would certainly have awarded the medal to Mr. E. Gaudrie, who had such perfect control of his arms and fingers, that he did not wiggle and spread them out as a propelling power to his feet.'

As we told the editor of the News, Mr. E. J. Hartley is not a professional skater, and although he can skate better than the majority of the professional skaters, that the editor of the News has seen, still we are not at all abashed. The News talks about skating as if it knew something about it, but at the same time the editor, whom we suppose wrote the article, betrays his too too utter ignorance, when he speaks of Mr. Hartley as an ungraceful skater. We have the reference of Mr. W. A. Williams, of New York, the champion skater of the world, who says that Mr. Hartley is the most graceful skater that he ever saw, professional or amateur, and if the News man is not satisfied he can call at our office and see the original document. Peterborough is fond of fun, but it most decidedly objects to have slurs, such as the Times and News have thrown at it, without rebelling. If the Times or News want any proof of Mr. Hartley being an amateur, call on us. The News talks about young Gaudrie skating; he is about a fifth class man, nothing more, and if the News wants to know why we speak thus, we may state that the judges at the carnival, as one of them expressed it, said "Gaudrie skates very well, but he can't hold a candle to the man from Peterborough." They were right, and if Port Hope ever has another carnival we won't go down and carry off the principal prizes. We may say that it is a failing of ours to carry off the first prizes wherever we go, but we cannot help it, it is not our fault. The News will please say that Mr. Hartley is an amateur skater.

Help the Widow.

On Sunday at St. John's Church the Rev. Mr. Beck announced that in compliance with a circular from the bishop, there would be a special collection next Sunday for the widow of the late Rev. John Burkitt, of Kinmount. He said that the decessed gentleman, who was a man of great age, had worked zealously, having done duty up to the Sunday before his death, and the district being a poor one he had been able to make no provision for his widow, so that the contributions for her assistance should be liberal. Owing to the advanced age of Mr. Burkitt at his ordination, she was not placed on the Widows' and Orphans' Fund. We understand that there will be an offertory for the same purpose at St. Luke's Church, Ashburnham, on the following Sunday, March 5th.

"The" Market.

Conducter Stanton of the Grand Junction, a fine man by the way, informs us that he sold no less than 72 market-tickets between Belleville and Peterborough on Saturday last, and all of the ticket-holders were bound for our town. To-day was not as good, as he only sold 35, a number far below the average. Those from Port Hope and Lindsay also swell the number largely. They will visit the "hub."

Recently in Toronto.

Over 1,000 physicians and sufferers visited Dr. M. Souvielle, of Montreal, and ex-Aide Surgeon of the the French army, he will be at the Huffman House, Peterborough, on the 17th of March, for five days and will have with him a supply of Spirometers for the cure of Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma and Lung diseases. Physicians and sufferers can try it free.

Down with Them.

The Lindsay Post says :—

"A decided step has been taken to put down rough and unseemly conduct at public entertainments. Several boys were brought before the police magistrate at Peterborough for disturbing an audience by their antics. The magistrate fined them all and declared he was going to put the thing down if strong means would do so."

"We Should Skate."

On Friday afternoon a representative of the REVIEW, went down to Hastings, with Mr. E. J. Hartley with the intention of seeing a masquerade carnival. We arrived on time and put up at the Coughlin House, one of the best hotels that we have ever stopped at, outside of the large cities. The carnival was in every respect a grand success. Those in costume rather outnumbered those who were present at our last carnival. The costumes were as a general thing first-class, and the nigger and cheap costume man was conspicuous by his absence. Some of the characters were very good, indeed, and would reflect credit on a place of greater pretensions than Hastings. Mr. E. J. Hartley gave an exhibition, and of course, carried off a handsome silver medal, which was presentd to him by Captain Howard of the Star. Among those who were present from our region we noticed Miss M. White, Mr. E. J. Hartley, Mr. Geo. Shaw, Mr. J. G. Macdonald, REVIEW, Mr. McCrae, Mr. J. Moffat, and several others.

Home Again.

Messrs. W. H. Chamberlain and H. Denne returned home from Winnipeg on Friday night. Judging by their smiling faces, and what we learned, they are perfectly satisfied with their investments in Manitoba mud. Mr. F. H. Scobell, formerly of Peterborough, also accompanied them.

A Wrong Righted.

The Mail says that the judgment of the Privy Council in England in favor of the Windsor and Annapolis Co. against the Western Counties Co. will be bad news for Mr. Mackenzie. He first gave a lease for twenty years to the W. and A. Company. Then he transferred the leased road by Act of Parliament to the Western Counties Railway Company, who took forcible possession at night. The dispossessed company have pursued their rights successfully and at a great cost. Just how the financial question will be settled we do not know; and Mr. Mackenzie's anxiety must be considerable, as it was by his act that the wrong was done for political reasons.

"GAIL HAMILTON" is described in the editorial correspondeuce of the Argonaut as "prodding" Oacar Wilde when he was presented to her, with the direct inquiry. "How long is this joke to last?" Its directness staggered Mr. Wilde, and, after a stare of blank amazement, he replied, with an interrogatory in every letter : "J-o-k-e ?—It is my life."

TO PREVENT FROSTING OF WINDOWS.—To prevent store show windows from sweating when the gas is lit in the evening, supply to the glass evenly, a slight film of pure glycerine, and you will not be troubled by the "sweating" complained of. Glycerine used in this way will also prevent the formation of frost on the glass in cold weather.

HINTS ON FROSTING CAKE.—When very thick frosting is to cover the top of a large cake, dissolve a heaping tablespoonful of gelatine in hot water (use just as little water as possible), while hot rub it over the top of the cake, then put on the frosting. If this precaution is not taken the sugar, when hard, is almost certain to crumble off, and the cake might as well not be frosted at all.

TO PERSONS employed in constant mental toil, study or anxiety, Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites is especially adapted, namly to teachers, Clergymen, Editors, Lawyers, and impecunious business men.

WORTHY OF PRAISE.—As a rule we do not recommend Patent Medicines, but when we know of one that is really a public benefactor and does positively cure, then we consider it our duty to impart that information to all. Electric Bitters are truly a most valuable medicine, and will surely cure billiousness, Fever and ague, Stomach, Liver and kidney complaints, even where all other remedies fail. We know whereof we speak, and can freely recommend them to all.—Exch.—Sold at fifty cents a bottle, by Taylor & Macdonald.—6.

FOR SEVERE COUGHS AND HOARSENESS.—Philadelphia, Jan. 1. 1876. Messrs. Seth W. Fowle & Sons; Gentlemen—Miss S. Burns, of Seventh and Coates street, has long been a sufferer from a severe cough and hoarseness, which I considered chronic. She was treated by some of our most eminent physicians, but they were only able to afford her temporary relief. I prescribed Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, the use of four bottles of which entirely cured her, as it is now four months since she took the last of it, during which time she has had no return of the complaint. For the good of suffering humanity, Miss Burns has requested me to lay the case before the public. Yours truly, T. D. McGrath, M. D., Druggist and Chemist, S. E. cor. Seventh and Wharton Streets. 50 cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by all druggists.

SCORING A "CENTRE"!

If gentlemen ever intend to order Spring Clothing, now will be the most appropriate season.

We concede that warm Winter Clothing is needful and an element of comfort, but a person can have too much of a good thing.

And even though a man might prefer to have his ulster all summer, it is part of economy to throw it aside and don a new spring suit.

Most young men make up their minds where to buy some time in advance of ordering. This is precisely the point we wish to influence.

One of the best ways for a young man to increase his income is to curtail his expenses. This can be done, and a stylish appearance gained besides, by dealing with us for clothing.

We are now in receipt of our stock of Scotch and English Tweeds. Our Canadian Tweeds have been in stock three weeks already. The lines in these goods cannot be equalled in Peterborough, as we have the exclusive sale of many of the patterns. The qualities of all are ne plus ultra.

Our FIT is easy, but neat. Our CUT is perfect and true. Our STYLE cannot be excelled. Our TRIMMINGS the best. Our WORKMANSHIP guaranteed.

Kendall's Spavin Cure

ON HUMAN FLESH.

Thousands of trials on Human Flesh has proved beyond a doubt that "Kendall's Spavin Cure" has sufficient strength to penetrate and virtue to cure the worst cases of rheumatism, corns bunyons, frostbites or any bruise, cut or lameness which are not affected in the least by ordinary liniments. It does not blister, but on the contrary, removes all soreness.

DUNHAM, P. Q., March 10th, 1879.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—About a year ago I fell in the road on to some ice and was badly hurt in the hip joint, which caused me much suffering. I tried various remedies, but none gave relief until I tried Kendall's Spavin Cure, I applied it full strength twice a day for two weeks during last October, and it effected a perfect cure I have since then been well and free from lameness. It is very valuable for man as well as for beast.

Yours truly,
CHESTER K. GREEN.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

MASON COURT-MARTIAL.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—At the Mason court-martial to-day Lieutenant Howell testified that Mason told a reporter two days after the shooting that he had determined to fire upon the assassin a week or two before the commission of the act. Mason also said that he had loaded the gun before going to the gaol. The prisoner's counsel objected to the admission of this testimony and the objection to be entered on the record.

To Make Home Happy.

To make home truly happy there should be no concealments; for they are the canker-worms. Let a woman tell her troubles and follies freely to her husband, and he will assist her out of them. He is her other self, not her judge and master. If a man confide in his wife, her penetration and quick wit will often see things that escaped him. We are in the world all day; our minds are occupied by many details; but she sits at home often alone, or with but an infant companion. She thinks over what her husband has told her, and sees it in many lights; she has had the time which he wanted. The discovery that there has been a secret excites jealousy, and loosens the ties of affection on either side. Without perfect and entire confidence, married happiness is seldom lasting.

SOME dairymen estimate that butter-milk is worth one-quarter to one-half more, and others twice as much as skim milk.

Mothers! Mothers!

Are you disturbed at night or broke of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and gives rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians, and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle. d52w9

AROUND THEY GO.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—At the walking match Hart spends a good deal of his time in his cabin although there are no indications of physical inability to walk. Vint, on account of rheumatism in his hip, was obliged to withdraw with a score of 19 miles, at 10 a.m. Rowell has resumed his well known tactics, and has commenced a dog jog. The scores at noon were:—Rowell, 90; Hazel, 81; Hart, 76. Rowell is three miles ahead of the best record. There is very little betting, as the majority of bookmakers refuse to bet on Rowell.

OPENING THE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Prior to 10 o'clock admission to the Capitol was refused to all save the members of the two Houses and employees. At that hour the doors were opened to persons holding tickets. Before half an hour the galleries were filled to their utmost capacity. A large majority of the spectators were ladies, the prevailing color of whose costumes was black. There were no signs of mourning in the hall except a full length portrait of the late President, which hung on the back of a chair. The presiding officer was undraped. The painting is the work of a Washington artist. The pose of the figures is that frequently taken by Garfield when delivering a speech. The three front rows of desks in the chamber have been removed and their places occupied by a large number of chairs to accommodate the invited guests of the members. The members were early in attendance and nearly all dressed in black, but a few appearing in full evening dress. At the back of the speaker's desk the Marine Band wailed away the quiet of the passing hours by a burst of solemn music.

"I DON'T WANT THAT STUFF," is what a lady of Boston said to her husband when he brought home some medicine to cure her of sick headache and neuralgia which had made her miserable for fourteen years. At the first attack thereafter, it was administered to her with such good results, that she continued to use it until cured, and was made so enthusiastic in its praise, that she induced twenty-two of the best families in her circle to adopt it as their regular family medicine. That "stuff" is Hop Bitters."—Standard.

Daily Evening Review

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1882.

THE N. P. AGAIN.

We make two extracts from the Lindsay Post which vies with our local Reform organ in the persistance with which it attacks the N. P., even when it has to sacrifice truth and reason in so doing. The first paragraph reads as follows:—

"Mr. James Hamilton shipped this week for Manitoba fifteen waggons, fifteen buck-boards and a number of buggies. This is only the thin edge of the wedge of trade which Mr. Hamilton proposes to drive into that province."

A second paragraph in the same column says:—

"Mr. James Hamilton is getting out the material for the extention of his premises and new workshops. The joisting, etc., will be delivered in a few days and the brick and stone as soon as arrangements are made to take them off the contractor's hands. It is safe to say that the building boom will open up lively here this spring, and there should be no lack of employment for labouring men."

We rejoice to learn that an enterprising man like Mr. Hamilton is prospering in his business, and is extending it, not only because we are glad to find that he is reaping the reward of his industry, skill and enterprise, but even more because it is another satisfactory evidence of the general prosperity of the country and of the success of our present tariff in fostering our industries. Will the Post inform us to what circumstance it ascribes the fact that the Manitoba market is available for Mr. Hamilton, of Lindsay, if it is not to the N. P., without which Manitoba and North-west would produce its buggies, agricultural impliments etc., from manufacturers of the United States, instead of purchasing them from Canadians?

Several gentlemen who have returned recently from Manitoba, and some good reformers among them, have told us how much they were impressed by seeing that Canadian goods, in many lines, were almost exclusively in use there, and speak strongly of the great benefit that must thereby result to Canadian manufacturers.

OBSTRUCTIONS TO RIVER NAVIGATION.

We clip the following from the American Engineer, which may be of use to us as our river is almost being spanned by bridges:—

We notice still farther the presence in Washington of steamboatmen and others interested in the navigation of our rivers to urge upon Congress legislation requiring the placing of sheer booms above and leading to all draw openings in order to guide therein boats and rafts. Such works are comparatively inexpensive and all the bridge laws expressly reserve the right to require bridge and railway companies to construct works or amend structures in the interests of navigation without expense to the Government. Yet, notwithstanding that river interests have combined year after year in memorial for this needed relief, that they have even placed it before river improvement proper as of greatest immediate importance, that it is recognized that the development of barge or fleet navigation is well nigh hopeless without modification in existing structures, Congress, so far from requiring these needed changes to be made even authorizes the multiplication of structures of the types complained of. Why this is so might be a curious commentary of our legislation. Even before river conventions, navigators have not been able to get their views taken up and urged upon Congress along with other measures. The remark of a gentleman, of some influence at the St. Joseph Convention, is suggestive,—that while he recognized the necessity of such relief, to introduce such a measure would be unwise in exciting a spirit of opposition liable to defeat the objects of the convention. Politicians are proverbially careful even to the sacrifice of public interests. The fact is undeniable, however, that many existing structures are a serious menace to navigation as the series of accidents to craft this year alone has forcibly demonstrated. The losses to craft from bridges to date would pay for the changes which would be required to prevent accidents, to say nothing of increased insurance—a large item in itself.

REVIEWS.

HARPER'S MONTHLY MAGAZINE.—The March number of Harper has for a frontispiece an engraving entitled "Fallen Short," which there is no letter press to explain, but none is needed, for it tells its own story. "Old New York Coffee" houses is an entertaining sketch of bygone scenes and manners. Papers on "A Canadian Pilgrimage," and "Journeyings and Country Life in Mexico," take one in the spirit to the countries depicted. "Washington's Acceptance of the first Presidency" is an interesting contribution to history. The life of "An American King," has a special interest now that the Mormon question is so prominent. It is not the fault of the author that a sketch of Mr. Bert, "The New French Minister of Public Instruction" is less timely, for with true French fickleness the "new minister" has already been turned out of office." Other papers on "The Song of Roland," "A small telescope and what to see with it," "Last words from George Elliott," "The Mendelssohn Family," "A Cock-Horse" and the "Pawn Shop," show the wide range of subjects treated in this number. The serial novel "Anne" increases in interest as it draws near its conclusion, and "Prudence" is as entertaining as the first instalment. There are several other short tales and poems, and the ever-welcome editorial miscellanies.

LINDSAY.

CONSUMERS' GAS CO.—The Warder says that upon enquiry we learn that the stock has been all subscribed; in fact, there is now subscribed more than was required by some one or two thousand dollars. Mr. Pearson, of Toronto, has shown much intrest in the company's success, and to him is due the fact of Toronto men subscribing so promptly. Messrs. Taylor and Barron last week met Mr. Stephens in Toronto the patentee of the lave water process, and made a provisional purchase of his patent for the town of Lindsay. At the meeting to be held on the 13th March, arrangements will be made for the immediate commencement of the works.

CHILDREN AT SCHOOL.

BY FAITH ROCHESTER.

Children should be sent to school in good physical condition. If they are sick they should not go at all. They must have full hours of healthy sleep, "early to bed" habitually, and not very "early to rise," if they seem to need more sleep. I feel as though I am committing a sin when I awake a child in the morning from sound slumber, even when I have been begged by the child to do so. It seems necessary to do this sometimes, in order to break a child of night wakefulness and late morning sleep. But sleep is literally "tired nature's sweet restorer." Brain repair and healthy physical growth take place best during the hours of sleep. The brain uses up by its work certain portions of the nutriment which comes from our daily food, and these must be supplied in our food from day to day, or the brain will work feebly or break down easily. I believe that many dull scholars are made so by poor food, much more poor food being misnamed "rich."

I feel condemned when my children have to hurry to school, worried by a fear of being late. The home arrangements ought to be such that the children can easily be ready in season, and walk calmly to school, with no anxiety about tardiness. The teachers do well to try to promote punctuality, both for the good order of the school, and for each child's education in a good habit. But when children get such a dread of being late that they much prefer to be absent, the matter is overdone. More than once when my little daughter found herself starting so late that she wished to run most of the way to school (more than a mile) I have told her not to do so, that the tardy mark on the monthly report, and the staying a little while after school hours were not half so bad as a headache for the day, and the necessity for studying while overheated and tired. This is a part of her physical education and a very important one.

If some children need urging to their studies others need holding back quite as much. This little girl finding herself 100 in most of her studies at the early Spring examination, announced her intention of being 100 in all at the close of the year. Not long after she asked me seriously, "Which would you rather have me do?—study at noon-time and so be 100 in all studies, or go out and play and not be above 95?" Of course I did not hesitate in my reply. I said: "Play by all means, even though you barely pass (the lowest average for passing from one grade to another being fixed at 75) and if you study at noon recess instead of playing I should want to punish you, as nature surely would, by making both mind and body suffer from mental overwork." So the little girl and her companions played ball and "run sheep run," and examination found her fresh and calm, and apparently not at all worried until she was amore than half through the exercises, which occupied the forenoons of one week. Then she received a letter from a very dear friend who had just passed her examination in another place. The writer said, (not at all in a boastful spirit) "I was 100 in every study, which is no uncommon thing for me." Then our little girl was roused to emulation, as I could plainly see, and she was full of anxiety about the remaining examination wishing to study both early and late, which I discouraged. When she came home and announced her high average, she thought I was not properly glad. I told her I had been glad all of the time to see her finely and in excellent health and spirits; but within a few days I had begun to fear that she might gain a triumph at too great a cost. Her high average did not please me so much as the sincere regret she seemed to feel that she was marked higher in reading than a little friend who realy is a better reader than she is—for this, too is an important part in her education. I tell all this by way of illustration; I might also tell of the effort I have to make to induce another child to pay decent attention to study, so full of play is the child's mind. I am not at all sure that the latter mentioned will not some day outstrip all the others, even in mental achievement, but it does not now seem probable. Every one knows that precocious children seldom do the best in later life, and I never envy the parents of unusually "forward scholars."

A friend writes me that the principal of their high school wishes to have her daughter, aged 14, graduate from the high school next year, doing the work of two years in one in order to accomplish this. The mother will not allow it, for she has some time ago put a stop to all study out of school, having seen some signs of failure in the health of her child. She wishes her girl to take the school easily and, she says besides, very truly I think, "M—— is too young to take the later studies of the high school course to the best advantage." This is something I have thought of. I see little giris of 10 and 12 years working over examples in arithmetic that can have little practical meaning for them, or committing to memory scientific facts to which a child can have not a particle of interest. The teachers of some of our best seminaries and colleges protest against the youth of many of the pupils sent to them, and often advise a year's absence before graduating, for the sake of greater maturity of mind, in those who take the higher branches. But ambitious teachers push the brighter ones forward through the lower grades as fast as possible, and parents seldom see the danger and folly of this unhealthy zeal. Children should learn as early as possible, that only a small part of their education can be carried on in the school-room, and that if this interferes with health or moral qualities, it is mis-education. More watchfulness on the part of parents about night study and wholesome food would make a change in the statistics concerning the growing evil of myopia, or near-sightedness among school children.—American Agriculturist.

Dr. J. F. SPECK, who is connected with the Wilmington Every Evening, speaks rather enthusiastically of St. Jacobs Oil. Dr. Speck states that he uses the Oil in his family as a household remedy, a sort of universal panacea for all aches and pains, and has always found it to act most happily. His attention was called to it by the many testimonials in its favor, and he one day used it upon himself for sore throat. Two applications were sufficient to effect a cure. He also used it on his little girl for sore throat with gratifying success. The same child had scarlet fever this winter, which left the tendons of one leg much contracted. The little prattler couldn't walk without assistance, and suffered much inconvenience and pain. Several applications of St. Jacobs Oil restored her limb to its normal condition and she has not experienced any trouble since. Dr. Speck states that he has also seen the Oil act charmingly in toothache. He thinks St. Jacobs Oil is a sterling remedy, and does not hesitate to recommend it for rheumatism, etc.

DRUGGISTS throughout the country testify to the great merits of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. No medicine they sell acts so promptly in curing Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, &c. Have you tried it? J. D. Tully, agent for Peterboro'.

A GOOD FILTER.—To have pure water in the house every family should have a filter, the health and comfort depends largely upon the use of properly filtered water. The liver is the true filter for the blood, and Burdock Blood Bitters keeps the liver and all the secretory organs in a healthy condition. It is the grand blood purifying, liver regulating tonic.

A POSITIVE CURE FOR DYSPEPSIA.—From Abram Mead, of Littleton, Mass.—"I have for several years suffered severely with Dyspepsia, accompanied by weakness and nervous irritability, which made life a burden to me. Nothing but the simplest nutriment could remain in the stomach without pain, sourness and windy evacuations, uncomfortable feelings in the head, bad taste in the mouth, catarrhal symptoms, inactivity of the liver and bowels, piles, general debility and a nervous state of extreme susceptibibility, made up a diseased condition rebellious to ordinary medical treatment. By advice of an eminent physician of Boston, I commenced taking Peruvian Syrup; at once I began to experience benefit. After taking three bottles all these bad feelings have left, my health is restored, and I enjoy life as well as ever. Most cheerfully do I recommend Peruvian Syrup." Sold by dealers generally.

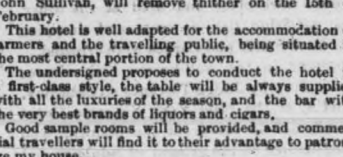
CROWN JEWEL FLOUR!

This Flour is made of No. 1 Hard Wheat by the new process, combined with the best methods and machinery in operation in the best Hungarian Mills, and will produce from 30 to 40 pounds more Bread per Barrel than the best superior wheat flour. Therefore, the first cost though higher, is fully compensated in the increased yield of Bread as well as being a much better quality and more nutritious, having a much larger percentage of gluten and less starch than ordinary wheat flour. To those who may not be familiar with the use of this kind of Flour, we suggest mixing it moderately soft, which will require considerably more water than is ordinarily used.



Knead thoroughly, and bake with a strong heat and in such a manner that bottom and top shall be equally well baked.

ENTERTAINING HER BIG SISTER'S BEAU.

BY BRETS HARTS.

"My sister'll be down in a minute, and says you're to wait, if you please;
And says I might stay till she came, if I'd promise never to tease,
Nor speak till you spoke to me first. But that's nonsense, for how would I know What she told me to say if I didn't! Don't you really and truly think so?

"And then you'd feel strange here alone? And you wouldn't know just where to sit;
For that chair isn't strong on its legs, and 'we' never use it a bit.
We keep it to match with the sofa. But Jack says it would be just like you
To flop yourself right down upon it, and knock out the very last screw.

"'Spose you try? I won't tell. You're afraid to! O!
you're afraid they would think it was mean!
Well, then, there's the album—that's pretty, if you're fingers are clean;
For sister says sometimes I daub it; but she only says that when she's cross.
There's her picture. You know it? It's like her; but she ain't as good looking of course!

"This is me. It's the best of 'em all. Now, tell me, you'd never have thought
That once I was little as that? It's the only one that could be bought—
For that was the message to pa from the photograph man where I sat—
That he wouldn't print off any more till he first got his money for that.

"What? Maybe you're tired of waiting. Why, often she's longer than this.
There's all her back hair to do up, and all her front curls to friz.
But it's nice to be sitting here talking like grown people just you and me.
Do you think you'll be coming here often? Oh, do!
But don't come like Tom Lee.

"Tom Lee? Her last beau! Why my goodness! He used to be here day and night.
Till the folks thought he'd soon be her husband; and Jack says that gave him a fright.
You won't run away then as he did? for you're not a rich man, they say;
Pa says you're as poor as a church mouse. Now, are you? And how poor are they?

"Ain't you glad that you met me? Well, I am; for I know that your hair isn't red.
But what there is left of it's mousey and not what that naughty Jack said.
But there! I must go. Sister's cominig. But I wish
I could stay just to see
If she ran up to you and kissed you, in the way that she used to kiss Lee."

OMEMEE.

A COFFEE HOUSE.—The Herald says that we understand that a number of our villagers are about establishing one of the above houses in Omemee, with the addition of a reading room and select library for the entertainment of citizens and more especially the farmers of Emily, who very often have to remain in the village for one or more hours during the day. We have no doubt but that it will prove very beneficial in several ways, and can be kept going at a very small outlay. We see by the city papers that such places have proved a great boon to all who patronize them. We would suggest that a Mechanics' Institute be organized and thereby secure the Governmets Grant, for such purposes, which we believe in for every one hundred dollars raised or collected by the organizers, the Government will give two hundred more.

RACES.—In all probability the races advertised for the 14th 15th inst, but postponed on account of bad ice, will be held during the coming week. Dodgers will be issued giving the exact days.

ENNISMORE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

TEMPERANCE.—The friends of temperance and good order will be pleased to learn that on Wednesday the 22nd inst. the by-law, virtually putting an end to intoxicating liquors being sold in the township of Ehnismore, was carried by a sweeping vote of 79 to 15. Great praise is due to all those who assisted in carrying the by-law, but more especially to the Rev. Father Keilty, who has been unceasing in his endeavors to promote the carrying of the by-law. We heartily congratulate him on the success which has crowned his exertions with victory. May it be long before the electors again reverse their present decision.

ACCIDENT.—A man by the name of Anglo on Saturday evening went across Pigeon Lake to Bobcaygeon for medicine for his wife, who was sick, and on returning broke through the ice and was drowned. The body was got out on Sunday and passed through here on Monday morning in charge of his father to be interred at Cobourg, his native place.

ANOTHER ONE.—On Monday while James Cahill, of this township, was returning from Bobcaygeon he fell off the sleigh and broke his leg.

TOOK HIS SEAT.—Robert Calvert has now taken the oaths as required by law, and his seat at the Council board in place of Jeremiah McCarthy, unseated.

FARM AND GARDEN.

FOOD FOR POULTRY.—A mash composed of two-thirds wheat bran and one-third cornmeal for solids, with hot skim milk for liquid, and fed in the morning when about blood heat, makes a good breakfast for poultry, especially for laying hens. Oats and buckwheat for midday feed, and corn and oats for supper are excellent for poultry. Clean, fresh water is a very essential article. The above feed is recommended for poultry when the ground is frozen and covered with snow.

CARROTS FOR HORSES.—The average farmer is slow to learn the value of carrots for horses, and still slower to provide them for his horses. They are so nutritious that livery men and some others feed considerable quantities regularly to their horses instead of grain. Many consider that four quarts of oats and the same of carrots are as good a feed for a horse as eight quarts of oats, and horses that are worked little more than for mere exercise will keep in good condition and look sleek and smooth on hay and carrots alone. An occasional feed of raw potatoes is also good for the horse, especially to give a smooth glossy coat, and if troubled with worms it tends to clear them away.

CARROTS FOR STOCK.—In Europe the carrot is grown to a great extent for feeding to cattle in the winter months. Roots of some kind are fed the winter through to the cows. An Iowa raiser of Jersey cows says he is accustomed to feed carrots, of which he usually raises 600 bushels per acre. Carrots increase the flow of milk and improve the appearance and quality of the butter. Beets are preferable to carrots for increasing the flow of milk; the milk, however, which is produced from beets is not as good for butter. The breeder mentioned above has found it difficult to raise his calves on clear Jersey milk, and advises the feeding of that which has been skimmed.

DESTROYING SPROUTS.—Sprouts of orchard trees which spring from the roots are caused by injuries to the roots by ploughing among them. Wherever a root is broken a sprout is likely to appear. Some trees are noted for their habit of sprouting from the roots, such as silver maples, soft maples, locust, etc. Sprouts which spring from the base of the stem come from buds, and to remove these so that they will not grow again they should be cut close to the wood with a sharp chisel, removing even the bark, so as to be sure no bud is left to produce another sprout. Sprouts from the roots should be cut close to the root, and if they are cut as they appear during one season they will disappear.

TO MAKE good butter in winter it is essential that the cream should not stand too long before being churned. The temperature of the cream, when placed in the churn should not be lower the 60°, nor higher than 62°. Sixty degrees, when the churn is warmed by hot water in the winter, or cooled in summer, is the proper temperature and the result will be satisfactory.

DRYING SWEATY HORSES.—It is better when the horse comes in warm and sweaty, to rub him dry before feeding or watering. Horses are much like human beings; they take cold by exposure as well as a man will. They should be carefully treated and never be allowed to stand long in cold weather in a sweaty condition without being blanketed. Many horses are ruined by exposure and drinking cold water when warm and sweaty.

CHICAGO'S GAMBLERS say that nowhere in the United States is there so large a game of faro as for months has been running at No. 119 Clark street, in that city, where as much as $20,000 has been lost and won on a single deal of the cards, which takes about ten minutes. There are about 1000 men in the heart of Chicago who are professional gamblers, and 1000 more who thrive by the industry as chevaliers thereof. The grand jury is trying to break up the hells, but the Chicago Tribune asserts that they are "well fixed and under the protection of Mayor Harrison." One house has cleared $40,000 within the last two months.

WORTHY OF PRAISE.—As a rule we do not recommend Patent Medicines, but when we know of one that is really a public benefactor and does positively cure, then we consider it our duty to impart that information to all. Electric Bitters are truly a most valuable medicine, and will surely cure billiousness, Fever and ague, Stomach, Liver and kidney complaints, even where all other remedies fail. We know whereof we speak, and can freely recommend them to all.—Exch.—Sold at fifty cents a bottle, by Taylor & Macdonald.—6.

"WOMEN NEVER THINK."—If the crabbed old bachelor who uttered this sentiment could but witness the intense thought, deep study and thorough investigation of women in determining the best medicines to keep their families well, and would note their sagacity and wisdom in selecting Hop Bitters as the best, and demonstrating it by keeping their families in perpetual health, and at a mere nominal expense, he would be first to acknowledge that such sentiments are baseless and false.—Picayune.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL.

The Ennismore Election.

The following is the full text of the judgment of Judge Dennistoun in the Ennismore contested election case, with the particulars of which our readers are already fully acquainted :—

IN THE HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE,
QUEENS BENCH DIVISION.

Regina ex-rel Costello v. McCarthy — On the 2nd January, 1882, the defendant was elected a Councillor for the Township of Ennismore.

On the 10th day of January the relator gave him notice that he objected to his right to occupy the position of a member of the Municipal Council of Ennismore, on the ground that he did not possess the qualification required by law, his property being assessed for $1,600, and there being mortgages upon the same to the amount of $2,000, and that unless he disclaimed or if he took the declaration required of persons declared members of the Council, that the relator would take proceedings to unseat him, notwithstanding this notice the Defendant took his seat as a Councillor on the 16th of January. The writ was issued on the 1st February, served on the 2nd, and on the 4th defendant's disclaimer was handed to the Judge. The question to be now decided is as to who ought to pay the costs.

The learned Counsel for the defendant cited the 192 S., of the Act as being sufficient to relieve him from the payment of costs. It seems to me that it is the 194 S. that applies to this case, and that the defendant ought to have disclaimed after getting the notice on the 10th January, and not taken his seat as a Councillor on the 16th, thus forcing the relator in order to prevent the defendant to wrongfully holding his seat to incur the expense of unseating him—I think the 198 S. applies as to the costs.

In Reg. ex-rel Rolls v. Beard 3 P.P., 3 and 5 Hagarty J., says "I cannot weaken the effect of this wholesome provision by disclaiming parties from bringing a case of disqualification under notice at the peril of having to lose the costs necessarily incurred. The defendant might have disclaimed and saved further expenses. He must be unseated with costs." There must be an order in this case that the defendant pay the costs.

Signed, { ROBERT DENNISTOUN, J.C.C. Peterborough.

Dated 24th February, 1882.

That Model Village.

This is how the Herald looks at it :—

"A MODEL VILLAGE.—This is what the Peterborough REVIEW says about our village :—Omemee is fast aspiring to the dignity of a town,—that is if we are to judge of the morals of the people by a report of the proceedings at the Police Court on Saturday last, as given in the Herald. There were no less than twelve cases disposed of, and three others settled without coming into court. The principal offences wese using abusive language, furious driving, using profane language and drunk and disorderly. They had more cases in one day than we have had in six weeks. Query,—If this is correct—why is it necessary to employ a Police Magistrate in Peterborough at a salary of several thousand a year?"

The facts as given by us are not denied, and writer of the item betrays great ignorance when he asks why it is necessary to employ a Police Magistrate. The law of the land says that we must do it, and being law abiding citizens, as the records prove, we act according to its dictates.

Railway Notes.

The Belleville Intelligencer says that our Tweed correspondent writes: The staff are still engaged in surveying the line west. They are now in the vicinity of Crookston. The chief engineer, Mr. Lumsden, has been here since Wednesday, and from what I can learn from him and Mr. Cumming, the road is a fact at this place. Things look favorable for our village being a point on the road. They expect shortly to meet the men from the west, when they will form one encampment.

Port Hope has sent a deputation to Toronto to request the Ontario Government to insert a clause in the Midland Railway Bill, providing that one member of the Board of Directors shall reside at Port Hope. We learn from good authority that the request will probably be granted.

The G.J.R. Mails.

The Stirling News-Argus after quoting an item from the REVIEW regarding the G. J. R. mail service says :—

"If arrangements are made to bring the Toronto and western mails via Peterborough, the scheme will be very complete ; otherwise not much will be gained for Stirling and this end of the road generally. It is now impossible to get mail matter from Toronto here in one day, consequently daily papers are one day old, etc. The same thing may be said of Montreal. If Toronto mails can come down on the afternoon trains it be will appreciated."

We are led to believe that it is the intention of the authorities to carry out the request made.

A Warning.

Two young men whose names we do not give in the hope that this affair will be a warning to them, were brought before Judge Dennistoun to-day, and tried for theft. It appears that the two prisoners, while under the influence of liquor entered the house of Mrs. J. McMartin, in Ashburnham, and carried off a variety of articles, useless to them, including a large carving knife, a broken brooch, two large and two small vases, four wine glasses, a bottle of scent and a pair of prunella boots. Mr. C. A. Weller appeared for the crown and Messrs. H. H. Smith and C. A. Weller for the prisoners. Mr. Wood pleaded guilty to the charges, and said that the prosecutrix did not want to proceed with the case as she was satisfied that the articles were taken without any felonious intent. Messrs. H. H. Smith, Mayor, H. Collins, Warden, W. Graham, J. Polson and R. Eastland were severally sworn and gave the two prisoners good characters. Mr. Weller stated that the prosecutrix wanted a light sentence imposed. The judge said that he was sorry to see too such respectable looking young men in the dock, especially after the witnesses had given them such an excellent character. The fact that they were under the influence of liquor did not palliate the crime in the least. He was rather pleased to see the press represented and hoped that the case would gain publicity, so that it might have a deterring effect on others who were disposed to wander from the proper path. He did not see the use of imposing only a nominal sentence as such would not have the effect that he desired. He delivered a good sound address to the prisoners and enjoined on all to refrain from indulging in liquor. He then sentenced the prisoners, one to 20 days and the other to 14 days imprisonment in the county gaol at hard labor.

That Elevator.

Says the Lindsay Warder :—

"It is said that the Midland Railway Company intent to erect a large elevator at Belleville. The Peterborough people are evidently astonished that any other place should receive anything from the Midland Company, for the REVIEW asks :—"What about the one we were to have here?" What would they build an elevator at Peterborough for?"

We might just remark that we have one now in course of construction and expect to see another started in a few weeks. People build elevators here just for fun. Is no grain shipped from Peterborough? Examine the Midland Railway returns and see. We are not at all jealous, we cannot help it, if the Midland Railway will establish everything here. The managers of that road know their business and can easily understand where the coming "hub" is to be. Ask us something easy.

Personal.

Mr. F. H. Dobbin, of the Lindsay Post, spent Sunday in town. He likes Lindsay, but quite naturally he prefers Peterborough.

Mr. D. Faucher, of Lindsay, formerly a resident of Peterborough, has been in town for several days.

Mr. Ered Winch, one of our solid men has just returned from "Mudtropolis." He now talks town lots and farming property as if he was a native of the Prairie Province.

Mr. Stewart, jr., of the Bobcaygeon Independent, is in town.

Mr. J. B. Trayes, of the Port Hope Times called on us this morning.

The Weather.

The weather during the last few days has been very fine. The snow has almost vanished, and w heeled vehicles alone are seen on the streets. The weather probabilities for this district for the following 24 hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a.m. to-day, by the Great North-Western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes,—Southerly to south-easterly winds. Cloudy, continued mild weather. Rain to-morrow.

Railway Time Table.

The following gives the time of arrival and departure of the Midland and Grand Junction trains at Peterborough station :—

MIDLAND RAILWAY TRAINS DEPART at 7 and 10.20 a.m., and 4.30 and 6.40 p.m.

ARRIVE at 8.35 and 11.50 a.m., and 6.15 and 9.55 p.m.

GRAND JUNCTION TRAINS DEPART at 7 a.m. and 3 p.m.

ARRIVE at 11 a.m. and 6.10 p.m.

Stamps on Notes, etc.

Although the Government have announced their intention of repealing the Stamp Act, it should be borne in mind that stamps will require to be affixed to notes, drafts, etc., until the Act imposing them has been repealed, which is not likely to be the case until the close of the present session.

The Great North-West.

Mr. Fred. H. Scobell, who has been here on a visit, left this morning for New York. He will return in a few days, and will offer for sale by auction a number of lots in the town of Nelsonville, Manitoba, on the well-known Morrow Estate. See advertisement next week.

Sacred Concert.

Negotiations are now pending between the Fire Brigade Band and some Belleville gentlemen, with a view to giving a sacred concert at the Bay City on Good Friday. Our band plays finely, and have on different occasions delighted our citizens with sacred music.

A CURE FOR HEADACHE.—What physician has ever discovered a cure for headache? Echo answers none. But Burdock Blood Bitters by their purifying, invigorating, nervine properties afford a cure in nearly every case. The health-giving principles of this remedy are unequalled by any similar preparation in the world.

CHILBLAINS.—These troublesome complaints may be speedily cured by Hagyard's Yellow Oil, the great Rheumatic remedy, which, as an external application and an internal remedy has a wider range of usefulness than any similar preparation in the world. All druggists sell it. Price 25c.

THE SECRET OF BEAUTY.—No Cosmetic in the world can impart beauty to a face that is disfigured by unsightly blotches arising from impure blood. Burdock Blood Bitters is the grand purifying medicine for all humors of the blood. It makes good blood and imparts the bloom of health to the most sallow complexion.

Calcutt's Brewery, Winnipeg.

Those who are acquainted, and who is not? with the enterprise that Mr. Henry Calcutt has always displayed here, will not be surprised to learn that his brewery at Silver Heights, near Winnipeg, is flourishing. We take the following account from a new work, entitled "Winnipeg and Her Industries" :—

"This brewery was built in 1871, and after a series of changes is now owned and operated by H. Calcutt, who manufactures large quantities of ale, porter, and lager beer. The capacity of this establishment is 400 barrels of ale per week and same of porter, and sufficient evidence of the superior quality of the productions lies in the fact he is unable to produce a sufficient quantity to supply the great demand for his make of ale and porter. In the manufacture of cider they drive a thriving trade, making about 60 barrels per week. The dimensions of these works are 60 by 100 feet in area, with three flats and commodious cellars and vaults, where the sparkling beverages are produced. The barley of the North-West is far famed for its richness, and the quality of ale and porter produced from the same is correspondingly excellent, and by manufacturing his own malt Mr. Calcutt enjoys superior advantages. In conducting this extensive establishment employment is given to fifteen hands, and the management is entrusted to Mr. M. Y. Calcutt, a young gentleman of ten years experience, who is a practical brewer. Mr. Calcutt is making many improvements and is at present constructing another brewery in St. Boniface, with the same capacity as his Silver Heights establishment, and will continue to increase his capacity with the growth of the country."

They Won't Move.

The Port Hope Guide of Saturday last says :—

"As will be seen by a telegram in another column, the President of the Midland Railway is preparing to remove his office to the Union Station, Toronto. No doubt the necessities of the case will require all the business offices of the Midland combination to be removed to that city."

As we have heard so much regarding the removal of the offices from Peterborough, particularly in Port Hope, we despatched a representative to interview the officers of the company, and ascertain if the rumor was founded on fact. We learned that passengers for Toronto by the Midland Railway are to be landed at the Union Station, that rooms for their accommodation are now being fitted up, that an office is being prepared for Mr. Cox and the other officers of the Company to transact their business in whenever they are in the "Queen City," and last, but not least, the management has no idea of moving the offices from Peterborough, but on the contrary workmen are busily engaged at the present time in fitting up the handsomest suite of offices occupied by the officials of any railway in Canada.

SCORING A "CENTRE"!

If gentlemen ever intend to order Spring Clothing, now will be the most appropriate season.

We concede that warm Winter Clothing is needful and an element of comfort, but a person can have too much of a good thing.

And even though a man might prefer to have his ulster all summer, it is part of economy to throw it aside and don a new spring suit.

Most young men make up their minds where to buy some time in advance of ordering. This is precisely the point we wish to influence.

One of the best ways for a young man to increase his income is to curtail his expenses. This can be done, and a stylish appearance gained besides, by dealing with us for clothing.

We are now in receipt of our stock of Scotch and English Tweeds. Our Canadian Tweeds have been in stock three weeks already. The lines in these goods cannot be equalled in Peterborough, as we have the exclusive sale of many of the patterns. The qualities of all are ne plus ultra.

Our FIT is easy, but neat. Our CUT is perfect and true. Our STYLE cannot be excelled. Our TRIMMINGS the best. Our WORKMANSHIP guaranteed.

Remember the stores, 1 and 2, Cluxton's Block, corner of George and Hunter Streets.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—AN EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic ; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.

Daily Evening Review

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 1, 1882.

Serious Accident.

On Tuesday morning about 10 o'clock, while Mr. James Baptie of the township of Smith was coming into town with a large load of hay, he met with a very severe accident. It appears that when about five miles from Peterborough, the load suddenly upset, owing to the bad condition of the road, and the driver was thrown to the ground, sustaining a very bad compound fracture of his left leg by the fall. Mr. Sanders of Lakefield happened to pass, and after attending to the injured man, conveyed word to Dr. Sproule, who reduced the fracture. We are pleased to learn that the patient is doing well, and we expect soon to see him about as usual.

A Good Beginning.

We are informed that three mechanics, at present residing in Port Hope, and two others, in Cobourg, have written here with the object of getting work in our carworks factory. All of the five, we understand, have families, and will represent an addition of at least thirty to our population, and when we consider that the works are only projected as yet, no one can say what the result will be when the works are in running order. The establishment of the industry will represent an addition of at least 750 people to our population. Let the works go on!

The First of March.

According to an old song "The Little Dormouse" to-day:—

"He says as he sits at the foot of a larch,
It's a beautiful day for the first day of March."

We are unable to state whether he will say that or not, not knowing exactly what he calls "a beautiful day." Another old saying is "if March comes in like a lion, it will go out like a lamb," and vice versa. Well, while the weather to-day is decidedly not "lion" like, it cannot at the same time be called lamb-like, but in the opinion of many the less ferocious animal has the preference.

Town Treasurer's Land Sale.

The annual sale of lands in arrears for taxes took place at the Council Chamber to-day. It was conducted by the Treasurer, and the following lots were sold to the persons named at the figures given:—

S. Dublin, W. G., Pt. 23, Mrs. Mary Ann Lynch, $15.41; S. Dublin, W. G., Pt. 24, Mrs. Mary Ann Lynch, $19.75; N. London, W. G., Pt. 17, C. W. Sawers, $15.23; B. L. 8, Pt. Pk. 12, L. 13, C. 13, 23 feet, C. W. Sawers, $20.05; Pt. V.L. 5, Pt. S. ½ 1, E.C.R., H. Denne, $8.26.

The Weather.

The weather last night turned soft, and a drizzling rain commened to fall at an early hour, and has continued ever since. The weather probabilities for this district for the following 24 hours, as reported from Toronto at 10 a. m. to-day, by the Great North-Western Telegraph Company, are as follows:—Lakes—Moderate to fresh westerly to southwesterly winds, clearing weather towards evening, continuing very mild.

Our Local Member.

On the second reading of Mr. Hardy's Bill to establish a Provincial Board of Health and to give increased powers to local Boards of Health the Globe reports our member as follows:—

"Dr. Kincaid thought the Provincial Secretary was to be congratulated on introducing a measure which met with so little adverse criticism. (Hear, hear.) He would support it even if it had more imperfection than it had, and trusted that the anticipated good would flow from it."

A Sneak Thief.

Several of the farmers residing in the vicinity of Frazerville have lately lost kegs of butter, cakes of lard, and numerous articles, that have been stolen from outhouses. A man who has been around bargaining, without ever buying, however, for wheat, oats, etc., is suspected. If he shows up in that vicinity again, it will probably be made rather warm for him.

Boston Opera Company.

We are happy to announce that the Boston Opera Company will give one entertainment here on Thursday March 16th.

ABUSIVE NIHILIST.

ST PETESBUSG, March 1.—In the trial of the Nihilists two men and two women were allowed to speak at the close in their own defence. They were so abusive and insulting, that the court cut them short. A woman and Terentioff abused the soldiers and Gen D' arms, uttering most disgusting oaths.

HOAR'S SPEECH.

NEW YORK, March 1.—The statements that Hoar repents of anything he said in the executive session and that he went to the President and attempted to explain away his speech are untrue. The Senators say that in somethings he was misrepresented by the published report, but all agree that his speech was a severely candid expression.

RISING RAPIDLY.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 1.—A heavy rain all over the south Arkansas, has aroused fresh apprehensions. MORE GUITEAU.

CHICAGO, March 1.—Mrs. Scoville has sent to the United States Senate a passionate protest against the confirmation of Conkling as Justice of the Supreme Court. She objects to giving Conkling a high office while the odium is heaped upon a victim of political craze—Guiteau—and she protests against his elevation to a position which may enable him to pass final judgment on the fate of her brother.

BEATING THE RECORD.

NEW YORK, March 1—1 p. m.—Rowell is 13 miles ahead of the previous record and Hazel 7. Rowell's score now is 307, Hazel 301, Hughes 290.

A LAND APPEAL CASE.

DUBLIN, Feb. 28.—The case of the appeal from the judgement of Commissioners O'Hagan, Little, and Vernon, affirming the decision of the assistant commissioners under the Land Act in reducing tenants' improved fixed lease rent from £36 10s. to £30, came up in the Court of Appeal to-day. The Speaker ruled the motion out of order. The resolution declaring Mr. Davitt's election void was carried by 208 to 20. The Attorney-General stated that the Government would not move for a new writ, but would allow time for Mr. Egan to claim the seat. Mr. Cowen gave notice that he would renew his motion for the pardrn of Davitt.

SLAVERY IN EGYPT.

CAIRO, Feb. 28.—It is stated that the Egyptian Ministry considers the maintenance of slavery a necessity for the Fgyptian people, and wishes to dismiss the employes recently appointed to stop the slave traffic. TORONTO.

Special to the Review, March. 1.

MRS. KERR, sister of the Hon. G. Blake, is still in a very low condition.

THE PITTSBURG, Pa., authorities were alarmed at a rumour started in that city to the effect that "shoe box" Miller had escaped from gaol here. There is no foundation for the story.

DURING THE PAST MONTH 185 immigrants arrived at the sheds here, 49 went to Manitoba, and the remainder are scattered throughout Ontario.

ABOUT 800 PEOPLE started for Manitoba at noon to-day, on the Credit Valley and Great Western excursion trains. The weeping and wailing of friends at the railway stations was something seldom witnessed in this city.

AT A MASS MEETING of the law and theological students of Toronto University resolutions of candolence with the families of the late Dr. Ryerson and Mr. Marling were unanimously passed.

THERE WERE 118 interments in the city cemeteries last month.

"I DON'T WANT THAT STUFF," is what a lady of Boston said to her husband when he brought home some medicine to cure her of sick headache and neuralgia which had made her miserable for fourteen years. At the first attack thereafter, it was administered to her with such good results, that she continued to use it until cured, and was made so enthusiastic in its praise, that she induced twenty-two of the best families in her circle to adopt it as their regular family medicine. That "stuff" is Hop Bitters."—Standard.

Daily Evening Review

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 1, 1882.

LET US HAVE THE WHOLE TRUTH, NOT A PART ONLY.

Of all the falsehoods which a man can utter that which contains a truth so stated as to convey a false impression is generally conceded to be the worst. Of this character, we believe we shall have little difficulty in showing was that of Mr. Paterson, M.P., for South Brant, when he undertook the other day in the House of Commons, to cite the fact that the exports of Canadian manufactures were less in 1881 than in 1878, while our imports had increased during the same period, as an evidence of the injury which the National Policy was doing even to our manufacturing interests.

Of course it will be impossible for us within the compass of an ordinary newspaper article, to follow Mr. Paterson through all the instances which he cited in support of his contention, but we fancy two or three examples will be sufficient to show how dishonest as well as misleading such a line of argument necessarily is.

For instance, let us take the article of wool and woollens: By reference to the trade and navigation returns for the years ending the 30th June, 1878 and 1881, we find that the value of our exports of woollen manufactures had decreased from $33,897 in 1878 to $21,681 in 1881, while our imports of woollen goods had increased from $9,649,231 to $10,340,901, or an increase of $691,670 during these three years—a bad showing for the N. P. says Mr. Paterson, but wait a little: Examining the returns in detail we find that of our imports in 1878 $8,543,021 was for manufactured goods, and $1,106,210 was for wool to be used in Canadian manufactories, and that in 1881 $8,742,024 was for manufactured goods, and $1,598,877 for wool for our factories. So that while the importations of wool in various stages of manufacture increased less than $200,000 during the period under consideration, the importations of raw wool increased nearly $500,000; and as values are not always a safe guide in such comparisons we had better add that the number of pounds of wool imported in 1881 was 8,040,287 lbs., against 6,230,084 lbs. in 1878, or an increase in three years of 1,810,203 lbs. Nor is this all, for on turning to the tables of exports for the same years we find that our exports of Canadian grown wool decreased from 2,445,893 lbs. in 1878 to 1,404,123 lbs. in 1881, or a decrease of 1,041,770 lbs. Consequently in some way or another, Canadian manufacturers disposed of in 1881,

Increased importations of wool..	1,810,203 lbs.
Decreased exportations of wool..	1,041,770 lbs.
Or a total of.....	2,851,973 lbs.

more than they did in 1878. Surely these figures prove beyond cavil that our woollen manufactories must have been both more numerous and busier in 1881 than in 1878, and leave Mr. Paterson's one sided statement in its true position of proving what it does prove, namely, that thus far the demands of an increasingly prosperous people has out run the increased home production.

But even these figures do not reveal the whole truth. When we examine the various kinds of goods which are classed as manufactured in the foregoing figures we find, that "worsted and yarns for manufacturing purposes" alone show an increase of $106,905; that "woollen netting for rubbers and gloves," shows an increase from $7,568 in 1878 to $20,317 in 1881; that "felt for boots, shoes and skirts in factories" an increase of $53,640; and "felt for glove linings, &c." for use in factories" an increase of $31,532, or a total increase in four lines of partially manufactured wool imported for further manufacture in Canada of $204,826, or more than the total increase of imports of manufactured wool between 1878 and 1881, and the importation of every pound of which gave increased employment to Canadian, instead of foreign labour.

But even this is not the whole story with regard to wool and woollens; among finished manufactured woollens we find that the importation of blankets decreased from $226,946 in 1878 to $181,134 in 1881; that the importation of flannels decreased from $327,076 in 1878 to $270,493; and that ready made clothing, &c., decreased from $909,821 in 1878 to $358,648 in 1881. These decreases, as no one will contend that the gross consumption of these articles has decreased, can mean nothing else than a proportionate increase of employment in their manufacture for our own people—the very thing that the N.P. was intended to accomplish.

So much for wool and woollens. A brief word now as to cotton and cottons: The imports of all kinds of cottons in 1878 was $8,066,065 and in 1881 $11,899,366, showing a gross increase of $3,833,301, while the exports during the same period decreased from $2,371 to $1,540, or a falling off, to adopt Mr. Treasurer Wood's illustration of percentages of about thirty-five per cent. But what does the most cursory examination of these returns reveal? They reveal that the imports of the single item of "cotton wool" increased from 7,243,413 lbs. in 1878 to 16,018,721 in 1881, or an increase of over 120 per cent. And yet Mr. Paterson, a man who perambulates the country for the purpose of enlightening the farmers and mechanics of Ontario as to the workings of the present tariff, would have us believe that those engaged in manufacturing cotton are being injured by it!

Take again, as a last example, for the present at least, the article of pig iron: In 1878 we exported of the produce of Canada $10,012 worth, and in 1881 only $179 worth. Oh what a falling off is there! Mr. Wood's percentages are unequal to the occasion. But after all it is the same old story, increased importations for increased consumption. In 1878 our manufacturers got along with 30,900 tons, and in 1881 "in spite of the N.P." of course, they used up not only what was previously exported, but also had to increase their imports to 43,630 tons, and yet the country is being ruined—in the estimation of the M.P. for South Brant.

FENELON FALLS.

A Good Appointment.—The Gazette says that Mr. Wm. Fielding, of this village, has been appointed Crown Lands Agent at Minden, in place of Mr. J. W. Fitzgerald, resigned. We hear that there were no less than sixteen applicants for the office, and, without knowing who more than five or six of them were, we venture the assertion that no one of them is better qualified to give satisfaction to the Govertment and to the public than Mr. Fielding is, as he possesses all the qualifications necessary to enable him to perform to perfection the duties that will devolve upon him. It will perhaps be satisfactory to the disappointed candidates to learn that no disparagement of their claims or merits is to be inferred from the appointment of Mr. Fielding, as he was long ago virtually promised the office in the event of its becoming vacant.

A Shower of Sawdust.—Last Sunday morning about daybreak a shower of what appeared to be sawdust, mixed with basswood bark ground up fine and the hulls of oats and other grain, fell in some parts of this village and the surrounding country. Where it came from no one knows, and everybody is trying to conjecture. It appears that there was a whirlwind passed over Buffalo on Saturday, and some think the stuff may have been brought from there, but this is a rather "far fetched" supposition.

YOUNG'S POINT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Early Lambing.—Mr. William Young, living about a mile from this place, had a fine ewe, which strayed away for about two weeks to an adjacent farm, and when it came home it had two fine healthy lambs in company. Except they are taken real good care of, it is rather early.

Grist Mill.—Mr. McLean is making such fine flour that his name is getting known all around for turning out an A 1 article. Some Peterborough bakers are talking of making arrangements to get their supplies from here in the future. Go ahead Mac.

Deer Hunting.—Mr. W. A. Kidd, of Chandos, informs your correspondent that last season he succeeded in killing 55 fine deer with the assistance of two of his children, aged 12 and 14 respectively. Rather too much of a slaughter. I understand that he is a crack shot.

Saw Mill.—I paid a visit the other day to the saw mill which is being run by Mr. McGregor, and one thing I will say is that he is a pretty tidy chap. He was having all the yard cleared up of rubbish which has been accumulating since last summer and burned. He informs your correspondent that he will (when he gets his two Little Giant wheels in working order), cut three times the quantity of lumber and ties than what has been done in former years, giving more satisfaction to his employer, Mr. Geo. Chalmers, himself and employees.

DUMMER.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Council Meeting.—The Council met at Warsaw on Friday, February 10th. All the members present. Minutes of last meeting read and signed. Clerk was instucted to notify Mr. Cope, that as Council did not order the repairs on the scraper, he would have to look to Mr. Roraback for the account, and that in future he run no account on the Township, except on the order of a road commissioner. The clerk was instructed to give the necessary notices that the Council, at a meeting to be held in the Town and Agricultural Hall, Warsaw, on the 31st of March, 1882, intends passing a By-law to establish a road 66 feet wide, from northeast angle of west half lot 25, to the southwest angle of east half lot 26, in the centre of the 7th concession of Dummer, according to survey of F. W. Wilkins, P. L. S. On motion of Mr. White, seconded by Mr. Drain, Wm. H. Little, sen., was authorized to let John Elliott have one hundredweight of flour, each quarter this year, and Wason Bros. to let him have $4.00 worth of goods, Council to pay for same. Ordered to be paid:—

N. Robinson, refund of statute labor tax	$1 00
A. R. Kidd, attending adjourned land sale.....	3 00

A By-law to change the boundaries of S. S. No. 1 and 3, and No. 11 and 2 received threg readings and passed. Council adjourned to meet in Warsaw on the 16th inst.

Another Meeting.—The Council met in Warsaw on Thursday, February 16th. All the members present. Minutes of last meeting read and confirmed. Moved by Mr. White, seconded by Mr. Kirk,—That the Auditor's accounts, having been finally audited by the Council, be adopted, and that the Clerk cause the abstract to be published and 200 copies of the detailed statement, in sheet form for distribution.—Carried. Ordered to be paid:—

Wm. Snelgrove, for auditing Treasurer's accounts, 1881.....	$6 00
John Wason, for auditing Treasurer's accounts, 1881.....	6 00

By-laws passed:—One to regulate the manner of assessing statute labor and one to provide for the payment of money. Council adjourned to meet in Warsaw on 31st March next.

Manufactures Under the N.P.

In his Budget speech Sir L. Tilley was able to give the following interesting figures as to the increase of manufactures under his tariff:—

"Under the National Policy 95 new factories, employing 7,000 hands, have been started. (Cheers.) One-fifth of the factories visited by the Factory Commissioners report an increase of employment of 17 per cent. This would give an increase in old factories of 17,850, or a total increase since 1879 of 24,875 men. (Loud applause.) The projected cotton mills to be erected next season, or in course of erection, will give employment to 3,110 additional hands. In 1878 33 workshops were running full time and 24 short time. In 1881, 56 were running full time and 21 over time. In 277 factories wages have increased from 5 to 35 per cent. Brown shirtings and bleached shirtings manufactured in the Dominion were sold at from 5 to 7½ per cent over the net cost price of the same article in the United States, or ten per cent. less than if imported under the tariff of 1877-8. Ball knitting cotton was now sold by Parks & Son at $39 6-10 cents per pound delivered in Montreal, Toronto, London and Hamilton. The net price for the same article in the United States was 40 cents per pound.

Given Away.—We cannot help noticing the liberal offer made to all invalids and sufferers by Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. You are requested to call at Taylor & Macdonald's Drug Store and get a trial bottle, if you are suffering with Consumption, Severe Coughs, Colds. Asthma, Bronchitis, Hay Fever, Loss of Voice, Hoarseness, or any affection of the Throat or Lungs. It will positively cure you.—6.

Polygamy.

Salt Lake, March 1.—The Ladies' Anti-Polygamy Society last night adopted resolutions declaring that the Society speaks in the name of outraged womanhood and for 40,000 real citizens of the Territory, beseeching Congress to take at once from the Mormons all political privileges until they accept as sovereign the law of the United States, and expressing fear that Edmunds' Bill is fatally defective because it provides no machinery for enforcing the disfranchisement of Mormons, and maintaining that a commission of citizens of the Territory, given full legislative power, under the supervision of Congress, is the only real, prompt, merciful remedy for Utah's wrongs. The preaching at the Tabernacle yesterday was very belligerent and defiant. It was to the effect that Mormons were extending into other Territories. No power on earth or in hell could stop them. Anti-Mormons might take away their votes and be damned; they would be damned anyway.

Mr. Wm. J. Smyth resides at No. 1506 N. Seventh street, Philadelphia, Pa., and is well known in journalistic circles. He writes; I had an attack of rheumatism in both of my knee-joints, and for several days I was almost crazed with the pain caused by the disease. To sleep was out of the question. I would lie in the bed all night awake, and the slightest motion then would produce such sharp pains in my knee-joints that I would actually scream out. I had to come down stairs one step at a time, and it was difficult for me even to limp about the house and I found it impossible to attend to my business. Nothing I could do relieved me of the intense pain, although I tried everything I heard of; but a friend came in one day, and said, 'Why don't you give that St. Jacobs Oil a trial?' I resolved to, and sent out for a bottle. Almost as soon as I commenced rubbing with the Oil I felt a slight relief of pain and a peculiar tingling sensation in my knees, and the more I rubbed the better I got. By the time I had used up one bottle I felt so much better that I could walk without difficulty, and I can truly say as I sit here that by the time I had consumed two bottles I was entirely cured, and now have not a vestige of rheumatism and have not been troubled with it since I finished up that second bottle of St. Jacobs Oil.

A Positive Cure for Dyspepsia.—From Abram Mead, of Littleton, Mass.—"I have for several years suffered severely with Dyspepsia, accompanied by weakness and nervous irritability, which made life a burden to me. Nothing but the simplest nutriment could remain in the stomach without pain, sourness and windy evacuations, uncomfortable feelings in the head, bad taste in the mouth, catarrhal symptoms, inactivity of the liver and bowels, piles, general debility and a nervous state of extreme susceptibility, made up a diseased condition rebellious to ordinary medical treatment. By advice of an eminent physician of Boston, I commenced taking Peruvian Syrup; at once I began to experience benefit. After taking three bottles all these bad feelings have left, my health is restored, and I enjoy life as well as ever. Most cheerfully do I recommend Peruvian Syrup." Sold by dealers generally.

A Cure for Headache.—What physician has ever discovered a cure for headache? Echo answers none. But Burdock Blood Bitters by their purifying, invigorating, nervine properties afford a cure in nearly every case. The health-giving principles of this remedy are unequalled by any similar preparation in the world.

Kelley's Island, Ohio, March 28th, 1880.—I have used Kendall's Spavin Cure on a bone spavin, and am pleased to report that it has taken the enlargement completely off. It took only one bottle to perform the cure. I am confident if it is properly used it will do all you claim for it. Yours truly, C. M. Lincoln.

Druggists throughout the country testify to the great merits of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. No medicine they sell acts so promptly in curing Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, &c. Have you tried it? J. D. Tully, agent for Peterboro'.

THE POPE IN CANADA.

Negotiations to Establish the Vatican in Quebec.

QUEBEC, Feb. 25.—Negotiations have been pending for some months between the Authorities of the Roman Catholic Church in Quebec and the vatican. The persons admitted to the secret were not many, and are said to only include the archbishop of the province of Quebec and two bishops of the same diocese, the Hon. Sir Hector Louis Langevin, minister of public works for Canada; the Hon. M. Chapleau, leader of the Quebec Government; the Hon. John O'Connor, a representative of the Irish Catholic people of Quebec, and two or three others. The negotiating parties on this side of the ocean propose to bind themselves to secure a grant from the province of Quebec of $4,000,000 toward the construction of a pontifical palace. It is also proposed that the Hon. Sir Hector Langevin, on behalf of the Roman Catholics of French origin, and the Hon. John O'Connor, on bebali of the Irish Catholics, should also ask for a conjoint grant of $1,000,000 from the Canadian parliament, to be used for the same purpose. To this latter part of the proposal Sir Hector Langevin, who is a lay Jesuit, is not favorable.

The only probable bar to the proceedings will be the final attitude of the Sovereign Pontiff himself. He has received several propositions from the Quebec conclave, and his second reply, which clearly defines his position, sets forth that the subject of most engrossing care at present with himself and his advisers is another residence for the head of the church. Had faithful Ireland control of her own affairs, the papal court would be established in Dublin, but that, under the circumstances, is impossible. He next points to the United States. That country, he says, has been liberal to the church, undiscriminating as to creed, the Catholics faring as well in the distribution of offices as the dissenters. Still, he says, the United States is a Protestant country; her chief magistrate and her customs are Protestants, and her statutes ignore the sacred church festivities. For these and other reasons he has been unable to give consent to the solicitations of one court Cardinal, and of some of the worthy prelates of the United States, to fix his abode in the republic. He then discusses the feasibility of the Quebec project. He points out that the province is small, and necessarily; poor; that in the whole Dominion there are less than 2,000,000 of the faithful; that, while its prospects of development are good, it is only yet in its infancy. He does not fail to remind those interested in his pastoral welfare that the expense of maintaining his court, including the cardinals, who share his palace with him, would be very great; that wherever he goes he is compelled to give audiences, recieve deputations, and incur other heavy outlays, and that the exterior dignity of the papal seat should accord with the spiritual supremacy of the church. He laid stress, also, on the Catholic colonization scheme, and hinted that in the event of the papal see being removed to Canada, immigration from Italy would be encouraged. He concluded a long and searching letter with a blessing on those who remembered the holy father in his extremity, and asked for further information on subjects mentioned only briefly in the Quebec letters

BEWARE!

A word of caution to the men "from Ontario," who are about to join the rush to Manitoba will not be out of place. It is a fact, well known to any experienced traveller, that wherever there is expected to be a more than usually crowded railway trip, the pickpockets, the three card monte men, the confidence men et id genus omne, are sure to turn up in numbers proportionate to the rush of passengers. This fact should be carefully borne in mind by all who are en route for this country. The scoundrels are already at their games, and more than a dozen instances have come to our own personal knowledge where persons have been robbed of pretty nearly all they had while they were on their way. At one time it was a case of "going through" a man as he took a nap in the car; at another it was a courteous and chatty stranger who inveigled his victim into "having something' out of his pocket flask, which "something" was, of course, drugged. So on through the endless variety of ways by which the unwary are trapped by the sharper. We have more than once thought that it would be a good idea to have on all lines a system of railway police or detectives who might protect the persons and property of the passengers from the increasing crowd of harpies that ply their trade on our main lines. Considering the length of the journeys now taken across the continent, it seems to us to be really the duty of the Government to provide some effective means of protection to the lieges during the transit. The matter is one that might be taken up by any one of our legislators who wished to make himself a name as the benefactor of the traveling public. In the meantime it would be just as well for all emigrants to keep wide awake to the tricks of those train harpies, while on their way hither. A word to the wise is enough.—Sun.

Foundationless Charges.

The Toronto Telegram says: "It is the height of absurdity tor the chief Reform organ to go on berating Sir Charles Tupper and accusing him of being guilty of all the crimes in the calendar as well as of some that are not. Not one member of its own party has formulated these accusations on the floor of the House, although they have been repeated by the organ year after year. It is therefore safe to assume that they are foundationless, or at least that they are considered to be unprovable by the Globe's friends. To go on making charges that no member of your party will father and force on the attention of Parliament is simply a waste of breath. Better keep it to cool your porridge. Quite possibly Sir Charles Tupper is a horse-thief and a land pirate, and stole himself rich during his tenure of office. But it seems the Globe cannot induce even one of his opponents to bring the fact before the notice of Parliament, where it can be dealt with."

Victims of Coincidences.

The Toronto Telegram says:—"The opponents of the N.P. seem to be all at sixes and sevens. Some of them say that it is ruining the country, and others that if the party is returned to power at the next election the N. P. will be left pretty much as it is. Mr. Patterson, of Brant, takes the ground that the manufacturers of Canada are enjoying greater prosperity than they ever did, and that the same thing holds good in regard to every other industry of the country. But he says that all this is not the result of the N.P., but in spite of it. The idea that the leading Reformers wish to convey is that their party has been the victim of coincidences, for while Tory government and good times go together, bad times and Grit Government always seem to travel hand in hand."

AN old woman took a blackened clay pipe out of her travelling bag in a St. Louis railroad station, and began to smoke. She was told that smoking was not allowed in that room. Without taking the pipe from her mouth, she drew a long knife and laid it across her lap. She was allowed to puff away until her train came along.

THE SECRET OF BEAUTY.—No Cosmetic in the world can impart beauty to a face that is disfigured by unsightly blotches arising from impure blood. Burdock Blood Bitters is the grand purifying medicine for all humors of the blood. It makes good blood and imparts the bloom of health to the most sallow complexion.

THE buildings of the Philadelphia exhibition of 1876 are widely scattered. One is a Coney Island hotel, others are hotels at Long Branch and Atlantic City, a number are private summer residences, and now the main structure is being taken down, some of it to build stations along the Pennsylvania railroad, and the rest for an iron mill in Pittsburgh. We would not be without it in our large livery for thousands of dollars. We pronounce it one of the greatest discoveries of the age. It stands without a peer in horse liniments." See advt.

THE POPE IN CANADA.

Negotiations to Establish the Vatican in Quebec.

QUEBEC, Feb. 25.—Negotiations have been pending for some months between the Authorities of the Roman Catholic Church in Quebec and the vatican. The persons admitted to the secret were not many, and are said to only include the archbishop of the province of Quebec and two bishops of the same diocese, the Hon. Sir Hector Louis Langevin, minister of public works for Canada; the Hon. M. Chapleau, leader of the Quebec Government; the Hon. John O'Connor, a representative of the Irish Catholic people of Quebec, and two or three others. The negotiating parties on this side of the ocean propose to bind themselves to secure a grant from the province of Quebec of $4,000,000 toward the construction of a ponificial palace. It is also proposed that the Hon. Sir Hector Langevin, on behalf of the Roman Catholics of French origin, and the Hon. John O'Connor, on bebalf of the Irish Catholics, should also ask for a conjoint grant of $1,000,000 from the Canadian parliament, to be used for the same purpose. To this latter part of the proposal Sir Hector Langevin, who is a lay Jesuit, is not favorable.

The only probable bar to the proceedings will be the final attitude of the Sovereign Pontiff himself. He has received several propositions from the Quebec conclave, and his second reply, which clearly defines his position, sets forth that the subject of most engrossing care at present with himself and his advisers is another residence for the head of the church. Had faithful Ireland control of her own affairs, the papal court would be established in Dublin, but that, under the circumstances, is impossible. He next points to the United States. That country, he says, has been liberal to the church, undiscriminating as to creed, the Catholics faring as well in the distribution of offices as the dissenters. Still, he says, the United States is a Protestant country; her chief magistrate and her customs are Protestants, and her statutes ignore the sacred church festivities. For these and other reasons he has been unable to give consent to the solicitations of one court Cardinal, and of some of the worthy prelates of the United States, to fix his abode in the republic. He then discusses the feasibility of the Quebec project. He points out that the province is small, and necessarily poor; that in the whole Dominion there are less than 2,000,000 of the faithful; that, while its prospects of development are good, it is only yet in its infancy. He does not fail to remind those interested in his pastoral welfare that the expense of maintaining his court, including the cardinals, who share his palace with him, would be very great; that wherever he goes he is compelled to give audiences, recieve deputations, and incur other heavy outlays, and that the exterior dignity of the papal seat should accord with the spiritual supremacy of the church. He laid stress, also, on the Catholic colonization scheme, and hinted that in the event of the papal see being removed to Canada, immigration from Italy would be encouraged. He concluded a long and searching letter with a blessing on those who remembered the holy father in his extremity, and asked for further information on subjects mentioned only briefly in the Quebec letters

BEWARE!

A word of caution to the men "from Ontario," who are about to join the rush to Manitoba will not be out of place. It is a fact, well known to any experienced traveller, that wherever there is expected to be a more than usually crowded railway trip, the pickpockets, the three card monte men, the confidence men et id genus omne, are sure to turn up in numbers proportionate to the rush of passengers. This fact should be carefully borne in mind by all who are en route for this country. The scoundrels are already at their games, and more than a dozen instances have come to our own personal knowledge where persons have been robbed of pretty nearly all they had while they were on their way. At one time it was a case of "going through" a man as he took a nap in the car; at another it was a courteous and chatty stranger who inveigled his victim into "having something" out of his pocket flask, which "something" was, of course, drugged. So on through the endless variety of ways by which the unwary are trapped by the sharper. We have more than once thought that it would be a good idea to have on all lines a system of railway police or detectives who might protect the persons and property of the passengers from the increasing crowd of harpies that ply their trade on our main lines. Considering the length of the journeys now taken across the continent, it seems to us to be really the duty of the Government to provide some effective means of protection to the liegos during the transit. The matter is one that might be taken up by any one of our legislators who wished to make himself a name as the benefactor of the traveling public. In the meantime it would be just as well for all emigrants to keep wide awake to the tricks of those train harpies, while on their way hither. A word to the wise is enough.—Sun.

THE CARWORKS BY-LAW

IS READ A SECOND TIME BY THE COUNCIL AND A VOTE ORDERED

To Take Place on the 5th of April—Another Public Meeting to be Held—Opinions of the Councillors—Councillors Rutherford, Menzies and Denne Oppose it Tooth and Nail—The Ontario and Quebec Railway.

A meeting of the Town Council was held on Tuesday evening.

Present,—His Worship Mayor Smith, and Councillors Cahill, Alford, McNaughton, Paterson, Poussette, Wilson, Douglas, Rutherford, Menzies, Denne and Richardson.

ONTARIO AND QUEBEC.

His Worship the MAYOR read the following letter, which he had received :—

DEAR SIR,—Our Engineers have made surveys and examinations of the country surrounding Peterborough with the object of securing such a location as would give us the easiest grade and alignment consistent with future maintenance. There are three lines proposed, but before coming to any conclusion as to which we shall adopt, as one of them entails the purchase of extensive right of way and the construction of an expensive bridge over the river at Peterborough, we have concluded to write you and ask if you would lay before your Council the question of assisting by way of bonus in the construction of this line, which would secure to your town a good location in it for our station buildings, etc. As we must take immediate action in the matter, I would ask that you give me an answer as early as possible.

Yours truly,
E. B. OSLER.
President O. & Q. Ry.

Toronto, Feb. 27th, 1882.

THE CARWORKS BY-LAW.

Councillor DENNE asked that Messrs. Cluxton and Mills, two of the largest ratepayers, be heard, so that they may give their opinions on the advisability of granting the proposed aid to the carworks company.

Councillor POUSSETTE objected to any outsiders being heard at this stage of the proceedings. When the Council adjourned it was about to go into Committee of the Whole and Councillor Menzies had the floor at the time. He raised a point of order.

Councillor MENZIES wanted to hear the ratepayers speak before going any further.

Councillor POUSSETTE thought that the members of the Council should hear the provisions of the by-law before any discussion was allowed.

The Council then went into Committee of the Whole, Councillor Menzies in the chair.

The by-law was then read through, the first clause only being adopted, it being the desire of many of the members to hear the by-law read through before taking any action.

OPINIONS OF CITIZENS.

Mr. W. CLUXTON was called on, but expressed a desire to wait until he had read the by-law in the papers and studied its provisions. Public meetings of citizens had for some years expressed an antagonistic feeling to granting bonuses for anything whatever. Lindsay was bonused to death, and last year not a single building had been erected in the town. At least such was his belief. He believed that if any factory could not stand on its own bottom, bonuses would not assist it. He thought it was outside of the province of a corporation to become speculators. He understood that the idea in the present case was to grant the bonus at present, but as soon as the necessary legislation could be obtained to take stock, and he thought that nothing should be done until the Government consented that it was legal for them to do it. The promoters of the company were all responsible men, and could easily raise $20,000 for a year. He was afraid that the town would never see its $20,000 again as was the case with the grant of $2,000 to the Toronto and Ottawa Railway. He did not want to offend any person, but just offered the few foregoing suggestions, and hoped to see a public meeting called at which the question could be discussed pro and con. The promoters were all heavy tax payers, and although such was the case the taxes they would be called on to pay would be more than counterbalanced by the profits they would make out of the factory.

Mr. W. MILLS, J. P., led off by quoting law.

Councillor POUSSETTE said that Mr. Mills had been simply asked to give his opinion regarding the by-law—not to give a legal opinion regarding the Company.

Mr. MILLS again referred to the legal aspect of the question, and in answer to a Councillor said that he had not brought his law books. He spoke strongly against granting the bonus, and said that the Company was a limited liability one, and if the Company was unfortunate the town would lose its stock.

At this point several members appeared rather uneasy, and seemed unwilling to listen to the speaker any longer.

Mr. MILLS remarked that Councillor Cahill had no right to sit at the Council Board.

Councillor CAHILL said that Mr. Mills might make a good chief justice for Ashburnham, but need not give legal advice to the Council, as they had a town solicitor for that purpose.

Mr. MILLS again reiterated his statement and talked Toronto & Ottawa railway and bonuses. He expressed an opinion favorable to a public meeting, and said he would have a motion ready for that occasion.

Mr. E. C. HILL wanted to see the town advance but opposed bonuses. He wanted to see factories established, but thought that a public meeting should be called.

Councillor RUTHERFORD thought that the matter had not been ventilated thoroughly. Considerable expense had already been incurred, but he wanted the by-law to go before the qualified ratepayers before the Council took any further action. Call a public meeting, and if a majority of voters present who could vote on the by-law expressed an opinion in favor of it, he, for one, would help to carry it through the Council.

The MAYOR thought the by-law should be considered clause by clause to-night, and if desirable, it could then be put before the ratepayers at a public meeting. He had spoken to many ratepayers and found that nearly all favoured the establishment of factories. He favoured a liberal policy, and thought that if a few factories could be established here, it would not be long before we became a city.

Councillor POUSSETTE felt confident that the only way to learn the true sense of the ratepayers was by taking a vote. He would favor public meetings and wanted discussion. As three weeks would have to elapse between the time that the Council read the by-law a second time and the day of taking the vote, there was no reason why a number of meetings could not be called. He felt confident that the time had now come for our town to wake up, and by aiding factories they were doing it. As all knew car factories employ many grown up men, while woollen factories, and other similar institutions employ many boys and girls. The town can only grant $40,000. The ratepayers have placed councillors here to manage affairs, and they should not be so chicken-hearted as to ask for instructions every few days. The promoters were not going to be put off, and now was the time to act.

The MAYOR thought that some suggestions that would improve the by-law might be made.

Councillor DENNE again expressed his belief that they would not get back a cent. If so much money was to be made why did the promoters not put their hands in their pockets and hand it out?

Councillor RICHARDSON was pleased to hear Mr. Cluxton state that there was some money in the carworks, and thought that was a very good reason why the town should take stock in them. He instanced the Auburn factory bonus, and said that institution had benefitted the town greatly. The time had come for work or the town would go down. Our small neighbor, Campbellford, was going ahead rapidly, all on account of her enterprise and bonus grants.

Councillor CAHILL said that the matter had been before the people for about three months, and had been discussed by the papers and ratepayers. He had referred to the matter on the night of the municipal election, before the carworks question had been mooted except by the REVIEW. He then favored taking $20,000 stock and his proposition met with general approval. A large meeting of representive citizens had also passed a resolution favoring the taking of stock, and still it is said that the matter has been sprung on the people. He favored a second reading of the by-law and afterwards to publish it, so that all the ratepayers could read and digest it. He thought it would be a pity to lose this factory, and carworks were the best that we could establish. The promoters were bound to employ 150 men, 9 out of every 10 would be adults, who would earn from $1.50 to $2.00 each per day. Workmen would be brought here, and a large amount of money would go into circulation from which all would derive benefit. The promoters were all good solid men and the security offered was ample, all the conditions of the by-law were stringent and favorable to the town. He thought the by-law would carry and favored a seconed reading.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said that since the meeting referred to by Councillor Cahill, the position had changed, then it was stock, now it was a bonus and that was why he opposed the second reading.

Councillor DENNE was opposed to all kinds of bonuses.

Mr. J. BELL, from the audience, expressed a wish that the by-law should be read a second time, so that the public could see it in the papers and judge of its provisions.

A vote was then taken on the second reading, Councillors Rutherford and Denne opposing it.

The by-law was accordingly read a second time, clause by clause, and several important amendments made.

The Committee rose and the by-law was reported as read a second time as amended.

On motion of Councillor CAHILL seconded by Councillor PATERSON the Clerk was instructed to take the necessary steps to take the vote and give the notice required by law.

Councillor RUTHERFORD wanted $100 deposited by the promoters of the company before the vote took place, as required by a by-law. He moved seconded by Councillor DENNE a motion to that effect.

Councillors CAHILL, MCNAUGHTON, PATERSON and DOUGLAS opposed the motion and Councillor MENZIES spoke in favour of it.

Councillor CAHILL pointed out that the by-law could be suspended if a majority of the council voted to that affect.

Councillor RUTHERFORD's amendment was put and lost in the following vote.

YEAS—Councillors Menzies, Denne and Rutherford.

NAYS—Councillors Cahill, Alford, McNaughton, Paterson, Wilson, Douglas and Richardson.

The by-law was ordered to be published in the paper that has the advertising for the town.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON wanted it also published in the REVIEW and Examiner so that the ratepayers might have a chance to see it.

Councillors RUTHERFORD and DENNE, who, a short time before were in favour of giving the by-law publication, so that it could be fully discussed, raised a point of order and in consequence the publics will remain in the dark as regards its provisions.

The polling places and Deputy Returning Officers are the same as at the last municipal election and the date of voting was fixed for Wednesday, April the 5th.

The meeting then adjourned.

An Unusual Sight.

To-day a small boy was to be seen in an old wooden "dug-out" catching drift wood in the Otonabee river, and a short distance from him a flock of geese were enjoying a quiet bath. This is a sure sign of an early spring, and if not is indeed an unusual sight for the first day of March.

Gentle Spring.

A gentleman informs us that he has seen several robins during the last week, and as the "caw caw" of the crow has been heard in the land, it may be assumed that spring is not far away, and the bare streets and sidewalks appear to point in that direction with unerring finger.

Railway Notes.

The Woodville Advocate says that Mr. George Wheeler, M. P., contractor for the Wick and Manilla section of the Toronto and Ottawa railway, is pushing the work ahead rapidly. A large number of men are getting out ties and fencing material, and about twenty men are chopping out the five miles of bush on the line. Forty men are at work grading on the heavy cuts near Manilla and at the Wick end. In all over 100 men are engaged. All ties, culvert, cattle-guard and bridge timber will be got out this winter, and the heavy earthwork will be completed by spring, when additional men and teams will be added, so as to complete the line ready for traffic early in the coming summer.

Not to Go.

Owing to unforseen circumstances, the Fire Brigade Band will not go to Belleville on Good Friday, as previously announced, but will remain at home, and give a Grand Sacred Concert in the Drill Shed in the evening of that day, particulars of which will be made known in a short time. This is as it should be, and we feel confident their endeavors to cater for the music-loving citizens of our-town will be fully appreciated. It will be strictly a sacred concert of a first-class order, the music having been purchased for this special occasion.

"The Lucky Dogs."

Under the above heading the Winnipeg Sun gives a list of the wealthiest men in the city, who have made their money by speculating in land. Among them we find that of Col. W. N. Kennedy, formerly of Peterborough, who is reported to be worth $200,000 in hard cash.

Hard on our Neighbor.

The Winnipeg Times says that the "bogus cities," according to the census returns—those which are not credited with 10,000 population, are St. Catharines, Guelph, St. Thomas, Belleville and Brantford.

Musical.

A complimentary concert will be given to Miss Paffard at Bradburn's Hall on Tuesday, March 7th. We hear that there is a good programme, our best local amateurs taking part in it. We would like to see a full house.

Commercial House.

For bright fine "Nor-West" Cream Ale, call at Bill Kenealey's, opposite the Post office.

"WOMEN NEVER THINK."—If the crabbed old bachelor who uttered this sentiment could but witness the intense thought, deep study and thorough investigation of women in determining the best medicines to keep their families well, and would note their sagacity and wisdom in selecting Hop Bitters as the best, and demonstrating it by keeping their families in perpetual health, and at a mere nominal expense, he would be first to acknowledge that such sentiments are baseless and false.—Picayune.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An EXTERNAL MEANS of CURING SKIN DISEASES.—There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferer for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produce a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d.

SULPHOLINE LOTION, a FLUID peculiar in itself, is the most potent enemy to all Skin Disorders. Nothing like Sulpholine has ever before been produced, nor is there anything else in the least degree comparable for its Healthy Action on the Human Skin.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—The first idea of Sulpholine was taken from a prescription of the late Dr. Startin, and every year it is used adds more and more favourably to its widly increasing reputation. Anyone, however deeply and hopelessly afflicted with Skin Disease, should apply Sulpholine as quickly as possible. In two or three days the effect will become apparent in a diminished appearance of the malady, a growing tendency to fade away, and complete obliteration of the eruption.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—BOTTLES CONTAINING NEARLY HALF A PINT.—SOLD BY CHEMISTS EVERYWHERE. Made in London, Eng.
